SEN. BRUCE CALLS DEMOCRATIC PARTY 'A PUTRID CORPSE'

"Confidence Of The People Has Been Lost," Maryland Solon Charges. Senate Is Stirred By Family "Squabble."

Washington, Dec. 29.—A democratic family squabble unexpectedly enlivened the senate Monday. The row, with republican senators looking on as spectators, was precipitated when Sen. Bruce, democrat, of Maryland, charged that the "democratic party has lost the confidence of the people."

Bruce was quickly taken to task by Sen. Harrison, democrat, of Mississippi, and Sen. Ashurst, democrat, of Arizona. The immediate cause of the scrap was in Harrison's attack upon Gustave Ober, Jr., of Baltimore, President of the national fertilizer association. Harrison accused Ober of being head of the "fertilizer trust which wants to let Muscle Shoals remain idle until it rots away."

Bruce defended Ober and criticised senators for misnaming corporations as "trusts." He then assailed the sectional feeling which has sprung up over the Muscle Shoals question, saying it was "more vicious than the old feeling between the North and the South."

"The people of the country have lost faith in the democratic party because of this sectional feeling," Bruce said. He urged his colleaghes to work together unitedly, dropping sectional issues and feeling.

"The democratic party can never be victorious until it becomes more progressive," interposed Ashurst.

Harrison then jumped into the argument and assailed Bruce.

"Who is this so-called Maryland democrat that he can lecture his colleagues?" demanded Harrison.

"When we were fighting graft and corruption in the government, when we were trying to save the government for the people, did he aid us? No, not once.

"When we were standing shoulder to shoulder fighting the Mellon tax bill, did he help us? No, he deserted us then, and he was wrong, for the president signed the tax bill that was framed and enacted.

"A man who lectures me must come with clean hands," declared Harrison. "We have not lost the confidence of the people. We are not, thank God, reactionary.

"There has been no politics in this session so far," added Harrison, "and yet it remained for this man, a so-called Maryland democrat, to bring in here for the first time, and as a democrat to say that the people have lost confidence in the party."

Gaining the floor again, Bruce flayed his colleagues for their conduct of the famous senatorial investigations last spring and declared his own party was a "dead, putrid corpse." The Marylander was highly indignant and his colleagues sat in a sort of daze while he denounced their party conduct in tht last two years.

Bruce traced the recent Coolidge victory back to the election of Sen. Ellison D. Smith of South Carolina, a democrat, as chairman of the senate interstate commerce commission, over Sen. Albert B. Cummins, republican, of Iowa, the choice of the republican side. In that clash Bruce voted for Cummins, while his colleagues voted for Smith, who was elected on insurgent votes.

"That defeat of the senator from Iowa (Cummins) was the first step in the defeat of the democratic party," said Bruce. "It was the beginning of the tragic, bitter defeat administere l last November. But it is not in my heart now to reproach my colleagues for their action then."

CAR RUNS OFF FLAT INTO RIVER AT MIMS' FERRY

A very dangerous and thrilling experience was had by Mr. F. J. Shaneyfelt, an employee of the Alabama Power Company, and Mr. Ruben Jackson early last Thursday night, when the Ford coupe driven by Mr. Shaneyfelt, ran off the flat at Mims' Ferry just below Lock 12. Both Mr. Shaneyfelt and Mr. Jackson were in the coupe with the doors closed when it went down in water 20 feet deep. Reports say that when the car got to the bottom of the river it was lying with the top down. Mr. Shaneyfelt managed to get one of the doors open as soon as the car got on bottom, and he came to the top. In some way, reports say, the door closed back with Mr. Jackson still in the car, so Mr. Shaneyfelt dived back in and got Mr. Jackson out and brought him to the top, both getting on the flat alive. Both men were unconcious for some time after they finaly got out, and reports say that blood was running out of their ears and nose caused from them holding their breath so long.

The cause of the car running off the flat was that the brakes were worn out so that they would not hold, and there was no railing on the end of the flat to check it. The demolished car was drug out of the river the next day and carried to Thorsby for repairs. The car looked as though a cyclone had hit it.

MIDDLETON NAMED AS ASSISTANT TO GRADY REYNOLDS

Clanton Man Succeeds Lee Clayton In U. S. Attorney's Office

Information has been received in the office of the United States attorney of the appointment of J. O. Middleton to the position of assistant attorney for the middle district.

Mr. Middleton, who is an attorney from Clanton, has had experience in the same work in other years. He served for some time as assistant to the United States attorney in Mobile.

Mr. Middleton follows Lee Clayton, who has filled the position for more than 11 years. Mr. Clayton retires December 31. He will return to his practice of law in South Alabama whert he has large land interests beside his professional activities and responsibilities.

Grady Reynolds, also of Clanton succeeded T. D. Samford as United States attorney several months ago.

Mr. Middleton takes charge of this position about the first of the year, but he will still maintain his law office in Clanton. He will be in Montgomery part of the time and he will be in his office in Clanton part of the time. He will still live in Clanton as he has in the past.

Mr. J. E. Gore and Mr. Herbert Lowery and their families spent the Christmas holidays with home-folks in Clanton. Herbert and Eugene are both working for the Alabama Power Company at their Gorgas plant.

WHISKEY AND LAWLESSNESS SCARCE THROUGH CHRISTMAS

The Sheriff's office reports that all over the county, Christmas and tht holiday season were unsually quiet so far as whiskey and law violation was concerned. Only a few arrests were made, although the officers stayed on their job and went to all parts of the county.

Deputy Culp and G. D. Retherford, Police of Clanton, came upon Douglas Hammond near the high school in Clanton early last week, just as Hammond was emptying a pint bottle of whiskey. Hammond threw down the bottle and got away, but the officers picked up the bottle, which still had a small quanity of whiskey in it. Hammond was arrested last Saturday and made bond.

On last Thesday afternoon Deputy Foshee arrested Chester Downs on the highway one mile south of town with two and a half gallons of whiskey in a Ford car. Willie Bowman was with Downs, but Foshee having no help, could not look after them both, so Bowman got away. Bowman has not been found yet. Downs, the Ford and the whiskey were brought to jail. Reports say that the car belonged to another party and that it will probably not be confiscated. Downs made bond and was released.

On Christmas Eve, Sheriff Littlejohn and Deputy Foshee answered a call from Pittcher. Two men, Lum Pate and Clarence Smitherman, were at Pletcher drunk, but they were gone when the officers arrived. The two were charged with public drunkenness and using abusive language. Smitherman was arrested Saturday morning close to his home near Pletcher, and Pate was arrested Saturday afternoon in Smith Town, in the northwestern part of the county. Smitherman was put in jail but Pate made bond. Both were tried Monday before Judge Gulledge on the public drunkenness charge, Smitherman being fined $10 and Pate $20. The abusive language charge against them will go over to the Grand Jury.

W. H. Gillespie, federal law enforcement officer, captured and destroyed a 400-gallon distilling outfit just across the line in Shelby County last Sunday. 1200 gallons of beer was poured out. No whiskey was found and no arrest was made.

HIGHWAY OPEN TO WESSINGTON NOW

The first of this week the builders of the State Highway in Chilton released for traffic all of the concrete paving from Calera south to Wessington. Motorists who have been turning off this side of Wessington and going through Lovers Lane can now go on under the railroad on the old highway and get on the cement at the top of the hill at Wessington. The concrete mixer and other paving machinery is now at work in Jemison, and is working north to connect with the other section completed to Wessington.

Reports say that there are only about four miles in Shelby County where the asphalt has not been laid, there being about two miles just a short distance beyond Calera, and about two more miles north of Pelham. All the rest of the road through Shelby is now open for traffic.

Miss Mattie Lou Giles of Birmingham was a visitir to Clanton the week end.

Mr. Jim Lowe of the Selma Times-Journal spent Christmas with friends and parents in Clanton.

Another resolution was adopted requesting the Pardoning Board and the Governor to make close investigation of all applications for pardon or parole coming before them and that the practice of securing pleas of guilt by Judges and solicitors on the promise of securing a pardon or parole after a short term has been served, be discontinued as it is a practice fraught with great danger.

JACKSON—WHITE WEDDING

Last Sunday about 11:30 a. m. Mr. Winford Jackson, son of T. J. Jackson and Miss Myrtle White, daughter of Mr. Wess White joined right hands in the holy bonds of wedlock at the home of the bride, elder A. T. Davis officiating, while afterwards was served a delicious dinner.

The next day the bride and groom went to the home of the groom where they served another nice dinner. All had a nice time. Both were prominent people of Chilton county. I suppose they will reside in Chilton county. They both have lots of friends and relatives wishing them all the prosperity, happiness and a long life which can be afforded the happy young couple.

Frank Culpepper and Willie Jones are selling lots of Good Gulf gasoline these days. Heretofore they have been getting this gas shipped here in barrels, but they are having a big storage tank installed just south of town, then they will have it shipped here in car tanks. Good Gulf is selling right along here and giving satisfaction.

DO YOU WORK OUR CROSS-WORD PUZZLES?

For the past few weeks The Union-Banner has been running what is known as cross-word puzzles. The solving of these puzzles has become quite a craze among the readers of daily papers, and it is a mighty interesting and instructive game to those who dig after the solutions. One glance at the thing would lead one to believe that it is just a kid's game, but that is wrong. If you grown people and even school teachers will just try one, you will readily see that if it is done properly it will employ the intellect and vocabularly of even an educated person. But still children can get a great deal out of it,with the use of the dictionary. After you have worked out two or three of these puzzles you will find that yiu have learned the meaning and spelling of a number of new words. This is where the educational feature comes in. It is interesting too, after you once get on to it.

If you haven't already tried to solve these puzzles, try the one we are running this week. It is a dandy, and you will enjoy working on it after you get the hang of it.

ALABAMA'S COTTON EXPORTS MAINTAINS THE STATE'S TRADE PRESTIGE

3-Month Figures of Nearly $8,000,000 Show Increase of More Than $250,000 Over Second Quarter

Alabama not only increased its merchandise exports over the previous quarter of the year by more than $250,000 according to statistics just released by the Department of Commerce covering the three months ended September 30, 1924, but advanced its position in the relative standing of all the states of the Union from twenty-sixth to twenty-fifth place, superseding Mississippi and Tennessee and being replaced by Kansas.

Reaching export valuations of $7,946,000 for tht quarter under review, as compared with $7,690,343 for the previous three months, Alabama was but $77,398 behind North Carolina. It led Iowa, its nearest rompetitor by $185,248.

Raw cotton maintained first place in commodities exported, and was valued $2,227,080. Next came plank boards valued at $1,134,574, while ores, metals, and manufactures of, except machinery and vehicles, registered valuations of $979,704,, and refined petroleum shipments totaled $815,097.

Grand totals for the first nine months of the year give Alabama export trade amounting to $24,397,001 and twenty-seventh place among all the states for this period. Lacking about $600,000 of a quarter of billion dollars worth of export trade, Alabama fell behind Iowa, in twenty-sixth place to the amount of $1,516,442, but Kansas, its runner-up by a nearly like sum.

DR. CRUMPTON SICK

For the past two weeks Dr. J. P. Crumpton of Clanton has been confined to his bed with a severe attack of "flu" and has been unable to be in his office. Late reports say that he is improving, but it will likely be several days before he will be able to do any tooth pulling. The Union-Banner wishes a speedy recovery of the doctor.

XMAS TREE AT CANE CREEK BEST THING OF ITS KIND IN YEARS

Nearly Everybody in Beat 11 Receives Present in Gratitude From Republican Leaders of the County.

Although the weather was rather cold and pinching, the Christmas tree and Yuletide Celebration given the people of Beat 11 by the Republican leaders of the county Christmas night was a gratifying success from every angle. The house was crowded with old folks, young folks, boys and girls, and practically every one present received a present of some kind. There was abundance of fruit, nuts and candies put on the Christmas tree for those present.

Squire John S. Dennis rallied the crowd to order about 6:00 o'clock, and short talks were made by Judge Reynolds and Col. J. O. Middleton. After this Santa Claus came forward, and with the assistance of two or three others, took the presents off the tree and delivered them to whosever name the packages bore. Everybody was jolly and seem to want to make the occasion happy for everybody else, so a general good time was had by all.

The season of the year and an occasion of this kind would lead one to expect ill conduct and misbehavior, but none such was had at Cane Creek this time. There probably was some drinking, but no one tended to disturb the jollity and happiness of the others. The People of Beat 11 are certainly to be complimented for the splendid conduct of its people at this celebration, and for the general success of the occasion. And the Republican leaders of the county have the undivided thanks of those good people for their thoughtfulness of them on Christmas times. These leaders appreciate the help of Beat 11 in the last general election, and it was in this way that they chose to express this appreciation to these good peopie, The idea was a splendid one, and has proved to be well taken by the recipients of this Yuletide gift.

FORD CAR RUNS OFF INTO WATER 30 FEET DEEP

It seems that Ford cars have gone crazy about water these days. Last Friday at Cherokee Bluffs a Ford touring car with boy and girl inside with the curtains up backed off into the river where the water was about 30 feet deep, both the boy and girl remained in the car until it hit bottom. The boy, Frank Headley, an employee of the Alabama Power Company, tore a hole through one curtain, dragged the girl out and brought her to the top safely, swimming forty feet to the bank with her.

Headley, reports say, rented the car from William Fiquett in Clanton and went to Cherokee Bluffs to ride his girl. He started to turn the car around on a fill when the reverse stuck and the car tumbled off into the river. Both parties escaped without much injury. The car was pulled out of the river Tuesday and brought to the Clanton Motor Co., for repairs. The car was not njured except the top was torn up and the windshield broken.

A RECORD-BREAKING FAMILY

GEORGIA boasts the record-breaking family you see lined up in the above photograph. At the right stands Carlee Jackson, the father, and in front of him his wife and mother of his twenty-two children.

Twenty of the twenty-two are living under their father's roof at Nashville, Ga.

The Jacksons have been married 38 years and that time have had 30 children. And mind you—none of them either twins or triplets. Carlee was married when he was 15 years of age and his wife 14.

STEPPING AHEAD OF THE BANK CROOK

Bankers Association Official Gives Rules to Foil Criminals and Avoid Loss.

By JAMES E. BAUM,
Manager Protective Department
American Bankers Association

The direct cost of all crimes in this country has now reached its highest peak. Statistics reveal startling increases in nearly every type of crime during the past ten years. The total financial loss through the operations of criminals is estimated at more than $3,500,000,000 for this year. A few of the items follow:

Embezzlement	$ 120,000,000
Credit frauds	400,000,000
Burglary, larceny, and petty thefts	250,000,000
Forgery, including worthless and bogus checks	100,000,000
Seaport robberies, piracies and customs frauds	100,000,000
Railroad thefts	25,000,000
Stock frauds	1,700,000,000
Insurance frauds	1,000,000,000
Arson	50,000,000
Miscellaneous	75,000,000

I am giving cold figures, not to startle any one unless it be toward more extreme care in handling and safeguarding funds and valuables. Right here let me quote rules to help foil criminals known as "check passers" or "scratchers"; they will help you to avoid serious loss:

1. Never write checks with a pencil. Use pen and ink or, if possible, a check protector.
2. Fill in all blank spaces.
3. Don't erase. Errors should be corrected by writing a new check and destroying those incorrectly written.
4. Never give a blank check to a stranger and never cash a stranger's check without an indorsement which you have positively verified.
5. Make checks payable to "cash" or "bearer" only when you personally present them at your bank. Otherwise use the name of the person you intend shall receive payment.
6. Never place your signature alone as an indorsement on checks you intend to deposit. Write above or below your signature the words "For deposit only."
7. Never sign blank checks. If you expect to be absent any length of time open a separate account, subject to check of your employee or agent.
8. Guard your cancelled vouchers as you would a valid check, leaving none where they may be easily taken.
9. Keep your check books securely locked up and be careful how and where you sign or exhibit your signature.
10. Beware of the magic of the word "certified." Ordinary certification stamps can be duplicated almost as easily as any other rubber stamp.
11. Watch checks which apparently bear the makers' "O. K." or other form of approval. They are more easily forged than the full signature.
12. Safeguard your checks as you would your money, for they represent money.
13. Deposit slips provide space for your name, usually upon the upper lines. Those written incorrectly should be destroyed as otherwise your signature will be available for fraudulent use. You can prevent loss by first writing the detail of amounts deposited and then printing your account name.

The bankers' campaign for everybody to "pay by check" has borne fruit. It has been estimated that today more than 95 per cent. of the business of the U. S. is transacted by the use of checks or other credit instruments. That means about six and one-half billion checks will be written by bank depositors in this country during 1924 and they will total about $500,000,000,000 in amount, or one hundred times the money in circulation.

Banks War on Crooks

The average bank depositor when queried as to what his bank does to protect his deposits, will probably tell you they are kept in a great vault and that armed watchmen are employed, as well as an elaborate and efficient burglary and robbery alarm system. He may not know that the 23,000 banks comprising the American Bankers Association have constantly and conveniently available an army of highly trained specialists who wage a continuous and relentless warfare against the bank criminal. These operatives are within easy reach of any member bank. Criminals know that if they attack a member bank they are attacking one of the most powerful and effective protective organizations in existence.

Another medium by which bankers prevent many financial crimes or losses is the warnings continually broadcast from the American Bankers Association and forty-eight state bankers associations. These warnings keep the trap constantly set and carry out the Association's plan of crime prevention as contrasted with detection.

Facts About Child-birth

IT has been proved conclusively that much of the suffering, pain and dread experienced during expectancy, as well as at child-birth is entirely unnecessary.

An eminent physician, Dr. J. H. Holmes, expert in this field, first produced the great remedy "Mother's Friend," which aids the muscles and tissues to expand more easily, during the constant readjustment, month after month right up to the climax of child-birth.

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally. Three generations of expectant mothers have used it. "Pains disappeared in two days after using 'Mother's Friend,'" writes a user. "I owe my life to 'Mother's Friend,'" declared another. Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did, start today and experience the wonderful comfort it will give you.

It is well that Secretary of State Hughes and Ambassador Matsudaira took occasion to exchange compliments in a manner that puts the jingoes in both the United Sates and Japan to shame. The two countries have had and probably will contisue to have their small differences, just as individuals do, but there is not and has not been any reason to believe that any of these differences will mar the cordial relations between the two nations. It must be readily apparent to the thoughtful people of both nations that highly important interests of each require the preservation of peace on the Pacific and the maintenance of friendly relations between them. A few intemperate talkers will not be permitted to create hard feelings or strained relations.

Paris is reaping the natural result of soviet recognition. Communist organizations have cast restraint to the winds, and active propaganda is seen everywhere. Over 5,000 persons attended a recent demonstration just outside of the city walls, at which international syndicalism was preached from three stands. The enthusiasm of the participants was not marred by the intense cold that prevailed. So acute has become the public feeling that Premier Herriot has appealed to the French people to avoid becoming panic stricken at the communist outbreaks. Opponents of the present French government declare that the Premier's appeal is equivalent to an admission that a communist peril actually exists. Happily the sound attitude of the American Government toward Russia has spared us similar fears.

The merest tyro in business knows that the essential thing is to have the balance on the right side of the ledger. If the outgo is more than the income, there is something vitally wrong. This is true, also of National affairs. It is interesting and gratifying, therefore, to read the announcement that in the first eleven months of 1924 the people of the United States exported goods in the value of $4,145,000,000, and imported goods to the value of only $3,276,000,000 which leaves us a balance of $869,000,000 in our favor. The explanation is that the people of the United States rapidly got back to work after the war and have been producing an excess of goods for export. It must not be assumed, however, that this $869,000,000 is all net gain to the United States. Far from it. Thousands of Americans have been touring Europe and other parts of the world and have been spending millions, etc. Moreover, thousands of aliens who live here make a practice of sending a report of their earnings to their families in Europe. It may be doubted whether, on the whole, the business balance is in our favor. Certainly it would be overwhelmingly against us but for our favorable balance in merchandise trade.

Everything has been unusually quiet this Christmas season. Altho everybody seemed to enjoy themselves, yet there was no undue fuss made about it. We are glad to state there was not much whiskey in evidence, but even in large gatherings everybody was quiet and peaceable. We are reporting this week, however, and with much regret, a few cases where the officers had to take part in some illegal celebration, and arrest some of our young men. We all dislike to hear of such things but they will happen once in awhile. We hope that our friends will understand our attitude in publishing reports of arrests on charges of this nature. We regret to make such reports, because we know that it will cause embarassment to some good people, who would have prevented the whole thing if they could. Our purpose in publishing these reports is not to hurt anyone or to cause anybody any embarassment, but it is published for the purpose of letting the light in on dark places and with the hope of influencing others not to be guilty of such charges. We do not get pleasure out of reporting arrests, on the other hand we wish no one would ever happen to this misfortune. We hope that our readers and friends will understand our position on this matter.

Minneapolis Journal.—For the present, our foreign policy, as far as business is concerned, promises to be fairly continuous. We wish to promote the reconstruction of the world by the development of foreign markets and the peaceful interchanges of commerce. The warning against political horseplay had better be addressed to the international enthusiasts who would like to put the American economic system under foreign control, via the League of Nations.

Dufuque Times-Journal—Millions or Russians living in the centers of the best agricultural fields in the world are threatened with starvation as a result of the demoralization brought about by the rule of Lenine and Trotzky. We are wondering if some of our Senators still believe ohat Russia has a better government than the United States.

Allentown (Pa.) Chronicle.—Confidence in the Republican administration, as expressed in our election of President Coolidge and a Congress in accord with his policies, is one of the great factors for the stablization of prosperity in the United States. The outlook is bright for a long-continued era of profitable business activity in this country.

Lykens (Pa.) Standard.—It is none of England's business what settlements we make with any creditor. It is not for her to say, suggest or demand asything in the promises. To do so is an interference in American Government.

Albany (N. Y.) Journal.—The government does not want a profit from the post office business. But it ought to have sufficient revenue from it to pay expenses. It ought to be possible to devise ways and means to obtain that revenue.

Manufacturers Record.—America must not recognize Soviet Russia. To do so would be to put a premium upon unbridled murder, rapine, rascality of every kind, efforts to disrupt this Government and a determined plan to destroy the home and religion.

Chester (Pa.) Times.—With an ever increasing vigor and purpose the calm, level headed people of the earth are "cleaning house" and sweeping the "red," anarchistic, discontinued, troublemaking minority from all positions of power.

Marion Star.—Well, one will have to say this for them, Great Britain, France and Italy have saved the League of Nations and awful lot of time and trouble by settling their "own affairs" without calling upon it for assistance.

Houston Post-Dispatch.—Sometimes it seems to us that if we wild-eyed political reformers would employ a little more common sense, the Government would become more honest and efficient automatically.

Marion Star.—Isadora Duncan is tired of her bolshevik husband and wants to get back to America. Isadora should team up with Emma Goldman and pull as a double.

Newcastle (Ind.) Courier.—Isn't it great that this country is not run on the European plan?

ALABAMA GRAIN VALUES GAIN

Alabama farmers realized $6,500,000 more on their corn, wheat and oats this year than in 1923, according to the Sears-Roebuck Avricultural Foundation, which reports that the national increase in grain values amount to $550,000,000. Oats alone were responsible for a gain of one and a half millions, and corn for an extra 5 millions over last year, the report states.

While the Alabama corn crop for 1924 fell considerably below that of the preceding year, the better price this year brought the total income to 61 1-2 million dollars as compared with 56 1-2 millions the year before. The increase in the wheat crop this year brought the value up to $375,000 as compared with $275,000 of 1923. The oat crop of this state this year is up to 5 1-2 million bushels as compared to 5 millioss the year before with the result that farmers will have taken in 5 million dollars on this crop as compared with 3 1-2 millions the year before.

The yield per acre on corn in Alabama, the report states, dropped to 13.4 bushels per acre as a result of unfavorable weather, but the loss per bushel to the farmer was 32 cents as compared with 39 the year before. The wet days, on the other hand, were a great help to the wheat and oats production, the former rising to 10.9 bushels per acre as compared with 10 the year before, and the latter to 19.7 from 17.3 in 1923. The profit per bushel of wheat this year was 54 cents where only 7 cents was taken last year and 15 cent profit in oats for the 14 cent loss of the preceeding year.

The increased yield per acre of small grain and the increased price per bushel on all grains has aided materially in restoring the farmer to a better financial basis, the Foundation report concludes. The higher grain prices have resulted in higher live stock prices and this has brought a new vitality to agriculture.

It can be easily demonstrated that the individual "midde man" does not take an unreasonable profit. Perhaps there are too many of those individual aiding in the distribution of goods and taking profits. That is one of the questons to be considered by the United States Chamber of Commerce in its effort to find out why there is so large a margin between the price the producer gets and the price the consumer pays.

NO MORE BEGINNERS AT CLANTON GRAMMAR SCHOOL

I understand that several persons are planning to start their children to school who have become six years of age since Oct. 1. The law provides that a child's age on Oct. 1 shall be considered as his age during tat scholastic year. You can see from that that there would be no law to permit a child to enter school who was six years of age on Oct. 1. If the school were not so badly crowded there would be no objections to allowing a class of beginners on Jan. 1, as has been customary. We regret very much that we cannot accommodate these children, but we are unable at present to improve the conditions, and we sincerely hope that you will not blame us for not accepting a new class at this time.

LETTER FROM FORESTRY COMMISSION

Over a thousand citizens assisted the State Forest Rangers in fighting forest fires on the two-million acres under patrol during the fall drought, according to a statement issued by the Alabama Commission of Forestry. This public spirit was strikingly shown in the Marion District where 248 volunteers, chiefly farmers, stockmen and lumbermen's employees, turned out to fight fire.

The Marion District is one of the largest under patrol. It comprises the southwestern part of Bibb County, the northwestern part of Perry County and the northeastern part of Hale County. The State Forest Ranger is Mr. P. L. Tubb, whose headquarters are in the northern part of Perry County, near the center of the district. The district includes about 822,000 acres. Of this area about 9,600 acres burned over during the phenomenal dry spell lasting through the summer and fall. This amounts to only 3 per cent of the district area, a remarkably good community record in view of the extremely high hazard and the recent organization of the State forestry work in that locality.

The desire of the local residents to co-operate among themselves in the protection of the forest and range against fire is the principal consideration viewed by the State Commission of Forestry in the establishment of ranger districts. The growing timber on non-agricultural lands means permanent prosperity to the local community. As rapidly as the citizens of the various timberland sections of the state will undertake active efforts toward the prevention and suppression of fires the State will extend effective co-operation through the establishment of a forestry district and the assignment of a competent Ranger to lead and co-ordinate the community efforts.

The Christmas services of Thorsby Lutheran Sunday School were held at the church last Saturday night. The program will be found below.

The Baptist Suuday School has as their Christmas Celebration a Pageant entitled, "The Light that Ne'er Shall Fail." JUDGE REYNOLDS WRITES ON CHILTON ROAD MATTERS

Clanton, Ala., Dec. 31st, 1924.
Editor Union-Banner:

Will you please publish this letter to the people of Chilton county?

1924 is about gone and the New Year is coming in. 1924 has brought many changes, some for the better and some for the worse. I want to first thank all the people in the county that have helped us on the roads. The citizens have been nice to the Commissioners Court. They have in most cases been liberal in giving rights-of-way, moving their fences, and helping in many ways to improve the roads. Now we all know we cannot build roads unless we have some place to build them.

The good will of the people has been a great help to the Court in improving the roads. I hope from my heart that the good spirit will continue among our citizens and that 1925 will be the banner year in road building in this county.

The Commissioners will be glad to have the advice of any one, and when you see anything going wrong, we would be glad for you to report it to us. We want to get the worth of your money, and the people can be a great help to us. They have been and I urge a continuation of your co-operation. Do not be backward in helping us correct any errors we are making. Do not hesitate to call our attention to any waste of money that you know of, and feel free to suggest anything you think would be of benefit to the road work this year.

Just a word to all parties that sell the county lumber. You must make out your bill plain, itemize every piece of lumber, state who it was delivered to, what bridge it was used on, and give date of delivery, what kind of lumber, whether heart or sap, oak, gum or pine. Now we will pay every first Monday in each month, and we will expect price to be according to the market and will not pay more just because it was sold to the county.

All road hands can pay $5.50 on or by the first day of March and be relieved of road work for 1925. If you fail to pay you will have to work seven days.

I want to thank both editors for their co-operation in 1924 in road building, and hope to have your help in 1925. I know what politics are, and sometimes it will creep in when we least expect it, but I hope we can keep it out of the road work. I know there is just one or two in the county that have nothing to do except criticise and try to raise some disturbance.

I assure all that I appreciate the friendship of my friends in the county,—friends count more than money, or anything else in this world, and I hope no act of mine will ever cause anyone that has befriended me to ever regret having been my friend.

I hope for all the people of the county a happy and prosperous new year.

Yours very truly,
L. H. REYNOLDS.

WALNUT CREEK NEWS

On Christmas day a beautiful program was rendered at Walnut Creek church. It was a success from every point of view. Rev. G. B. Golden made an inspiring talk on "The Birth of our Savior," and the congregation, like the Wise Men of the East opened their treasures and gave gifts. After the curtains were removed, on the scene was two beautiful trees nicely decorated for the occasion. These trees were loaded with gifts for every member of the Sunday school. In spite of the cold, everyone enjoyed the service and went home feeling good.

ALABAMA NEWS HAPPENINGS

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form.

Miss Lucy Wheeler, eldest daughter of General Joe Wheeler, of Confederate Army fame, died at the Wheeler home, at Wheeler Station, on Christmas Day, after a lingering illness. Her three sisters, Miss Annie M. Wheeler, Mrs. W. J. Harris, of Washington, and Mrs. Gordon M. Buck, of New York City, were at her bedside when death came. Mrs. Harris is the wife of Senator Harris, of Georgia, who was also present. Miss Wheeler was the chief executive of the Wheeler estate of many thousand acres and valued at millions of dollars. She and her sister, Mrs. Harris, were especially active in Red Cross work during the World War. They also did relief work in the Spanish-American war in which their illustrious father added laurels to his career as a soldier. Miss Wheeler contributed freely to many causes, including some of the schools in Lawrence county. The Wheeler home among majestic oaks is a landmark of the Tennessee Valley. In it are many relics of "Fighting Joe" Wheeler.

Professional men in Anniston in the future when applying for licenses must make affidavit as to their earnings during the year, according to a new regulation adopted by the city council in arranging the 1925 license schedule. The cost of the license will be regulated by the amount of money taken in during the year, it was pointed out, in the case of professional men as well as the business men. An additional $20 annual license for moving picture houses for the privilege of running advertising slides on the screen has also been made by the city fathers. All who operate curb filling stations will also be required to pay an annual license fee of $15 in the future. Previously only "drive in" filling stations have been required to purchase license, curb tanks being operated under the regular business license of the owner.

Contracts for the second unit of the new Continental Gin Company plant at Birminahgm have been awarded H. K. Ferguson, of Cleveland, builders of the first unit. It was stated by Eugene Munger, superintendent of the plant. The second unit calls for an assembly building and warehouse and was included in the original program for concentrating all of the company's operations on property at 4600 Avenue D, which was announced some time ago. Approximately $850,000 is involved.

Work is being pushed forward on a storm sewer, which is being constructed to drain the neighborhood of Lee street, Decatur. This section has suffered greatly from flooding by the winter rains in the past. A tunnel has been run under the Louisville and Nashville Railroad and a 36-inch concrete pipe is being laid. The cost of draining this place is estimated at $9,000, according to City Engineer Bingham.

The Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia Railroad is suing the United States Fidelity and Guarantee Company of Baltimore for $1,500 as indemnity because, it is alleged, an employe of the railroad, under bond by the defendant, delivered $8,595.55 worth of grain and grain products shipped, order notify, without the bill of lading. It is complained that five shipments of the kind were delivered without authority and the railroad had to pay for them with interest.

One of the largest cargoes of cotton seed ever shipped on the Tennessee river was unloaded at Bank street, Decatur, from the steamer Troxel. The steamer contained 7,038 sacks of feed, approximately 350 tons, which was delivered to the Southern Cotton Oil Company. The seed was shipped from Langston.

According to official figures of Gin Reporter W. H. Edwards, 17,894 bales of cotton were ginned in Lee County, of the 1924 crop, up to December 13, which compares with 12,177 bales ginned to the date last year.

Passing Its 74th Mile Stone

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad enters the year of 1925, proud of its accomplishments during each of the 74 years of its corporate existence and with a renewed pledge of continued service to the public.

Among the physical improvements recently authorized and now nearing completion, are the construction of 105 miles of double track costing nearly ten million dollars, the rebuilding of numerous bridges costing approximately six million, the installation of automatic signals and automatic train control costing over a million dollars and the acquisition of a large amount of additional power (engines), freight and passenger equipment.

In addition to these amounts already authorized, an additional sum of nearly ten million dollars has been appropriated for new rails, double track work, added equipment and other improvements which will bring the 1925 expenditures already authorized up to practically $ 22,000,000.

In each of the 74 years of its existence this road has striven honestly and effectively to render a superior freight and passenger service to the territory it traverses. That it has succeeded, is evidenced by the fact that people everywhere call it "The Old Reliable."

OAK HILL

The united singing society met in regular session here Sunday afternoon and in addition to the regular directors and organists were Mr. Vernon Northcutt and Miss Myrtle Dorminey, whom we were very glad to have with us again. The class, tho few in number, did some real good singing; a quartette was rendered between each director, by the society's quartette, some of whom are noted for their solos, as well as quartette singing.

The society will meet with Thorsby next Sunday afternoon January the 4th, at 2:00 o'clock and all who are interested in the welfare of the society are not only invited but requested to attend as it will be time to elect officers for the ensoing year. So don't fail to attend and vote for the good of the society as it's future welfare depends upon our votes next Sunday afternoon and our support and attendance through the year.

THANKS FOR CONTRIBUTION TO ORPHANS HOME

Clanton, Ala., Dec. 30th, 1924.

Dear Editor:

Permit me to say through the columns of your paper that the contribution to the Orphans Home on the 23rd, was good, and to thank each and every one who saw fit to donate, for your generosity. I believe that God will abundantly bless each of you.

I did not get the amount contributed from each community but will say that some of the rural churches contribute very generously, but I suspect that the Clanton Church contributed more than any one church for which we greatly thank them.

There was 1900 pounds of produce and dry goods shipped from Clanton on the 23rd. In this shipment we had, flour, corn, corn meal, sugar, sweet potatoes, syrup, fruit, canned tomatoes, candy, lard, and 31 pounds of dry goods. I am persuaded to believe that some of us at least if not all gave of the best we had. It seemed that there was some of the finest fruit that I had ever seen.

I again thank you for your donation and pray God's blessings upon each and every one of you and believe that we can and will do better next time. I was about to forget. There was one or two churches that sent in a collection of money for which we were very thankful. I sent the money to Mr. Colley with instructions to spend it for the children to the very best advantage, and I believe that he did so.

Yours truly,
J. Z. MIMS.

DEMOCRATS FACE EVER-WIDENING BREACH IN RANKS

DEMOCRATIC SENATOR FLAYS OWN PARTY

Dial, South Carolina, Calls For Reorganizatiin For Party Welfare; Colleagues Silent.

Washington, Jan. 3.—The Democratic party Saturday faced an ever-widening breach within its ranks in congress as a result of its crushing defeat in the 1924 presidential campaign.

A new demand for complete reorganization of the party was voiced in the senate by Sen. Nathaniel B. Dial, Democrat of South Carolina, who blamed recent democratic disasters upon the party's record in congress.

In a speech, bitter with invective, Dial denounced the Democratic record as "ridiculous," flayed his colleagues as "sheep" and then summed up by declaring his party was "useless" in its present state.

While his colleagues received the denunciation in silence, Dial poured salt on their wounds by praising President, Coolidge in glowing terms. The Democrat" than most of his own colleagues.

Following as closely a similiar speech by Sen. Bruce, Democrat of Maryland, Dial's attack on the party revealed an ever-widening breach growing out of disagreements that began with the New York convention. Although on that occasion, Bruce's speech provoked heated retorts from the Democratic side, his colleagues sat silent under Dial's lashing.

The South Carolinian blamed the 1924 defeat upon his party's efforts to "link up democracy with bolshevism or communism."

"The Democratic party has been guilty of falling into shifty opportunities, of seizing every fad of the moment and veering to every wind that seemed to promise popularity," Dial said.

"The party has permitted an alien faction to use us as an instrument of annoyance to the administration. It is a mortifying, bitter truth that the quiet and close thinker in the White House just elected president as the Republican nominee is a better Democrat in many essentials, more in accord with the foundation principles of the Democratic party, than many men who have obtained mighty and honorable places as ostensible Democrats."

The 1924 campaign, Dial declared, "was not decided" upon either League of Nations or Ku Klux Klan issues, but upon the Democratic record of trying to 'serve up some semblance of shamefaced compromise of so-called democracy and foreign born socialism or bolshevism."

"The smashing fearful verdict was not against John W. Davis," said Dial. "It was against us here in congress who undertake to lead the party and who have perverted and distorted it and made it ridiculous.

"It is burning humiliation that we have ceased to be the party of hope and real progress and have fallen to the lamentable condition of having no function but to aid in clogging the dominant party with childish spiteful desire to make it as useless to the country as we ourselves have become."

WILLIAM J. MORRIS DIED LAST WEDNESDAY

William Jefferson Morris, age 55 years, died at his home two and a half miles west of Clanton last Wednesday, December 31. Mr. Morris had been suffering from cancer of the stomach for several months, which was ultimately the cause of his death. He was operated on for this ailment at the South Highlands Infirmary in Birmingham about three months ago, and he seemed to improve for a month after the operation. Two months ago he began to go down again, and all medical attention and help of his many friends failed to allay the dreadful but apparently certain end of his earthly existence.

Mr. Morris had been living in Chilton County at his home where he died, for the past fifteen years, he having come to this county from Coosa. He had been farming on this place ever since he came to Chilton County.

The deceased leaves his wife and three children. The children are: Miss Stella Morris, at home, Mrs. Marie Littlejohn of Clanton, and Clyde Morris, at home. There are four brothers living, who are: J. W. Morris, in Coosa County, J. L., and Walter Morris in Hillsborough County, Texas, and S. E. Morris of Liberty Hill, this county.

The funeral was held at Liberty Hill Church last Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. J. D. Hughes conducting the ceremony. All the children and all the brothers were present to pay the last sad respects to the departed father and brother. A large concourse of sorrowing friends were present at the sad occasion to join with the sorrowing wife and relatives of this good Christian man.

Mr. Morris had been a faithful member of the Liberty Hill Baptist church for the past fifteen years which he has lived in that community, and to say the least of him, he was a faithful and conscientious Christian man. It is customary to speak well of the dead, but this can be done in the case of Will Morris without the least exageration. His staunch character has born the fruits to show for itself. His friends are numbered by all who knew him, and his home has been blessed by three good children who are trodding the footprints of their model father who has gone on before them. He set a good example for them and taught them to follow after him, and if they continue the course blazed out by him, they will not err.

City of Bessemer	88,586.04

Checks for $715,000, to the State, and $20,000 to the city of Bessemer, had already been issued.

Mr. Clint Jones of South Carolina arried in Clanton last Tuesday afternoon on No. 3.

BIG BUSINESS DEAL CONSUMMATED IN CLANTON RECENTLY

BUD ALRED ENTERS MERCANTILE BUSINESS

Clanton Mercantile Company Change Hands, Taking Effect First of the Year.

The largest business transaction for the past several years in Clanton was transacted about the first of this year when Mr. J. Hance Alred released his major interest in the Alred Drug Company to Mr. Joseph N. Calloway and Dr. T. H. Neighbors, and Mr. Alred and his brother, Mr. D. C. Alred acquired complete control of the largest mercantile establishment in Clanton, The Clanton Mercantile Company. The mercantile establishment formerly belonged to Mr. J. C. Jones, who founded the business ten or twelve years ago.

Mr. J. Hance Alred established the Alred Drug Company sixteen years ago, and he has been general manager of that business ever since its organization. Under the management of Mr. Alred the Alred Drug Company has grown to be one of the largest and most widely patronized drug stores in this section of the state, and it has been very successful from a financial standpoint. Dr. Neighbors, who is now one of the owners of the Alred Drug Company, has been the pharmacist for the company as well as part owner for the past ten years, and he has made a gratifying success with his end of the business. Mr. Calloway has been working in the drug store since it was first organized.

Mr. D. C. Alred, better known by his many friends as "Bud," is well acquainted with the dry goods and mercantile business, he having worked at this business in different capacities for over twenty years. Mr. D. C. Alred will be the president and general manager of the new mercantile establishment, which will be known as Alred Mercantile Company. J. Hance Alred, although the owner of the greater part of the mercantile company and vice-president of the firm, will not be active in the business so far as the management is concerned.

All the men interested in this double transaction are well thought of in Clanton and Chilton county, and their careful and businesslike management has netted them good returns for the faithful work they have so persistently performed. This change of hands of two of the largest business concerns in Clanton involved thousands of dollars, which is representative of years of careful and successful management of business affairs.

Mr. Joseph N. Calloway is a Chilton county product, being the son of the late Joseph C. Calloway, and has risen to the high level of business management from an humble though determined and emulative beginning. He began his career in his home county by teaching school, which profession he followed for three or four years. In 1906 he quit teaching school and went to Birmingham where he became connected with a retail shoe concern. He remained there four years and came back to Clanton when the Alred Drug Company had its birth, D. C. Alred and J. Hance Alred being the initial owners. Soon the interest of D. C. Alred was acquired by J. Hance Alred, who managed the concern until the first of this year. Mr. J. Hance Alred is now one of the directors of the Peoples Savings Bank, the oldest bank in Chilton County.

It is supposed that Mr. J. C. Jones will retire from active business at least for a while. Mr. Jones has been very successful in the management of his business and has netted good returns from his investments and careful business management.

CONTRACT LET FOR BUILDING CHILTON HIGHWAY SOUTH

WILL COMPLETE HARD ROAD THROUGH COUNTY

U. S. Bureau Receives Plans for New Highway Through Autauga County.

On Wednesday of this week, the State Highway Commission in session in Montgomery, opened the bids submitted on the building and paving of the highway through the south half of Chilton County. The contract was let for about 17.5 miles of road extending from Lomax to the county line just south of Mt. Creek. The work on the grading of this section of the highway will begin shortly, and after that the concrete will be laid. The specifications for the south end of this road are about the same as those for the north half which is now nearing completion.

Project No. 148 has been received from the state highay commission by the bureau of public roads and is being reviewed there. The project is for 25 miles of road running from Hunter's Station in Montgomery County by way of Reese Ferry bridge through Autauga County to the point in the Autauga-Chilton county line near Mt. Creek. Only one mile of the road lies in Montgomery county and the remaining 24 will be in Autauga county.

Plans will call for a high grade of paved roadway. Concrete or asphalt or some such material will be used. The material will be determined later, according to statements made in the bureau Tuesday morning.

JOE BEN DOWNS IN FLORIDA

Mr. Joe Ben Downs left Clanton last Saturday morning with his wife and baby, going to visit the parents of Mrs. Downs, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Foshee, former Chilton people who now live in Lakeland Florida.

Joe promised the Union-Banner force that he would send us a box of oranges while visiting in the land of flowers and sunshine, as Mr. Foshee has two orange groves there. They left in a Chevrolet sedan and should arrive in Lakeland about Tuesday.

We hope for them a pleasant journey. They will be gone for about a month.

DON'T FORGET TO PAY POLL TAX BEFORE FEBRUARY 1st

The time allowed in which poll tax can be paid expires February 1st, and that time is not very long off now. The Republicans of Chilton county do not want to let this matter slip their minds, and they cannot afford to let the date pass without paying.

Just because this year is an off-year of political elections is no reason that our voters should not pay poll tax. In the first place, if you skip a year, it will only be harder for you next year when the elections come off, and too, there will be some important bond issues, amendments, etc., to be voted on this year, in which our voters should certainly be able to take part. There is already talk of a bond issue election, and sure there will be some questions to be voted on during the year, so now is the time to get ready for them.

Get your women folks and neighbors and friends to thinking about this matter now while the thinking is good. It will soon be everlastingly too late so far as this year's voting is concerned. Pay your poll tax now, and be a full-fledged citizen with a voice to say what you want and how you want your government operated.

PUBLISHERS WIN BIG VICTORY IN U. S. POSTAL RATE BILL

Washington, Jan. 5.—American publishers won a sweeping victory today when the Senate Postoffice Committee adopted a new postal rate schedule, sharply reducing the administration's recommendations for increases on second class mail.

The new rate bill including also provisions for a $68,000,000 salary increase for postoffice employees, will be reported to the Senate late this afternoon.

It was drafted as a compromise to meet the storm of opposition raised against the new schedule, proposed by the post office department, which would have made publishers bear the burden of the salary increases.

NOT SHERIFF'S FAULT THAT CASES NOT INVESTIGATED

There appeared last week in the Chilton County News an article entitled, "Are not satisfied," in which complaint was made that the death of Mr. Ed Smitherman in the western part of this county had never been investigated by the grand jury and since the question has been raised we think the answer very easy.

Upon the meeting of the first grand jury after this death orcurred, the sheriff's office had from ten to fifteen witnesses summoned before the grand jury to testify in regard to this case but the grand jury was at that time busily engaged in a political matter, as was reported, which was investigated at the suggestion of one or two parties here in this county. These witnesses remained here all day but the grand jury being busily engaged in a matter of politics the investigation in this death could not be had. Mrs. Smitherman, the mother of the deceased man, came to Clanton in reference to her son's death and several witnesses were again summoned before the grand jury but this same matter was before the grand jury and several hundred witnesses having been summoned the witnesses to testify concerning the death of Smitherman again had to be discharged as this political investigation had not been completed.

We do not know what the several hundred witnesses were summoned before the grand jury for but from information we have gathered it was no fault of the grand jury nor was it the fault of the grand jury or the sheriff's office, that this Smitherman death could not be investigated, and the best we can learn this political investigation was brought about at the suggestion of one or two who do not pay very much taxes and therefore the great burden they have imposed on the taxpayers of this county will not hurt them directly.

We heartily endorse the News' attitude about investigation of crimes but we wonder how it could ever be done before a grand jury with two or three hundred witnesses summoned before it which necessarily took the entire time of the grand jury.

We do not know what officer or officers the News is blaming but our opinion is that the sheriff and both the Circuit and County Solicitors are performing their duty well.

The News might state the name of the officers whom it is blaming and also the other case or two referred to and the people might understand its meaning better.

BIG HAWK CAUGHT IN TRAP

Mr. Jesse Mitchell, who lives on the old Mose Robinson place near old Salem, brought into the Banner office Wednesday morning a large hawk which he caught in a steel trap the day before. The hawk measured four and one-half feet and weighed five pounds. Mr. Mitchell was away from home when the bird got in the trap, and his wife killed the hawk with a stick. The trap caught him by one of his legs.

SOLDIERS' BONUS HAS NOW BECOME A REALITY IN U. S.

MILLION CERTIFICATES ALREADY MAILED OUT

Alabama Veterans Receive 25,000 Insurance Certificates From the United States.

At midnight Jan. 1, 1925, the U. S. Veterans Bureau started a parade of trucks loaded with 1,000,000 bonus insurance certificates to the post office. These certificates will be worth almost $1,000,000,000 to the lucky service men who applied early. Approximately 25,000 were mailed to veterans in Alabama. For five long years veterans have been hearing about and waiting for their bonus. This will be the first real evidence of the bonus authorized by the second session of the present congress.

After this avalanche of mail has been digested by the post office in Washington, the veterans bureau expects to mail out from 50,000 to 100,000 bonus insurance certificates daily. A day and night shift of clerks are adjusting claims and preparing bonus certificates. The war and navy departments have sent to the veterans bureau about 750,000 claims which it has not yet acted upon. At the present rate of progress it is estimated that this load can be cleared up by Jan. 31, 1925, in addition to handling the 15,000 claims now being received daily.

Maj. Omar C. Clark, assistant director of the veterans bureau in charge of the bonus work, asks the service men not to write to the department for information or the date to expect their certificates. He says if a veteran filed an early application, he may expect to be one of the first to receive a certificate. If the application was filed only 60 days ago, the bonus insuranse certificates will probably be mailed within the next 60 days. Roughly it will take about four months to receive your certificate if you should file an application today. If you have received a card of acknowledgement from either the war or navy departments, you will certainly receive a certificate.

While the veterans bureau is working nights to get out bonus certificates to one-half of the veterans who have applied, the war and navy departments continue to urge the other half to file applications, or signify their intention of not applying. The service men wil not apply very promptly nor are there very many who will refuse the bonus. So far only 66 veterans have written in to say that they will not apply for the bonus. Such action will not terminate their rights to adjusted compensation however, should they make application before Jan. 1, 1928.

All service men having a possible claim for the bonus are urged to file an application at once. The cost of administering the bonus law is mounting steadily and considerably because veterans have been so slow in filing claims. The war department is receiving less than 15,000 applications daily, while it has a trained force to handle approximately 40,000 a day. The overhead cost of doing the clerical work, because veterans are so slow in applying, may increase the cost of the whole job by more than $1,000,000.

NATIONAL FOREST TIMBER BUSINESS BREAKS RECORDS

All yearly records for cut of timber from the 147 national forests were broken during the calendar year of 1923, states W. B. Greeley, Chief of the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture, in his annual report to the Secretary of Agriculture.

During this period the cut for the first time in the history of the Forest Service exceeded a billion board feet. This amount exceeded the cut in 1922 by 20 per cent greater value, the report says. In speaking of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, the report states that both cut and receipts surpassed the calendar year of 1923.

Sales of national forest timber during the calendar year of 1923 also exceeded all records with a total of more than three billion board feet which had a contract value of more than $9,000,000. Compared with the calendar year 1922 this is an increase of 68 per cent in amount and 70 per cent in contract value.

In commenting on the timber sales made by the Forest Service the report says:

"This increase in the national forest sales, particularly in the three Pacific Coast States where the volume of current business is heaviest, is striking evidence of the continued and increasing westward movement of the lumber industry from the cut-over regions of the East.

"In one instance a lumber company with its entire organization and most of its employees was bodily moved by special trains from the southern yellow-pine region to Arizona where operations will be continued on national forests and Indian lands."

Alaska stood sixth among the 24 states and territories containing national forest lands in the amount of timber cut during the calendar year of 1923. California was first, Oregon second, Washington third, Idaho fourth and Montana fifth. Wyoming was seventh, Arizona eighth, Colorada ninth and South Dakota tenth.

All sales of timber from the national forests take into account the sustained yield principle, thus affording a perpetual supply on the sale area. One of the outstanding sales of the year was made on the Cascade Forest in Oregon. The unit sold embraces 15,700 acres with an average stand of 44,000 feet per acre, 90 per cent of which is Douglas fir. Under the management plans for this sale the timber will be cut at the rate of about 50,000,000 board feet per year.

The average stumpage price received in sales of timber, although governed from year to year by the accessibility and quality of the stumpage placed under contract, is gradually rising, according to the Chief Forester's report.

An indication of this, the report says, is that the average stumpage price received in 1924 stands at $2.70 per thousand board feet, compared with $2.20 in 1920, and $2.08 in 1915.

Despite the increase in the volume of timber sales during recent years, the Forest Service report declares that the present cut is less than one-sixth of the stumpage that can safely be removed from the national forests every year without depleting the growing stock or endangering future reductions in the volume of business.

It would be a godsend to our country if every child 16 or 18 years old could have enough steady work to form habits of industry instead of habits of idleness.

CHEVROLET CO. SHOWS NEW MODELS AT N. Y. AUTO SHOW

More interest was aroused by the display of the new Chevrolet line at the New York Automobile Show than has been accorded any new car introduced for more than a decade, according to veteran automobile men who have been present at the greater majority, if not all, of the 25 national automotive exhibits held in the eastern metropolis.

Opinions of both experts and the general public followed the same trend—first of admiration and then the puzzled question, "How can the Chevrolet company do it at the price." The exhibit was visited by practically every automotive representative present Friday and Saturday, the two days reserved for the trade, and it proved the mecca for the general public through the eight days following.

The general beauty of the line was most commented upon. The new semi-elliptic springs and longer frame vied with the new lines and roomier bodies in exciting praise. The Duco finish in colors for all models was another feature favorably commented upon. In fact the general remarks of show visitors clearly showed that the plain black enameled automobile will not find much favor with the car purchaser of 1925.

Chevrolet factories are working day and night to full capacity to supply the demand for the new cars. If the reception tendered the first showing of the line is a criterion, these Superior models will smash the high records previously made.

PAY YOUR CENTRAL FEES BEFORE JANUARY 15TH

The patrons of the Peoples Telephone Company are urged to pay their post right and central fees before January 15th, as after this date, Mr. Culp, the operator, has specific instructions not to let anyone through central who has not paid. The company cannot be run without money, and the management must have a system if it is to function and give service. So, if you fail to pay up before the 15th and the operator refuses to give you service, do not blame anyone except yourself.

Dangerous Coughs Go Quickly With Old-Time Pine-Tar Honey

Perhaps the best remedy ever discovered for a persistent cough that has hung on and on, and which may develop into a more serious condition, is that old-time tried and proved medicine that our parents and grandparents relied on—Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. The prompt relief is almost magical, and a day's use will often break up a bad cough or chest cold entirely. Doctors say the pine tar quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the cough, also healing soreness, while the honey both soothes irritation and gives a pleasant taste.

But be sure you get the genuine and original Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey, and no other. There have been many imitations, but the original is still the best, as it is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine-tar, honey and other healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in quick relief. For coughs, chest colds, bronchitis and almost every other throat irritation, including children's spasmodic croup. Often stops a severe cough overnight. Dr Bell's is only 30c at any good druggists.

Traversed Old Trail By Covered Wagon! Now—By Plane!

TIME certainly has brought many miracles to the eyes of Ezra Meeker, a 92-year-old pioneer of the Oregon country. It was 72 years ago that Meeker made the trans-continental trip to the Pacific coast in a covered wagon. And, just recently, he made the same trip—from Vancouver, Wash. to Dayton, O.—in an aeroplane.

He was piloted by Lieut. Oakley Kelly, famous army aviator who holds the trans-continental non-stop record. The photo above shows Lieut. Kelly fastening a parachute to his aged passenger's back, preparatory to making the long flight. Mr. Meeker made the trip in the best of spirits and was highly elated with his adventure.

Danger Ahead

American farmers should not increase their wheat acreage for 1924. If they increase the acreage by three million acres, as is indicated by the intentions to Seed Wheat Survey of the government, and normal conditions again prevail in other wheat producing countries, next year's wheat market will be glutted and once more wheat prices will be ruinously low. The present high price of wheat is due to poor crops in other countries and in certain sections of the United States.—W. M. Jardine, Advisory Council, Agricultural Commission, American Bankers Association.

Where Bankers Come From

The smaller localities are to a large extent the recruiting ground for the profession of banking. A recent survey discloses the fact that of 682 senior bank officers in the largest cities of the United States, 406, or 60 per cent, were born in the country or in small towns.

Of the 682 senior bankers of large cities, 427, or approximately 62 per cent, had a high school or college education. The conclusion is reasonable that the smaller environment, coupled with an education, makes for success in the banking field.—American Bankers Association Journal.

THIS photograph depicts an excellent example of two extremes—grandfather and grandson engaged in the Near East's commonest profession, begging. The word also signified "alms" as bestowed on professional beggars—whose name is legion in Turkey.

LAW ENFORCEMENT IN CHILTON COUNTY

Never before in the history of Chilton County have violators of the law in our county been looked after and brought before the bar of justice any better than they are today, and this fact is due solely to the vigilant and persistent work of Sheriff T. J. Littlejohn and his able corps of Deputies. It may be true that there is some defect in the judicial aspect of the county, but if such is the case, it is certainly not a fault of the Sheriff and his deputies. This fact will be attested to by ninety-five per cent of the citizenship of our county.

When the County Court of Chilton County was first abolished by the Legislature of Alabama at the behest of a few mad and envious politicians, the Union-Banner predicted that there would be a jumble in the judiciary of our County. Now that time has come, and the first ones to squall at it are the very ones who lent their efforts to get the County Court knocked out. It is true that we still have our Circuit Court, and there is nothing unbecoming that could be truthfully charged against Judge Smoot in the management of this court. But the question is a simple one. It has been a universal and true rule that some jobs could be handled better by two or more men than by one man. This rule will work as to the courts of Chilton County. The Circuit Court cannot give our county justice when it must handle all the small as well as large cases. Some will have to take the rear and probably not be given the proper consideration due to lack of time. Even the Grand Jury cannot in any reasonable length of time examine five hundred witnesses in one case and get around to a whole raft of other alleged violators. Under such unfavorable conditions, some necessarily have to go untouched, and this is exactly where the trouble is today.

There is only one thing to the business now. We manufactured our own medicine—at least a few of our smart politicians did it for us—and now we have only to take it no matter how stale and how bitter it may have gotten for us. And especially ought those who made the above conditions face them without whining and without trying to saddle the blame for it on the Sheriff and Deputies of Chilton County. These men are not to blame and they should not be criticised for the faults of others when they are performing their duties so completely as the Sheriff and his Deputies are doing in this county.

United States Senate has gone on record as favoring private operation of Muscle Shoals. An amendment providing for government operation was voted down 32 to 49 and then the Underwood bill was passed by the same vote, Democrats and Republicans dividing about equally on the subject.

President Coolidge.—"Those portions of the present law contemplating railroad consolidations are not sufficiently effective in producing expeditious action and need amplification of the authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission, particularly in affording a period for voluntary proposals to the commission and in supplying Government pressure to secure action after the expiration of such period."

It sounds kindly fishy to say that in 1907 there were less than one hundred fatalities as results of automobile accidents, while last year in the United States there were 16,000 such deaths, but such is the statistical report of a national agency.

There is a world-wide move on now to decrease these automobile fatalities, but it is a hard thing to get at. Reports say that after working for months on a device to make the streets safe for pedestrians, an inventor has just committed suicide. It seems to be almost a hopeless task. Chilton County has been mighty lucky so far as fatalities from automobile accidents are concerned, but this is merely a blessing of Providence—it is not due to careful driving. We have lots of accidents, but it just happens that there are few fatalities. The tide is liable to turn some day. It would be startling now if a death occurred even in every three automobile wrecks in our county.

A SLIP THAT COMES EARLY EVERY YEAR

A BUSINESS GETTER

Washington, Jan. 5.—More than forty offices in thirty-four different countries now represent the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce, giving the Bureau economic interpreters and trade scouts in nearly every important market of the world. This Bureau is operating on an annual expenditure of not quite $3,000,000 and is returning to the American business public "dollars and cents accomplishments to the tune of over $500,000,000 a year, thus making taxes pay dividends." That is quite a large interest on the capital investment, in the benefits of which practically every American, directly or indirectly, has a share.

Since July 1, 1924, new offices have been opened in Hamburg, Stockholm, Helsingfors, Ottawa, San Juan, Montevideo, Bombay, and Canton. From the beginning of the Bureau in 1912, when it was created by Act of Congress, until the outbreak of the World War, its direct investigation work in foreign fields was limited from the despatching abroad of eleven special agents for specific investigations of markets for American commodities to the assignment of Bureau commercial agents to ten of the leading embassies and legations of the United States located at London, Berlin, Paris, St. Petersburg, Buenos Aires, Peking, Rio de Janeiro, Lima, Santiago and Melbourne. Since 1921 the development has been gradual until it has reached its present growth, which is not yet its peak of perfection nor its limit of scope. Other offices will be established in time as the needs of commerce and appropriations permit.

It is interesting in this connection to note the increasing appreciation of the bureau's work as reflected by the number of trade inquiries received. In 1921 the daily calls on the Bureau's force at home and abroad from American business approximated 700 in number. Today they run about 6000 daily. The highest number related to possibilities in Western European markets, and second came Latin American markets, which are receiving greater attention from our exporters and importers every day. The Far East shows up third on the list.

A group of experts in Washington directs the work of the foreign service staff, all men of experience in their respective lines. The Department is also made the distributing agent for consular reports on trade. There is a free interchange of information between all agents of the Government in foreign lands, and there are bi-monthly conferences, to be attended by all foreign service officers and every effort is made to eliminate needless duplication of work. During the past three years a world-wide cable service, which reports upon every important area at least once a month, has been organized. From July 1, 1922, to April 10, 1924, the Department received from abroad about 1400 special reports on agricultural products and conditions, 600 of them being received during the last year.

The service pays something like 18,000 per cent on the taxpayers' investment.

MR. ELBERT LITTLEJOHN GIVEN NEW YEAR TREAT

Mr. J. Elbert Littlejohn, of Clanton was accorded a very wonderful treat by some of his friends in Clanton on New Years Day, of which Mr. Littlejohn is very grateful. He wishes all a very happy and prosperous New Year.

A HEALTHY BOOM

Financial writers are calling attention, very appropriately, to one important difference between the present boom in railroad securities and that which took place in 1901. In 1901 there was a consolidation movement among railroad owners and managers, but chiefly with a view to limiting competition and controlling traffic for their own benefit entirely. The public was given the idea that hugely increased values would result, and, as a consequence, the public bought railroad stocks freely. At that time there was no governmental regulation of such consolidations.

At the present time there is in progress a consolidation movement, but under vastly different circumstances. The government is encouraging the consolidations, but keeping a very effective regulating hand on the procedure. The consolidations are for the purpose of securing economy in operation and not for the purpose of eliminating competition. In fact, the law specifically requires that competition shall be maintained. That is, competing lines cannot consolidate. The larger systems are being formed by uniting lines that are so located as to form one continuous transportation service competing with some other system. Moreover, the recapture clause of the Transportation Act makes it quite certain that no exorbitant profits can be secured by any scheme of consolidation.

The fundamental difference between the present boom in railroad stocks and the boom in 1901 is this: The boom in 1901 was in expectation of large profits. In 1924 the roads had long been laboring under regulation that prevented them from earning a fair return and, as a consequence, the market value of their securities had been hammered down below real values of tangible property. The election of 1924 was evidence that the American people intend to give the railroads a square deal. Therefore, the boom of the last two months of 1924 was a revival from an abnormal depression rather than a rise above normal.

The advance in market values of railroad stocks in 1924 has been a healthy advance, based upon the assumption that there is to be fair dealing with the railroads, and fair dealings by the railroads with the public. It is a healthy situation.

The situation in the Balkans, always the sore spot of Europe, is becoming aggravated again. Frequent raids from Jugo-Slavia over the border into Albania have brought a protest to the League of Nations from the latter country. The League appears not at all disturbed over the matter, and the protest has merely been referred to the Jugoslav minister in Switzerland.

SCHOOL TEACHER'S FRIENDS MADE GLAD

One of them had this to say yesterday. "We never thought that poor Ellen would ever recover, she had suffered so long from stomach and liver trouble and had lost more than 40 lbs. in weight. She took a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy upon the advice of her aunt and has steadily improved from the first dose. We are all confident of her complete recovery." It removes the catarrhal mucous from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at Alred Drug Co., Clanton, Ala., and druggists everywhere.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

President Coolidge has announced his intention to call a conference of commissioners of revenue of the several states to consider problems presented by the federal and state inheritance, estate or succession taxes. In the United States 46 states now impose such taxes. There is a striking lack of uniformity in the laws. Overlapping of taxes, resulting in double and triple taxation, and many problems of tax theory and administration are scheduled for discussion.

An inheritance tax is primarily a tax upon capital as opposed to income and therefore as taxing authorities are consumers and not producers of wealth, any subtraction from the capital wealth of the nation is a subtraction from the common wealth. In other words, the same objections apply as to a capital levy.

Excessive estate taxes discourage accumulation of fortunes and lessen reservoirs of wealth from which spring extensive employment and investments necessary to initiate new enterprises and develop the country. Continuation of high estate taxes would inevitably pare away wealth of a people to point of economic impoverishment.

States are already beginning to relaw on drastic inheritance tax laws as they see that such measures strike at the root of productive industry and employment and lessen the permanent taxable assets of a state.

President Coolidge.—"The Government cannot successfully insure prosperity or fix prices by legislative fiat. Every business has its risk and its time of depression. It is well known that in the long run there will be a more even prosperity and a more satisfactory range of prices under the natural working out of economic laws than when the government undertakes the artificial support of markets and industries. Still we can so order our affairs, so protect our own people from foreign competition, so arrange our national finances, so administer our monetary system, so provide for the extension of credits, so improve methods of distribution, as to provide a better working machinery for the transaction of the business of the Nation with the least possible friction and loss."

Weakening Night Coughing Banished Very Simple Way

It is really astonishing how a persistent, exasperating cough that has kept you awake night after night, and is rapidly wearing you down is usually stopped short by a very simple method. Hundreds have found that they can sleep the whole night through undisturbed often the first time they try it.

The method is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. Getting at the cause like this, in a perfectly simple way, it stops the spells almost instantly, you get your best night's rest perhaps in weeks, and in a very short time the whole cough condition is gone.

This simple treatment is splendid not only for coughs and chest colds, but also for bronchitis, bronchial asthma, hoarseness and almost every kind of throat irritation, including children's spasmodic croup. Very economical too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. On sale at all good druggists. Ask for

A number of High school friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arant on New Year's night to enjoy a watch party given by their daughter, Miss Rita Arant. The home was decorated in Christmas suggestions and growing pot plants. A color-scheme of red and white was carried out in the dining room. The table was centered with a basket of red roses; large red tapers burned in silver candlesticks. A four-course dinner was served Misses Alma Robinson, Sarah Cox, Mary Ellis, Elizabeth Duncan, Messrs. Bill Murphy, Sam Upchurch, Arthur Littlejohn, Crit Jones, and Ernest Arant. Mrs. Arant, the mother of the young hostess, was assisted by Mrs. George Polk and Mrs. Clyde Jones. Music and games were enjoyed until the New Year made its appearance. Then it was welcomed by the happy crowd.

WOMAN'S COURAGE FOILS BANDITS

Grapples With Armed Robbers Who Attempt to Hold Up Her Bank.

UNARMED, WINS LONG FIGHT

One Bandit Killed and Other Wounded When Men Come to Rescue—Story Told at National Meeting of Bankers.

When the wave of crime against banks, which has reached unprecedented proportions, was under discussion at the recent meeting of the American Bankers Association at Chicago, and defense measures were up for consideration, the bankers were told how one resolute woman defended herself against two armed desperadoes in her little Western bank. The woman was Mrs. Mary Garlinghouse, cashier of the State Bank of Vera, Oklahoma, which she conducts single-handed. Her own story, as she told it in a report to the protective authorities of the Association, follows:

"While I was posting my ledger, with my back to the door, I heard a commotion. When I turned around there were two men back of the counter, with handkerchiefs over their faces. The larger made a jump for my gun, before I realized what was happening. The robbers each had a gun pointed at me, and one said, 'Lay down or I will shoot you!' I said, 'I will not lay down and you will not shoot me.' This conversation was repeated several times. I told them to cut out their foolishness.

"A man who was in the corridor when the bandits came laid down on the floor, face down. I tried to argue with the robbers and they began to get rough, but something within me seemed to realize that they were getting confused. I kept thinking that some one would come in or see us.

"The larger man got busy with the money, while the smaller one took care of me. He jerked me to my knees and hit me over the head. This jolted my glasses and I lifted my hand, waving it in front of his face and telling him to wait a minute. I took my glasses off and put them on the table. Lifting my hand caused this man to look up and he saw we were observed from across the street. Then he saw Constable Mosby, with his gun, and said to the man who was gathering the money, 'Dom, we are seen, we must make our getaway!' He then grabbed me rather roughly and said: 'Come on here! You are coming along!'

Struggles With Robber

"Here is where our struggle began. All the time we fought over his gun I did not try to take it away from him, but kept moving it from one side to the other, and of course he was determined to point it straight at me. I told him 'I will not go and I am not afraid of you. You will not shoot me!'

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Mrs. George Corbett of Jackson, Mich., who has been visiting her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Goddard, left for her home Monday evening.

Mr. F. E. Gronquist of Birmingham was a visitor in Thorsby Monday. He was accompanied by Mr. H. R. Tutt of Montgomery, a man who formerly was in charge of the milling department of the Hobbie Elevator Company of Montgomery. Mr. Tutt was looking over Mr. Gronquist's mill property in Thorsby with a view to purchase and operation of a flour mill, which was at one time a prosperous Thorsby industry in the hands of Mr. Gronquist. It ought to be made so again and could be if our farmers would take more interest in growing wheat.

Thorsby Hardware Company held their annual meeting of stockholders last Monday. The Manager's report shows the most prosperous year in 1924 ever known in the history of the business, enabling the company to increase their capital stock 33 1-3 per cent, and still leave a comfortable surplus of cash for working capital with no outstanding obligations for goods in stock. The new issue of stock is all taken by the shareholders and A. E. Reagan was re-elected Manager.

Miss Pearl Carlson gave a party to a large number of Thorsby young peiple last Thursday night.

Mr. Charles Swanson, formerly a Thorsby resident but now of Chicago, is greeting old friends in Thorsby and expects to remain for an indefinite time.

Rev. Wilhelm Petterson, former pastor of Thorsby Lutheran church, arrived in Thorsby last Friday morning and occupied the Lutheran church pulpit both morning and evening last Sunday. He expects to remain over next Sunday and will again conduct services. The morning service will be in Scandanavian language and the evening in English.

Mr. Arnold Soberg and Miss Esther Johnson gave a Night Watch party to a number of their young friends December 31st. Many of the guests attended the moving picture exhibition of "The Covered Wagon," later going to the Soberg-Johnson home for the Watch party to greet the incoming New Year.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Conrad Carlson on Friday of this week, instead of their usual 3rd Thursday, because of the visit to Thorsby of Rev. Petterson and wife, whom all want to meet socially before they leave.

Sunday, January 11th there will be preaching at Thorsby Baptist church. We are not able at this writing to announce who will preach. At 2 p.m., on the same day, Mr. H. R. Durbin will be ordained at a Baptist Minister. The ordaination service will be conducted by Dr. S. J. Ezell of Clanton, Rev. Hughes of Verbena and Rev. Lowery of Thorsby.

Mrs. John Johnson and daughter, Beatrice, entertained last Friday afternoon, after a social time interspersed with music, refreshments were served to the following guests: Mesdames Johanna Lefstead, Danielson, J. O. Johnson, M. J. Soberg, Ernie Hanson, Clyde Mead, Hattie M. Gerald and the Misses Pearl Carlson, Esther Johnson, Agnes, Ruth and Mary Ella Gerald.

After spending vacation days at home in Thorsby, Horace Franklin has reutrned to his studies at the University of Alabama, Gresham Lowery to Howard College, Sumner Gerald on Friday to his work as instructor in Piedmont College, Demorest, Ga., and Esther Johnson, Margaret Butler, Ruth and Mary Ella Gerald to Piedmont College on Monday, and Jennye and Edith Robinson to Cumberland College, Lebanon, Tenn. Never in the history of Thorsby have so many young people at one time been attending college. Others who have received their college training are filling important positions in various parts of the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Mead entertained Mr. and Mrs. David Paxson, Mr. A. M. Johnson, Mrs. Ollie Tagg and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Mead for New Years Dinner.

Work on finishing the exterior of Thorsby Institute dining hall is expected to begin this week. We shall be able to give more details in our next issue.

The Congregational Ladies Aid Society held their annual meeting at the church on Wednesday afternoon.

The annual meeting of the United Protestant Church of Thorsby, Congregational, will be held at the church Wednesday evening, January 14th, beginning with a dinner to members of the church and congregation. Reports from officers and the various organized departments of the work for the past year will be given.

Mr. J. O. Johnson has commenced building operations on his new property about two blocks west of the Drug Store.

Thorsby Institute Board of Truztees will hold their regular quarterly meeting at Bates Hall Thursday, January 8th at 9:30 a.m.

J. D. Cleckler and Company has sold its store to G. J. Thompson and Akins Collins, who will take possession within a day of two.

Don't fail to vote for Thorsby School bonds Friday, January 16th at the Town Hall.

Reno S. Villadsen and A. D. Henning made a business trip to Montgomery on Tuesday.

The Helen Keller Literary Society had their annual party Saturday evening, January 3rd at the girls dormitory. The program committees of the Wm. Gorgas and Thorsonian divisions acting as a unit, prepared the program and were responsible for the refreshments. Everyone, including the faculty, were in costume. The prizes were awarded to Julia Jackson, Sexten Hall and to the Thorsonian division.

Each division presented charades and stunts. Several games and contests added to the hilarity of the occasion. The committee in charge of the refreshments served delicious cake and cocoa so quickly that the cocoa was steaming hot. The girls af the boarding department particularly enjoyed the looks of the immaculate kitchen; no dishes were left for them to wash. Everyone voted it the best party—since last year.

PHONE BOOTHS ON STREET CORNERS

AS you no doubt are aware from the signs on this kiosk—the scene was not taken in this country. It shows one of Sweden's modern telephone booths as they're constructed on the street corners of even some of the smallest towns. The Viking country boasts one of the most extensive telephone services in the world. This photo was made in the village of Leksland.

Last week notice was given that the Alumni would have charge of the chapel exercises at Thorsby Institute on Friday, the 2nd. They were present thirteen strong, and made their Alma Mater proud. We regret that all of the graduates who were in town did not receive notice so they could be on hand. Everyone was so busy with preparations for returning to college and to business that all notices were not sent out.

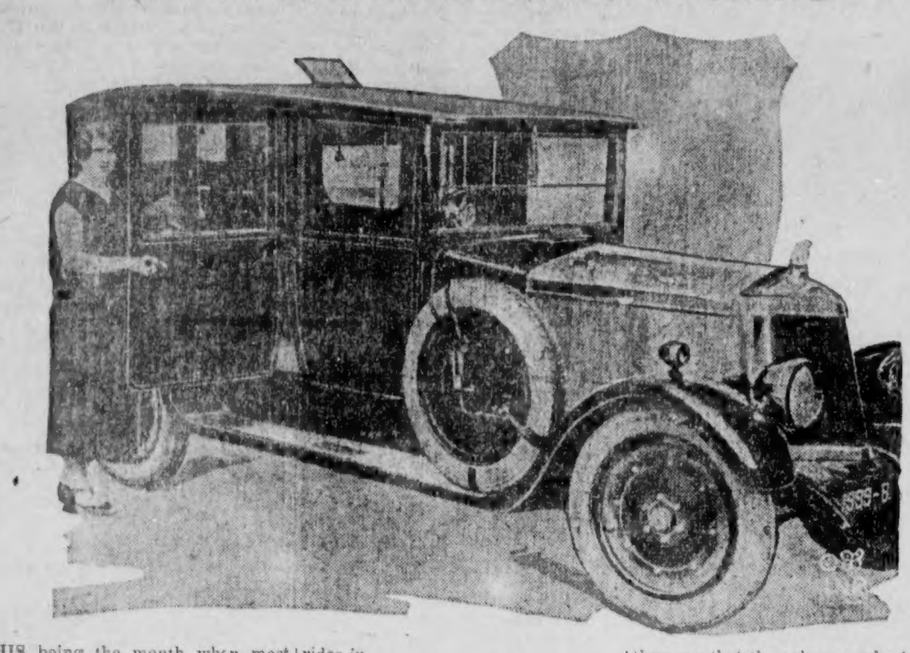
WHEN ROYALTY GOES A-MOTORING



THIS being the month when most everybody is talking 'Automobiles' and what model they "expect to drive this spring"—let's take a peep across the pond and see what type of luxurious motor cars European royalty rides in.

Above is a picture of the Crown Princess Helene of Roumania with her classy "speed boat." Nice lines to it. Looks like it ought to do better than "sixty per" alright, alright. And they say that the princess, who is one of the most popular members in European royalty's younger set, spends many happy hours in this wonderful car. So would we if we had one like it.

STATE NEWS HAPPENINGS

Bessemer authorities declare they have captured one of the most notorious liquor runners in Jefferson county with the arrest of Mrs. Millie Montgomery, who gave her address as 1922 Avenue H, Birmingham. Mrs. Montgomery, with her negro driver, Clarence Miles, was arrested at a small store on the Taylor Ferry road. Deputies declared her car contained 17 gallons of moonshine whisky and was headed for Bessemer after a trip to the river front. Mrs. Montgomery, a handsome young woman about 25 years of age, was expensively gowned and was driving a new Buick car, officers says. Reports concerning her activities have reached authorities from time to time, they declare, and several attempts are said to have been made to arrest her. Officers say she posed as a society woman on a pleasure tour when arrested. The car and whisky were confiscated and Mrs. Montgomery was released from the Bessemer jail under bond of $1,000, which she promptly made. The negro also was released on bond.

Upon the request of the complainant, the Alabama Public Service Commission has postponed to February 2 hearing of the complaint of the Florence Chamber of Commerce against all steam railroads in Alabama of rates on farm wagons in carloads from Florence to all other points in Alabama. The commission received a petition from the American Railway Express Company asking permission to abandon express service from Boyles, Ala. to Frisco, Ala., on the grounds that this service is unprofitable and unduly expensive.

No. 1 furnace of the Sloss-Sheffield Steel and Iron Company, repaired and practically built new last year, was blown in January 1, and is now in full operation. It is expected to turn out more than 260 tons of iron daily, although its indicated capacity is only 200 tons. The company is expected to start repairs on No. 2 stack shortly. It is rushing the building of a three-mile spur track in order to open the Etowah mines in North Gadsden by January 15.

That Lauderdale county farmers are prosperous is shown by the fact that payment of state and county taxes for 1924 was unusually heavy. Tax Collector Herschel Larrimore reported on January 1 that all classes of taxpayers had paid their state and county assessments more rapidly than for a number of years past, but the percentage of farmers having paid up before the time for the penalty to be added was remarkable.

Deputy state law enforcement officers have reported the capture in Shelby county of two stills, 2,000 gallons of beer, a gallon of whisky, a man 75 years old and a mule which was said to be 80 years old. The stills, beer and whisky were destroyed; the man arrested on a charge of violating the prohibition law, but whether the ancient mule was seized for confiscation was not stated.

Dr. W. T. Simpson and Miss Margaret Jean Brown had narrow escapes from death when their car plunged off a ferry into the Chattahoochee river at Eufaula. Fortunately both were good swimmers and were able again to reach the ferry. The car was later raised out of the bottom of the river. The ferry is being used while the bridge is under course of construction.

The mid-term graduating exercises of the University of Alabama will take place at Morgan hall on January 21 and about 50 will receive their diplomas, graduating from the different departments in the college. The graduating address will be delivered by Crawford Johnson, of Birmingham.

A holiday accident at Lineville resulted fatally for "Buster" Edison, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Edison, who was shot and instantly killed while out hunting. The gun of Earl Griffin was discharged accidentally, and the load struck the Edison youth in the head.

R. S. Thacker, who was employed by one of the mining corporations of Cordova, was badly hurt in one of the mines on December 30. While engaged in digging coal, a large rock was jarred loose, falling on him, badly crushing his head.

Joseph Augustus Durham, 52 years old, of 709 Twenty-eighth street, Birmingham, was fatally injured when his automobile, in which he was riding alone, left the road near Mt. Pinson and plunged over a steep embankment.

Reduction of freight rates on canned goods moving into Florence has been effected by the traffic bureau of the Chamber of Commerce. The rate on canned goods from Marshall, Tenn., has been reduced from 72c per hundred pounds to 34c.

The no wtrna mission line that is being erected for the Alabama Power Company between Huntsville and Decatur, connecting there with the line recently completed from Hapgood, will be completed about the middle of January, according to representatives of the Dixie Construction Company.

The Union-Banner is $1.50 a year.

C. M. Sherrod, of Courtland, will open his offices in Albany-Decatur about the first of December to begin the farm census in North Alabama. A card has been issued to farmers by J. C. Ford, Morgan County agent, urging them to assist the enumerators in obtaining the information sought.

A petition has been filed with the Alabama Public Service Commission by H. L. Mims seeking authority to establish a public toll ferry over the Coosa River one mile north of Loch 12. The petition was set for hearing December 2.

More than 4,000 persons attended the giant trade day celebration sponsored by the chamber of commerce at York. A number of prizes were given including an automobile.

The Alumni Association of the State Normal School in Troy will issue a bulletin in January that will be a brief history of the association and its members.

Four women, convicted of violating the prohibition law, were given fine of $100 and costs in the Circuit Court at Montgomery.

The largest sale of spot cotton ever made in Lineville was put over by T. R. Bell when he bought 950 bales of spots from local buyers. A good price was realized.

Running in advance of the recent cold wave, thousands of wild ducks have appeared in South Alabama streams to the delight of modern Nimrods, including many state officials.

THE BURDEN OF GOVERNMENT

The financial burden of government has become increasingly heavy in recent years. It has, at times, reached the point of oppression. The Federal tax of 1920 aggregated more than five and one-half billion dollars. This year, after strenuous efforts to reduce the war-time peak, the total still exceeds three billion dollars—a sum far greater than the entire burden of funded debt accumulated as a result of the Civil War. State and local taxes have increased at an even greater rate. Taxation has become more than a problem; it is a threat of impending disaster.

Nor is the burden of government limited to taxation. We are oppressed by a multiplicity of restrictive laws and administrative regulations. It is estimated that there are over two million laws and ordinances in the records of nation, states and municipalities. One adult person out of every twenty engaged in business or industry is a government official agent or employee.

In the face of this record, despite the general recognition of the overwhelming burden of government, we find ourselves constantly waging a defensive battle against plans and programs which would transfer still greater duties to government, which would hamper individual initiative still further, which will—if put into practice—crush individual ambition and destroy individual opportunity.

Under these circumstances it is our right—it is our duty—to affirm and defend sound principles of political faith as we have, on other occasions, supported sound principles of economic progress. The Constitution of the United States has stood for 135 years as the bulwark of our individual and our collective liberties. The Constitution has been and is now the greatest existing restraint upon an arrogant majority. It has been and is now the greatest existing defence of the very minorities which, at this time, are being led to denounce its restrictions.

One of our greatest needs is to repel the attacks now being made upon the integrity of this charter of our freedom. We should—we must—oppose vigorously all efforts to give Congress the power to override decisions of the Supreme Court—and thereby destroy the division of governmental power which is the inherent strength of our constitutional system.—Walter W. Head, American Bankers Association.

New Method Heals Pyorrhea

Ten Years Bad Case Completely Healed in a Short Time Writes Florida Woman.

Faced with the loss of her teeth, after 10 years' suffering, Mrs. M. J. Travis, an esteemed residence of Jacksonville, declares she finally saved her teeth by a simple home treatment: "worth its weight in gold," using her own words: "After having pyorrhea for 10 years my mouth is now healed. Before I found out different, I was told there was no relief and had yielded to the loss of six fine solid teeth. Then I discovered Moore's pyorrhea treatment. Three days after starting its use, the soreness left my gums; my teeth began to tighten. Now my teeth are clean, my breath sweet, and my mouth completely healed."

The experience of Mrs. Travis is duplicated in hundreds of other cases. If you have pyorrhea—or threatened with pyorrhea your teeth are in danger. Quick and effective treatment is necessary. You can test, without money risk, the treatment used by Mrs. Travis. Simply write the Moreham Co., 1928 Gateway Station Kansas City, Mo. Under their guarantee of refund send two dollars. Or pay postmaster the $2 with few cents postage. Use the treatment 7 days. Then if you are not wholly satisfied, write to that effect and your $2 will be returned at once.

THE SENATE HAS ANOTHER BUSINESS MAN

(Uncle Ted's Bed-Time Stories)

Indeed it was a cold night. Old Jack Frost had evidently made up his mind to make it as uncomfortable for everyone as possible. Uncle Ted's car had frozen up. And this had happened after he had been so careful too. But the sudden cold came with the speed of a racing car, following the warmest spell of weather anyone in the vicinity had known that season. It was so cold outside that not even Jack wanted to venture forth after he had eaten a hearty supper. In fact, both the kiddies seemed happy to stay in the house and enjoy the freedom of the holiday evening, a time that meant no studying and no books or lessons to worry about.

"Here is a good one," said Uncle Ted, looking up from his newspaper. "One of our leading business men is again shouting from the chimney tops about the 'Government being run by the politicians.' Whenever I hear or read of a man talking like that, I feel like hunting him down and giving him a good piece of my mind."

"Why?" asked Jack.

"For the simple reason, Jack, that if any man is not content with the way the Government is run and if he feels it is dominated by the politicians, why doesn't he become active in campaigns and help his neighbors elect men who are not mere 'politicians,' or why doesn's he give up his work for a time and accept a public office himself? By doing this, he would be giving the benefit of his experience to his government and prevent it from being run by men whom he chooses to call the 'politicians'."

"I guess it must be because these government jobs pay such little money," said Ruth.

"That is the trouble, Ruth, in some cases. But if we kick about things in this world and are in a position to help remedy them, we should be willing to make a sacrifice. We have been quite fortunate, it seems to me, in having men from all walks of life in the United States Congress, the place where we should have men well versed in all angles of business and the professions.

"Despite the frequent assertion that the business of Congress is conducted by 'politicians,' the fact is that for the greater part or our history, Congress has been controlled by men who are truly representative of the rank and file of the people of the country. Among the number we have always had a fair proportion of what are commonly called 'successful business men.' Just at present, for instance, the two great business committees of Congress, the Appropriations Committees, are headed by successful business men. These committees are important because they determine to a largt extent how much money the people must pay out each year through their government. In the House of Representatives, the chairman of the Appropriations Committee is Martin B. Madden of Chicago, who has for many years been engaged in construction work, particularly where stone is used. In the Senate, the chairman of the Appropirations Committee is Francis E. Warren of Wyoming, who has for many years been extensively engaged in sheepraising. Both of these men have been successful in politics, it is true, but because they won the confidence of the people of their States by their demonstrated success and honesty in private business.

Recentsy there has geen added to the Senate membership another man of the same type—a man who is a director in more businesses than I can remember and who has been willing to sacrifice some of his time and interests in order to give the country and his party the benefit of his knowledge and experience. The man of whom I speak is William M. Butler, rerently appointed Senator from Massachusetts to succeed Senator Lodge who died a short time ago.

"Those who know Butler say that he is a strong man physically and mentally, with a face that is hard to read. He is known as a man of honor with a record of clean life. His father was a Methodist minister, as he answered a reporter who once asked him if he had ever been poor. He started at the very bottom, became a lawyer and then the biggest man in the New England textile industry. Like President Coolidge, his friend, he is quiet. He acts instead of talks, as most successful business men do.

"A little peronal history of the man should be interesting to us. Senator Butler was born in New Bedford, Massachusetts 63 years ago. After having worked in the office of a shoe manufacturing firm in New Bedford, at the age of 21 he entered the Boston University law school. When he received his degree he returned to New Bedford to form a law partnership with H. L. Knowlton, later Attorney General of Massachusetts. The firm grew and moved to Boston and Mr. Butler began to take an interest in the affairs of government. He has served in both the House and Senate of Massachusetts and during the War was a member of the Committee of Public Safety.

"Senator Butler is a typical New England business man. He is surely the Yankee type. But that type is safe and sound and economical, while at the same time, efficient, and his addition to the United States Senate should be welcomed by every

Clears Complexion

"Oh! how clear and beautiful your complexion is today, my dear!"

THERE is a certain joy—a certain pride—in knowing you are admired, whether it be from father, brother, husband or sweetheart! And back of that joy is the satisfaction of knowing all is well.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps, wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness which is not theirs. But why the wondering — the hoping — the praying for that craved for attractiveness—that clear skin—that beauty. A clear skin—is the barometer of one's condition. A healthy skin radiates beauty. Pure, clean blood means a clear skin.

S.S.S. is waiting to help you. It will rid your blood of its impurities and give you that clear complexion. Since 1826 S.S.S. has been ridding people of blood impurities, from pimples, from blackheads, boils, eczema and from rheumatism, too. Because S.S.S. is made from fresh herbs and barks, it may be taken with perfect safety. Try it yourself. You will not only look better, but you will feel better, too.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

ALABAMA NEWS HAPPENINGS

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Entiomized Form.

The interstate commerce commission has approved a plan for reorganization of the Birmingham and Southeastern Railway Company, now in the hands of a receiver, according to information received by the Alabama Public Service Commission. It is proposed to organize a new corporation, the Birmingham and Southeastern Railroad Company, which plans to acquire properties of the Birmingham and Southeastern Railway Company at foreclosure sale, taking the property out of the hands of the receiver. The interstate commerce commission has granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity for acquisition of the property by the Birmingham and Southeastern Railroad Company, according to notice received by the Alabama commission. The railroad line involved extends from Union Springs, in Bullock county, to Eclectic, in Elmore county, a distance of 46.89 miles.

Preparations for the opening of the Montgomery Memorial Hospital are proceeding satisfactorily, according to Dr. Frank Brandon, superintendent of the hospital. A nurses training school was begun January 5 and patients will be received January 15. For two days, January 14-15, a reception will be held at the hospital. Miss Mary Celia Johnson, from Atlanta, has been appointed superintendent of nurses at the hospital. Miss Johnson served during the World war. Returning to America she spent a time resting, then returned to Europe. For two years Miss Johnson went through hospitals in Poland, Russia, France and other European countries.

Birmingham, with an estimated population of 250,000, has more murders every month than the entire British Isles, composed of England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales, with their 47,000,000 population, have in a whole year. That is but one of many startling disclosures contained in a resume of the year 1924 now being prepared by George V. Truss, director of the Birmingham health bureau of vital statistics. Truss' records show that 123 persons were murdered in Birmingham during the first 11 months of the year. Statistics from London show only 13 homicides in the British Isles for the same period.

Madison county has won out in the race for supremacy as the largest cotton producing county in Alabama this year for about the tenth consecutive year. In the bi-monthly reports of the last two months Elmore has been leading, but the report of ginnings to December 13 shows Madison county had ginned 30,964 and Elmore county had ginned 30,793 bales. One of the most remarkable showings of the counties of Alabama was made by Marshall, which shows ginnings of 28,722 this year, compared with 17,162 last year, the increase there over the crop of last year being the largest in Alabama.

Gadsden voted to authorize $25,000 for the city's share of the cost of erecting a $400,000 traffic bridge across Coosa river, by a majority of 584 to 1. The dissenting vote is said to have been that of a business man and property owner who is opposed to the bond method of financing, it is said. Officials are rejoicing that only a single negative vote was cast, however, as it shows that Gadsden wants the bridge and is willing to help pay for it.

Second Lieut. Charles J. Kettler, of Battery D, One Hundred and Forty-First Field Artillery, Alabama National Guard, with headquarters at Luverne, has been nominated by Col. Hartley A. Moon, adjutant general, to attend the special battery officer's course of instruction at Fort Sill, Okla., March 16-June 13. As alternate, Colonel Moon nominated First Lieut. Jason C. Pippin, Battery E, One Hundred and Forty-First Field Artillery, Geneva.

Horace Vernon, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Lusk, of Wellington, Calhoun county, died of lockjaw as the result of a slight wound in his left hand caused by firing a toy pistol on Christmas Day.

That there are 5,030 automobiles in operation in Madison county is shown by an examination of the license lists, an increase of approximately 1,000 as compared with the number being run in 1923.

Tuscaloosa will sell $175,000 worth of water works bonds on January 20, of the issue of $250,000 authorized in the recent bond election.

Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings have been filed with Referee C. H. Young, against The Fair, one of the largest department stores in Anniston.

Messrs. J. F. Anderson and J. T. Abbott of Pletcher were in Clanton Monday transacting some road business with the county officials.

WEBB TO LEAVE FOR NEW YORK

Predicts End Of Battle Of Edwards Heirs To Obtain New York Inheritance To Be Near.

Joel F. Webb, of the legal department of the Edwards Estate Corporation, is to leave for New York City in a few days where he will direct the legal battle to recover the property of the heirs of Thomas Edwards, it was announced Friday.

Claims to deeds of 72 city blocks in New York have been filed in courts there and according to Mr. Webb, heirs of Thomas Edwards, who died in England about 1790, are to obtain their inheritance after an interim of 145 years, within a few months.

At the last meeting of the board of governors of the Edwards heirs association, it was decided to make the Birmingham offices the leaders in the legal battle, which will affect over 2,500 heirs. The First National bank building has been named as the depository for the association.

"It is our desire and intention to represent as many heirs as possible," Mr. Webb said, "and we are preparing a list of all heirs, which are represented by the legal department of which I am the head. This list is to be filed in New York as soon as possible."

CONTRACTS ARE LET FOR STATE HIGHWAY IN CHILTON COUNTY

Cement-Concrete Paving of 17-Mile Strip in South Half of County to Cost Nearly Half Million.

Contracts for construction of the section of the Birmingham-Montgomery highway through Chilton County from Lomax to the Autauga County line, were awarded by the state highway commission Thursday, total cost of the project approximating nearly half million dollars. The road will have cement concrete paving, and is a little more than 17 miles long.

The project was awarded in two sections. On section B, comprising 16.18 miles of road, contract for grading and drainage was awarded to the Gillis Construction Company of Brewton, for $84,752.82; for bridges, to C. B. Cox of Clanton, $54,440.28; and for concrete surfacing to the Morgan-Hill Construction Company of Birmingham, $229,814.05.

The State will furnish the cement for the paving at an additional cost of $106,874.10.

Section C, comprising about one mile of road through the town of Clanton, was awarded to the Morgan-Hill Company for $16,745.44. This section will also have concrete paving.

The section through the town of Clanton was awarded in a separate contract due to the fact that the town of Clanton is making certain street improvements and wanted an opportunity to bid on the section of the highway through the town.

The highway commission voted unanimously in awarding the contracts. The project will complete the Birmingham-Montgomery highway in Chilton County, the project in Chilton county from Lomax north having been under construction for some months.

COLLINS - BICE

A wedding of much surprise and interest to their many friends happened Tuesday, January 6, 1925.

Mrs. Marietta Walker Collins and Mr. Grover A. Bice of Thorsby tied the knot, so to speak, at the bride's home at four o'clock. They left on Train No. 10 Tuesday afternoon for a short honeymoon.

The couple was showered with rice when they boarded the bridal train, also last Friday night the orchestra at the Wadesonian Theatre put on the music in honor of the newly-weds and showered them with rice during the music.

Mrs. Bice is the well-known and beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Walker. Mr. Bice is postmaster at Thorsby. Both are highly respected citizens of Chilton County.

They will make their future home in Thorsby and the people of Thorsby welcome them. May the future years bring forth happiness to them.

PROF. IRA PEGUES WEDS

The Union-Banner is in receipt of the following announcement:

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Swanner announce the marriage of their daughter, Myrtle Irene to Mr. Ira Pegues on Friday, the 26th day of December, 1924, Athens, Ala. At home, Tanner, Alabama.

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF CHILTON COUNTY:

As this is the last month in which we can pay poll taxes, I take this method as chairman of the executive committee of your county, to try to impress upon each and every voter the importance of paying your poll taxes before the time runs out.

As it is much easier to keep paid right up than it is to pay when we get behind, as you know, next year will be a very important election year—some of the most important offices in your county will be filled next year. And if you let your poll taxes lapse on you it will bar you from voting in the elections that will be held next year. So let me insist that each of our voters make a special effort to get his neighbor to pay his or her poll taxes before the 1st day of February.

It seems to me that the Republicans of the county should feel proud of the great victory that was ours last fall, and we can only maintain this high standard by keeping our poll taxes paid up. See your neighbors and insist on them qualifying before it is too late.

W. G. CULP, Chairman
Republican Exec. Com. Chilton Co.

INSPECT NEW CHEVROLETS

Mr. George Polk, the local agent for Chevrolet cars, and Mr. Sie Foshee, the famous Chevrolet salesman for Polk Brothers, both of Clanton, went to Birmingham last Thursday and inspected the new 1925 Chevrolet cars. These new models of the Chevrolet are now on the market and are distributed in this State by the Edwards Motor Company of Birmingham, where Messrs. Polk and Foshee went to see the new cars on display. A factory reprsentative of Chevrolet was in Birmingham demonstrating the new models when these gentlemen were up there. Polk Brothers report that they have a shipment of the cars now on the road and are expecting them here any day.

The contest closed last Saturday, and the first prize, a 96-pound sack of flour, was given to Mrs. Sallie Kicker; second prize, a 48-pound sack of flour was given to Mr. Sam Jones; third prize, a 24-pound sack of flour, was given to Mrs. Jasper Calloway.

MELLON AND HOOVER ONLY TWO TO REMAIN IN COOLIDGE CABINET

United States May Recognize Russian Government Now That Secretary Hughes Has Quit Post.

Washington, Jan. 13.—President Coolidge will begin his own administration on March 4th next with a cabinet that will bear but little resemblance to the one he inherited from the late President Harding a year and a half ago.

Important shifts in the diplomatic corps also are in the making, which will emphasize the "new deal" that Washington expects to see when Mr. Coolidge begins being president "in his own right."

Of these, the expectation prevails, that all but Secretary Mellon and Secretary Hoover will retire by March 4.

There will also be a vacancy in the agricultural department, due to Secretary Gore's becoming governor of West Virginia. Recent developments have indicated that Robert D. Carey, former governor of Wyoming, now head of the Coolidge agricultural commission, will be appointed to that post.

Secretary Weeks has not been in good health recently. He is credited with a desire to retire on this account.

Secretary of Labor Davis has already informed Mr. Coolidge of his wish to retire and the president has indicated he will acquiesce.

In the cases of Postmaster-General New and Secretary of the Interior Work, personal considerations are said to be impelling them to private life.

Secretary Mellon is credited with a wish to remain in the treasury at least until he sees the principles of his cherished tax plan embodied into legislation.

Secretary Hoover recently told friends that Mr. Coolidge wanted him to remain and that he had agreed to do so.

There probably will be changes in three of the most important embassies in Europe as a result of the retirement of Secretary of State Hughes and the appointment of Frank B. Kellogg, now of London, to succeed him.

DR. CRUMPTON YET IN HOSPITAL

Although still gradually improving, according to the doctors' reports, Dr. J. P. Crumpton is still in his room at the Central Alabama Hospital after a rather extended illness. Dr. Crumpton asks The Union-Banner to say to his many friends and patrons that he has them constantly on his mind and that he wishes them to bear with him until he recovers from his sickness. We will report in the Banner all along how he is progressing and will let his friends know when he is able to be at his office again. However, the doctors at the hospital say that it will likely be several days yet before he will be able to be in his dental office. We hope, however, to be able soon to report that Dr. Crumpton has been released from the hospital and is again at his office to do dental work.

WILLIAM J. MORRIS, DECEASED

Clanton, Ala., Jan. 12, 1925.

Editor Union-Banner:

In giving you the date for the obituary of our husband and father, William J. Morris, we failed to give you some things which we would appreciate very much if you will publish in the next issue of your paper.

He was born in Coosa county in 1870, joined the Baptist church when he was but a young man. He was first married to Miss Ada Hall in 1893. To them were born two daughters, Miss Estella Morris, who now resides in Birmingham, and Mrs. Marie Littlejohn of Clanton. Their mother died on Dec. 28, 1905.

Mr. Morris was married again to Miss Fannie Lecroy Aug. 6, 1911. To them was born one son, Clyde. He leaves four brothers, J. W. Morris of Marble Valley; S. E. Morris of Clanton; L. J. Morris of Reagan, Texas; Walter Morris of Hillsboro, Texas, and three sisters, Mrs. Mollie Daniel of Marble Valley; Mrs. Lillie Baker of Talladega Springs, and Mrs. Viola Carroll of Birmingham.

In conclusion we again wish to thank the good people of Liberty Hill community and elsewhere who helped us in any way during the sickness and death of our dear husband and father. They tried in every way they could to comfort him, and to help us bear our sorrows.

We also express our deepest appreciation to the Farmers Co-operative Association for the nice box given.

May God's richest blessings rest upon all our friends and neighbors.

Mrs. W. J. Morris and Children.

Go to Siluria with Chilton Hi tonight and watch 'em strut their stuff. They need your support whether you need theirs or not, and will be very glad to see a good bunch of faces from home and hear an encouraging word now and then.

UNDERWOOD SHOALS BILL IS DEFEATED 46 TO 33 LAST TUESDAY

Secretary of War Authorized to Dispose of Power Plant While Study of Conditions is Made.

Washington, Jan. 13.—The revised substitute of the Norris bill providing for government operation of Muscle Shoals for the production of power and fertilizer at Muscle Shoals was adopted Tuesday by the Senate. It would create the Federal Chemical corporation to have full control of the Muscle Shoals property. The vote was 40 to 39.

The Jones substitute to the Underwood bill to refer the whole Muscle Shoals question to a commission was adopted Tuesday by the Senate. The vote was 46 to 33.

The secretary of war is authorized to dispose temporarily of the power development of Muscle Shoals while the commission is making its study and also to construct Dam No. 3 in the Tennessee River.

No lease can be considered by the commission for more than 50 years and the production of nitrate for ammunition and fertilizer is declared the primary purpose of Muscle Shoals development.

The commission would be composed of the secretaries of war and agriculture and a third person to be named by the president, who would be instructed to report not later than the first Monday in December, 1925.

The adoption of the Jones substitute sounded the death knell of the Underwood bill and means the shoals problem will be referred to a commission authorized to make recommendations to congress for disposal of the property.

AT LAST! MR. COOLIDGE IS OFFICIALLY ELECTED

Washington, January 12.—Calvin Coolidge and Charles G. Dawes were elected president and vice-president today, January 12.

The electors for whom the American voters directly cast their ballots last November met in the respective states canvassed the popular vote, and in accordance with the constitution cast their ballots for president and vice-president.

This vote of the electors will be certified to the president of the Senate by each of the 48 state meetings, and will be opened at a joint session of the Senate and House on Feb. 18.

The electors in each State also selected Monday one of their number to bring the vote to Washington. An Appropriation of $12,500 for the expense of these electoral messengers now is pending, although an attempt was made recently in the Senate to legalize transmission of the vote by mail.

MR. J. N. SCOTT PRESCRIBES MORE IGNORANCE DROPS

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me a small space for a few more of my Ignorance Drops. The year 1924 has come and gone, with all its political battles ended and leaving us with many blessings in hand to remember, while our burdens have been much heavier than in other years past in the way of taxation. As voters and citizens of this great United States, and especially those in Chilton County, we should look well out in the future and on the beginning of this New Year, 1925. Take stock and see how you stand and what you have gained during the past years of administrations, and if we find ourselves in a worse condition politically we then should commence to make our conditions better in the future elections in our county, state and nation. This, I have already taken stock of, and I find myself robbed of about $33 in the way of more taxes, and many privileges have been taken away from all the citizens of Chilton County.

Some of the citizens of the county are taxed unjustly by the County Board, and I for one, recommend a clean-up of our county and let us have a square deal to all. To do this we should commence now to look around for men to fill our offices when the time comes around to do so. We elected two commissioners last November, who said they were against the truck tax of this county. Mr. Vinson, you and Mr. Burnett may not be able to abolish that law now, as you are in the minority, but if you can't now, we will give you more help two years hence. We are going to have each candidate state how he stands on this proposition.

I have had some scraps through the paper over this road proposition, and some few have boasted about the good roads that had been built by the county commissioners and their monster caterpillar. But will you please go back now and take another view. I consider the roads in as bad condition or worse now than they were last January, after spending the money—thousands of dollars—on them. Have they given us any statement as to how much they have spent on the roads last year. I believe in the people knowing the truth and just where their money is being spent and what for. So, as the old apostle Paul said, Look ye out some men with an honest report and full of the Holy Ghost. In other words, men who say they stand for the rights of the people and that you fully believe are in sympathy for the common people who work and feed and clothe the world. I have a man to recommend for office before long. Let us begin to think.

If this is printed, I will come again soon.

Yours truly,
J. N. SCOTT.

PAY POLL TAX

February 1st, 1925, is the last day in which you can pay poll tax this year. The Republicans of Chilton County are urged to pay up their poll tax before this time. This is an off-year, but you should not let your poll tax lapse, since it will be harder for you to qualify next year if you fail this year.

If you have become 21 years old since the last opportunity to register, pay up your poll tax now, and when you get the chance to register later, you will be fully qualified. The leaders of our party in the different beats of the county should get out among our folks and urge them to pay up their poll tax before February 1st.

EVOLUTION OF THE NEW CHEVROLET CAR

Evolution of the new Chevrolet, which made its initial bow at the New York Automobile Show this month, was marked by hard, exacting yet interesting labor extending over a period of more than a year.

As far back as 1923 automotive and metallurgical experts started drawing plans for the new automobile. Sample cars were made, containing the forty-odd new improvements, including the clutch, springs, axles, manifold, etc., and these cars were turned over to selected drivers working directly under the engineering staff for the hardest tests human ingenuity could devise. Every detail in the new car was forced to prove itself more than adequate for any demands it might be called upon to fulfill.

The new semi-elliptic springs underwent harder usage than any car owner could give them in five years. Day and night drivers tore over bumpy roads, taking railroad crossings, ruts and inequalities at high speed. The drivers were working under orders to "bust those springs if you can."

The new axles, front and rear, were subjected to similar trials. Every strain expert drivers could think of was placed on the axles, which had already withstood severe laboratory tests. Stresses that ordinary driving never would cause were placed on the new channel steel frame and its five sturdy cross members.

In fact every detail that is incorporated into the new Chevrolet was tested, improved and re-tested until it scored 100 per cent before it was adopted. In this way it was possible for the Chevrolet company to go into quantity production at once, secure in the knowledge that its new line would more than meet any requirements car owners would place on it.

B-R-R-R-R ! THE DECK OF AN ICE-BOUND ARCTIC FISHING TRAWLER !

WITH the thermometer just about out of the bottom of the tube and cutting north winds greeting you all day and night long, the lot of the trawler crews that go up to the Arctic seas for fish, is hardly an inviting one. Those brave fellows face endless risks and discomforts.

The above picture, taken aboard the Kastoria during a 3,600 mile round trip from Grimsby to the icy White Sea, gives you an idea of what the crews have to contend with in the way of severe weather. But then, they think nothing of it, just so the catches—which are made only at night—prove bountiful.

COUGHS

Quick Way to Stop Them

Persistent, racking coughing, which by rapidly weakening your entire system lays you open to more dangerous infections, can be checked often with the first dose of that old-time tried and proved remedy —Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. And there's a reason. Doctors say there is nothing like pine-tar to quickly loosen and remove the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing, while the honey both gives a pleasant taste and helps soothe irritation. It is often astonishing how quickly this combination relieves the stubbornest cough.

But be sure you get the original Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey, and no substitute. Dr. Bell's has been known for over a quarter of a century as the best. It is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine-tar, honey and other quick-acting healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in quick relief. Contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, so can be given even to young children—fine for spasmodic croup. If you want the best, a medicine that often relieves the severest cough overnight, make sure you get Dr. Bell's. Only 35c at any good druggist's.

MOVING PICTURES OF FORESTRY METHODS

Moving pictures of forestry methods are now available, according to an announcement by the Alabama Commission of Forestry. Among the numerous duties of the commission is the promotion of a proper appreciation throughout the state of the benefits to be derived from the practice of forestry on lands not more valuable for other purposes. There is no manner of presenting information more effective than by the use of moving pictures. Lantern slides of forestry subjects are also used in this connection.

Several films and a number of special slides have been obtained from the Federal Government. These are being shown chiefly in rural school houses in the different timberland sections of the state. Special films taken by the Commission of Forestry in co-operation with the Federal Government during the past year will be available at a very early date. These will be shown in connection with those already on hand.

Forestry is a compartivtly new subject of interest to the citizens of the state. The possibilities of profit and general benefit from growing timber on nonagricultural lands are surprising to many persons who have not before given the matter much thought. Of special note, also, are the various scientific and technical methods pursued in getting the maximum returns from a stand of timber without destroying its productivity. Representations of these methods on the screen go a long way toward demonstrating their feasibility to the landowner.

Teachers and others who may specially desire these pictures to be shown in their localities may secure them without cost, with an operator and portable equipment, by writing to the State Forester.

—to have a good APPETITE!

"Yes! thank you."

A GOOD appetite means a cheerful disposition.

You may have a good appetite if the blood that goes constantly to your vital organs is pure. S.S.S. purifies the blood—a good appetite follows and you will have a clear complexion and will be strong, cheerful and healthy.

Don't go on feeling up one day and down the next—hardly sick but never well—losing "pep," punch and ambition. Hearty eaters are the red-blooded men and women. Enjoy your food! Get back your strength and energy! Reclaim yourself before it is too late! People in a physically run-down condition are an easy prey to disease.

S.S.S. is what is needed. Your blood needs purifying. Your blood-cells supply the energy which keeps your body well and fit. S.S.S. aids Nature in supplying new red-blood-cells,—the spark that rejogs your system. Carefully selected, scientifically proportioned and prepared herbs and barks make up S.S.S.—the great blood purifier which gives Nature a helping hand.

Get back the lost appetite, the missing vitality, the keen, sparkling eyes, that look of determination. S.S.S. will give you more energy, vitality and vigor and a more up and going appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

CHILTON HI WINS FIRST TWO

In a rough and tumble basketball game, the Chilton Hi quintette defeated Thompson Hi of Siluria on the former's court, 30 to 20, last Friday evening. The game was hard fought and interesting from start to finish. The teams were very evenly matched as to size, but Chilton upheld her good record, established in football, and came out winner by a neat margin. Hayes starred for Chilton, and Hodge for Thompson.

Tuesday night Chilton Hi journeyed to Marbury and defeated Marbury Hi 31 to 13. Not being accustomed to an indoor court, the Chilton boys allowed Marbury to obtain a 5-point lead in the first few minutes of play, but soon adjusted their sights, and kept ringing goals from all parts of the court until the final whistle. After the first few minutes, Chilton played an ideal defensive game, while Hayes, Thompson and Rutland were making the counts.

MUCH ROAD WORK DONE BY FOREST SERVICE

More than 1,800 miles of roads and nearly 5,000 miles of trails were constructed within or adjacent to the 147 national forests during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, according to the annual report made by the Chief of the Forest Service to the Secretary of Agriculture. In addition, maintenance work was performed on 7,423 miles of roads and 32,105 miles of trails.

Including the construction work completed within the last year the total mileage of national forest roads constructed by June 30 of this year stood at 8,707 and the total mileage of trails at 15,855.

The sum of $9,351,142 was expended on the road and trail work of the Forest Service during the last fiscal year, the report says. This sum was augumented by funds from co-operative agencies such as States, counties, and local organizations.

Thirty-one States and Alaska share in the pro rata distribution of funds made each year by the Forest Service to those States and Territories containing National Forest lands.

A MOVE TOWARDS BETTER THINGS

The Alabama Education Association, co-operating with the heads of nearly every civic, professional, fraternal, and religious organization of the State, has started a campaign to inform Alabama citizens concerning existing educational conditions. President E. M. Shackelford of Troy in an "Address to the People" calls attention to the great natural resources of the state, recognized as preeminent by leading statisticians of the country, and then to the fact that we are last among the states in per capita income and near the bottom of the list in most items pertaining to education. "Poverty and ignoranre have ever been inseperable companions;" and, when the people of Alabama realize the public school conditions, they will authorize and demand the cure.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Thorsby Fruit and Truck Growers Association held their annual meeting last Saturday. The report of the Treasurer, J. Monroe Smith, showed receipts for 1923 amounting to $44,127.05, most of which came from 23 carloads of strawberries, which went to northern markets. Local shipments to near-by markets seldom prove profitable, but carloads of almost any farm product usually bring good prices because it allows a wider range for a satisfactory market. This fact is becoming so well known that the membership in the association is extending in numbers and area year by year. Collective buying and selling is the science of profitable farming.

Directors elected for 1925 are: Carl C. Peterson, chairman, M. J. Soberg, T. J. Martin, J. W. Littleton, and W. J. Hayes. Officers, Carl C. Peterson, president; T. J. Martin, vice-president; E. R. Piper, secretary; J. Monroe Smith, Manager and Treasurer.

The Thorsby school bond election on Friday of this week, is a matter of prime importance to all good citizens of the town. Our school building, as it stands and must stand, in its unfinished state, is a reproach to the whole community—a blot on the reputation of Thorsby. No matter who is responsible for it, as a community we must all share in the burden of it. The opportunity is at hand to recover from this evil blight that stands in our way to intellectual progress, with a favorable vote on the school bonds, backed by another vote, when the opportunity is offered, for a reasonable spercial tax to provide security for the bonds, we will be in position to secure funds needed, let contracts, and finish for use a very important element in the education of our children.

The burden is not a great one for anybody. Our children are entitled to the best we can do for them in the way of education. These passing years are the only time we have to give them advantages children elsewhere have, whom our children must compete with when they become men and women. If we fail them now, our opportunity is gone forever. So, vote for the bonds.

Thorsby Institute is enjoying a long cherished plan, in the completion of the exterior of their dining hall building, and incidentally providing an innovation in Alabama for outside work on public and private buildings. The base of the material used is of Magnasite rock quarried in California and Oregon, burned in a crucible similar to lime, crushed to powder, and when mixed with a prepared liquid forms a cement called rocbond exterior stucco, which when spread on the surface of a building, becomes in a few hours seven times as hard as concrete. To relieve the monotony of a pure white for all surfaces, the material is finished in a way to give a choice of five colors. As a further means of giving a variety of finish, when the second coat is applied and while still soft, marble and granite chips of varying hues and colors evenly distributed over the surface. The trade name for this process is "Pebble dash." It gives a roughened finish which glistens in the sunshine with pleasing effect.

The Ladies Guild of Thorsby will hold their annual business meeting on Friday afternoon at 2:30, January 16 at the home of their president, Mrs. Chas. S. Howard. All members are requested to be present.

Grover Bice, Thorsby's urbane postmaster, has taken unto himself a long needed wife, in the person of Mrs. Marietta Walker of Thorsby. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. P. Lowery at the home of the bride about two miles south of Thorsby. The newly-weds are establishing a home in the Tom Collins house just north of the hotel. We wish them joy and prosperity.

The Lutheran congregation met at the home of M. J. and Mrs. Soberg last Wednesday evening and gave Rev. and Mrs. Peterson a surprise. They were also presented with a liberal purse of money. A social evening and refreshments were enjoyed.

The Baptist Ladies Aid Social will be held Thursday afternoon, January 15th at the home of Mrs. Lum Martin.

Howard and Mrs. Garrick have moved from the Tom Collins house to the home of Mrs. Garrick's parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Lowery.

The regular monthly social of the Ladies Guild of Thorsby will be held Thuraday afternoon, January 22, at the home of Mrs. T. W. Robinson.

The State Supervisor of secondary education for Alabama recently advised Thorsby Institute that it is one of five high schools in the State whose graduates did not fail in college last year. Of these five, there was only one other high school Union Springs) besides Thorsby Institute that sent as many as seven students to college the past year. Hence, he has ranked Thorsby Institute with a perfect score.

The annual meeting of the Congregational Ladies Aid Society, held at the church Wednesday afternoon elected officers to succeed themselves as follows: Mrs. J. H. Goddard, president; Mrs. J. E. Each, vice-president; Mrs. E. W. Butler, secretary, Mrs. Carl C. Peterson, treasurer.

On Sunday night the store of the Thorsby Leader was broken into and a quantity of their most valuable goods carried off. Just the amount of their loss or any clue to the depradator has not been ascertained at this writing.

The Christian Endeavor Executive Committee of the Congregational church of Thorsby held their monthly meeting Sunday evening at 6 o'clock. Good reports of the work done in the past month were given by the chairmen of all the committees. The efficiency chart was discussed with suggestions as to how we might be able to earn more stars for the different phases of work done by our society. The regular Christian Endeavor meeting was held, and was carried out in the form of a contest between two divisions, Mr. Payne Bryan being the leader of one division and Mr. A. T. Arthur leader of the other. Mr. Bryan's division won the contest. The discussion was based on the number of members taking part in either division. The subject was "How to read the Bible helpfully." It wis discussed somewhat fully and many helpful suggestions given.

If the people understand the facts, they will not be fooled by the honey-coated proposal which is loaded with public ownership dynamite.

Fire protection is everybody's personal problem; not only the obligation to go and help in an actual conflagration, but also to help in preventing fires.

In our cities and towns, where full school terms and at least fairly modern educational conditions exist, the people easily forget that out in the open country, where property values are low, schools are not keeping the modern pace. There will probably be a dozen counties, with a hundred thousand school children, where the schools will be open from 80 to 100 days this year. Hundreds of rural schools are taught in "wretched hovels" as reported by the Legislative Investigating Committee of 1923 and as confirmed by recent reports and, as a further disadvantage, they are generally taught by teachers without proper training. Thus the rural children are handicapped at several points —length of term, type of building and equipment, and quality of teaching.

OUR DUCATIONAL SYSTEM

The Alabama Education Association, composed of some of the leading educators of the State is putting on a publicity campaign in Alabama, the purpose of which is to inform the people of Alabama along the line of conditions of education in the State.

The Union-Banner is publishing this week some letters from this association, which give some valuable and interesting information on school conditions and educational matters. We commend to our readers their careful perusal and consideration of these letters, as they contain facts which every citizen should know.

When one comes to think of it, the educational machinery of our State is no small thing. This is a large affair, and the work which our education department performs is second to none in importance. Too much attention cannot be given to our matters of education. The way in which a child is trained in the elementary schools and even the grown-ups in college means the shaping of our homes, our laws, our local governments and our State government in the future. If our schools and colleges as not run right, it means that somewhere in the future, we are headed for disaster, while of our educational system is run in the proper way and our boys and girls are taught in the right manner and set out on the road of life in the right direction, our race and our State cannot go wrong.

In our school system, as in most everything else, there are flaws, but there is nothing that will do more to bring out errors and correct them than to turn the bright light of publicity on the whole system. This is what the Alabama Education Association has undertaken to do, and the Union-Banner takes pleasure in registering in favor of this worthy move. We assure the Association as well as our readers that we will lend all the aid at our command to further this movement. The press, if working in unity, can do much toward enlightening our people on our educational system, and The Union-Banner for one will gladly do its bit in the all-important matter.

SCHOOL TERMS IN ALABAMA 1924-25

Reports from twenty-three counties indicate that school terms for white children in rural schools will vary between 125 days in districts which have not voted the local three-mill tax and 145 days in those districts levying the tax. These counties represent the more prosperous sections of the State, only one of the mountain counties, where terms are shortest, having been heard from. The average length of term will probably be around 130 days. Only Mobile and Montgomery counties reported full terms for all white children. These are significant figures when compared with a standard school term of 180 days generally accepted as a minimum for successful educational work. They mean that, even before the school year was begun, the rural boys and girls had been handicapped to the extent of twenty-eight per cent of their opportunity to run the course successfully. It is a worthy runner who can overhaul contestants who had a one-third start.

DAYS WE'LL NEVER FORGET

WILL THEY MEASURE UP?

The Unittd States enters the year 1925 with the brightest prospects of any nation in the world. We have seen wonderful development in this country in the past 50 years but this has all been preparatory to even greater growth and greater wonders to be performed in future years.

The legislatures of our various states will soon be in session and our new congress will be assembled. The gentlemen who comprise these bodies should thoroughly recognize the responsibilities which they have assumed as the representatives of 110,000,000 people. First of all, every lawmaker should understand that he is a representative of all the people and not merely of some special class, bloc, group or other division of citizens.

Important legislation affecting the growth and development of every basic industry in the United States will be presented to state and national lawmaking bodies. Policies regarding the future of radio will be up for consideration. Public utilities which are rendering local and interstate business in supplying a growing demand for their service on farms and in smaller towns will be considered. Railroad legislation is perennial. Various measures affecting the insurance business offer a prolific field for experimenting. Mining, lumber and oil are three great primary industries that have been special targets for legislative attention. Many other industries might be added to the list. Legislative activity in the past has been largely directed against those industries which employ the greatest number of workmen, pay out the most in wages ad taxes and keep the business of this nation going.

Legislative procedure of this character should be reversed. Our lawmakers should awaken to the fact that optrating industries and business, and prosperous farmers, fill the dinner buckets and savings banks of this nation.

BRIBERY OF THE STATES

President Coolidge, in discussing the budget, attacked the system of Congress giving federal aid to states, conditioned upon the state legislature or the people voting as much more money for the project.

He pointed out that estimatts were called for more than $109,000,000 for highways, boats, naval and harbor improvements, naval bases and even fortifications, providing the states raised as much more money.

As a matter of fact, no more pernicious system of doubling up appropriations and burdening the people with high taxes and bond issues, has ever been invented.

It is employed extensively in framing so-called uplift legislation, agricultural college and state university extension work, giving so much to each state or county if the state or county will raise as much more.

It is a system that, once inaugurated, leaves the states and their subdivisions helpless against the pressure and demands of paternalistic officialism that wants to spend the money.

President Coolidge spoke of this system of federal subsidies while other authorities use stronger terms such as "bribery" and "political hijacking."

Under one of these laws, the federal government sent the governor of Maine $5,000 to spend on maternity care in one city and he promptly returned the check with a letter that is a classic.

Massachusetts refused similar appropriations from the federal government showing that for every dollar received, it took $18 additional taxes out of the people.

GIRLS ON THE FARM

One of the most serious problems facing the world is that raised in the question, how can we keep the girls on the farm?

It is one of the hallmarks of civilization that so many girls are forced into the big cities to seek their fortune.

Probably no more daughters of the farm come to misfortune in the big cities than do the city girls or the girls from the small towns who work for a living.

It can be set down as a sound proposition that working girls as a class, are more apt to make a success of life than another large class of girls having more social advantages but seeking the bright lights.

It is a great social duty to make the home life on the farms more attractive to the girls. There should be more rural recreation centers under proper supervision.

If the churches and fraternal orders could minister to the social needs of humanity, including the growing young people, we would hear less of farm girls crowding to the cities.

With good roads, cheaper motor cars, the rural mail and telephone, the phonograph, electricity and the radio, life is growing more attractive on the farms.

Individual initiative, enengy and ambition, the driving force which has built this nation, is the geat agency that is today remaking farm life in America and making it pleasant for both girls and boys to stay on the farm.

BETTER TRAINED TEACHERS

A study of the training of teachers in twenty-three counties of Alabama shows that marked progress is being made in professional improvement. The figures given are for county systems; that is, all cities are excluded. Out of each one hundred white teachers this year, eleven are college graduates, twenty are graduates of normal schools, fifty-four are high school graduates, and fifteen have less than high school training to their credit. Only two per cent have had merely a grammar school course. Most of the college graduates are in county high schools or large consolidated schools, and the influence of these well trained instructors is being felt in all counties. Ten years ago the proportion of teachers who had nothing above grammar school training was vastly larger; and a "third grade" certificate was a paper of high honor and value. That time has passed, and by far the largest group of teachers are high school graduates with a certain amount of actual training in the art of teaching. The next step educationally will be to advance the requirements to include a full normal school course.

SIMPLE MIXTURE FOR GAS ON STOMACH

Simple buckthorn bark, magnesium sulph. c. p., glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adlerika, helps any case gas on the stomach, unless due to deep seated causes. The pleasant and QUICK action will surprise you. Because Adlerika is such an excellent intestinal evacuant it is wonderful for constipation—it often works in one hour and never gripes.

FARM FACTS

"A generation of farmers trained in co-operation will provide the agricultural solution of the nation."—President Coolidge.

"Alabama Must Be Able to Feed Herself, Raise Livestock, Diversify and Prosper."—Montgomery Advertiser.

"Alabama hens in an egg laying contest at Auburn are leading New York hens in a simiiar contest at almost a 2 to 1 ratio."—John E. Ivey.

Good Farmer Suggestion

John R. Witt, of Belle Mina, who is known as the best farmer in Limestone county, and is also vice-president of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, said:

"My suggestion for the best interest of the cotton growers of the Southern States is that they put forth every effort in economy and industry for twelve months and try in every way possible to get out of debt and on a cash basis.

"I suggest further that the way to accomplish this is for the men to work as many days in the year as thtir wives do, stay away from town and country stores, and keep their hands off paper bags, canned goods, and bottles; by devoting their spare time to the garden, fixing hen houses and runs for the chickens and arranging conveniences for their wives. This can make them a good living and they will not have to go in debt.

"Plant just half the cotton acreage, and make as much cotton, and the rest to all manner of food and feed crops."

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP DYNAMITE

It is generally predicted that there will be agitation in a number of state legislatures for compulsory automobile insurance and in many instances a monopolistic state fund law will be advocated. Such measures have a public appeal on the ground that they are to secure the American people against loss due to careless drivers who are financially irresponsible. Men who have studied the situation, however, believe that the remedy is worse than the condition it seeks to correct.

Professor S. S. Huebner of the University of Pennsylvania, suggests alternative means for public protection. One of these is to apply the marine insurance law to automobiles and make the damage done by an automobile a prior lien on the car itself without regard to ownership.

He always looks with some favor on the proposals of Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Stickel, of Connecticut, requiring some sort of financial guarantee that a driver will be able to respond to a minimum judgment as a part-requisite in issuance of license.

Dr. Huebner bases his objection to the compulsory insurance measures on two great grounds:

(1) That it will tend to increase traffic accidents rather than reduce them and

(2) Having peeked behind the curtain, he knows, as everyone else knows, that the active advocates of the measure are not interested in the protection of the "dear public" but are only interested in taking one more step toward that socialistic form of legislative monopolistic state insurance funds to the exclusion of private insurance business.

If the people understand the facts, they will not be fooled by the honey-coated proposal which is loaded with public ownership dynamite.

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter is each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

Neglected Cough Dangerous—How to Stop It Quickly

When the delicate tissues of your throat are raw and sore from coughing, and your strength is exhausted with the constant hacking, you may fall an easy prey to more serious trouble. So stop the cough the quickest you can, before it creeps too deep.

By a very simple treatment you can stop the spells practically at once, and relieve the heaviest cough often in 24 hours. The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing, without following with water. It has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. With the cause treated in this way, the whole cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription contains no opiates or harmful drugs. It simply helps Nature. It is for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, bronchitis and spasmodic croup. Very economical, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. For sale at all good druggists. Ask for

MUSCLE SHOALS BILL YET PENDING IN THE HOUSE

Friends of Senator Underwood's Bill Differ On Next Move To Be Taken.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Both supporters and opponents of the Underwood Muscle Shoals bill rested on their oars Monday to await developments. No move is planned to advance the legislation before Tuesday.

Friends of the bill expect to show their hand within the next few days, probably Teusday, by seeking to refer the measure either direct to conference between the senate and house or to the house military committee for consideration.

Senate and house leaders held further conferences Monday in an effort to get assurance that if the bill is sent straightway to conference the senate conferees will not include senators who oppose the measure. After the conference leaders of both bodies said their first preference is to get it into conference, but if satfactory arrangements cannot be made they plan to refer it to committees.

One branch of the supporters of the Alabama senator's bill holds a different view on procedure. They feel that time can be saved and the senate measure protected from any chance of mutilation, by referring it to the committee. They claim that the committee would report the bill with house modifications and the conferees would be limited to adjustment of senate and house differences over the legislation.

It is in the power of the senate to name any conferees it chooses, but if the usual custom is followed they would consist of Chairman Norris, of the senate agriculture committee, who led the senate fight against the Underwood bill, Sens. McNary, Republican, Oregon, and Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, who voted against the measure. The aim of the senate friends of the bill is to have Sen. Underwood, Democrat, Alabama, its author, selected as head of the senate conferees.

CLANTON TO PAVE 3/4 MILE OF STREETS

On January 12th the Town Council of the Town of Clanton issued a call for bids on the paving of a portion of the streets within the business section of Clanton. The work on the State Highway through Clanton will be taken up in a few weeks, and the Town will work its paving in connection with the paving of the Highway Department. The State Highway will pass right through the center of Clanton, and the Town will finish paving the full width of the street through which the Highway will pass. Also, Main street in Clanton, or Second avenue, will be paved by the town. The Town's paving will be done with Portland cement and the project in all will cover about three-quarters of a mile of street surface. The cost of the paving and grading which the Town of Clanton has underway will cost about $36,200.00 Work on this paving will begin in the near future.

NEW OFFICERS OF COUNTY TAKE UP DUTY MONDAY

Monday of this week, January 19, the new county officers elected last November took charge of the respective offices to which they were named by the voters of the County. Miss Genie Collins took charge of the county treasurer in the stead of Mr. Jesse Baker, who has been serving under appointment by the Board of County Commissioners.

Mr. A. P. Vinson comes in to take the place of Mr. Wiley Littlejohn as Commissioner from the Fourth District, and Mr. J. L. Burnett to take the place of Mr. C. T. Walker from the Third District. The two new Commissioners met with the special session of the Commissioners Court in session two or three days last week, which was done in order that the new men might get the hang of their duties before the responsibility was actually placed upon them. Of course the business was nothing very novel to Mr. Vinson, since he has already served a term as this same officer, but Mr. Burnett was a new man and had to take the initiation, so to speak.

The new commissioners will do their first actual service to the county at the regular quarterly meeting of the Board the second Monday in February.

Big Lime Plant To Go Up at Calera

Construction of $1,500,000 Lime Plant to Begin at Once; 10,000 Acres Land Secured.

The Shafer Engineering Company of Pittsburgh, has been given a contract to erect the Alabama Lime products company plant at Calera, was announced Tuesday. The forces are preparing to begin construction, it being said that sixty cars of machinery are enroute to Calera at the present time.

The plant will cost $1,500,000, it is said, all of the funds having been secured and the project announced two weeks ago. It was understood Monday that the company will not only make the lime as announced, but that many by-products which come from the lime will also be manufactured.

The company has acquired over 10,000 acres at Calera where the rock deposits are found and the plant will be located in a place convenient for the drillers. The statement was made that the construction of the plant will require several months, but that Alabama would secure from this new industry a diversity of products which will add materially to the importance of the district. This will be the only plant of its kind in the south, although several are located in the eastern part of the United States, it is said.

Information given out here was to the effect that no trouble is expected to be experienced in selling the maximum capacity of the operations. The company is owned by Birmingham residents.

HIGH WATER DOES GREAT DAMAGE ALL OVER THE STATE

Mitchell Dam Locks Reported Destroyed; Many Alabama Towns Inundated.

With practically every south and many west Alabama counties affected by the overflow from some river or creek, residents of the respective areas are apprehensive of the result when the high water reaches a crest. Crests were expected during Tuesday, Tuesday night and Wednesday without additional rainfall.

A dispatch from officials reported locks at Mitchell Dam, recently completed by The Alabama Power Company destroyed by the heavy water pressure. The Alabama Power Company headquarters in Birmingham also reported heavy damage resulting from overflow of waters on property of the company and adjacent farm lands. The company had received no notification of opening of Lock 12 on the Coosa river near Clanton to relieve the pressure.

In a long distance telephone communication, Tallassee reported slight fall in the water of Tallapoosa river and both the Upper Tallassee and Tallassee dams holding well. No rain fell Monday in Tallassee.

Serious damage to the newly erected plant of the G. W. Michell Lumber company of Tuskegee was narrowly averted yesterday when the dam of the log pond broke, releasing a large volume of water which came in contact with a car load of unslacked lime stored under the mill. Quick work on the part of the employees extinguished the flames, and other than the loss of the lime, little damage was done. "Red" Miller, an employee of the Thrall and Shae Construction company, was painfully though not seriouss burned.

Geneva is practically surrounded by water, there being only one road leading out that can be traveled. The water has been steadily rising since Friday morning. The two rivers which run on each side of Geneva and join just below are so high they spread all over the surrounding country. The water, with another rise, will be in the streets. The people living close to the river have had to leave their homes. It is reported that one house has been washed off the blocks.

At 5 o'clock Monday afternoon the water was still rising from the rivers about here and from all reports from up stream it will continue to do so indefinitely. It has been necessary to turn the bridge crossing Chatauhatchee river, two miles from here to avoid damage.

It will take only about two and one-half feet to put the water as high as it was in July, 1916, when it was possible to come to the courthouse in a boat.

Railroad traffic is still moving. The water lacks about ten feet being to the trestle below Geneva.

All vacant buildings, store rooms and houses are being used to store the household equiptment of people who are moving out of the lower regions.

Boats of all kinds are being used in keeping traffic moving. At one place between Geneva and Hartford, a gasoline launch runs along the road for about a mile before it lands the passengers.

There has been considerable loss of property reported around Geneva. Quite a lot of lumber from the mills around here has been washed away. But there has been no report of injury or loss of life to any person.

The town is without electrical current as the machinery of the local power plant has been moved to prevent injury to same.

With the Coosa river at flood stage at Wetumpka, much concern and interest is evinced by the citizens who are congregated along the bridge and other vantage points, making the rapidity of the rise. In the forenoon, the rise was alarmingly rapid about six inches an hour, but during the afternoon the rise has been considerably slower, and is now only an inch an hour.

The merchants whose stores are near the banks of the river are greately concerned over the gradual but persistent rise, especially as the rain continues to fall. It is now only a foot from the flood stage of 1916, and several feet from the alarm stage of 1919.

The back water is up in some of the streets of the town and one entire block on West Bridge street is roped off with danger signals as warnings.

Already considerable loss among the livestock is being reported by property owners along the lowlands and islands.

Several families who live along the banks of the river, with the rising water at their homes tonight and seek more plasant sleeping quarters.

Lowlands in the basin of the Alabama river in the section of West Alabama around Selma are flooded. The extreme suburban section of the city is also inundated. No loss of life or injury to persons was reported Monday. No estimate of damage could be obtained.

The overflow from the Alabama river was reported general, especially in the vicinity of Benton where roads are impassible. Farmers have removed their stock to high points which have not thus far been affected by the flood.

Crest of the flood was expected Tuesday night when the river was expected to reach a depth from 53 to 54 feet. It was freely predicted on the streets that the river would reach the mark set in 1919.

LECTURES TO BE GIVEN ALL NEXT WEEK IN CLANTON

Rev. McLennan of Birmingham Will Be In Clanton, Lecturing In Adventists' Church.

The readers of The Union-Banner are more or less familiar with the local work of the Seventh-Day Adventists whose headquarters for the state of Alabama are located in Clanton, and who have held camp-meetings in our city several summers during the past few years; but many are not familiar with the wide scope of the mission work done by this denomination.

We learn from an interview with one of the local officials that these people are sending out missionaries into practically every country of the globe, doing work in 115 different countries and in nearly 200 different languages and dialects. A strong feature of the work of these people being their publishing work, as they at present are printing books and magazines in 114 languages, while their thousands of evangelistic colporteurs are placing the Bible and works on Bible subjects within the reach of millions from the frozen North clear down to the very Southern tip of South America, where a company of this faith is situated at Punta Arenas on the Strait of Magellan.

Our informant tells us that the Seventh-Day Adventists claim to teach only such truths as are based on the Word of God, and that a "Thus saith the Lord" is the foundation for each phase of their doctrine.

Beginning Sunday night, January 25, Evangelist W. P. McLennan of Birmingham, who is well known in Clanton, will begin a series of lectures in the Seventh-Day Adventists' tabernacle on Second Avenue South, continuing each night throughout the week. These meetings are being held in connection with their Colporteurs' Institute, the sessions of which continue throughout the day, an interesting Bible Study being the feature of the 9 o'clock hour each morning. In his night sermons Elder McLennan will discuss some of the interesting prophecies of the Bible, as well as such questions as, "Will Jesus return in this generation?," "What is the unpardonable sin?," etc.

The public is cordially invited to attend both the morning Bible Studies and the night services. Beginning at 7 o'clock each evening there will be a song service for thirty minutes. Mrs. McLennan and son will assist with the music. All are welcome.

SUN TO GO IN PARTIAL ECLIPSE NEXT SATURDAY

Those craving natural and astronomical curiosities will have a chance to gratify their wishes next Saturday morning, January 24. by watching old Sol stick his head partially out from behind the moon and look down upon the earth. The eclipse, which takes place about 7 or 8 o'clock, will be total in the north-eastern States, but in Alabama it will be only partial. Don't forget to look for the eclipse Saturday morning.

PREPARING FOR FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION

The Methodist ladies of Clanton are starting in early this year making preparations for another big celebration to be pulled off in Clanton the 4th of July. The primary arrangements are now being made, one feature already being a certainty—the brass band from the Masonic Home in Montgomery will be here to make music. The full particulars including the complete program will be published later.

PLAY AT MT. PLEASANT IS POSTPONED

The play at Mt. Pleasant for January 24th is postponed on account of smallpox in the community. No definite time is set for the play, but the date will be announced later.

COL. J. O. MIDDLETON BACK IN CLANTON SUNDAY

Hon. J. Osmond Middleton, who was recently appointed Assistant District Attorney for the Middle District of Alabama, and who has been at his post of duty in Montgomery for the past few weeks, came home Saturday and spent Sunday with his folks in Clanton.

Col. Middleton reports that he has been mighty busy since going into this office at Montgomery. Since going to work, he has been preparing for the district court, which is now in session, and it has taken hustling to get this work all together. After this session of court is over, however, Mr. Middleton will be able to stay at his law office in Clanton about half of the time.

W. M. U. MEETING TO BE HELD

The Chilton County W. M. U. will hold its quarterly meeting at Oak Grove church, 2 miles north of Jemison, Jan. 27, 1925.

Young Peoples Council Meeting will be held at Thorsby Baptist church, Jan. 24. We urge each and every church in Chilton Association to be represented at both meetings. Program begins at 10:30 A. M.

No More Work On Roads at Present

Commissioners Notify All Road Overseers To Discontinue Work On Roads For The Present.

The Court of County Commissioners have ordered, and very wisely so, that work on the county roads be held up for a month or so until the excessive winter rains begin to check up. The road supervisors have been given instructions to hold up all work on the roads, except in case of washouts, broken bridges, etc., or other cases of absolute necessity.

The Commissioners have acted very wisely in this respect, because work on the roads when it is raining so often gives the fresh dirt no chance to settle, but the traffic merely makes it up into mud and renders the road in very bad shape.

The people of Chilton County should bear in mind the rain law again at this season of the year. The law reads that no load of more than 800 pounds shall be hauled over the roads of the county within thirty-six hours after a rain. This is one of the best laws the county commissioners ever passed, and it is to the interest of every citizen to help out in the enforcement of the law. Hauling heavy loads just after a big rain does untold damage to the roads, and no one should want to damage their roads in this manner. Our people should recognize the law and remind our neighbors of it, because it is a splendid law.

SOUTHERN FINANCE BOOMING; SAFE TO INVEST AT HOME

The Alabama Home Companies Show Growth of Million Dollars During 1924

It should be very gratifying to the readers of this paper to know that Southern finance is enjoying such a development that it is no longer necessary to go beyond the confines of one's own state to find safe investments.

The annual statements of the Alabama Home Companies, of Birmingham, Alabama, published elsewhere in this paper, make a showing which should bring pride to the heart of every citizen in the state. These statements, showing assets of almost six million dollars, with a growth during the year just passed of practically a million dollars, indicate the opening of a new career in Alabama finance, for they would do credit to a large Eastern metropolis.

These companies which have grown up with the development of the state enjoy the wonderful career of having done business with the people of Alabama for thirty-four years without a loss to an investor or a late dividend.

Mr. W. V. M. Robertson, Jr., vice president of these companies, in commenting upon a new departure in their advertising career of entering the leading newspapers of the state, states that this step has been taken out of appreciation of the inquiries of citizens throughout the state in their investments.

NEGRO TRIED MONDAY FOR RAVISHING WHITE GIRL

A rather sensational trial came off last Monday at the court house in Clanton, when Will Kennedy, a negro, was tried before Justice of the Peace, J. W. E. Gulledge, the negro being charged with raping a white girl. After some four or five witnesses were examined and the attorneys had argued the case, Judge Gulledge announced that Kennedy would be held for grand jury investigation. Kennedy's bond was fixed at $500.00. The negro is in jail in Clanton, not being as yet able to make the required bond.

PAY POLL TAX

February 1st, 1925, is the last day in which you can pay poll tax this year. The Republicans of Chilton County are urged to pay up their poll tax before this time. This is an off-year, but you should not let your poll tax lapse, since it will be harder for you to qualify next year if you fail this year.

If you have become 21 years old since the last opportunity to register, pay up your poll tax now, and when you get the chance to register later, you will be fully qualified. The leaders of our party in the different beats of the county should get out among our folks and urge them to pay up their poll tax before February 1st.

WHICH? THE EDUCATED PREACHER OR THE WISDOM OF GOD

It has been some time since I have written to the dear old Union-Banner on any subject. Dear readers, this is my first attempt to write on the subject of Education.. Notwithstanding, it affords me pleasure to take this method of explaining myself on this all-important subject, "Christian Education."

First, I want to say that an education is a fine possession and essential to our enterprises in life, but it has been said that a man cannot preach without an education, and unless he has the finished touch of Howard he is not competent. My dear preacher, who has called you to preach? The gospel of the truth of Heaven is an ordained means and Divine appointment of God. Surely if God calls a man to preach, He can teach him to deliver a good sermon.

God created man for His own glory, and when He sends a man out to deliver His message to a sin-cursed world, he preaches through Him. I want to say that there never has been and never will be a man on this earth who can counsel God. God has many mysteries in His Book of knowledge that man's literal education can never understand. Solomon and Paul were both wise men but their education came from God. This knowledge is unmerited by man and is governed by an all-wise Being. Paul said that he desired to know nothing but Jesus Christ and Him crucified. I think if this wisdom of the power from on high was demonstrated a little more in our pulpits today we would have a more regenerated and consecrated membership. I said in the first that an education was a noble thing, helping us to mold and shape our lives, but one may preach with only His education. I do not say that our educated ministers cannot preach. I say that they can preach if God is there. May we do much for the betterment of His Kingdom.

THOMAS W. BILLINGSLEY.

Coughs Always Dangerous — Quick Way to Stop Them

Chronic coughs and chest colds often lead to more serious trouble. Not only is the infection itself dangerous, but the continual coughing spells day and night so weaken your entire system that you can no longer fight off disease.

So stop a cough the quickest you can. To do this there is nothing better than that old-time tried and proved remedy—Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. Doctors say there is nothing like pine-tar extract to quickly loosen and remove the phiegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the cough, while the honey both gives a pleasant taste and helps soothe irritation. The quick relief to the stubbornest cough often seems almost magical.

But be sure you get the genuine Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey, and no substitute. Dr. Bell's is the original pine-tar honey and has been known for over a quarter of a century as the best. It is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine-tar, honey and other quick-acting, healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in quick relief. Contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, so can be given even to young children—fine for spasmodic croup. If you want the best, a medicine that often relieves the severest cough overnight, make sure you get Dr. Bell's. Only 30c at any good druggists.

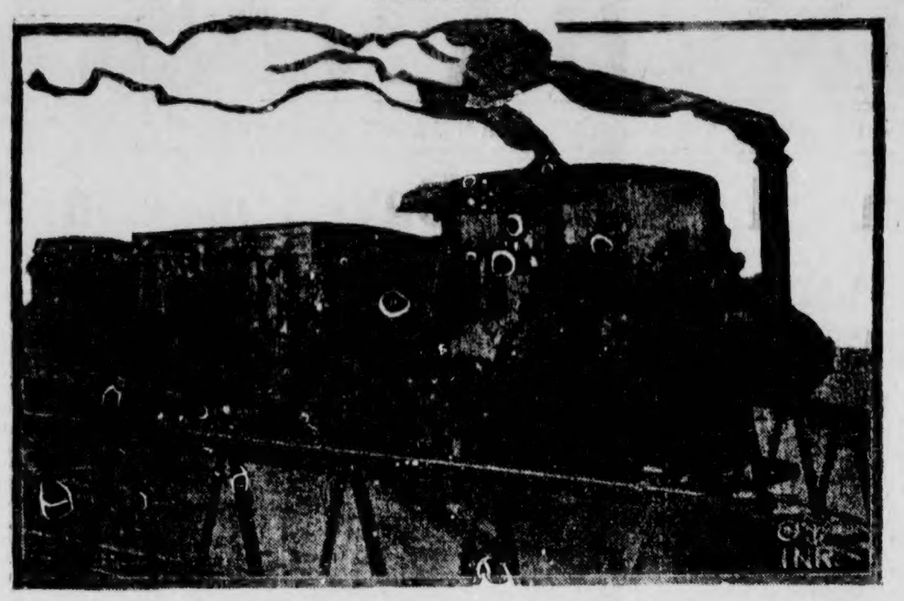
PASSENGERS DISTRIBUTED BY WEIGHT ON THIS QUAINT RAILWAY



JUST lately one of the quaintest railways in all the world went out of existence. It was the Ballybunion Line in Ireland—the odd locomotive and string of coaches of which are pictured above.

The railway, which had only a raised single rail, was about as queer a traveling contraption as was ever invented. The carriages were built in two parts and to balance the train correctly required no small amount of skill.

The guard, however, became quite expert at it with long experience and always managed to distribute the passengers according to what he judged their weights—thus being assured that the coaches would run evenly. When two cows or other live stock were taken aboard, one had to travel on either side of the coach to make it balance.

ATTENDS CHEVROLET CONVENTION

Geo. C. Polk, local Chevrolet dealer, on last Friday attended the Chevrolet dealers' convention for the Southeastern region which was held at the Biltmore Hotel in Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. Polk reports a large attendance of dealers at this convention and very much enthusiasm over the new series "K" Chevrolet which was displayed.

Mr. Polk expects to receive shipment of the new Chevrolet within a few days. Announcement of their arrival will be published in this paper. The new Chevrolet is new from radiator to rear axle, and Mr. Polk claims there is absolutely no other car on the market within its price class that will anywhere near equal it in looks, performance, durability and for economical transportation.

Watch for the announcement of the arrival of the new Chevrolet.

Last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Grooms and Miss Leora Goodgame were joint hostesses at a shower given in honor of Mrs. Grover A. Bice, a recent bride of Thorsby.

The guests registered is the bride's book and gave many ideas and recipes on "How to make a model husband." Many useful and beautiful articles were given, Master H. L. Collins bringing them in to the bride on a decorated wagon.

Refreshments were served to about fifty or seventy-five guests during the afternoon.

ANY WOMAN, any man, can now have a well-developed face and form. The whole, simple secret of a well-developed form is in the number of blood-cells in your body. You can now forget all the theoretical talk about diet, exercise, fad treatments, food-fats and fat-foods. Nothing is of any use, after all, except blood-cells!

Thin, run-down men and women, with bony necks, sunken cheeks, bony shoulders — all these are suffering from one thing—too few blood-cells. Science has proved that S.S.S. helps to make the rich red-blood-cells, which you need. Your blood is starving for these new blood-cells! Give your blood the blood-cells it needs—take S.S.S. the great scientific blood-cell maker. S.S.S. has done marvels, too, in making beautiful complexions, clearing the skin, making lips rosy red, the cheeks full and plump—because it rids the blood of impurities which cause pimples, blackheads, acne, blotches, eczema, tetter, rash and rheumatism, too. As the medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable, it may be taken with perfect safety. This is why S.S.S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women a plus in their strength. Start taking S.S.S. today and your great problem, that of your personal appearance, can be solved.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Will Undo Much Evil

By Dr. V. M. Pierce

Knowing the vast amount of harm wrought by diseases of the kidneys, and having had opportunity to observe the analyses and the successful methods of treatment in thousands of cases of kidney trouble at the Invalids' Hotel, I have recently given to the public the latest and perhaps most important of the Dr. Pierce home remedies, "An-uric" (anti-uric-acid) Tablets, which I now recommend to those who suffer with kidney backache, irregularity of urination and the pains and disturbances that come from excess of uric acid in the blood.

"An-uric" can be had now at all the drug stores. The mere drinking of a cup of hot water each morning and a little "An-uric" before every meal should bring remarkably quick improvement. You may have kidney trouble and not know it. The danger signals to be watched for and quickly heeded are backache, depression, aches, pains, heaviness, drowsiness, dizziness, irritability, headaches, chilliness, rheumatic twinges, swollen joints, gout.

COMMISSIONERS NOTIFY OVERSEERS TO STOP WORK

Clanton, Ala., Jan. 19, 1925.

To All Road Overseers:

I have been instructed by the commissioner's court to notify the road overseers, not to do any more work on the public roads until permission is granted by one of the commissioners, except in the case of a wash-out, bridge falling in, or the road becoming impassable, then you may fix the place to the amount of a few dollars, but if there is very much work to be done, you must see your commissioner.

The road law provides that overseers must not work their own teams unless in case of emergency, and absolutely necessary. You must not pay over $3.50 for a two-horse team and driver, and a driver who can do a day's work. Hire teams and drivers as cheap as you can. Do not pay more than $1.75 a day for the best of labor.

The road law also provides that no person shall run or operate any vehicle, either motor driven or horse drawn, carrying a load of more than 800 pounds, upon the public roads until after thirty-six hours, when a rain of twenty minutes or more has fallen. It also provides that the hauling of lumber, logs, timber or minerals after such rains during said period is absolutely prohibited.

Please remember that all bills must be made out in the name of those doing the work, giving date work was done, beat, and itemized. All lumber bills must be made out by the parties selling the lumber, and itemized, showing the person who purchased the lumber, the bridge and road it was for and the kind of lumber. If the above is not observed the bill will not be paid.

You must also keep a book and be able to report at all times the work you have done when called upon by the commissioners, also give parties hired at all place where work was done.

We hope to improve the roads this year, and we must spend our money economically and wisely. We are expecting you to do your best on your road.

Respectfully,
L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate.

SMALL POX, WHOOPING COUGH AND SCARLET FEVER HERE

Chances for unrivaled prosperity in the United States this year are strikingly in evidence everywhere. We have an administration at Washington in which the people of the country—capitalists and laborers—have the utmost confidence. The future looks very promising.

We are often led to believe that the practices of immorality and viciousness have surely reached the climax, but about the time we decide this, something happens that fairly knocks the top off any reasonable person's imagination. And one need not go outside the bounds of Chilton county to learn of such instances—we are hearing of them and seeing them right before us daily.

In the game of criticizing and knocking, a fellow who has never done anything has all the advantage in the world on the man who has been active all his life. A man who works just that certain has some mistakes to his credit, and some others are just idle enough to be all the time picking them up. The Democrats of Chilton county have never done anything, therefore, there is nothing to criticize them for. The Republicans have been working and trying to accomplish something for the county, and in the meantime have made mistakes. Our Democratic friends are on to their job when it comes to tearing up the work of their opponents.

It is very unfortunate that some good people allow prejudice to narrow down their vision to such a small focus on some particular matters. Some folks in Chilton county are blaming the commissioners court for so much rain recently which has rendered our roads in bad shape. No kind of a road would withstand the excessive rain we have had for the past few weeks except cement or rock or iron. It is true our commissioners have made mistakes and have very likely made laws that were not altogether just to certain particular people, but in criticizing them we should at the same time give them credit for the great amount of good work they have done for the roads and the other public utilities of the county.

RURAL MAIL SERVICE

Few institutions in the history of American progress can be credited with a more salutary effect upon the march of that progress than the Rural Mail Service of the Post Office Department.

No other single instrumentality has done more than the Rural Mail Service toward "bringing the city to the country," and relieving the prosaic existence of farm life, or has been as effective in establishing closer contact between the farmer and his markets. It has been the most important factor in making agriculture an exacting business instead of its one-time precarious classification which conveyed no broader meaning than "tilling the soil."

Twenty-nine years ago the farmer, and his wife, and children, led an existence of almost complete isolation, living upon widely scattered farms, some of them miles apart. They had comparatively little communication with their neighbors or the outside world, except that derived from weekly trips to the adjacent village. More often than not the farmer lost a full day's work and his crops were neglected in order to obtain expected mail at the village post office.

In those days the farmers' mail consisted largely of communication from relatives and friends. Today the mail includes, usually on the very date of publication, the metropolitan newspaper, containing market reports and agricultural news; the weekly and monthly farm journals and magazines and business letters from the village merchant and the more pretentious establishment in the distant city. All of these are brought to his door or to the box a few yards away.

The rural carrier is the farmer's post office and his agent. Through him he conducts transactions for the sale of his live stock, grain, and other farm produce. From him he buys and pays his bills by postal money order. In short, the letter carrier is the medium that has transformed the once secluded inhabitant of the rural district into a cosmopolitan citizen, conversant with current affairs and occupying a larger place in the destinies of a great nation.

It was Postmaster General John Wanamaker who first officially suggested in 1891 the rural mail idea to Congress. The plan was fought in the legislative branch of the Government for five years before it was given a try-out.

The first bill authorizing the establishment of the service was introduced in the House of Representatives by James O'Donnell of Michigan, January 5, 1892. It carried an appropriation of $6,000,000 but failed of passage. A year later Congress was induced to appropriate $10,000 for experimental purposes followed in 1894 by $20,000 more. Mr. Wanamaker, believing the amount insufficient for even experimental service, declined the use of the money.

On January 9, 1896, $10,000 was added by Congress and on October 1, the same year the first experimental rural delivery service was established simultaneously on three routes in West Virginia, one from Charlestown, one from Uvilla and one from Halltown. From this small beginning, nine months later found the service operating on 82 routes emanating from 43 post offices in 29 states. Twenty-eight years later, on June 30, 1924, the Rural Mail Service had grown to 44,260 routes with a total mileage of 1,205,714.

In comparison with the insignificant appropriation of $10,000 made by Congress more than a quarter of a century ago to inaugurate the service, it now requires an annual expenditure of $89,250,000 to keep it functioning.

The first county to be completely covered by Rural Mail Service was Carroll County, Maryland, where county service was established December 20,1899. There are few counties in the country today that are not honeycombed to the uttermost corners with free mail delivery.

By 1915, 26,080 fourth class post offices had been discontinued as a result of the extension of the Rural Mail Service. It is estimated that an annual saving of $1,613,040 was accomplished by the discontinuance of these offices while the elimination of star, or contract routes is estimated to save $3,482,670 per annum.

When the service was first inaugurated the salaries of rural carriers was only $200 per year. They may now get as much as $2,160 per year, depending on the length of the routes, while the motor routes of 50 miles or more pay salaries of $2,450 to $2,600.

Under the administration of H. H. Billany, present Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, a marked increase in rural delivery facilities has been made, the number of routes climbing from 43,649 to 44,760; the mileage from 1,159,239 to 1,205,714 and the number of individuals served from 29,113,883 to 29,921,123.

Illinois leads the nation both in the number of rural routes and in mileage, there being 2,637 routes covering a distance of 70,677 miles in that state. Ohio is second with 2,542 routes and a mileage of 63,820; Missouri third with 2,252 routes covering 56,074 miles; Iowa fourth with 2,229 routes covering 60,734 miles; Texas fifth with 2,193 routes covering 59,998 miles; Pennsylvania sixth with 2,036 routes and 53,385 miles; Kansas seventh with 1,902 routes and 55,464 miles and New York eighth with 1,863 routes and 47,130 miles.

Alabama has 1,165 routes covering 30,943 miles.

DAYS WE'LL NEVER FORGET

With 340 Eggs in 9 Weeks, Rew's Champion Pullets Lead Egg-Laying Contest

Auburn, Ala.—F. A. Rew of Carrollton, Ala., County Agent for Pickens County, is still the leader in the first Alabama Egg-laying Demonstration, his pen of ten White Leghorn pullets having ended the ninth week with 340 eggs to their credit. The nearest competitor was W. J. Hagood of Town Creek, who holds second place with a production of 319 eggs, while Happy Poultry Farm of Memphis, Tenn., is a close third with a total of 318 eggs.

The Great Southern Poultry Farm, owner of pen 31, had a good week with 42 eggs for the week; a total of 305 to date; holding fourth place in the entire contest.

Mrs. Alice T. Peart has stepped up one notch this week over the Hollywood Poultry Farm, with a five egg margin. This pen of birds is a wonderful pen, holding this position until last week with only six hens, the others being in the hospital for quite some time. Bird No. 160, pen No. 16, is still in the hospital; therefore, Mrs. Peart holds this record with only nine birds competing.

Tied for Sixth Place

The Howard Poultry Farm at Dunn, North Carolina, and Hollywood Poultry Farm at Woodenville, Washington, tied for sixth place, with a production of 293 eggs to date.

George F. Ferris of Grand Rapids, Michigan, has the honor of high pen during the week, with a production of 55 eggs for the seven day period.

Dr. J. F. Hill, who has been holding first place for the past three weeks holds second place this week, with a production of 52 eggs.

The Happy Poultry Yards of Memphis, Tenn., takes third place during the ninth week of the contest.

It will be noticed that there are seven hens in the contest that have laid over 50 eggs since November 1. Bird No. 701, owned by Mrs. D. T. Tatum of LaFayette, holds the highest record with 58 eggs out of possible 63. Bird No. 879 of Valley Red Farm at Tuscumbia, holds second place with a production of 55 eggs to date. Birds Nos. 159 and 217, owned by Mrs. Peart and Happy Poultry Farms respectively, are tied for third place with a production of 52 eggs in the 62-day period. Birds Nos. 117, 304 and 321 tied for fourth place with 51 eggs to their credit.

18 Hens 100 Per cent.

During the past week only 18 individuals have made a 100 per cent score. This is four individuals under the 100 per cent column of last week. However, it is gratifying to know that the birds are continuing this production in the face of the bad weather which we are having.

The ten Buff Orpingtons in pen No. 95, owned by Judge Sam High of Ashville, are still making a good record, producing 36 eggs during the week; a total of 296 eggs to date. This is a three-egg margin over the White Leghorns owned by the Hollywood Poultry Farm at Woodenville, Wash. —thereby holding sixth place in the contest, all breeds competing.

F. A. Rew of Carrollton, County Agent For Pickens County, Whose Ten White Leghorn Pullets Are Proving the Champions of the Auburn Egg-Laying Contest—340 Eggs in Nine Weeks.

The Rhode Island Red pullets in pen No. 84, owned by Mr. Oscar Reinhart of Birmingham, had a very good week, producing 48 eggs in the seven-day period; bringing their total up to 256 eggs to date, with a three-egg margin over its nearest competitor in the Rhode Island Red class, the Ridgeley Farm of Union Springs.

Total production to date	15,584 eggs
Production last week	2,576 eggs
Per cent production last week	38.33
Production this week	2,569 eggs
Per cent production this week	38.22

38.22 Per cent Production

The purpose of the Auburn egg-laying contest is to stimulate interest in the poultry industry throughout Alabama. All hens in the contest—there are 996 pens of ten hens each—are being housed and fed exactly alike, the official feed for the contest being Jazz Poultry Feed, manufactured by the W. M. Cosby Flour and Grain Company of Birmingham. It is a source of gratification to the Auburn officials superintending the contest that Alabama hens have taken the lead over crack birds from out of the state. Champion pullets that have won other national contests are among the entries in the Auburn test, and it was at first believed that out-of-state birds would excel in the contest. However, Alabama hens are now comfortably in the lead, and it is hoped they will stay there.

GAS STOLEN FROM CAR WHILE STANDING IN BACK YARD

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space in your paper to say a few words in regard to a little incident that happened in our community last Saturday night. Some one visited a car that was standing in the back yard at the home of Mr. C. Jones and drew between eight and nine gallons of gasoline from it, using a lard can to make a funnel of, and catching the gas in a tub. People, lock your cars, and anything else you have or you may have it stolen. I haven't a car, thank the Lord, but I am going to watch after what I have. Mr. Jones worked for what he has and it takes a person who is very weak to do such an act.

Invitations to this dinner were extended to all members of the church and its auxiliary organizations and to all contributing friends of the church. The responses and attendance gave the affair somewhat the aspect of a community dinner. Reports of officers at the business meeting, following the dinner, showed the church to be in a prosperous condition in all departments. With 72 members, none wealthy, and contributing friends, $1,259 was raised during the past year for home expenses and $344 for missions and other benevolences. Officers elected were, S. E. Norton, Clerk, E. W. Butler, Treasurer, J. W. McCain and R. L. Primm, Deacons, Carl C. Petersen and Mrs. R. L. Primm to serve with Chas. A. Peterson as the board of Trustees, Mrs. S. E. Mr. Albert Johnson and family of Nebraska arrived last week to spend some time with Mr. Johnson's mother, Mrs. Robert Johnson.

Messrs. Ernie Hanson and Nat Bently made a business trip to Birmingham last week.

First semester examinations are on this week at Thorsby Institute.

Mrs. Grover Bice was tendered a miscellaneous shower on Wednesday of last week at the home of Mrs. Grooms.

The exterior finish on Thorsby Institute Dining Hall building is nearing completion and presents a very attractive appearance.

Mrs. Yancy Kelly, nee Emily B. Ellsworth, writes from Connecticut, "Mother and sister are well, except that they have the cross-word-puzzle-mania, and we give them the Union-Banner to work on."

At the last meeting of the Board of Trustees of Thorsby Institute, Miss Helen C. Jenkins asked for, and recieved leave of absence from her duties, as Principal of the school, for the next semester, to enable her to attend Syracuse University and finish a course of study required to obtain a "Master of Arts" degree. The opinion was expressed at the meeting that, "We feel that Miss Jenkins is entitled to almost any concession that she is liable to ask for." In this case she is simply joining a great throng of people who years after graduation from high school or college, return for a post-graduate course in some special branch or branches of study.

People used to talk of finishing their education. In these days one is apt to find gray-haired men and women digging for knowledge as industriously as any freshman. Frequently this becomes necessary to prepare them to fill some coveted position.

Sereno Norton writes from New Jersey, "Are you working the cross-word puzzles in The Union-Banner. They are very interesting. You have the Century dictionary, which is the best of help in working them."

Thorsby Public School bond election last week carried by more than six to one in favor of issuing the bonds for $10,000.

The Bank of Thorsby held its annual stockholders' meeting last Tuesday evening. The same officers were re-elected: Chas. E. Lucas, President, C. C. Petersen, Vice President, C. R. Foss, Cashier. The bank has had a very good year. It was voted to increase the authorized stock to $25,000 with $15,000 paid in. A 10 % dividend was also declared.

TIME TO QUIT TRADING DOLLARS

HASTINGS DECLARES THAT PRESENT SOUTHERN FARM SYSTEM GETS US NOWHERE

Atlanta, Ga.—(Special.)—"It's time for every Southern farmer who clings to the all, or nearly all, cotton idea to do a lot of straight thinking before he pitches his 1925 crop. Most of our cotton farmers are trading dollars and losing at that three years out of four," said H. G. Hastings, leading agricultural authority and Chairman of the Farm and Marketing Bureau of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

"For the past two years Providence has stepped in and saved us from the results of our own folly. In 1923 we planted thirty-nine million acres of cotton; in 1924 forty million acres. In each of these years there was acreage enough to have made, with even fair season conditions, sixteen to eighteen million bales and a ten-cent price or less with the inevitable farm smash that such price would bring." Providence cannot be depended on indefinitely to bring unfavorable seasons and cut down yield per acre. We stepped up a couple of million bales in 1924, and, by so doing, the South has lost about three hundred million dollars that have come right out of the farm pocket.

"In spite of these danger signals flying in every cotton state, plans are being made everywhere to increase cotton acreage in 1925. This can only be done at the expense of cutting down food and grain acres at a time when food and grain is high and going higher every week.

"I am no alarmist, but the present tendency, the intent to plant the whole face of the earth in cotton this spring that is so evident gives me grave concern. If the boll weevil or drought don't cut the 1925 crop, starvation low prices will get the cotton grower. The situation looks just as hazardous to me as in 1920, unless the craze for increased cotton acreage can be headed off somehow.

Growing cotton and buying bread, meat and grain is simply trading dollars, or worse. It never is profitable. Most years it's a losing game. There is only one way to safeguard 1925. Plan for and plant enough food, grain and forage acres to insure your family and live stock full food supply without buying from store or feed dealer. In this don't forget that a good big home garden is a wonderful food source. With food and live stock amply provided for, a good living is insured, regardless of cotton prices."

HOW JAPANESE ARTIST WORKS

IF artists in this country had to earn their living by working in this cramped position on the floor, the chances are most of them would be pursuing a less arduous calling. Yet, Japanese artists think nothing of it—drawing and painting for many hours each day without feeling the least physical strain.

The above photo shows Buzan Kimura, a noted Japanese painter, at work in his home. And he's not a young man, by any means.

7 Records Broken
By American Railroads

That American railroads are now performing their tasks with greater efficiency than at any other period in their history, is indicated by the fact that in 1924 seven transportation records were broken.

1.— In one week, 1,112,345 cars were loaded with revenue freight—exceeding by 14,852 cars, the best previous record.
2.— In October, 72,474 cars of grain and grain products were moved in a single week—1,340 more than the previous record.
3.— The week of October 11th, loadings of merchandise and less-than-car-load freight totaled 259,617 cars—the highest record for any one week ever reported.
4.— The week of October 25th, 422,890 cars of miscellaneous freight were loaded and moved—a new high record for any one week.
5.— On Wednesday, October 15th, the railroads moved 1,030,211 freight cars (loaded and empty)—the greatest movement for one day in history.
6.— High record in respect to number of surplus freight cars and serviceable locomotives in storage, when loadings of revenue freight were in excess of one million cars a week. At the same time there was no car shortage or congestion due to railroad disability.
7.— From January 1st, to October 25th, 31,700,789 cars were loaded with all commodities—excluding coal, coke and ore.

ALABAMA NEWS HAPPENINGS

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Entertaining Form.

So great has been the progress in sprinkling coal mines with rock dust, limerock dust being used, that the method looking to the elimination of, and if not this, then material reduction of the hazards of explosions, in Alabama, that this state is considered as one of the pioneers in accepting the recommendations of the United States Bureau of Mines and other forces working for betterment of conditions in the mining industries, seeking a reduction of loss of life and injury to body and limb, it is learned. A number of mines have already been dusted with limerock powder, and the work is getting well under way. Report that Western mines are taking steps in a like direction to cut hazards are somewhat behind the movement made in Alabama, it is pointed out.

Nathan Painter, an employe of the Merrimack Mills, Huntsville, was found dead with his throat cut from ear to ear when firemen who had been called to put out a fire that was burning an apartment house in A Street were trying to save some of the contents of the doomed building. Painter had been dead several hours when found and the fact that he had drawn some money from the United States treasury for service in the World War, missing when his body was found, resulted in the arrest of Frank Sawyer, occupant of the same house. Sawyer was discharged after a full investigation had been made by a coroner's jury whose verdict was to the effect that Painter killed himself by cutting his throat.

An unidentified man, believed to be J. Peisena, was shot to death at Searles, a mining town near Tuscaloosa, by Claud Saxton, deputy sheriff of that section. Coroner S. D. Hardini exonerated the officer following an inquest. The man had been wandering around Searles for several days begging food. It is said that he made insulting remarks to housewives who refused him food. The deputy attempted to arrest the stranger and was attacked with a brick and a stick. The deputy then fired five times, four bullets taking effect. The name J. Peisena was found on the dead man's shirt and is his only identification mark.

Several cases of epidemic hiccoughs have been reported to the bureau of epidemiology of the state health department, from various sections of Alabama. This affection is a bona fide malady with distinct epidemic propensities, health experts say. It usually runs its course in two or three days, is not fatal, and is more annoying than serious. Epidemic hiccough first appeared in Europe several years ago. Later it showed up in this country in the state of New Jersey. The first cases occuring in Alabama were reported only recently. It is never contracted by any large percentage of the population.

Easy Way to Break Severest Cough

No matter how long you have had a persistent, weakening cough—no matter how many remedies you have tried without success—you can usually get relief instantly, and often relieve the entire cough condition in 24 hours, by a very simple method.

The method is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 25 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The prompt relief seems almost magical, and the quickness with which the whole cough condition disappears is often simply amazing. There is nothing better for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, bronchialasthma, hoarseness, and almost every throat irritation. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY FOR COUGHS

WEEKLY LETTER FROM FORESTRY DEPARTMENT

That the Old Testament prophets well understood the harm resulting from forest fires, is the opinion of the State Commission of Forestry. In the first chapter of the Book of Joel, 18th, 19th and 20th verses, is found: "How do the beasts groan! The herds of cattle are perplexed, because they have no pasture; yea, the flocks of sheep are made desolate. O Lord, to thee will I cry; for the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness, and the flame hath burned all the trees of the field. The beasts of the field cry also unto thee: for the rivers of water are dried up, and the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness."

Students of the scriptures have noted that about every evil that man can bring upon himself is set forth somewhere in the Bible. That the belief which until recently prevailed in many quarters that setting fire to the woods in winter and early spring was of benefit to the range stock is entirely erroneous is shown by the lamentations of the prophet in this passage. History has a way of repeating itself, however, and after a period of banishment a particular evil is likely to crop out again and become prevalent until the lesson is learned over and people have found from their own experience what the ancients learned many centuries ago.

SEVERAL STILLS ARE DESTROYED BY OFFICERS

On last Saturday, State officer Kimbrough, Federal Officer J. L. Gore, with Deputies Foshee and Robinson, found and destroyed a 75-gallon copper still complete up in the Pleasant Grove community in Stumps Hills. 420 gallons of beer were poured out. No whiskey was found and no arrest was made.

The same officers went from Pleasand Grove over near the home of Jim Thrash in Stumps Hills and found a 50-gallon still within about 300 yards of Tharsh's house in a branch. 240 gallons of beer and a very small quantity of whiskey were destroyed. No one was arrested.

On last Sunday Sheriff Littlejohn, Deputy Foshee and Federal officer W. H. Gillespie, destroyed some beer and empty barrels and lard cans near the home of Frank Northcutt in Dry Valley. No whiskey was found and no arrest was made.

Moses A. Bates Died Last Saturday Night

On last Saturday night about 10 o'clock occurred the death of Mr. Moses A. Bates at his home one and a half miles north-east of Clanton. Mr. Bates was 76 years old, and had been sick for about three weeks when the end came. He had been suffering with some kind of heart trouble, but the physician had pronounced him on his way to recovery. He appeared to be feeling unusually well Saturday, but when death came it wafted his life away almost at an instant.

Mr. Bates was an old resident of Chilton County, having spent his entire life here. He lived in the Providence community up until about ten years ago when he moved close to Clanton. The deceased was the father of three children—two sons and one little daughter. The two sons, Thomas Mitchell Bates and Alonzo Bates, the latter having died eight years ago, were children from Mr. Bates' first wife. The little girl, Ruby Bates, is his child from his second wife who is left to mourn after the deceased husband.

The remains were buried in Providence cemetery Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, Rev. W. W. Robinson officiating. Rev. M. J. Parrish assisted in the funeral.

The deceased was a member of Providence church and had been since boyhood. He has lived a consecrated Christian life, and always held the love and respect of a host of friends.

THREE MEN ARE JAILED HERE FOR STEALING AUTO

Three young men, giving their names as Robert Wilson, Gene Rhea and Jack O'Brien, wanted by the Sheriff of Chilton County for stealing a Buick automobile at Stanton on January 15th, are now in jail in Clanton. The men were taken up at Hattiesburg, Miss., by officers there and the officers at Clanton were notified. Deputies Foshee and Culp went to Hattiesburg and brought the prisoners to jail here, arriving Friday morning. The Buick was stolen from Mr. L. E. Parnell, and the latter traced up the theives, being in Hattiesburg when the young men were arrested. Mr. Parnell started back with his car, but was forced to leave it at Meridian, Miss., on account of the high water.

When arrested, the young men had in their possession some pocket knives, men's hose and some razors, which it is supposed were stolen. One of the men claimed to be from Chicago, Ill., one from somewhere in Texas and the other from Kansas City.

Grading South Half of Chilton Highway

There are two camps below Clanton and one will be put to work on the section between Clanton and Lomax within a few days. As yet the deeds to the right-of-way have not been gotten through by the commissioners, due to the fact that the State Highway Department were slow in sending the deeds to the probate judge. But these deeds will be signed up soon and the work will go right along.

Polk Brothers Have Fine Display Room

After some repairs, painting up and varnishing, the large display room for parts and accessories of Polk Brothers on South Sixth Street is good to look upon. When the place becomes stocked with a display of the new Chevrolet cars, it will look like a real city show-room for automobiles. Mr. Polk believes in having things done right and look right around him and this idea was evidently in his mind when he had his place of business fixed up as it is.

UNION-BANNER STARTS BOOSTER ADS THIS WEEK

Beginning this week and continuing for a period of twelve weeks, The Union-Banner will display one solid page, which is devoted to the advancement of co-operation and community interest among the people of Clanton and Chilton County. The paramount object of this campaign is to induce trading with the home merchants and doing business with the local business men, and the ultimate increase in co-operation and public spirit among our citizenship in general.

It is a bad mistake for people to patronize mail order houses in Chicago and New York, and it is bad business on the part of our local merchants to allow our people to perpetuate this detrimental custom. Elsewhere in this issue of The Banner we are publishing some figures representing the business of Sears, Roebuck & Company for the year 1924. The net income of this mail-order house last year amounted to more than fourteen and a quarter million dollars, and some of this business was taken from the people of Chilton County. This trade should have been given the merchants of Clanton and Chilton County, and thereby the money would have been kept at home. It is a mistake to send money away when it can be spent just as well with home folks.

The way for our people to be induced to trade at home is for our home merchants and business men to treat them courteous, offer them the goods they want to buy, and let them know it by advertising in the local newspapers. Most of our merchants are generous enough to invite the patronage of the people by advertising, but a few are so hide-bound that they won't ask the public to trade with them at all. It would be only just for these kind of merchants to lose all of their trade to the mail order houses and have to move to Coosa County or somewhere else and root for a living.

At the top of this booster page will be found an appropriate picture with a nice spiel for community co-operation; the picture and the spiel will be changed each of the twelve weeks. The bottom half of the page will be devoted to short advertisements of the local business men who want to help in this community movement. These firms whose names are on this page have an interest in Clanton and Chilton County and are willing to lend their substance toward our advancement. These firms deserve the patronage of the home people and should have the encouragement of our people in the operation of their businesses. A person who is willing to help others is deserving of patronage from his fellowmen, but the fellow who looks out only for self is too small to live in a thriving community like Clanton.

Watch this booster page every week and read every word on it. There are messages in every issue that will be a help to every person in Chilton County, because it concerns not one citizen but every citizen of our town and county. Read the advertisements of the local firms who have their advertisements on this page and give them all the business that you possibly can. They are interested in you and your community and will help you when you need help.

Big Tractor at Work on Higgins Ferry Road

The road working crew with the big 10-ton tractor went down to Providence in Beat 16 Monday morning and began work on the Higgins Ferry Road toward Clanton. The immense caterpillar is being used to pull the large grader and a smaller leveling scrape all at one run. The large grader scrapes out the ditches and the smaller machine comes on behind and levels off the dirt, leaving the road in proper shape As little loose dirt as possible was left in the road bed so that when it rains again the road will not be so muddy.

This arrangement is certainly the system for working dirt roads. This large tractor with half a dozen men can put a road in first-class shape at the rate of about half a mile an hour. Of course the time required depends largely on the condition of the road as to stumps, rocks, etc. But small stumps, grubs and such obstructions do not mean anything to this outfit, as it walks right on through them.

When this road is finished into Clanton, which will be done some time Wednesday, the Higgins Ferry Road will be in fine fix. Of course, it will be muddy after a big rain comes, but when the cars and wagons cut out ruts in the soft dirt a small scrape will be run over the road and fill up the ruts and holes.

The road was also scraped up from the top of Iron Ore Hill down to the home of Mr. Monroe Parrish.

DEVELOPMENTS OF INDUSTRY IN ALA. FOR WEEK

To obtain results that are worth while in a community, to do work that is followed by a constantly increasing return of prosperity and growth to a community, to do work that makes it possible for other people to live more contentedly and easier in your home community, is a much more difficult accomplishment than making money, but your object is more worth while.

Pity the Poor Letter "E"; Always Wrong

Someone has decided that the letter "e" is the most unfortunate letter in the English alphabet because it is always out of cash, forever in debt, never out of danger, and in hell all the time. No little credit is due, however, in that it is never in war and always in peace. And we are deeply indebted to this little letter since it is the beginning of existence, the commencement of ease and the end of trouble. Without it there would be no meat, no life and no heaven. It is the center of honesty, and although it starts off in error, it ends by making love perfect.—Powergrams.

EDWARDS HEIRS SUE CHURCH FOR N. Y. PROPERTY

New York, Jan. 26.—Suit to compel Trinity Church to turn over the bulk of its property in lower Manhattan to the heirs of Robert Edwards was begun in federal court Monday by the filing of a bill in equity by Arthur J. Edwards of Guilford county, N. C., and Wesley J. Edwards of Los Angeles, Calif.

Real estate involved in the suit included the church property, an old cemetery at Wall Street and Broadway and the land extending from this plot westward to the Hudson river. Counsel for the heirs estimated the property to be worth considerably more than $10,000,000.

The bill asks that a receiver be appointed and that the church be compelled to render an accounting of all rents and profits derived from the land since May 1, 1866.

The complaint recites that prior to 1767 and up to the time of his death, the property was owned by Robert Edwards, who died intestate. It alleges that the plaintiffs are "direct collateral descendants and rightful heirs" to Edwards' Estate.

AGED MAN FOUND AFTER STAYING IN WOODS 18 HOURS

Early last Friday morning Mr. Travis Headley, age about 70, was found dead in the woods about a mile west of Liberty Hill church. The story goes that Mr. Headley and his step-son were hauling wood from the swamp last Thursday about noon. The boy left for the house with a load and Mr. Headley took his dog and gun and was going to hunt until the boy returned with the wagon. When the boy returned to the woods Mr. Headley was not there. Not much anxiety was entertained until about night when the old gentleman was still missing. Neighbors were notified and a search was instituted. Parties searched the woods all night, and the body was not found until about 7 o'clock Friday morning. The lifeless form was found sitting beside a tree with head raised as if looking up in a tree. After being examined by a physician the report was issued that Mr. Headley met his death from a form of heart trouble.

The remains were buried at Liberty Hill church Saturday morning, Rev. A. L. Foshee officiating.

For some years Mr. Headley has been living in West End, Clanton, but he owned quite a tract of land in the Liberty Hill community.

UP TO HIS EYEBROWS IN MILK

SO thirsty was this young calf that when the pail of milk came around—it just made one dive, shoved its head in up to the eyebrows and proceeded to clean up. Its little, curly-locked master—shown at the left—however, got worried lest his pet might lose its breath in the attempt. And, as you see him, he's trying hard to get friend calf's attention so as to make it "come up for air." A hopeless job, we're thinking.

OATS FOR FEED IS URGED BY EXPERT

Dean Funchess of Auburn tells what to do to get best yields.

Although the average yield of spring oats on the Experiment Station at Auburn over a period of twenty-three years is almost exactly half that of fall oats for the same period, officials of the Agricultural College are strongly urging Alabama farmers to plant oats this spring.

They are doing so because the 1924 total feed crop in Alabama was 24 per cent of the actual farm needs; because prices of feeds are constantly climbing, with all indications that they will be higher during the spring and summer; because it is "safe farming" to produce feed at home; and because oats is decidedly the best crop under present conditions.

While discussing the situation, Prof. M. J. Funchess, Director of the Experiment Station, said: "By all means plant oats. It should be done by the 15th of February.

"Preferably, plant either the Burt or Fulghum variety, but if these cannot be obtained plant red rustproof as a third choice. At least two bushels should be planted to the acre.

"It is not necessary to turn land to sow oats. Disking is sufficient. It can be done more rapidly, and when there is more moisture in the land.

"About the time oats are up to a good stand apply at least 100 pounds of nitrate of soda broadcast per acre. This may not be needed on some of the low rich soil of the state but on all other land it will pay well. No other fertilizer is recommended."

LETTER FROM COMMISSIONER J. WILEY LITTLEJOHN

Editor Union-Banner:

In leaving the office of County Commissioner from the Fourth District of Chilton County, I desire to take this method of expressing my appreciation to my friends throughout the County. During my term of office, I have endeavored to do what I conscientiously thought was best for all of the people of the county. I have, no doubt, made some mistakes, but they were not intentional.

My association with the members of the Court and the Probate Judge were at all times most pleasant. I always found each of them ready and willing to co-operate with each other for the good of the County. They are all worthy and conscientious men striving for the best interests of all and I bespeak for them helpful co-operation from the people. I am surrendering this office to one of the County's best men. Mr. Vinson is not an untried man, but having served as Commissoiner one term before, he is familiar with the duties of the office, and I consider him one of the best qualified men in the County for this work. I wish for him and his associates a most successful administration.

Now let us all work together for the good of the County and the success of the Republican party. Let every Republican in the County who is subject to poll tax see that it is paid on or before January 1st. It is much better to pay this tax each year and it will be less of a burden than to permit it to accumulate for two or more years. The continued success of the Republican party in Chilton County depends upon Republicans keeping themselves qualified to vote.

With best wishes, I am,
J. WILEY LITTLEJOHN.

Rev. B. Lawrence of Marbury was in clanton a while Monday, shaking hands with friends.

Mr. W. W. Parnell of Stanton was in Clanton Monday attending to some business matters.

Hobson's Choice In The West.—An Easterner, on a business trip in the West, stopped at country hotel. He entered the dining room and was shown to a table by a rather eccentric looking waiter.

"Will you have pork and beans, sir?" asked the waiter, as he brought the customary glass of water.

"No, I don't care for them," answered the guest. "I never eat pork and beans."

"Dinner is over, then, sir," replied the waiter as he moved away.—Kansas City Star.

Mrs. Charles Chaplin

ALL Hollywood is finally settling down and giving its chin a rest after the hectic surprise Charles Chaplin, the famous film comedian, gave it by racing across the border in Mexico and there marrying his leading lady, Lita Grey. You see the pretty bride pictured above.

And Charlie, too, is glad it is all over. He had one warm time dodging reporters and photographers for a week after his return to the film city. Every effort was made to get him to pose with his bride and discuss their sudden marriage, but Charlie absolutely refused to talk about the subject.

Miss Grey, or Mrs. Chaplin rather, is only 17 years old and a very stunning beauty. Since her advent in the movies, she has been stendily gaining prestige.

Should Wear Glasses.—He was a hard-looking ruffian, but his counsel, in a voice husky with emotion, addressed the jury.

"Gentlemen," said he, "my client was driven by want of food to take the small sum of money. All he wanted was sufficient money to buy food for his little ones. Evidence of this lies in the fact that he didn't take a pocketbook containing $250 that was lying in the room."

The counsel paused for a moment and noticing the silence interrupted by a sob of the prisoner.

"Why do you weep?" asked the judge.

"Because," replied the prisoner, "I didn't see the pocketbook."

"In Morgan County the farmers who fertilized cotton as recommended by the Experiment Station at Auburn received a profit of $29.90 an acre as compared with the old way of fertilizing."—J. C. Ford, County Agent, Hartselle.

It seems that the apparent animosity of the citizens of Florence, Sheffield and Tuscumbia against the Alabama Power Company has about vanished, almost as if by magic. The Power Company recently went into the tri-cities with their power, and the citizens of that thriving section have learned that this great company is not detrimental to them but decidedly their friend. The Alabama Power Company believes in co-operation and advancement and if given the privilege will show that they have no grudge against any community or any people.

"There is no way by which we can substitute the authority of law for the virture of man. Peace, justice, humanity, charity—These cannot be legislated into being. They are the result of a Divine Grace. I have never seen the necessity of reliance upon religion rather than upon law better expressed than in the great truth uttered by Tiffany Blake of Chicago when he said, 'Christ spent no time in the antechamber of Caesar'."—Calvin Coolidge.

Although he is sitting at the head of the greatest government in the world which is composed of laws upon laws, yet President Coolidge as quoted above, realizes and says that law is subordinate to the religions of a country. This is as great a truth as we have ever heard a man utter. Some believe in law by force, regardless of religious sentiments or anything else, but this is a false idea and will never work out to any advantage. Religion is the one rock pillow on which laws and governments should be founded, and unless they are built on this rock they will not withstand the storms that are sure to come some time. Without religious convictions in a country, no law no matter how rigidly executed, would be of much avail. Let us first have religion among our people and then we have something on which to build our laws—a foundation which will stand the great vibrations and jars which will inevitably be produced by the motion of the greatest legal machinery in the entire world—the United States government.

RESENTMENT OVER SHORT SCHOOL TERMS

In several counties of Alabama, there is public resentment over the reduced school terms; and boards of education are being placed upon the defensive, as shown by explanatory articles which they have published in the rural weeklies. It is hard to get the people to understand that school revenue is not keeping pace growth of school population. The total of expenditures for education in the state, as published occasionally in newspapers or used in speeches, is partly responsible for the discontent; for the discontent; for the figures, while correct as total, are misleading to anyone who does not understand what they represent. Thirteen or fourteen million dollars per year for education suggest that all parts of the state should have fifteen to twenty dollars per child for schooling. The facts are that the state per capita appropriation is $4.36, and that in many counties where property values are low the total amount avialable for each child is less than eight dollars.

The total General School Fund apportioned per capita this year is $3,500,805.32. In the weaker counties this is the main support of the common schools. The per capita amount, $4.36, is less by thirteen cents than in 1921-22, is less by twenty-three cents than in 1922-23, and is greater by three cents than during last school year, 1923-24. It is hard to get the people to realize that three-fourths of the state total of school money is the property of certain school units; that is made up of poll taxes, county taxes, local district taxes, voluntary contributions and supplements, box supper and entertainment proceeds, state aid building funds, etc. A very large part of the total school money belongs to the large cities and the richer counties; and, though it shows up in the state total, it is no part of the state fhnds and cannot be used to improve general conditions.

Only a few counties of the state have ever been able to afford a standard school for all white children; and those counties which are not forced to cut terms or school service somewhat this year will probably be in the minority.

PUT THAT THING TO WORK!

YOUR POLL TAX RECORDS

There has been quite a commotion caused among a number of the citizens of Chilton County over the question of their poll tax records due to the fact that a certain Democrat has mailed out a number of notices to people notifying them that there was something wrong with their poll tax records. Although lots of these notices were mailed out to people who have been beyond the age limit of paying poll tax for 25 or 30 years, and most all the rest to those who were qualified voters, there is no occasion for alarm. The person mailing out these notices just did not have anything else to do so he busied himself with looking after his fellowmen's business and voluntarily protecting their "birthrights."

If your name appeared on the voting list published in The Union-Banner on April 10th, 1924 and you have paid your poll tax for 1924, your poll tax record is complete, no matter what kind of letter you get. Those who are over 45 years of age and kept your records straight until you were that age are qualified voters and are due no poll tax.

Remember that next Saturday, January 31st, is the last day in which you can pay your poll tax if you are due a poll tax. February 1st is usually the last day, but that being Sunday this time renders it void for paying poll tax.

MINT TURNS OUT COIN TO HONOR THE CONFEDERACY

Last Wednesday the Philadelphia mint began the coining of the Stone Mountain half dollars, commemorating the valor of the soldiers of the Confederacy and the carving of the colossal memorial on the Georgia mountain.

The new coins, made from designs submitted by Gutzon Borglum, are the size of the standard half dollar and will be turned over to the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial association at Atlanta in exchange for their par value in current coinage. The act of Congress authorizing the issuance of the coins provides for a maximum coinage of five million pieces.

A committee from the south was present when the first of the half dollars was struck off. They were: Mr. Borglum and Holling N. Randolph, president, E. Rivers, business manager, and Joseph H. McCord, treasurer, of the memorial association, and Rowland B. Hahany, of Washington, D. C.

The obverse side of the new half dollars bears the familiar "In God We Trust" across the top in an arc. Beneath this are thirteen stars in two groups of four each and one of five. The feature of the obverse side embraces the figures of Generals Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson, both mounted. Lee is gazing into the distance in a direction toward which Jackson is pointing. To the lower left of the mounted figures are the words "Stone Mountain," with the year of coinage. The reverse side, topped with the words "United States of America," and "E Pluribus Unum." In the right center the figure of an eagle sitting on the summit of a mountain. To the left appears the words "Memorial to the Valor of the Soldier of the South." At the bottom is lettered "Liberty" with "Half Dollar" beneath. Incised on the obverse side are the initials of the sculptor, "G. B."

The horse is not a native of America. The Spaniards brought the first horses to this country about 1520.

PARTY RESPONSIBILITY

The issue of economy in public affairs brought President Coolidge more votes from all parties than all the other issues combined.

Coolidge has courageously vetoed supposedly popular appropriation bills amounting to billions of dollars which were demanded at the hands of powerful organizations, largely within his own party. But in spite of this, his honest and sincere demand for economy won him the immense popular vote.

Will the administration in power for the next four years heed this warning from the people who voted for Coolidge, as well as about 5,000 voters who cast their ballots for the Third Party, doubting both the old parties?

The need for economy and tax reduction in state and national affairs is uppermost in the minds of the people and unless the two old parties recognize this vital issue, they will have serious trouble in 1928.

Consider a few facts: According to Senator Borah, in Scribner's Magazine for January, in 1923 the state and federal tax bill was $2,104,000,000 and eight years later this bill was $7,061,000,000. In 1913, 6.4 per cent of the national income went for taxes, and in 1922 we were taxing 12.1 per cent. In 1894, taxes were $12.50 per capita and in 1923, they were $68 per capita.

In the past ten years, state taxes increased from 100 to 350 per cent; and the farmer's tax bill, compared to his income, amounted to 16.6 per cent of his entire income. On top of this, the farmer and livestock man saw railroad taxes increase from $272 per mile in 1902 to $1,241 per mile in 1922.

WAIT, WAIT, WAIT!

One class of schools must forever wait their turn—the little district schools that sit beside our rural roadways, "a ragged beggar sunning".

He who advocates their immediate improvement at all costs is a fanatic and soon learns that his cause must wait.

Wait—while great armies and navies are built up.

Wait—until a system of splendid highways can be constructed.

Wait—until ports and rivers are made ready for commerce.

Wait—until magnificient quarters for state prisoners can be provided.

Wait—until all the courts and legal machinery can be adjusted.

Wait—until colleges and universities are properly equipped.

Wait—While the highly-trained type of citizenship influence legislation to their own gain.

Wait—for that unseen day when the state shall be "on easy street".

Oh, yes, they will wait; and, in the meantime, unrealizable wealth is going to waste. Around these little buildings live the hundreds of thousands who grow up straight from the ground and who, through this contact with things natural, learn something that makes them often leaders of men and affairs. But what a waste of possibility. It is the merest chance that gives a county boy an insight into his powers and opportunities. Only the one in a thousand sees the vision, for the state is too busy with other things to set up machinery for his benefit.

Wait—and perhaps some day a Daniel will come to judgement and will tell everything else in the manifold system to get outside and mark time until this job is attended to.

OUR DEBT TO FORMER PRESIDENT HARDING

President Coolidge at Chicago pointed out the fact that the United States has recovered from the war, and is prosperous.

This announcement, made by one who has just received the greatest popular acclaim in the history of mankind, carries weight. Yet it arouses little excitement, and not very much discussion. The fact of prosperity seems too obvious to bear extended comment.

What an astonishing change since 1920, when Senator Harding was advocating "normalcy!" It was a strange word, but an American idea. How he was scoffed at then! The word, some said, was obsolete, and just ready to step out of the dictionary. The idea, declared others, meant stagnation, and that in adopting normalcy, America would become a sort of glorified dinosaur.

But Harding was a journalist, accustomed to doing his duty in spite of abuse. And today, largely by his brave and ceaseless efforts, we are restored to normal American life, the life of hope and progress, which makes America great and ennobles the whole human family.

Harding believed in economy, protection and peace, and wrought mighty deeds of valor for them all. Coolidge, with somewhat greater wisdom, and with the same American idealism, is following in his steps, as Roosevelt followed McKinley.

Are we grateful to Harding? Oh, yes, in a sort of a way. People say he meant well, but made bad appointments. So he did, a few. But he appointed Hughes to be Secretary of State, and Hoover and Mellon and other men of the highest type were in his cabinet, which was the ablest in twenty years.

And the President does more than make appointments. Harding was the moral and political leader of the nation. He led us into the normal paths where we walk now. But he did yet more. He called the world into conference, and set up a new high standard of international dealing. We owe him much, far more than we could pay, were he alive.

In truth, no one holds lightly the memory of President Harding. As a people, we seldom abuse those to whom we owe gratitude. But how seldom we honor them as fully as they have benefited us! How often we apologize for their supposed faults, and forget their virtues!

Are you one of the millions, at work today, who were unemployed three years ago? Are you a friend of peace? Do you love America? Then, when President Harding's name is mentioned again in your presence, speak well of him!

He gave us much. He gave us all he had.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

The prevalence of smallpox in various sections of Chilton County has resulted in a recent development of several cases in Thorsby. Apparently these cases have developed in the public school, as practically all known cases at the present time are among public school children, who have not been vaccinated. It is understood that arrangements have been made for vaccination, so far as parents will permit, much of it having been done already, but the work should be complete to make it safe for children to attend schol,o or at least those who are not vaccinated should not be permitted to attend school so long as there are cases in the community. We note that houses where smallpox exists have been quarantined and a yellow flag displayed to warn people away. Smallpox in Alabama is seldom so virulent as in a colder climate; when properly treated and the patient guarded from taking cold it is seldom fatal in this section, but only a vigorous application of health laws will prevent rapid spread of the disease and probably some deaths.

Thorsby Town Council has made arrangements to hold a special election March 2, to determine the mind of the legal voters of the town regarding a five-mill special tax to secure payment of interest and principal of the $10,000 public school bonds authorized almost unanimously in the recent election. If the people are willing to have the bonds issued, it is reasonable to suppose they will be willing to provide means to make them a safe investment for those inclined to purchase. However it will not be well to be too sure of this if there is apathy among the voters. It is just as necessary to receive a favorable vote in the coming election as in the one recently held. Don't you think for a minute that it will be alright anyway, even if you don't vote. If you care to have that school building made available for use, nothing will better state your wish than a vote in favor of the special five-mill tax.

We want to call attention to a very dangerous washout, close to the beaten track for automobiles, in the graded roadbed for our new highway a little north of Thorsby depot. It should be filled at once or the road barricaded and a detour sign put up.

Miss Helen C. Jenkins had a surprise visit from her father and mother last week-end. Dr. Jenkins who is President of the Board of Trustees of Thorsby Institute, came to see the new dress recently given to Thorsby Institute dining hall, with a view to having some of the buildings at Piedmont College, in Demorest, Ga., given the same kind of exterior finish. Dr. Jenkins is President of that college and expressed himself as much pleased with the improvement of our building; he also believes this particular finish would be admirably adapted for use on some of their buildings.

Rev. Neil McQuarrie, Superintendent of Congregational Missions in Alabama and west Florida, made a visit to Thorsby last Friday.

Thorsby Institute received from friends in Butler County, last week, a rather unique present in the form of a very nice young pig. The donor did not say that the animal was sent here to be educated, however it goes without saying that the gift was acceptable and the new recruit will receive the best of care.

Gresham Lowery, who is a student at Howard College, spent the week-end with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Lowery.

Frank A. Hart & Son, who had the contract for exterior finish of Thorsby Institute dining hall, left Thursday of last wetk. They had expected to go immediately to their home in Ohio, but received a call by wire to come at once to Chattanooga, Tenn., where they had been figuring on work of a similar character.

John Johnson has bought a home in Fairfield, Ala., and will move his family there in the near future. It is expected he will either sell or rent his Thorsby property.

What might have been a very serious accident occurred Saturday morning when Robert Ward turned his car over on himself and a boy companion in front of Thorsby Institute dining hall. Anyone who knows how this boy handles a car will only wonder how he has so long escaped serious damage to himself and others.

A. D. Henning and W. L. Rogers made abusiness trip to Montgomery last week.

Sam Pate and wife are rejoicing over the new son who has come to live with them, born Monday, Jan. 26.

Mr. A. C. Watts and bride will spend the week end with Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Wood in Thorsby. Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Watts are sisters, and both were trained nurses before marraige.

The Parent-Teachers Association of Thorsby, have adopted the fifth Thursday in the month, all other Thursdays being pre-empted by one or other of ladies' societies, for social meetings. This week has the fifth Thursday in January, and the P. T. A. will have their social at the home of Mrs. Joseph E. Each.

Next Sunday night at the Congregational church there will be held the regular monthly praise service. Come, enjoy and help in the singing.

Sereno G. Norton of Kenvil, N. J., writes, "The eclipse was so near total here that we could see everything described for the total, the Corona, the shadow bands on the snow, and the stars shining. It was a wonderful sight.

Thorsby Institute registered two new students for the second semester, Orville and Harold Woods, brothers of Miss Boona Woods.

Mrs. Ethel W. Loveland was called away suddenly on Monday of this week, on account of illness in her home. However, Mrs. Loveland's classes will go on as usual, as Miss Catherine C. Perry arrived on Friday of last week and will take Mrs. Loveland's classes for her. Miss Perry wrote the Alma Mater song for Thorsby Institute and the students were delighted this week to have the opportunity of singing the song to her at chapel.

The Helen Keller Literary Society will hold its election of officers on Friday of this week.

Through the kindness of the Ladies' Guild, a new blackboard and new stove have been purchased, and Room C has been redecorated. Thorsby Institute is very grateful to the ladies for their kindness and for their interest in the school.

Mrs. N. C. Petersen and children, Marie and Norman, left on Monday for West Point, Ga., for a visit with Mrs. Petersen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Shannon.

HERE'S an unusually good photograph of the widow of the late Col. Roosevelt. Ever since her illustrious husband died, Mrs. Roosevelt made it a rule never to pose for a camera man, but this was one occasion when she consented to set the rule aside.

That happy smile reflects her elation over her appointment as honorary vice-president of the National Council of Girl Scouts, the membership of which numbers some 50,000 girls throughout the United States.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover, president of the Scouts, and Marie Van Velsor, a member of an Oyster Bay troop, welcomed Mrs. Roosevelt into the organization. They also presented her with a pin, the insignia of her new office. After the ceremony, she gladly posed for this picture.

PROBATE JUDGE WRITES REGARDING POLL TAX

Clanton, Ala., Jan. 28, 1925.

Editor Union-Banner:

The following is a copy of a letter that Mrs. A. J. Jones received, which shows that she is a qualified voter. The letter says she registered in 1920 as 54 years old. All women that were 45 years old or over on October 1st, 1920 are not due a poll tax.

Copy of Letter.

"Clanton, Ala., Jan. 20, 1925.

Dear Friend:

In December, 1923, the Records in the Probate Judge's office here showed your poll tax recard as follows:—No Record.

On checking in February, 1924, it was as follows:—Registered in 1920 at 54 years of age.

Remember that you have only until Saturday week or January 31st to attend to this very important matter. If you are a DEMOCRAT the probability is that you have paid your other taxes, but your poll tax was not included and your attention was not called to this fact. Look into this matter at once and see that you are not thus deprived of your citizenship and BIRTHRIGHT.

Call at the office of the Chilton County News and you will be furnished with all the facts that we have in regard to your standing in the records, and given any further information we have at our command.

Let me urge you to come in person and attend to this important matter at once, I remain,

Yours for Clean Government,
J. L. JOHNSON.

The probate office has been crowded for the last few days with people to look after their poll tax and registration. Most of them have been old people who were not due a poll tax.

I would suggest to you voters that if you have one of the above notices and are over 45 years old, and were on the list of qualified voters last year, you are still a qualified voter. If you are under 45 years old and were on the qualified list last year, you are only due a poll tax for 1924.

If any voter will write me, I will be glad to reply, giving you what the record shows. Either one of my clerks or myself will be glad to assist you in looking up the records. I am not giving you this information to keep you from bothering us, but I thought I might save you the trouble of leaving your work to come to see about this matter when you were already on the qualified list as several hundred have done and most of them too old to pay poll tax. We have not found a single person with the above notice that was not on the sualified list.

Remember the list of voters which was made last year is still the list of qualified voters until a new one is made this year. I wish I had a correct list of all qualified voters in the County, but it can never be correct, until every voter uses the same name in registering, paying poll tax, and voting.

All voters who have moved from any other county to this county are required to get a certificate from the Probate Judge where they moved from and file in this office so they can get the proper exemption here.

The circular letters being sent out have a good deal to say about poll tax receipts being left out of their tax receipts. This has been the law since 1901 and no tax receipts have contained poll tax receipts since this date.

Remember you must pay your poll tax by the 31st of this month, or you will not be able to vote this year.

Yours truly,
L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate.

DR. MARCUS APPOINTED COUNTY HEALTH OFFICER

Clanton, Jan. 28, 1925.

The Commissioners Court on last Saturday employed Dr. T. J. Marcus as County Health Officer to especially look after small pox in this county. It has been reported that several places in the county the people have small pox, which will spread if not stopped. I suggest that everybody co-operate with Dr. Marcus and help him locate every case of small pox in the county. It is hoped that every person who has been exposed will either go to their physician or get Dr. Marcus at once and be vaccinated. Vaccination is the only way to stop the disease. If the people will co-operate with Dr. Marcus and the other physicians in the county, the disease can soon be placed under control.

It has been reported that some who have small pox are trying to conceal it. This is a mistake. If you have it, let Dr. Marcus know, or notify your physician at once, so all who have been exposed may be vaccinated.

If the disease is not stopped the first thing we know we will have small pox in the worst form. I again appeal to the people of the county to do all they can to help in this matter, and be sure to go at once and be vaccinated if you have been exposed.

Yours very truly,
L. H. RYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate.

Stop Night Coughing This Simple Way

People who have persistent, annoying coughing spells at night, and who through loss of valuable sleep are weakening their systems and laying themselves open to dangerous infections, can stop their distressing trouble promptly by a very simple treatment. Hundreds who have hardly been able to rest at all for coughing, have gotten their full night's sleep the very first time they tried it.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is that you usually sleep as soundly as a babe the very first night, and the entire cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription is highly recommended for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's coughs and spasmodic croup—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. It is on sale at all good druggists. Ask for

A Few Farm Facts As Told By Auburn

It is time to place orders for fertilizers for spring needs. It is better to have it before needed than it is to stop a plow or two and get it when it is needed.

At market prices there was a difference as great as $50 in the highest and lowest yielding varieties of cotton in tests on the Experiment Station at Auburn. This illustrates the importance of getting seed of the right variety.

Those 79 boys in Coosa-Tallapoosa Counties who made 79 bales of cotton on 79 acres last year have added new life to cotton raising in that section. Sam Day, County Agent, was leader in the work.

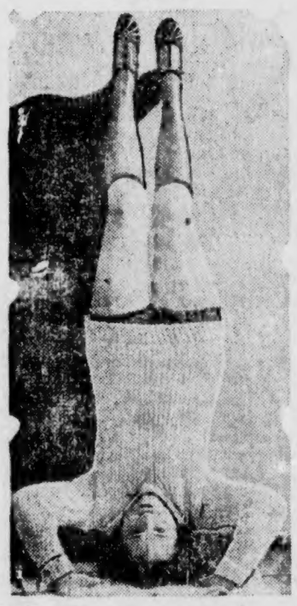
Not Very Soft On The Head



IT'S surprising what a little exercise each day—even a stunt like that pictured above—will do for one's health. It's done wonders for Miss Gladys Roy, the Los Angeles aviatrix who not so long ago was severely injured in a fall from a horse.

Miss Roy—yes, that's her posing upside down—was declared a cripple for life shortly after her injury. But her hopes were not to be troddled. She took up a rigid course of calisthenics and now—according to the information they send us—is "fit to fall off another horse, if necessary."

ACTIVITIES OF OFFICERS DURING PAST WEEK

On last Saturday, Deputy Marshall Smith of Montgomery came up to Clanton and carried Oscar Giles to Montgomery to answer an indictment of the Federal Grand Jury for violating the Federal Prohibition Law.

Leonard Easterling, son of Bill Easterling, went down to Montgomery Tuesday of this week to answer an indictment of the Federal Grand Jury for violating the Federal Prohibition Law. Easterling was accompanied by his father.

Sheriff Littlejohn and Deputy Foshee arrested Hub Rasberry near Shoults Saturday morning at his home. The officers found a gallon jug with some whiskey in it. Rasberry was brought to jail in Clanton.

A 50-gallon copper still complete and four 60-gallon barrels of beer were captured and destroyed by the Sheriff and his force of deputies early Saturday morning. The officers were hid out near the still watching it. A negro came to the still, fired it up and began operation. The officers were ready to flush when a spy on top of the hill saw them and gave the negro the signal. The negroes ran off and the officers were unable to stop him. No arrest was made then, but the officers went back out in that vicinity in the western part of the county Tuesday and arrested the negro, Lawson Peeples by name. Peeples was brought to Clanton and placed in jail. He has not made bond yet.

Sambo Harmon, negro, was arrested in Clanton Friday for stealing a shotgun from Mr. G. W. Marcus. The gun was taken, reports say, from Mr. Marcus' meat market in Clanton. The negro was placed in jail.

On Tuesday morning the officers raided the home of Charley Weldon near Pletcher, and found 3 gollons of whiskey hidden in Weldon's potato hill. Weldon was arrested and made bond.

W. R. DAWSON DEAD

William R. Dawson, one of Chilton County's noble citizens, passed away January 28th. Mr. Dawson lived a long and useful life, greatly respected by those who knew him. He was a Christian. His church history began at Pleasant Grove under the pastorate of Rev. A. E. Burns in 1886. He knew salvation, and was a man of great industry and kindness, successful in business. The passing of such a noble man is a loss to any community. He was a man of deep thought, with good will to all.

His body was laid to rest in Pleasant Grove Cemetery. "Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection," freed from the second death.

DR. GRAGG AND DR. CRUMPTON MUCH BETTER THIS WEEK

Reports from the Central Alabama hospital say that Dr. V. J. Gragg, who was operated on last week, was released from the hospital early this week and is up and going again. Although the doctor has not completely regained his health, he is able to be up and attending to his medical duties.

Dr. J. P. Crumpton, who has been taking medical treatment for the past several weeks is now getting along fine, the nurses say. Indications are that within a few days Dr. Crumpton will be released from the hospital.

THE HYPOCRITE'S TESTIMONY

I am not a soldier of the cross,
Or a follower of the lamb;
I try to hide my crimes from men,
So they won't know what I am.

Let me be carried to the skies,
On flowery beds of ease;
Let others fight to win the prize,
While I do as I please.

If there are no foes to face,
I sure will stem the flood;
I love to walk the easy way,
While others wade the mud.

Oh, let them fight, and let me reign,
I have no courage Lord;
If they bear the toil and endure pain,
Thy Word I will try to dodge.

Thy saints in all this glorious war,
Shall conquer though they die;
They see the triumph from afar,
While I their works deny.

When the illustrious day shall rise,
And all thine army shine;
Eternal misery, pain and woe,
Forever shall be mine.

Mr. Peabody, State Examiner, was in Clanton Tuesday doing some checking work at the court house. His main busniess, it is said, was to check up the records of the Tax Assessor.

HOME-MIXING OF FERTILIZER PAYS

County Agents of Alabama Report Net Profits of $20.00 to $35.00.

Alabama farmers, numbering about ten thousand, who bought fertilizer co-operatively last spring and mixed the ingredients at home as recommended by the Agricultural Experiment Station at Auburn, through the county agents, were amply rewarded for their effort. In every section and in every county having a county agent, farmers demonstrated that it pays well to mix fertilizer at home, and that is the only way to get maximum returns from it.

J. C. Ford, county agent, reports that in Morgan county a gross profit of $29.90 an acre was obtained in favor of home mixing as compared with normal fertilizing. Fred Stewart, of Limestone county, reports that farmers using the "Auburn method" of fertilizing produced at least 50 per cent more cotton than they produced three years ago.

Seventeen farmers in Conecuh county showed an average gain of 384 pounds of seed cotton or a money value of $32.50 per acre in favor of home mixing, as reported by P. R. Pettis.

In Covington county, according to J. P. Wilson, county agent, the average return from cotton was $30 to $35 an acre while the demonstrators showed a profit of $52 an acre, or $56,160 on 1080 acres, while the county average on the same acreage was only $37,800 with all expenses to be paid.

In Monroe county C. J. Brockway reported that the average yield of lint cotton of those home-mixing fertilizer was 250 pounds per acre, or approximately double the average for the entire county. "Five or six Russell county farmers who conducted demonstrations in home-mixing made a bale of cotton per acre, and the sixth made 900 pounds of seed cotton," said W. R. Turnipseed.

F. M. White, of Clay county, reported that one farmer made nine bales on seven acres; and Eric Alsobrook, of Marshall, says that 100 farmers using the "Auburn method" averaged 310 pounds of lint cotton per acre, while 100 farmers using the old system averaged only 140 pounds, or less than one-half.

The term "Auburn method" which is widely used by farmers is the cotton fertilizer recommendations of the Alabama Experiment Station. It is based on twelve years of experimental work.

The B. Y. P. U. class of Billingsley gave a play Saturday night, which was enjoyed by a large crowd.

Mr. Richard Hicks of Billingsley is improving some from a burn which he received when gas exploded while working in his grist mill.

The farmers of this community are beginning to start another crop, although the weather has been unfavorable for that kind of work. We hope the sun will shine again soon.

Mr. Hudson Williams spent Saturday night with his cousin, Horace Williams.

Mr. Richard Hicks and family of Billingsley spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Williams.

Mr. C. D. Foshee has put him in a radio, and it is drawing the attention of the people of the community.

REPORT OF COTTON GINNED

The Department of Commerce, thru the Bureau of the Census, announces the preliminary report on cotton ginned by counties, in Alabama, for the crops of 1924 and 1923. The total for the State was made public, Friday, Jan. 23. This total was, in 1924, 978, 886 bales; in 1923, 595,932 bales. The totals for Chilton County were, in 1924, 14,457 bales; in 1923, 8,072 bales.

STORE PROVIDES A FREE VISION TEST

E. G. Caldwell, Pletcher, Ala., has just introduced an interesting innovation. It is a system by which people can test the accuracy of their vision free of charge. Each person does his or her own testing.

A scientific eye-test chart is used for the purpose. Printed directions on it tell the reader exactly what to do. The test will determine whether or not the eyes are functioning properly. If the eyes need help, it indicates what size lenses are required to give accurate and comfortable vision. It takes only a few minutes to make the test.

Most people fail to secure glasses until they are driven to it by suffering from eye-strain and headaches. Thus is for various reasons. Some have no idea that their vision has weakened. Others are deterred from having examination made by the matter of expense; and still others purely from neglect. Therefore, the free test, so easily made at the store, will be helpful in many ways. The store is to be congratulated for enterprise in taking this step of additional service to patrons.

The system was originated and is copyrighted by the Dayton Optical Company, which furnishes high quality, low priced C-E-Z Spectacles to E. G. Caldwell, Pletcher, Ala. 1t-pd

The Union-Banner is $1.50 a year.

PROF. CAUTHEN WRITES ABOUT SPRING OATS

A shortage of feed is confronting many farmers of Chilton County. Probably the best way to meet this shortage is to plant a few acres of spring oats. This crop can be grown cheaply, fits well into our system of farming and is a reasonably sure crop.

The best time to plant spring oats is in February, just as soon as you can sow them. If the planting is delayed until March, the crop is late and does not yield well.

Choose good and, don't plant on poor soil. Land that has a tenlency to be moist is best for oats. Sow 2 1-2 to 3 bushels per acre.

Varieties suited to spring planting are Burt, Fulghum and Texas Rust Proof, which includes Appler, Boncroft, Cook, 100 Bushels, etc. The first two are preferable as they are earliest.

Leave the surface smooth so that the grain can be cut with a mower and raked, or with a cradle. The surface may be smoothed with a drag harrow or a disc or a gee-whiz.

As soon as the oats come up, showing one or two blades, top them with 75 or 100 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre. Pulverize the soda well and scatter it evenly over the oats so that each plant will get its share of the plant food.

The oats may be cut when they are in the dough stage. They make excellent feed for work stock as they take the place of corn and fodder.

HOUSE WARMING GIVEN MR. AND MRS. GENTRY

On last Saturday evening, Jan. 31, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Gentry of New Salem, were pleasantly surprised by some of the Mason and Eastern Star friends of the Thorsby lodge. Mr. Chas. A. Peterson presented Mr. and Mrs. Gentry each, a pair of bedroom slippers, after which an elaborate lunch was served. All reported a nice time and congratulated them upon their new home.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Eiland, Rev. B. F. Dykes, Mr. and Mrs. James Bosworth, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. B. Childress, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Diefenderfer, Miss Lucinda Thacker, Miss Francis Wilson, Miss Ethel Peterson, little Helen Anderson, grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Peterson, Louise Bates and Lamar Bates.

Selma is interested in steps taken to build a railroad between Meridian and Myrtlewood, which is just beyond Linden in Marengo County. Sam Neville, Meridian promoter, has applied to the interstate commerce commission for permission to build a 45-mile railroad from Myrtlewood to Meridian and it is probable that this road will connect with the Louisville & Nashville at Myrtlewood, which is the terminus of the Selma-Myrtlewood road and will give Selma a new link with Meridian.

Two negro men and a negro woman are to be hanged at Birmingham on the same day—Friday, March 6. Odell Jackson and Pearl Jackson, two of the three, were convicted of "axe murders." Allen Germany, the third of the trio, was convicted of killing his wife, Jimmie Germany, with a razor. The date of the execution was set by the supreme court at Montgomery, Wednesday, when decisions affirming findings of the lower courts in all three cases were handed down.

POOR ORIGINAL

FROM WEST CHILTON

February, the short month, the month of Valentines, Hearts and early gardens greets us.

Married recently, Mr. Ira Atchison and Miss Grave White of Randolph, Rev. Gentry officiating.

Small pox is plentiful over here, has been raging quite a while.

S. Jones Smith has moved to the Pratt Crumpton farm.

John S. and Isaac Waldrop Sr., were recently called to Bessemer to attend the burial of their aunt, Mrs. Atchison.

Mrs. Parrie Mahan, wife of the late Allen D. Mahan, was buried at Randolph Friday afternoon.

Mr. C. G. Glass, our popular merchant, and several others have recently been enjoying themselves in the old time sport of fox hunting.

Mrs. Lovie Martin and daughter, H. E. Barnhill and Cleveland Martin were recently called to Maben to visit Mrs. Martin's brother, Joe Jones, who was dangerously ill.

Henry Thacker has recently moved out from Randolph to the Alford Sorrell farm.

Marion Cofer and family visited D. G. Cofer Sunday near Free Springs.

That "Prince of good fellows," Mr. B. L. Cobb, has been carrying the mail for several days on Route 1 from Jemison, while the regular carrier was convalescing from vaccination.

We are not much in the "spot light" over here, but we have a lot of good people, descendents of such pioneer families as Crumpton, Smith, Hubbard, Glass, Nix, Martin, Ward, Armstrong, Gothard, Rasberry, Atchison, Waldrop, Smitherman, Franklin and others.

While a majority of our people follow the bent of their ancestors and till the soil, yet a number of them have become merchants, dentists, ministers, teachers, singers and public officials. From the families of Ward, Hubbard, Glass, Atchison and Waldrop have come public officials. From the Crumpton and Nix families have come dentists. From the Crumpton, Atchison, Waldrop, Gothard and Franklin families have come ministers, teachers, singers and merchants.

It is interesting to review the history of those pioneer people who lived in the "good old days." We are proud of them, grateful for them, and reverence their memory.

Our people vote their convictions, and are not much in sympathy with political "slackers" and radicalism.

Notwithstanding so much rain our roads have stood up reasonably well.

Mr. W. R. Dawson died last week; we regret his departure very much.

Read the Union-Banner and thereby add to the progress of your home county.

"WITH MALICE TOWARD NONE; WITH CHARITY FOR ALL"

THIS beautiful statute of Abraham Lincoln, which stands in the court house square at Newark, N. J., is acknowledged as one of the best likenesses ever made of the famous martyred president whose birthday we honor this month. It is the work of Gutzon Borglum, the same famous sculptor who is at present engaged in the enormous task of carving a great Confederate Memorial scene in the side of Stone Mountain near Atlanta, Ga.

The figure you see posing alongside of the above statue is George Billings, the screen star, who bears a natural physical likeness to the great Civil War president. Mr. Billings has made a keen study of Lincoln's life and is soon to appear in a film version of "The Dramatic Life of Abraham Lincoln."

SOUTH CALERA

Bro. Weston, pastor of the Shiloh church has moved his family to South Calera. We are glad to have them in the community.

Mrs. Sarah Crim returned home Saturday night from Birmingham where she has been in the infirmary for two weeks.

Miss Audie Broadhead came home from Siluria Saturday night to spend the week-end with her mother. She returned to Siluria Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Busby and little daughter, Clarice Marie, of Selma, are spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Bubby.

Mr. and Mrs. Badie Watts and children of Ensley spent the week-end with Mrs. Watts' parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Crim.

Mrs. H. F. Virgin and Mrs. Sarah Crim spent last Sunday in Birmingham.

Quite a number of people enjoyed a singing at Mr. M. T. Busby's Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Busby of Elmore spent several days last week visiting relatives in South Calera.

A number of young people from Minooka were the guests of friends in South Calera Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Marvin Busby from Birmingham came down Monday and went hunting.

WOMAN'S STATEMENT WILL HELP CLANTON PEOPLE

"I hated cooking because all I ate turned sour and formed gas. I drank hot water and olive oil by the gallon. Nothing helped until I took Adlerika." Unless due to deep-seated causes, Adlerika helps any case gas on the stomach in a surprisingly QUICK time. OLD LADY PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Martha Armstrong, wife of G. W. Armstrong, passed away Dec. 17th, age about 75 years. Her early life was spent near Oakley on the Southern Railroad. Her parents then moved to the Mulberry community, where she was married. She was a good lady—her kindness was unbounded. Her delight was in serving her friends. She was loved by all.

The remains were laid away in Macedonia cemetery, Rev. W. P. Lowery officiating.

Thus the aged ones are passing. Her good deeds will be remembered in the approaching beautiful day. She rests in hope and peace.

Grandmother's Cough Remedy—Pine Tar and Honey—Still Best

A well-known specialist said recently that although many wonderful medical discoveries have been made in recent years, nobody has found a better and quicker healing agent for coughs, chest colds, spasmodic croup, hoarseness, throat tickling and other throat and bronchial troubles than good old pine-tar and honey. Our grandmothers would never be without pine tar syrup in the house, and they raised large families. It still remains one of the few medicines that can be given to young and old alike, as it contains no harmful drugs.

The pine-tar quickly soothes and heals soreness and irritation, and by loosening the phlegm removes the actual cause of the coughing. The honey is not only pleasant to the taste but also very soothing to the throat.

The kind that has been used with never-failing success in thousands of families for years is that known as Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. This is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine tar, honey and other quick-acting, healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in quick relief. If you want the best, be sure to get Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. It costs only 30c at any good druggists.

Danger!

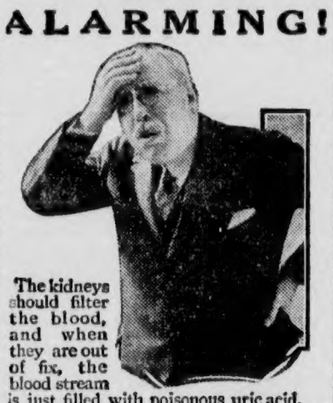
When your heart flutters, and palpitates, when you're short of breath and dizzy, when you have smothering spells and faint spells, look out for your heart!

DR. MILES'
Heart Treatment

has been used with marked success for all functional heart troubles since 1884.

Your druggist sells it at pre-war prices — $1.00 a bottle.

ALARMING!



The kidneys should filter the blood, and when they are out of fix, the blood stream is just filled with poisonous uric acid.

Carried to all parts of the body, this poison causes backaches, headaches, rheumatic pains, heaviness, drowsiness, dizziness, irritability or depression and distressing bladder troubles.

But that isn't the worst of it. In chronic neglected cases, the excess uric acid is apt to form into gravel or kidney stones, and to cause gout, sciatica, dropsy and even Bright's disease.

Let the first pain in the back be your warning. Get a bottle of Dr. Pierce's new An-uric tablets (anti-uric-acid). Your druggist can tell you about this new discovery for bad kidneys. Or, send 10c for a trial package to Dr. Pierce, Pres., Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Boils!

Ouch!

S. S. S. will rid you of boils, pimples, blackheads and skin eruptions!

DON'T CLOSE your eyes to the warning which Nature gives when angry, painful boils appear on your neck, face or other parts of your body. Boils, pimples and so-called skin disorders are the result of an impoverished condition of the blood and are not to be trifled with.

It is nothing more than folly to expect to get absolute relief from the use of local treatments, such as ointments, salves, etc. Such remedies may afford temporary relief but you want more than relief; you want a remedy which will rid you forever of the torturing disorder. And the one remedy which has no equal is S.S.S.

S.S.S. stops boils and keeps them from coming. S.S.S. builds blood-power! That is what makes fighting blood. Fighting blood destroys impurities. It fights boils! It fights skin eruptions—pimples, blackheads, eczema! It always wins! S.S.S. has been known since 1826 as one of the greatest blood builders, blood cleansers and system strengtheners ever produced. There are no unproven theories about S.S.S., the scientific results of each of its purely vegetable medicinal ingredients are admitted by authorities. Begin taking S.S.S. today and clear your skin of those blood disorders!

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Child-birth

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says:

"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA 46, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectantmother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

W. M. S. Meets.

The first quarterly meeting of the W. M. S. of the Unity Association convened at Billingsley on last Wednesday, Jan. 28. Attendance was very good, in spite of the bad weather. Representatives from ten counties made splendid reports, which showed that our women are wide awake to the cause of the work. A very interesting program was carried out. Bro. B. Lawrence was present, which added much to the success of the day. Those in attendance feel very grateful to the society of Billingsley for the generous hospitality shown during the day.

Civic Improvement Club Meets.

The Civic Club met at the home of Mrs. John VanDerveer on last Tuesday afternoon. The usual business was discussed and an outstanding committee was appointed to investigate the kind of trees to be planted on the State Highway when it is finished. A very interesting program was rendered on "National Resources of Alabama—Their Development" by T. A. Curry, and Mrs. Hugh Jones gave a very interesting talk on "Very Old Trees." Delicious sendwiches and tea were served to the guests late in the afternoon.

A former pastor of the Clanton Baptist church, Rev. John F. Gable, now of Hastings, Fla., writes of his wonderful work there. He says: "I am now entering on my 6th year in Florida and will soon be a full-fledged Floridian. The Lord is blessing my message here, and all things considered, my efforts as a pastor-evangelist are meeting with increased success The North is literally pouring into Florida and there is quite a boom on here. We preach to a procession in some respects, but there is a permanent foundation. Also I find that the larger proportion of our northern visitors appreciate fundamentalism to the fullest."

Mr. Joe Ben Downs and family returned to Clanton from Florida, Tuesday night. Mr. Downs and family left about a month ago to visit Mrs. Downs' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Foshee of Lakeland, Florida. They report a nice trip. Joe went to Miami from Lakeland, before returning to Clanton. He says the land of flowers looks good all over. He has a few samples of soil which he wants the people of Chilton County to see. Joe says "it is worth $10.00 per ton for fertilizer to our land." Some of the soil is from the Everglades, the richest soil in the world. Anyone wanting to know all about Florida may see Mr. Downs. He enjoys talking about it and will be glad to tell you all he knows.

HAD YOU THOUGHT ABOUT THAT ANNUAL RABBIT HUNT?

For the past several years Febuary 22 has been observed as the annual Rabbit Hunt Day in Chilton County. Will the event be duplicated this year? Well, we haven't heard anything from Maplesville in quite a while. Seems as if everything is dead, but things are progressing very nicely.

82 Years Old and As Good as a Youngster

"7 or 8 years ago, I was a very sick man. Doctors said catarrh trouble of stomach and bowels, affecting the liver and heart. For more than a year I wanted to die, but could not. Upon the advice of a friend I tried Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and although 82 years old I now feel as good as a youngster." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the infamation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sold by Alred Drug Company and all druggists everywhere.

SHOULD WELCOME REPUBLICAN PARTY IN THE SOUTH

A conference of Southern Republican business and professional men has been called to meet in Memphis on Feb. 12 to discuss various questions expected to have direct bearing on the rather feeble existence of the G. O. P. in the South, and, one presumes, so to resuscitate it as to make it an organization of some going power. If the dreams of those responsible for the forthcoming conference are realized it will be a sort of entering wedge calculated to put the historical "solid South" in the junkpile.

Precisely what is contemplated by the conference is not stated in the general call, some of the signators of which are prominent business men of Birmingham who have been inclined to be Republicans for economic rather than for political reasons. For while the names are conspicuously aligned with the business life of the district, they do not seem to be among those who have been Republican spoilsmen in the past, spoilsmen for revenue only, or for political favors.

Such an organization may be regretted by old-time democrats as a sort of desecration. But it matters not what effect the conference may have on the thought of the South, it should be remembered that competition is not simply the life of trade but, when fairly and openly conducted, means the cleansing of politics.

The organization of a strong political party—which of necessity must be a minority voice at the outset—would be of service to the South. That party being already here, one supposes that the plan of the Memphis conference is simply to make its appearance authentic, to organize in the various states and wherever the known voting strength of municipalities is sufficient, to put Republican tickets in the field against democrats.

As a matter of fact, politics in the South for too long has lacked that very element of competition which it needs most. It has been either frightfully drab and uninteresting or has bred, as in Alabama, a vindictive factionalism. It has not been a good thing for the South, nor could it be for any section of the United States, for a primary election to be tantamount to a regular election. Candidates should be put on their mettle. And when candidates for political nominations know that an elimination contest is to be held later, the groups making nominations will go to a bit more trouble to find the best material obtainable.

Whatever criticisms may be laid at the door or the American system of party government, and however little difference there may be today between the republican and democratic parties as compared with a quarter century ago, it should be a good thing for the democracy of the South to be challenged now and then.

The News feels certain that a compact Republican organization would raise the political standards, not thru the mere formal existence of the present administration at Washington, but through raising the level of statesmanship at the capital and through eliminating processes in state and local elections.—The Birmingham News.

AN HONEST CONFESSION

On last Saturday afternoon The Birmingham News came out with the most pointed, and, if we may say, the truest editorial on the question of politics in the South that we have ever read. We are reprinting this editorial in full, because it voices in thunder tones the very sentiments that The Union-Banner has been trying in its feeble way to express for the past several years. We have always advocated an opposing political party as the only antidote for the rotten politics of the Southern states, but heretofore we have received from our neighboring newspapers only harsh criticism and ridicule for such an "outrageous" advocacy. We are indeed proud now, however, to have on our side of the argument, The South's Greatest Newspaper—The Birmingham News. Read the entire editorial of The News in another column, and then read again this particular paragraph:

"Such an organization (a Republican party in the South) may be regretted by old-time Democrats as a sort of desecration. But it matters not what effect the conference may have on the South, it should be remembered that competition is not simply the life of trade, but when fairly and openly conducted, means the cleansing of politics."

Under the one-party system in the South, our government has sadly lost sight of the one precious jewel of good government—unselfishness and freedom from graft, spoils and corruption. These phases of government cannot be maintained without having two political parties. They cannot be long had with only a Republican party and they cannot be long had with only a Democratic party. The government in the solid South has been rotten so long that the people have ceased to expect anything else from their officials—hence the carelessness in selections of officers.

The one-party system of government practically eliminates the surveillance of the primary election law, thus making it possible for any kind of a man to get into public office. Where there are two parties, the leaders of each party know that the elimination contest will come on in the general election, so it is to their interest to put up the best men they have for their nominees. This is not the case where there is only one party.

Of course, in discussing this matter, we do not have reference to Chilton County, since this county has long since realized the futility and even danger of hanging on to one political party and have had two strong parties ever since the Populite days. And we have gotten fair results from our efforts in this respect too. The Democrats have gotten hold of our affairs a time or two and played havoc with things, but we only give them enough encouragement to keep them alive just for the sake of having an opposing party. Yes, competition is the life of trade and the life of clean politics too.

TAX REDUCTION POPULAR

The National Industrial Conference Board shows by a careful survey that there is nothing more unpopular than any proposition to increase federal, state and local taxes.

This statistical body shows that during 1921-23, inclusive, while state and local taxes increased nearly 15 per cent, federal taxes decreased more than 27 per cent.

While federal taxes were reduced $1,000,000,000 in three years, states and political subdivisions have been borrowing and spending heavily.

In 1919, these subdivisions borrowed $691,000,000; in 1923, $1,063,000,000; during 1924, over $1,300,000,000.

Correspondingly, state and municipal subdivision taxes have increased from $2,956,000,000 in 1919 to $4,449,000,000 in 1923, and probably will exceed five billion dollars in 1924.

But the tide has turned and many states and localities have reduced their levies and are proposing further reductions.

The cost of education doubled between 1918 and 1923, costing $1,530,000,000 for public schools alone in 1922.

High taxation in every form, except possibly public schools and public roads, is on the toboggan slide.

His Singing Voice.—The vicar's daughter was very enthusiastic and appreciative about the new curate, and when she called on an elderly woman of eighty for an afternoon tea, she soon turned the conversation in this direction.

"You know," she said, "he is capable in so many ways. But what I like about him most of all is that he is a true altruist."

"Well, I'm surprised to hear that," exclaimed the hostess, "for I heard him singing last Sunday, and I could declare he was a tenor."—Vancouver Province.

REFLECTIONS

AN IMPOSSIBLE SITUATION

The prohibition amendment and the Volstead Act have brought about a national crisis comparable with nothing since the days of the Fugitive Slave Law.

In one sense the crisis of 1925 is not so severe as that of the fifties, since we are not faced with war. In another sense it is more menacing, since the defiance of law in 1925, unlike that of seventy years ago, is not a matter of conscience. Those who drink for conscience' sake could be counted on one's fingers. Illicit drinking in America to-day exists because of a social custom and of what amounts in many cases to social pressure. It is linked up closely with our business life. If you doubt that ask some traveling salesman of your acquaintance to tell you of the temptations to which he is subjected. It colors our politics. It throws a shadow of cynicism and hypocrisy over our entire national existence. It is an impossible situation.

But this is only half the story. Bootlegging has become an industry which is profitable not only to the enemies of the prohibition law but to those who hate the law. It is a training school, on land and sea, for pirates, thugs, highwaymen and murderers. On our coasts and frontiers it has set up an actual reign of terror. There are highways along the Canadian border upon which no law-abiding citizen dare venture after dark, for fear of being run down or fired upon by liquor runners careering at dangerous speeds in unlighted cars. There are little towns where the local police officials dare not raise a voice against these desperate adventurers, though they are known and boast of their exploits. The same influences are a constant incitement to corruption in cities, states and even the national capital itself.

The bootleggers' conspiracy against prohibition cannot be tolerated without danger to the public peace and safety. The breaking point in public patience must come sooner or later.

The issue is not between wetness and dryness. It is between law and anarchy. In such a conflict the law must prevail.—Collier's Weekly.

ROCKFORD PUBLISHER BUYS CHILTON CO. NEWS

Last week a business transaction was effected in Clanton whereby Mr. A. Ayers of Rockford purchased of Mr. C. B. Cox all the interest of the Chilton County News, of Clanton. Mr. Ayers is now owner and publisher of the Rockford Chronicle, which paper he has been running for the past four or five years.

Although Mr. Ayers will be in Clanton part of the time and will be at the head of the Chilton County News, his son, Mr. J. W. Ayers, formerly of Weaver, Alabama, will live in Clanton and will run the newspaper and printing office. Mr. J. W. Ayers will move his family to Clanton in the near future.

The Union-Banner extends the hand of welcome to the Messrs. Ayers into the newspaper kingdom of Chilton County. We hope that our relations with the new managers of The News will be as cordial as have been those with Mr. Corley, the former editor, and that we may have a jolly time together in the newspaper business of Chilton County.

"Time prices" are on the wane in Alabama. Farmers find it cheaper to borrow from banks and pay 8 per cent than it is to buy on credit and pay 40 to 100 per cent.

ALABAMA NEWS HAPPENINGS

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Eptiomized Form.

Four stills and two operators were taken on Foxes Creek near Hillsboro in Lawrence County, about one mile from the Morgan County line in a raid by Federal Prohibition Agents V. S. Root and I. G. Brown. Two negroes Will Swope and Jones Love, said to have been operating one of the plants were caught and carried to Huntsville where they will stand trial for violating the prohibition law. It was reported that two other moonshiners saw the officers approaching and escaped. One still of 90 gallons capacity was in operation. The other three were of 60 gallons each. About 2,000 gallons of beer was poured out.

The county commissioners of Coosa County, at a called meeting here, made temporary plans to take care of the county's business in the emergency brought about by the destruction of the court house by fire. The loss to the county is estimated at about $50,000, with about $15,000 insurance. The commissioners met with Probate Judge George McDonald and arranged to obtain offices to take care of the county officials temporarily. No definite plans to rebuild were taken but it was stated that this step would be taken.

At the weekly meeting of the city council at Selma, authority was given to the joint committee on the fire department and public buildings to purchase the car barns of the electric railway and the adjoining Minter Avenue stables, provided the committee look into the cost of necessary improvements and provided the council does not find the cost excessive. The price for the car barns and stables is $20,000, but the street railway will accept as part payment the lot on the corner of Broad and First Avenue in part exchange at the price of $3,000.

The following convictions for violation of game laws were reported to the state department of game and fisheries: Sonnie Reives and Ammous Ritch, Shelby County, fined $10 for hunting without license; Guy Murphy of Henry County, hunting without license; Walter Smith, Conecuh County, hunting without license; R. H. Long, Washington County, hunting without permit, fined $10 each; George Collins and Tommie Alexander, Perry County, hunting without license, fined $15 each.

FARM FACTS

Don't let the baby chicks get too hot or too cold. Either may be fatal. And keep them out of the rain.

Yes, we must plant cotton, but, in self-defense, we must plant feed crops too.

"Chuckle" Column

This Valentine stuff they
Schedule for us men folks
Every February when we're Supposed to shower
"Gifts of Love" on our Chosen rib to let her
Know just how much we Appreciate her company,
Etc., etc., is all very nice
But—will somebody kindly Tell us—
WHY IS IT
That, before marriage
A fella thinks nothing of Spending his last nickel,
Living on beans for a week
And walking to work just to Bestow a 5-lb. box of Chocolates
Upon his "beloved?"
And, if she calls him "Darling"
And "Prince" oir some other
Sweet thing like that, he just Thinks he's out taxicab-ing on Clouds? The boy goes unconscious.
AND YET
After marriage—
The scene and conversation
Changes to something like this:
Valentine's Day. Hubby sneaks
In the front door with silly
Grin and a box of Chocolates or
A bouquet of flowers. Surprises
The same lady who used to call Him "Prince" and "Darling" and
All the rest of that hokum.
She looks suspiciously at
The Gift and then the fireworks
Break loose. Instead of "Darling"
And "Prince" he gets:
"Have you been drinking again?"
—"What are you trying to hide?"
"What did you do with that Dollar I gave you last month?"
"S'pose you're figuring on getting Out for a poker game to-night?"
And so the battle rages until
One or the other hollers—"Time!"

AIN'T LOVE GRAND?

"Blue Eyes may mask a villian" says a prominent English authority. And we'll add—if the blue is slightly mixed with circlets of black and green, it masks some poor married bird who tried to talk his wife into believing he was boss in the house.

POKER, TOO?

"Many modern games of ancient origin" reads newspaper headline. As Caesar remarked to Brutus, just before the Roman constabules busted up the game:

,'Whadda ya' got?"

"Aces" chuckled Brutus.

"How many?"

"One."

"You win," growled Caesar. "Let's try the gallopin' dominoes."

POOR O

Your "Dollars Do Double Duty" When Spent at Home

THERE'S ONLY ONE ANSWER TO THE QUESTION:

"Where can I spend my dollars so that they'll not only benefit me personally by purchasing full value's worth but where, in the course of time, they'll build for a greater community and make me more satisfied with both my neighbors and my surroundings?"

It is ---

IN CLANTON

Because ---

Here and here only, can your dollars do "double duty."

First, they'll always get you the necessities of life at a lower cost than you could buy them for elsewhere. The personal interest our merchants take in each patron to see that he or she is always satisfied---often sacrificing profit---only makes it possible.

Second, not only do your dollars go farthest, but--by trading here and keeping those dollars at home---you are contributing to the PROGRESS and PROSPERITY of our little city.

More schools, more churches, BETTER STREETS, better public buildings --- in general a more attractive city --- are only possible when every citizen puts his or her "shoulder to the wheel" and "pushes" with their "home spent" dollars.

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL INTERESTS, ALWAYS HAVE AND ALWAYS WILL BE STRONG FOR ANYTHING THAT IS GOOD FOR THE COMMUNITY. BUT REMEMBER, WE NEED --- YOUR CO-OPERATION!

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Owing to the fact that the county health officers have been vigilant and required all children who attend the public school to be vaccinated, and an order issued by Thorsby Institute principal that no student would be permitted to attend that school unless vaccinated, in both cases including the members of the family, the spread of smallpox in Thorsby seems to have been checked, as no new cases have been reported for several days. Heavy colds or a kind of La Grippe has confined several of our people to their homes, and some to bed within the past week. Rev. J. E. Each, Chas. E. Lucas, A. E. Reagan and Arnold Soberg were among the afflicted.

Mr. Magnus Anderson who has been seriously ill for several days, is reported to be improving.

Mrs. Ethel Wright Loveland who was called home near Chicago, last week, on account of serious illness of her step-father, reports that he died before she reached her home.

Through the kindly initiative of Mrs. Post of Thorsby Institute, and her daughter, a beautiful drinking fountain has been presented to the school by Mr. Halsey Taylor of Warren, Ohio, inventor and manufacturer of this particular style of fountain. The gift will soon be installed on the lower floor of Bates Hall.

Mrs. Harry Petersen and small daughter were entertained a few days by Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Petersen, while their son was preparing their new home, connected with the depot at Oxmoor, near Birmingham, where the young man has recently received an appointment.

Miss Helen C. Jenkins will entertain the Congregational Ladies Aid Society at Thorsby Institute Dining Hall building, Thursday afternoon, Feb. 5. Thorsby ladies, of course, understand they are all invited.

Mrs. Hattie M. Gerald entertained at her home Monday night, Miss Jenkins and the six members of Thorsby Institute Senior Class. Owing to an advance in credits required for graduation, it was thought for a time there would be no graduates this year, but there are now six who expect to graduate.

The Christian Endeavor Society had a very interesting meeting Sunday night, Feb. 1st. Mrs. E. W. Butler was leader for the evening. The topic for the evening was "Christian Endeavor as an Expression of Friendliness." This was also Christian Endeavor Day and Mrs. Butler brought this out in the program, telling about the beginning of Christian Endeavor and how it spread throughout the world. The meeting was opened by the singing of two songs, after which prayers were offered by Lorena and Lois Primm, Plato Deason and A. T. Arthur. The scripture lesson from Phil. 2:1-11 was read by Iola Gerald. A song, "Give of Your Best to the Master," was sung by Miss Parker, Lois Primm, Lorena Primm, Isabelle Gilbert and Bernice Kelly. This meeting was a Consecration Meeting and as the roll was called, each member answered with a verse of scripture. The Society was dismissed with the Christian Endeavor benediction.

The Royal Helpers entertained the Queen Esther Sunday School class of the Congregational church at the home of Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Butler on January 31st. There had been a contest between the two classes, and as the Loyal Helpers were the losers, it was their lot to entertain the girls' class. Games of various kinds were played and delicious refreshments were served. The girls felt that they had been splendidly entertained.

Mrs. Ivey Horn and children of Boyles, Ala., and Albert Anderson, are visitors and helpers at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Magnus Anderson during their father's illness.

During the absence of Messrs. Reagan and Soberg from duty at the hardware store, Ed Piper has been in sole charge and acceptably acted as a substitute.

TO THE THREE LADIES OF THORSBY:

Whose Jealousy, Cowardice and Undermindedness is to be known to all Citizens of Thorsby.

After sending your letter to me through the mails, I wish to know whether you have anything else to write toward the conduct of my children. It is nothing but plain jealousy on your parts, toward the brightness and good behavior of my children, both at school and other social entertainments that caused you to write to me in this cowardly manner. Everybody in Thorsby who is acquainted with my children consider them to be exceedingly bright, they are included in all entertainments and are reputed to be well behaved. Therefore, I hereby wish the citizens of Thorsby to know that there are three ladies among us that are underminding, jealous cowards.

MRS. HENNING.

HIS JOB IS CHASING CLOUDS AWAY

SUCCESSFUL experiments in controlling atmospheric conditions were recently conducted by arfy air men stationed at Bolling Field, near Washington, D. C.

The process, evolved by Dr. Warren of Harvard University, consists of a sand attack on the clouds via aeroplane—causing them to break up, preventing a storm and letting the sun shine through again.

In the above photograph, you see Capt. A. I. Eagle of the Army Air Service filling the special containers attached to his plane with sand, preliminary to making an ascent above the clouds. Once above the snowy masses, he releases the sand in a sort of spraying manner. The fine particles falling into the clouds cause the latter to spread and break up so that the sun might do its duty in clearing the sky.

It is also reported that English authorities are very much interested in the process. It would be ideal and surely a blessing to London where the clouds and the fog are of severe density and always hang low.

The Transportation Act PERMITS The Railroads to Earn On Their Property Investment 5.75%

In 1924 They Actually EARNED 4.30

Short of the So Called "Fair Return" 1.45%

THE FIGURES above quoted, representing in dollars and cents a total of 326 Million dollars short of the 5¾%, seem to offer proof positive that railroad rates are not too high and that the carriers are not "profiteering." The rate of return for 1924 is an estimate for the year, based on the actual returns for eleven months.

By eternal vigilance and efficiency methods, the railroads have been able to handle peak volumes of freight during the year just closed at an estimated saving to the public of $600,000,000, as compared to the rates which existed in 1921.

If the carriers are allowed to operate their properties under the existing terms of the Transportation Act, without the enactment of hurtful legislation, the year 1925 should show a better record than that described above.

J. C. Brady was badly burned about the hands when he rescued his two little children from their burning home in Attalla. When he awoke, he saw the flames on the children's bed and dragged them out of the building as the roof was falling it. The children were unhurt. Brady's injuries are not fatal.

Miss Ona McClendon, the 22-year old Guntersville girl who is alleged to have shot Jeff Love, father of seven, while they were out riding in an automobile last spring, was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary by a jury in Marshall County circuit court. The case will be appealed.

Twenty students of the Talladega city high school have been suspended for two weeks and six expelled for the year as the result of a "protest rebellion" staged because of the discharge of one of the teachers.

The Farmers Mutual Insurance Association, incorporated, by special act of the Alabama legislature on February 18, 1895, will pass out of existence on February 18, 1925 by the terms of the special act, which granted the association a charter for a period of thirty years. Under the charter granted in 1895, the association was given "the power and authority to organize and conduct the business of this corporation in the various counties of this state into separate and district associations."

Information has been received by Chester E. Johnson, state fire marshal, of the arrest of Cleve Hatfield, at Slocomb. This action followed an investigation conducted by W. R. West, deputy fire marshal. The loss from the blaze reached a total of almost $14,000, according to reports received by Fire Marshal Johnson, all of it being covered by insurance. The fire occurred about midnight and destroyed a gin and gin house, together with the warehouse and forty bales of cotton.

Bloodhounds were ordered to Albany to pick up the tracks of a man believed to have been a negro who entered the home of Mrs. Cleveland Reed, near Albany, attacking Mrs. Reed, holding a knife at her throat. Local officials were called and immediately communicated with Sheffield in an effort to get hounds on the trail quickly. The bloodhounds found two trails and followed until they were lost because of so many people having traveled there.

Gov. W. W. Brandon has appointed as members of the board of revenue of Marengo County the men who had been elected to membership on the board but who had failed to qualify within the time provided by law. Those appointed were: Norman G. Winn, chairman; G. T. Bradley, northwest district; O. D. Gartland, northeast district; James M. Fortner, southwest district, and E. M. Pope, southeast district.

Over 50 cases of smallpox have been reported in Calhoun County within the past few days and county health officials are making every effort to prevent a further spread of the disease by conducting vaccinations on a large scale in sections where the disease is located. The epidemic has largely centered around Piedmont, but has also broken out in a negro section of Anniston in the western part of the city.

"We consider it an economic waste to spend money to convict men for violating the prohibition law and then have the governor of Alabama turn them loose only to commit the same offense again." This is the wording of a resolution passed by the Gadsden branch of the Women's Temperance Union as a protest against "the practice of too frequently paroling such law breakers."

The state forestry commission meeting at the office of Gov. W. W. Brandon discussed plans for the year ahead. It was decided to increase slightly the number of forest rangers, to a total of probably not over fifteen by the end of the present year. The commission approved the action of Maj. Page S. Bunker, state forester, in placing forest rangers on furlough during the period of wet weather.

OCEAN travel may be completely revolutionized by odd-looking vessels like the one pictured above. It's the "Buckau," a sail-less sail boat—the invention of one Anton Flettner of Hamburg, Germany. Tells How to End Night Coughing

To quickly stop hacking, irritating coughing at night, a very simple treatment may be had that often enables you to sleep the whole night through undisturbed almost at once.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring, and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and relieves irritation and soreness, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. So no matter whether your cough is dry and tight, or loose with much mucus, the coughing soon stops, you can usually sleep your accustomed time without a break, and the whole cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription contains absolutely no narcotics or other harmful drugs. Instead of merely benumbing the nerves, it actually helps the system to throw off the trouble in a perfectly natural way. Furthermore, it is very economical, the dose being only one teaspoonful. It is highly recommended for coughs, chest colds, tickling, hoarseness and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's coughs and spasmodic croup. On sale at all good druggists. Ask for

ROGERS GIVES INFORMATION ON ROAD BOND ISSUE

Tells Shelby Delegation No Election For Proposed Bond Issue Will Be Held Before 1926.

The proposed constitutional amendment to authorize issuance of $75,000,000 worth of highway bonds will not be voted on until the general election in 1926, according to a statement by Chairman John A. Rogers, of the highway commission at a meeting of the commission Monday.

Mr. Rogers' remarks were addressed to a delegation from Shelby County which appeared to ask for more roads for that county. Chairman Rogers pointed out there has already been spent in Shelby County far more than the minimum quota allotted each county from the present bond issue, and stated that he was opposed to giving Shelby County any more from the existing bond issue for this reason.

Chairman Rogers then took up the question of the proposed new bond issue. He told the delegation that if they were dissatisfied with the present highway commission, they should not allow this to make them hostile to the new bond issue. He gave as reason for this the fact that the proposed new amendment will not be voted on until the fall of 1926 and that the new 1927 legislature would have to pass the necessary enabling legislation before any money could become available from a new bond issue. This same new legislature can also abolish the present highway commission, he pointed out. He called attention to the fact that the bond commission which sells highway bonds is composed of the governor, attorney-general and chairman of the highway commission. By the time bonds from the proposed new issue are available to be sold, there will be a new governor of the state, a new attorney-general and "in all probability a new chairman of the highway commission," Mr. Rogers stated.

It has been reported for some time by those in touch with the situation that the present legislature will not be called into extra session until 1926, and submit a highway amendment to be voted on in the general election in the fall of that year.

A delegation from Chambers county appeared before the highway commission in the interest of a road from Lafayette to Lanett. They were told that this road was on the 1925-26 program.

The commission, in the case of a project in Lauderdale county, voted to retain the original plan of starting about a mile inside the city limits of Florence and building approximately 6½ miles toward Killen.

6-YEAR OLD BOY KICKED BY MULE

J. D. Easterling, the 6-year old son of Mr. Ruben Easterling of Temple Community, was seriously hurt about noon Sunday when a mule kicked the child on the head. The mule's hoof struck the child's head just above the eye, fracturing the skull. Reports say that a small portion of the child's brain was knocked out by the severe kick of the mule.

The child was brought to the Central Alabama Hospital in Clanton, where the broken piece of skull, about two inches square was removed. The child rested well Sunday night, and reports from the hospital say that it now has a fair chance of recovery.

ATTEMPT ESCAPE FROM CHILTON COUNTY JAIL

On Tuesday afternoon Sheriff T. J. Littlejohn discovered that an attempt was being made by the three young men in jail charged with stealing an automobile, to make their get-away from the jail. When the Sheriff discovered their trick, the men had already sawed a hole through the ceiling of the jail and had fixed a place in the roof through which to make their escape. The men had tied bed ticks together for a rope on which to climb down from the top of the jail. The reason the Sheriff discovered that the men were making an attempt to get away was because he missed some new bed ticks which had just been placed in jail. A search for the ticks revealed the plans for the escape.

These three young men are in jail here charged with stealing a Buick car from Mr. Parnell of Stanton a few weeks ago. They are being held here pending the Circuit court next month.

WHY IS IT?

FIDDLERS CONVENTION TO BE HELD AT VERBENA

Verbena, Ala., Feb. 10, 1925.

Dear Fiddler:

We know that you too have been wondering when Verbena would have its annual fiddlin' bee, for we have been wondering the same thing for some time past. You see, the weather and other things have kind of worked on us, and we have been waiting for it to clear up a mite before we announced the date. The ground hog has now made his prediction that the weather will be good from now on, and we intend to start something.

FEBRUARY 27—FRIDAY—8:00 p.m., at the school auditorium—that's it. Remember the date now, and set it aside as our day to have our annual big time.

Most of those who have been here before and some new ones will take part. By the way, some embryo fiddlers are developing hereabouts and thereabouts, and if you know any of them, get them interested.

We contemplate the biggest and best convention Verbena has ever had, and you well know we have had some good ones. Any suggestions you can make will be appreciated by the committee in charge.

The contest is open to all fiddlers, with or without accompaniment, orchestras, banjo players, or players on other stringed instruments. There will be a variety of good and interesting prizes.

Write the Fiddlin' committee, Verbena, Ala., and tell them all the good fiddlin' news you know. First, tell them you'll be there.

Fiddlingly yours,
Fiddlers Convention Com.,

F. E. MASTIN INSTALLS 2,400-EGG INCUBATOR

Mr. F. E. Mastin, the pioneer chicken raiser of Chilton County, who lives on the highway between Clanton and Thorsby, has recently added to his Chicken farm a 2,400-egg incubator. Mr. Mastin already had one 1,200-egg incubator and one 800-egg incubator, and the installation of the new one over doubles his hatching capacity, raising it up to 4,400. Mr. Mastin says that he will do hatching for commercial use this year as well as to take care of his own farm. If you are interested in raising chickens, which is a very rapidly growing industry, Mr. Mastin will be able to give you some very valuable pointers on the business. He has been at the business for several years and knows the tricks of the industry.

W. M. WYATT WILL RETURN TO CLANTON

It will be of much interest to his many friends in Chilton County to learn that Mr. W. M. Wyatt is planning to return to Clanton and make his home here again. Mack has been left Clanton about two years. After leaving here he went to Fort Payne where he remained until six months ago. After leaving Fort Payne he went to Washington and has been working in the government printing office at Washington. He plans to be back in Clanton within a few weeks and will very likely be connected again with The Union-Banner.

NEW MARKET AND GROCERY STORE OPENING UP HERE

This week there is being opened up on Main Street in the new building next to Tom Kemp's store a new meat market and grocery store, the promoters of which are Messrs. Durwood Broadhead and J. A. Nivens. The new business will be run under the name of Broadhead and Nivens, and they will carry a line of fresh meats and groceries.

There is being installed in the place a modern refrigerating system, which will be connected up with the large refrigerator as well as the show cases in which the fresh meats will be displayed. The outfit produces its own coolness and will not use any ice at all. The process is done by electricity, and the most modern outfit of its kind in present day use.

The fixtures and stock will be ready for the business about the middle of next week, and will be one of the nicest and most sanitary places of its kind in this part of Alabama. Although Mr. Nivens is financially interested in the business, he will take no active part in its management. Mr. Durwood Broadhead will manage the affairs of the concern.

MR. J. W. LAWLEY DEAD

Mr. James Wesley Lawley, age about 65 years, died at his home in Clanton Monday afternoon at 4:15, the cause of his death being attributed to heart dropsy. He leaves a wife and three children, two children by his first wife and one child by his second wife.

Mr. Lawley came to Chilton county from St. Clair county some fifteen years ago and was married to Mrs. Isabelle Easterling. He has lived in and around Clanton ever since his second marriage.

FARMER CUTS COST OF PRODUCING CORN CROP IN ALABAMA

M. G. Garrett, Chambers County, Believes It Pays to Plant Few Acres and Fertilize It Well.

A question that confronts every farmer is how to provide feed for his work animals. Which is the cheaper way: To plant a large number of acres of moderately fertile land or to plant a few acres of good land and fertilize and cultivate well? M. G. Garrett, of Garrett Brothers' farm, located in Chambers County, believes that the cheapest way to grow corn is by the latter method.

What he did on two acres.

His soil is red clay loam moderately fertile and rolling and has been in cultivation many years. It made about 600 pounds of seed cotton to the acre in 1923. He laid off his rows 3 1/2 feet wide and bedded them out with a two-horse plow with four furrows. When ready to plant, he ran a spring tooth harrow with four teeth in the water furrow to freshen the surface and kill the weeds; set his planter to drop the kernels 12 inches apart and planted a prolific variety well adapted to his section, on May 15. When the corn plants were about a foot high, he sided them with an 18-inch heel scrape; ten days later, that is, on June 25, he scattered 200 pounds of nitrate of soda on the ridge in the middle of the rows and bursted out the middles at one furrow with a scooter and heel sweep, covering up the nitrate of soda and destroying the weeds in the middle. About ten days later he ran one trip in each middle with a Planet Jr., laying by the corn. A hoe was not taken into the field.

Mr. Garrett gathered 94 bushels of weighed corn from the two acres, notwithstanding the summer was dry and hot and the corn suffered severely for rain.

Estimated cost of production.

Rent for two acres	$10.00
Plowing two acres	4.00
Planting (labor and seed)	5.00
Running around	2.00
Nitrate of soda (400 lbs.)	12.00
Applying nitrate of soda and breaking out middles	3.00
Tne furrow with Planet Jr., laying by	2.00
Total	$38.00

Mr. Garrett noted that corn planted late did not require so many cultivations and that corn planted thick shaded the ground and retarded the growth of weeds, thereby lessening the need for frequent cultivations.

To grow corn economically, plant fewer acres, apply more nitrogenous plant food and cultivate shallow.

CEDAR GROVE

There will be preaching at Cedar Grove the 4th Sunday and Saturday before, of each month, instead of the 3rd. The change was made by the first quarterly conference of Clanton circuit.

UNCLE DOCK WELLS BACK IN CLANTON

Indeed, there is something magically attractive about Clanton. Take for instance, Uncle Dock Wells left here a month ago and went to Warm Springs, Ga., to make his home for the future. The environment of Uncle Dock's new home was ideal, but he soon got sick and just could not get well. There was only one serum for this illness of Uncle Dock and that was that mid-night choo-choo bound for Clanton, Alabama. He took this serum and arrived back home one day last week. The remedy worked and he is now well and feeling fine as a fiddle.

Uncle Dock said that while he was in Warm Springs sick he promised God that if He would let him come back to Clanton alive he would solemnly promise to stay here the rest of his life. So we are glad to have the good old gentleman back with us.

If the weather permits, Uncle Dock will preach at the County Poor House next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Besides the inmates of the Home, Uncle Dock wants others of his friends who can to come out and hear him preach. In the future Uncle Dock will be at his home in Clanton and will be glad to see and talk with his many friends any time.

Pine-Tar and Honey Still Best for Chest Colds and Coughs

Our mothers and grandmothers would never be without pine tar syrup in the house for coughs, chest colds, etc. This was many years ago, but modern medicine has never been able to improve on this time-tested remedy. Doctors say the pine tar is hard to beat for quickly loosening and removing the phlegm and congestion that are the actual cause of the cough. At the same time pine-tar and honey soon soothe and heal all irritation and soreness.

The kind that has been used with never failing success in thousands of families for years is that known as Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. This is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine-tar, honey and other quick-acting, healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in quick relief. It contains absolutely no opiates, narcotics or harmful drugs, so can be given to young children—fine for spasmodic croup. It tastes good, too. If you want the best, a medicine that often stops the severest cough overnight, be sure you get Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. It costs only 30c at any good druggists.

Richard F. Grant, President of the United States Chamber of Commerce, says: "The function of business is to provide the material necessities of mankind,—it is doing this, and more. Business today is rising to new heights and has a conscience and a soul. Business today realizes that it must enter into the various community problems and it is helping to solve them. The hospitals, the research laboratories, the various other charities and scientific achievements are promoted and sponsored chiefly by business men. This is the answer to the oft-repeated charge that business is sordid, is not on the level."

The railways are entitled to a "legislative holiday". All signs indicate there was never a better time for such a truce.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

NITRATE OF SODA FACTS

A prominent Chilton County farmer asked if it was advisable to use nitrate of soda on a wet year. To answer his question and any others who may want to know, I give below the results of some tests made in this county in 1923, which all know was a wet year.

Mr. J. S. Jones, Cooper, applied about 300 pounds of an ordinary fertilizer per acre on his cotton. On a part of the field he added to this fertilizer, 100 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre. Where he used only the commercial fertilizer he made 720 pounds seed cotton per acre; but on that where he added the 100 pounds of nitrate of soda he picked 1,000 pounds per acre. The 100 pounds of nitrate of soda increased his yield 280 pounds, which at 9c per pound is worth $25.20.

Mr. H. O. Little, Jemison, after applying about 270 pounds of a home mixture, added to it (on one plat of land) 200 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre. Where he used the home mixture he got 649 pounds of seed cotton per acre and where he added to this home mixture, the 200 pounds of nitrate of soda, he got 1,112 pounds per acre—an increase of 363 pounds worth $32.67 at 9c per pound.

The quick acting nitrate is needed to push the young plants off rapidly and thereby secure early fruiting before the weevil.—E. F. Cauthen.

"If Your Pain Is There, What You Need Is a Good Tonic For the Kidneys"

The kidneys are the scavengers and they work day and night in separating and the poisons from the blood. Their signals of distress are easily recognized and include such symptoms as lumbago, backache, depressions, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic twinges, dropsy.

People are realizing more and more every day that the kidneys, just as do the bowels, need to be flushed occasionally. The kidneys are an eliminative organ and are constantly working, separating the poisons from the blood. Under this continual and perpetual action they are apt to congest, and then trouble starts. Uric acid backs up into the system, causing rheumatism, neuralgia, dropsy and many other serious disturbances. It means that you are a victim of uric acid poisoning. Then ask your druggist for Anuric (anti uric acid) and you will very soon become one of hundreds who have been helped by this powerful enemy to uric acid.

Dr. Pierce manufactures Anuric (kidney-backache) tablets and you can obtain a trial pkg. by enclosing 10c and addressing Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

OFFICERS HAVE BUSY WEEK INVESTIGATING OFFENSES

On last Thursday Sheriff T. J. Littlejohn and Deputy J. H. Foshee went to the home of Jason Turner near Pletcher and located in the woods about a quarter of a mile from Turner's home a 50-gallon oil-drum still, which the officers destroyed. Three barrels of beer and two gallons of whiskey were confiscated by the officers. No arrest was made.

The home of Alphus Grant of Coopers was searched by the officers Saturday afternoon, and three quarts of whiskey was found in Grant's cook room. Grant, reports say, is dodging the officers.

Willie Bowman, who was caught with whiskey on December 23rd and has since been evading the officers, was arrested by Sheriff Littlejohn and Deputy Foshee Sunday. Bowman was found in the home of his father near Billingsley, and was brought to Clanton and placed in jail. He is still in jail under a bond of $500.00. The officers say that quite a severe resistance to the arrest of Bowman was offered by his father and mother, especially by the latter. Bowman himself gave little trouble, but his mother raised particular sand.

A difficulty near Pletcher, in which whiskey played a prominent part, Sunday resulted in the arrest of Will Adams, the charge being assault and attempt to murder. The other party to the fuss was Frank Pounds. Adams was allowed bond of $1,000 which he made.

Monday morning a notorious negro bootlegger by the name of T. S. Peavey was carried to Vredenburgh Lumber Camp by a State Prison Guard to serve a term of three months and twenty days hard labor for violating the prohibition law, the sentence being given the negro by the Circuit Court of Chilton county. The negro was also fined $100 which he will work out at Vredenburgh. In all he will serve about four and a half months.

REYNOLDS WRITES REGARDING STATE HIGHWAY RIGHT-OF-WAY

Clanton, Ala., Feb. 10, 1925.

Editor Union-Banner:

I would like to explain the situation in regard to the right-of-way for the Highway going through our county. The Highway Department prepares the proposed deeds for the several individuals that own the land over which the right-of-way passes and they also file a blue print of the right-of-way, and this is filed with the Commissioners' Court. The Commissioners then proceed to obtain the right-of-way. The Commissioners' Court has ordered me to file condemnation proceedings as soon as we get the blue print and the proposed deeds. The Highway Department has been delayed furnishing these, but they advise me that we will have all the papers during this week.

I would like to say to all land owners who will be affected by this road that they will not lose anything by permitting the contractors to commence with the grading as the Commissioners appointed, can assess the damages just as well after the work has been started as they can before.

I am sure we all appreciate how courteous the land owners are treating the contractors in permitting them to go ahead with the work. We all want this road and we dislike very much to see it delayed. The Highway Commission has been delayed quite a bit in making various changes in the right-of-way to suit the convenience of the different people. The Commissioners to assess the damages will be appointed as soon as condemnation proceedings are begun and I want to assure the public that I will do my best to appoint fair men who are acquainted with the values of land and who will make just assessments to both the land owners and the county.

There has been only one party so far that I have heard of who have stopped the work of the contractors. However, the right-of-way will be condemned where the State Engineers want it and stopping the contractors will be of no benefit whatever but will serve only to delay the work.

Messrs. Reynolds & Reynolds and Thomas A. Curry have been employed to carry this matter through court and they will be glad to give you any information they can, and if there is any information I can give you in this matter, please come to see me or write me.

Yours very truly,
L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate.

"It seems like it did me good from the very first. After I had taken half a bottle I noticed an improvement. I continued its use and I got better and better. The pains in my legs and sides disappeared and I began to gain in weight until now I weigh 155 pounds and feel better than I ever did in my life. I am perfectly well and strong. I have given it to my girls, too."

Her Favorite.—Miss Teachem, wishing to arouse the interest of her Sunday School class, asked the scholars to write down the names of their favorite hymns.

All bent their heads over pencil and papes for a few minutes and tnen handed in their slips. All except Mary.

"Come, Mary," said the teacher, "write down the name of your favorite hymn and bring the paper to me."

Mary wrote, and with down-cast eyes and flaming cheeks, handed the teacher a slip of paper bearing the words, "Willie Smith."—Youth's Companion.

The Union-Banner wishes to call your attention to a letter of Judge Reynolds carried in this week's paper regarding the right-of-way for the State Highway through the county. The people who own land through which the right-of-way passes will make a mistake if they hold up the grading of the highway just because they have not received compensation for their land. The highway commission has been delayed in getting the deeds to this property, but it will do no good for the land owners to hold up the work until the deeds are made. The value of the land through which the highway passes will be determined by a commission, and you will get the same value after the grading is done as if it is settled before. We want the highway finished through Chilton county, and any delay caused the graders will just delay the finishing that much longer.

THE PHANTOM ELECTION

At noon last Wednesday, February 11, Calvin Coolidge was formally elected President of the United States. The electoral votes of the 48 states were solemnly counted at Washington and then, and not until then, Coolidge and Dawes were officially recorded as the victors of last year's campaign.

The quaint ceremony conducted in the presence of the Senate and House is a survival of the America which no longer exists.

The Electoral College was created because the fathers of this republic distrusted the capacity of the American people to choose their own executive.

When the Constitution was written not more than three Americans out of every hundred voted. The makers of the Constitution did not think even that small minority fit to elect a President. Consequently the awkward system of electors was established.

It was fondly imagined that the statesmen sent to the Electoral College to pick out a President and a Vice President would exercise a wisdom of which the people were incapable. That illusion soon perished. For a hundred years the Presidential electors have done no more than ratify the popular will as expressed at the polls. Manikins could have done as much. If the men and women chosen to elect a President ever dared to exert the power entrusted to them by the Constitution a veritable revolution would ensue.

Reminiscent of a vanished civilization, like the great coach used by the King of England on royal occasions, the Electoral College is also a reminder that system devised to meet the need of a nation which had neither railroads nor telegraphs is hardly adequate in a time when intelligence can be instantly conveyed by electrical impulse, and when but a day, and not a year, is required to traverse the continent.

No longer is it necessary to wait four months after election to inaugurate a President, and certainly it is a waste of time to defer the regular meeting of the Congress thirteen months after the lawmakers are chosen.

It would be better all around to install both the President and the new Congress in January after the November elections. A measure designed to bring about this result is now pending at Washington. It should not be allowed to perish.

LETTER FROM RAILWAY BOARD

Freight charges on live stock represents only 5 3.5 cents out of each dollar the purchase paid for live stock while the producer or seller at point of shipments realizes net proceeds of 91 2.5 cents, other cost if distribution being 3 cents,according to a study just made by theBureau of Railway Economics into the relationship commodity prices bear to transporation costs. The wide spread in the prices recieved in the markets for live stock of good quality and that of the poorer grade, is clearly brought out in the study, which shows that this spread accounts for the variations in the percentage of the price absorbed in freight charges. It appears that the the grade sold the greater the proporation of the dollar which went to the purchaser, and the smaller the proporation that was absorbed in freight charges.

This study, which relates entirely to live stock, was based on sales of more than 6.000 carloads of cattle, calves, hogs and sheep made at ten principal markets in the United States during the year which ended on October 6, 1924.

The study, according to a bulletin issued today, tend to show the following:

1. That the freight charges are a relatively small factor in the price paid to the seller for live stock.

2. That apparently the principal factors influencing the seller's net proceeds are quality of the stock and marketing conditions.

3. That in the marketing of cattle and calves, hogs and sheep, the transporation costs permit of the free movement of live stock to varios marketing centers from a wide range of territory.

"Freight charges on cattle and calves," according to the bulletin, "represents 5.9 per cent of the price paid by the purchaser; other costs of distrubution were 2.9 per cent, while the net proceeds to the seller at shipping point were 91.4 per cent of the price. For hogs, the freight charges were 5.1 per cent with other of distrubtion 3.2 per cent which leaves to the seller at shipping point net proceed of 91.7 per cent. For sheep, freight charges were 6.0 per cent; other costs of distribution 3.0 per cent and net proceeds to the seller at shipping point 91.0 per cent."

The study indicates that the percentage of the price paid by the purchaser which is absorbed in freight charges, varies greatly, and that the principal cause of these variations is the differences in kind and quality of live stock.

This conclusion, that the principal factors influenzing live stock prices are the quality of the stock and marketing conditions, is borne out by a compilation of prices paid for beef steers of various grades sold at Chicago during the year ended on November 8, 1924.

The figures show that out of 1,304,907 head of steers sold during the year,132,432, or 10.2 per cent, were graded as "choice and prime" and sold at an average of $10.94 per hundred pounds:365,401 head, or28 per cent, were graded as "good" and sold for $10.06 per hundred pounds; 638,403 head or48.9 per cent, were graded as "medium" and sold for $8.88 per hundred pounds;168,671 head or 12.9 per cent, were graded as "common" and sold for $7.27 per hundred dred pounds. This means a difference between the "common" and "choice and prime" prices of $3.67 per hundred pounds.

For "choice and prime" grade, the highest average weekly price paid during the period was $12.15 per hundred pounds when sales were light, and the lowest average price was $10.22 when sales were heavy, a fluctuation of $1.93 per hundred pounds.

For "common" grade, the highest average weekly price was $8.08, during the period when sales were light, and the lowest price was $5.85, when sales were heavy, a fluctuation of $2.23 per hundred pounds.

The spread in average price between "common" and "choice and prime" grades for the individual weeks varied from $3.19 to $5.16 per hundred pounds.

BAKER-CONWAY TRIAL TO BE HELD HERE MONDAY

The trial to determine whether Wm. R. Baker or C. C. Conway is the proper incumbent on the County Board of Education to take the place of L. A. Calloway, resigned, will be held at the court house in Clanton next Monday, February 16. Judge Geo. F. Smoot will be here to have charge of the case, which will be tried as a regular circuit court case.

Mr. Baker was elected to this position by the voters of Chilton County in the last general election, and Mr. Conway was appointed to the place by the County Board. The question to be settled is, which one is legally entitled to the office.

COTTON VARIETIES VARY MUCH IN YIELD

To a much larger extent than is generally recognized, yields of cotton are determined by the kind and varieties of seed planted. Results of variety tests conducted by the Alabama Experiment Station at Auburn last year show variations in yields from 427 down to 219 pounds of lint cotton per acre. At 23 cents per pound this difference amounts to $47.84 on the lint alone, not counting the seed. It is due entirely to variety, all other conditions being the same.

In making public this information Prof. M. J. Funchess, Director, Experiment Station, announced the results of variety tests conducted at Auburn and also in co-operation with farmers in different sections of Alabama. The average of all the tests in North Alabama from 1922-24, inclusive, shows that Cook strains, Bottoms, Cleveland (Piedmont), and Acala yielded best. In two tests in North Alabama last year Cook 1010, Cook 1627, Dixie Triumph, Cleveland (Piedmont), Cook 588 and Cook 307 were leading varieties.

On the Experiment Station at Auburn, which is regarded as Central Alabama, Bottoms leads over a three year period, 1922-24, with 298 lbs. lint cotton; others ranked: Cook 307-6, 286; Dixie Triumph, 286; Cleveland (Piedmont), 285; Cleveland (Wannamaker), 276; College No. 1; Acala, 272; and Cook 588, 271.

In 1924 the well-bred strains of Cook, Cleveland and Bottoms were leaders in two tests on the Experiment Station.

During the three year period, 1922 to 1924, inclusive, the leading varieties in South Alabama tests yielded as follows: Cleveland (Piedmont) 383; Bottoms, 375; Acala No. 5, 360; College No. 1, 354; Trice, 270141; Cook, 346; Mexican Big Boll, 344; Cook 588, 334. Several other varieties were tested but all ranked below these.

On different soils some varieties of cotton yield better than others, and for this reason farmers are advised to consult their county agent before deciding what variety to plant.

FORESTRY LETTER

The severity of the recent floods to a large extent was due to the forest fires that prevailed last fall over the entire South, says a statement issued by the Alabama Commission of Forestry. The fires destroyed the forest floor and the water from the excessive rains found nothing to obstruct its rapid run off into the streams.

The forest floor comprises the pine straw, leaves, decaying twigs, dead grass and other forest litter on the ground. This material becomes matted and decays from the lower layers upward. It is not only the source of most soil fertility but it also acts as a sponge in absorbing water falling upon the surface. It keeps the ground from becoming hardened and enables the latter to absorb the excess water after the forest floor has become saturated. Thus millions of tons of water are held back and absorbed by the humus and soil from which it soaks slowly into the springs and streams.

When fires run through the woods the forest floor is consumed. The bare rocks and sand are exposed and the heavier soils are hardened by the fire and later kept in this condition by the sun and wind. When heavy rains occur there is no deep layer of leaves and humus to absorb the water and the latter swiftly rushes into the streams causing heavy floods.

The entire process can be illustrated experimentally by placing one or more layers of blotting paper on a small board. Raise one end and pour water upon the incline. The thicker the layers of blotting paper, the more water will be absorbed without running off the board and the more slowly it will soak out of the lower end. By stripping away the blotting paper and again pouring water upon the board, an exact imitation of a flood will be seen. With nothing to retard it the water plunges down the incline in full volume.

MRS. MARY ALDRIDGE DEAD

On Wednesday morning, February 4, at 12:30 o'clock the Lord, in His omnipotent Providence saw fit to call the beloved deceased from a momentary life of toil and sorrow to an eternal home of rest and joy.

Mrs. Aldridge was the wife of Mr. R. A. Aldridge, and the oldest child of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Culp, and was 54 years old at her death. She was operated on nearly two years ago for cancer, but in spite of all that could be done by human hands and medical skill, the Lord took her Home at His will. Her death leaves a void in the community in which she lived that can never be filled. She leaves her husband, father, mother, two brothers and three sisters and a host of relatives and friends to mourn her loss.

The remains were laid to rest at Mt. Pisgah church on Thursday morning and were followed to the grave by a large and sorrowing body of friends and relatives. Rev. Limbric, pastor of the church, and Rev. F. A. Gibson, were both present and conducted the funeral services.

Her brother,
A. J. CULP.

PAYING YOUR BILLS PROMPTLY IS ONE OF THE BEST WAYS TO FOLLOW THE GOLDEN RULE.

First—in fairness to the merchant or professional man who has invested cash and time in the merchandise or service you have received, you should reciprocate the favor of credit by taking care of your obligations in reasonable time.

Your merchant or professional man does not require security. He demands no interest—yet he is actually loaning you cash.

Second—in fairness to your own good name and reputation, your bills should be paid on time.

You are granted credit according to your past record. Your character is the basis for confidence in your ability to pay.

Do your part. Pay your bills promptly. If you can't pay all at once, pay half or whatever you can and see to it that your creditor KNOWS you are playing the game SQUARE.

That's one way we can all add to the good name of Clanton.

THORSBY SECTION
(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Death of Magne Anderson.

Thorsby has sustained a distinct loss in the passing away of this quiet, refined and Godly man, who died at the family home near Thorsby Sunday morning, February 8, aged nearly 77 years.

Mr. Anderson was born in Norway, May 25, 1848, where he grew to manhood, migrating to America in 1881, settling in Chicago. In 1885 he married Inga Helland. Five children were born to them, two of them dying in infancy. In 1901 the family came to Thorsby, forming an important element in the Scandinavian colony that developed the town of Thorsby. Here he had a prominent part in making an attractive home in a wilderness and in religious life in the new and growing community. Reared in the Lutheran faith, the state church of Norway, he affiliated himself with the Norwegian Lutheran church of Thorsby, was active in its influence and Superintendant of its Sunday School for ten years, or until the organization was disbanded. He later, with his family, united with the Swedish Lutheran church of Thorsby, of which he was a member and a trustee to the end of his life.

By his kindly disposition, industry and sterling integrity he won the love and confidence of all who knew him, and the citizenship of Thorsby was largely represented at his funeral which was held at Thorsby Lutheran church at 2:00 p. m., Tuesday, February 10. Having no pastor at this time in the Lutheran church, and no minister of that denomination being available, the services were conducted by Rev. E. W. Butler, a long time friend of the family, assisted by Rev. Joseph E. Each, pastor of Thorsby Congregational church. The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful. Burial was in Thorsby Lutheran cemetery.

Besides his widow, Mr. Anderson leaves two children and three grand children. Thorsby people will long remember the sad taking off of their son, Einar, in 1918, a bright and lovable young man who left college to enter U. S. Service during the late war, and died at his post of duty. One son, Albert, of Sylva, N. C., and a daughter, Hilda, Mrs. Ivey Horn, of Birmingham, with three young children still remain.

Rural Route Extension.

Mr. Lee Vickers, who lives on the Christiansen place north of Thorsby, announces that his efforts to secure rural mail service for a considerable territory lying east and north of Thorsby, have been successful, and on Monday last he recieved word from our representative in congress, Hon. Lamar Jeffers, that the application has been approved and service will begin March 1.

The route begins near Thorsby Gin, thence easterly to the Martin Petersen road, soon to opened through between Jones street and Nat Bentley's. At the corner it turns east to Dyrhovd's place, thence north to meet the east and west road from Jemison, then west to the road which passes Frank Nelson's place, to the highway leading back to Thorsby. The distance covered is about 6 miles, and the route is supposed to serve 33 patrons. Those living near the route can order their boxes, which should be done at once, at Thorsby Hardware Company.

A somewhat novel party is scheduled for Saturday night, February 14. For some time past the Congregational church choir has been divided into two sections, each trying to make points by attendance, general interest and good work for a stated period, the losing side to entertain the winning side, hence the party, which naturally will be exclusively for the choir members. Since all told there are upwards of 30 people in the game, they will probably have a good time.

Mrs. Nels C. Petersen and children have returned from a visit to Mrs. Petersen's parents at West Point, Ga.

Mrs. Ethel Wright Loveland has returned from her home at Downers' Grove, near Chicago, and taken up her work in Thorsby Institute.

Thorsby Parent-Teachers Association will hold a sociable at the home of Mrs. Reno S. Villadsen, Thursday afternoon, February 12.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ford (nee Lorena Graham) have moved from Binghampton, N. Y. to Ashville, Ky., where Mr. Ford will engage in insurance business with his brother, Robert Ford.

Miss Pearl Carlson gave a miscellaneous shower last Saturday afternoon, in honor of Miss Beatrice Johnson, a bride-to-be in the coming spring. Miss Johnson received many lovely and useful articles. A delightful afternoon was spent; the invited guests all registered in the bride's book; refreshments were served.

Mr. John Johnson is moving his family this week to their new home in Fairfield. Mr. Johnson's family has lived among us for several years and made many friends in and about Thorsby.

Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Butler entertained a number of guests at a Radio party last Friday night. Mr. Nat Bently kindly engineered his fine radio set for the chief attraction. The principal interest was aroused by a concert given in St. Louis by the Illinois College Glee Club. Illinois College is Mr. Butler's Alma Mater, and of course interested to hear how the students were keeping up the traditions of past years. Other numbers were received from Jefferson City, Mo., and Des Moines, Iowa. The guests expressed much pleasure with what they heard.

There are many people who resent irreverance in or about a church. There is a group of boys in Thorsby who seem to have no idea of decorum in, and the proper use of the Sanctuary.

W. L. Leary has been quite ill for several days but is reported to be better now.

Miss Agnes Leary has returned from Birmingham, where she has spent some time visiting relatives and friends. She brought with her as her guest, Miss Olive Bray of Birmingham.

Earl Leary spent the week-end with his parents in Thorsby.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Franklin are on the sick list, and Postmaster Grover Bice is driving the rural route temporarily.

NASH

Sales Records Broken!

This Announcement is Addressed
To the business men in this community, and in particular to some energetic men who want to enter the automobile business with the greatest assurance of the greatest success.

DURING 1924 Nash Dealers everywhere have been riding on a full tide of prosperity. This year there is an opportunity for some local business man to share in the great progress Nash is making.

In the Southeast alone, during the last four months of 1924, with Nash demand greater than the production of all Nash Factories, sales increased 103.8% over the same period in 1923.

Nash Success is a Tribute to Sheer Business Ability and You Can Share in Its Benefits

When Nash Dealers in the South have been able to more than double their sales, naturally their profits have also taken a mighty jump upward. This is typical of the Nash Motor Company's brilliant, nation-wide growth.

That this rich, strong, able Company is headed for unrivaled success can be seen in the tribute of Wall Street where Nash Motors Stock jumped in LESS THAN A YEAR from 95½ to over 215 in January 1925. These facts are particularly significant to the clear-thinking business man. They show the confidence of the nation's shrewdest business leaders in Nash.

Is This Big Opportunity For You?

In this community a man or group of men of integrity and proven ability can secure a very valuable, exclusive Nash Franchise. With it goes the opportunity to connect with and secure exceptional cooperation from the outstanding and most successful high grade automobile manufacturer of the country. A moderate investment necessary. Fully safeguarded. This is an exceptional, permanent business opportunity. Complete information is available now. Quick action is suggested.

The Public Has Made this Record

The public is the final and absolute judge of merit, and sales records are made entirely by it. Nash Automobiles, made in a broad range of styles, combine every requirement of the public for attractive, substantial, economical automobile transportation. Every sound, modern feature is embodied in their construction. If this were not a fact, the tremendous, nation-wide increase in Nash popularity would be impossible. Think what this would mean to you as the exclusive Nash dealer in this community, especially with the unstinted aid of the Martin-Nash Motor Company, Southeastern Distributors with offices in Atlanta.

Business men who desire to secure the Nash Franchise in this community should come to Atlanta or write or wire to have a representative of this organization bring ALL the facts to them at once.

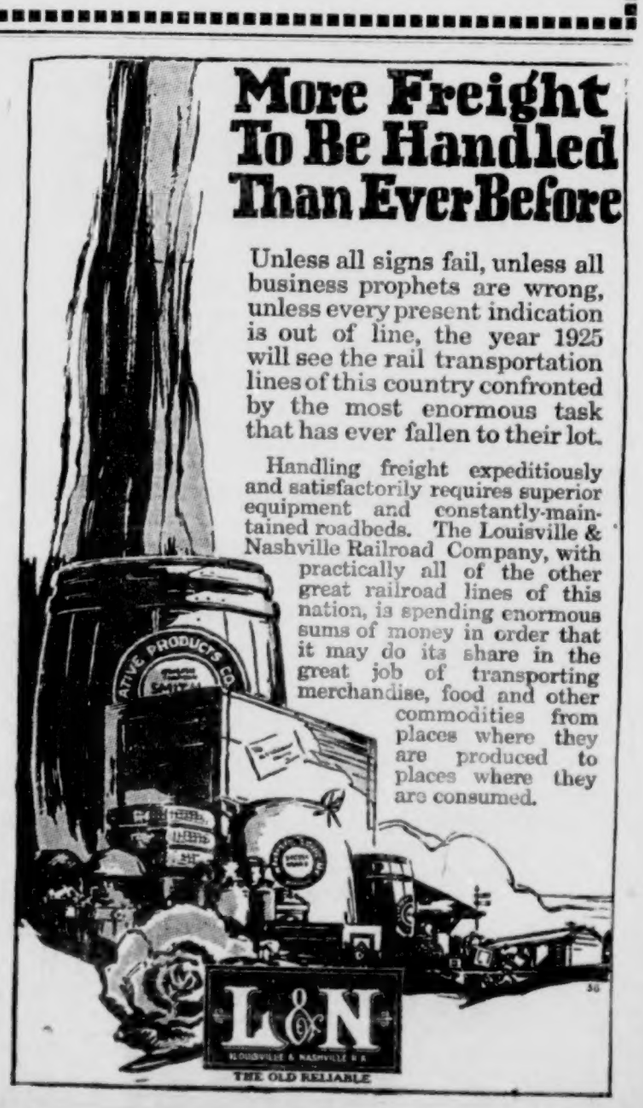
More Freight To Be Handled Than Ever Before



Unless all signs fail, unless all business prophets are wrong, unless every present indication is out of line, the year 1925 will see the rail transportation lines of this country confronted by the most enormous task that has ever fallen to their lot.

Handling freight expeditiously and satisfactorily requires superior equipment and constantly-maintained roadbeds. The Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, with practically all of the other great railroad lines of this nation, is spending enormous sums of money in order that it may do its share in the great job of transporting merchandise, food and other commodities from places where they are produced to places where they are consumed.

ORIGINAL

CHEVROLET BREAKS RECORDS

The Chevrolet Motor Company broke all its previous January records for retail sales and orders during the last month. In fact the record was made in the last 28 days of the month or since January 3 when new Chevrolet was announced.

The Chevrolet dealers throughout the country delivered and took orders for approximately 40 per cent more cars during January thas during either January 1924 or January 1925—the first month in the two years having the highest production and sales records in the history of the industry.

During the recent Chicago automobile show 1,107 Chevrolets were sold ---a record which has never before been equalled by any car exhibited at thisshow during the same period of time.

In New York during the automobile show, where the new Chevrolet wes shown for the first time, five times as many orders were taken as during any previous New York show.

At the Detroit, Cleveland, Philadelphia and other shows in the larger centers of population, held previous to the Chicago show, similar high records of sales were made.

"Such sales records made, not only at the automobile shows, but by dealers throughout the country, are indicative of the public acceptance of the new Chevrolet," points out R. H. Grant, general sales manager

"In many cases, before the dealers received some of the models, these cars were purchased from specifications and photographs only," he comments. "The reason for this national acceptance lines in the fact that the new Chevrolet combines greater quality at low cost than ever before."

Mr. J. F. Anderson of Pletcher was among the visitors to Clanton Monday.

W. F. Deshazo of Mulberry was in Clanton doing business with the Commissioners Court Monday.

If there is a local industry that a little capital might put it over, this is a good year to give it a lift.

HOW CHICAGO WARNS ITS SPEEDERS

IF speeding motorists have any conscience at all, it is certain that signs like the above will instill caution in them. These death markers are part of Chicago's campaign to prevent automobile accidents and have been placed at every spot where speeding and careless driving claimed a victim. A grim warning, indeed.

Night Coughing Stopped Quickly By Simple Treatment

Thousands who are troubled with persistent coughing at night, which by robbing them of valuable sleep weakens their systems and lays them open to dangerous infections, can quickly act to prevent this danger through a very simple treatment. People who have hardly been able to rest at all on account of coughing spells have found they can sleep the whole night through undisturbed often the first time they try it.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring, and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is you usually sleep soundly the very first night, and the entire cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription is highly recommended for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's coughs and spasmodic croup—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

REV. J. T. WILLIAMS MOVES FROM CANTON TO SHANGHAI

Rev. J. Toy Williams, former Chilton County preacher and evangelist, who has been doing evangelistic work in Canton, China under the auspices of the Southern Baptist Convention for the past four or five years, has recently moved from Canton and has pitched his tent, so to speak, in Shanghai, where he will continue to carry on the good work. Rev. Williams, although residing on the opposite side of the globe from Clanton, Alabama, still enjoys hearing from his old home town and county. The following communication has just been received from Rev. Williams by The Union-Banner:—

"Canton, China, Jan. 17th.
The Union-Banner, Clanton, Ala.

Will you please change my paper from Baptist Mission, Canton, China, to The Baptist Compound, Paoshing Road, Shanghai, China. Thank you for this favor. We are moving to Shanghai some time soon and hope not to miss a copy of The Union-Banner. You are doing a good job at the county newspaper business. Go to it and keep the good work going on. Will send you some new "copy" some time soon.

Yours very truly,
J. T. WILLIAMS."

The last sentence will be of interest to the American readers of The Union-Banner in which Mr. Williams says that he will soon send us some more "copy." You will remember that a few months ago Mr. Williams sent us an article telling of one of the Baptist Missionaries falling in the hands of Chinese bandits, which was published in full in The Union-Banner. Our people at home enjoyed reading this article very much, and will be glad to read any other news from Mr. Williams.

The people of Chilton County, and especially the thousands of Baptists, are very much elated over the noble work which our son, Rev. Williams, is doing in the heathen land, and we are always glad to have a word from him telling us of where he is and what he is doing. Look over the columns and see what Rev. Williams is going to tell us next time. We hope to have a letter from him in the near future.

Mr. Lee Robinson of Verbena was in Clanton the first of this week.

TWO MEN CAUGHT AT LOCK 12 WITH BOOZE

Last Thursday night Sam Powers, superintendent at Lock 12, called the sheriff's office at Clanton and notified the officers that he was holding two men out there with whiskey, they having been stopped by Mr. Powers while crossing the river on the dam. Sheriff Littlejohn went to Lock 12 and returned with Ben Cardwell and Will Depositer, two white men who live in Chilton County near Lock 12. Both men were placed in jail, Depositer making bond Sunday. Cardwell is still in jail.

MRS. R. F. WYATT OPERATED ON AT SO. HIGHLANDS INFIRMARY

Mrs. Charlott Wyatt, wife of Ruben F. Wyatt of Clanton was operated on at the South Highlands Infirmary in Birmingham Tuesday of this week. Mrs. Wyatt was carried to the infirmary a week ago and the doctors advised that she take treatment a few days before operation. She was affected with some kind of parasitic growth, the doctors not knowing before operation exactly what the growth was.

Late reports from relatives at the bedside of Mrs. Wyatt say that she stood the operation well and that she seems to be resting fairly well.

TALLADEGAN KILLS VISITOR

Ellis Hammons was shot and killed Sunday night by Jesse Mask near Sycamore. The killing took place on the porch of Mask.

The exact cause of the shooting is not known but from reports Hammons came to the home of Mask and insulted his wife. Mask went to the home of his father, about three miles away, police declare, and returned with a pistol and killed Hammons. From the position of the body of Hammons upon arrival and from the bullet holes in the floor, it is believed he was shot through the back while on the floor. Each bullet passed completely through the body and went through the floor beneath him.

The shooting was about 10 o'clock and when the sheriff arrived Claude Mask had escaped, going to the home of his brother at Sylacauga, where he was later arrested.

In August, 1921, Uriah Jones, living in the Hammons settlement, as this settlement is sometimes called, shot and killed Chalmons and Simms Hammons and seriously wounded Ellis Hammons. Ellis Hammons was in the hospital for a long time but survived. One bullet that passed through his body Sunday night missed the old wound only a fraction of an inch.

The Hammons settlement is South of Sycamore.

T. GILLAND SHOT BY UNKNOWN PARTY FRIDAY NIGHT

Reports reached Clanton early this week that T. Gilliland, otherwise known as T. Gillmore, who lives on and owns the old Tom Cleckler place on the River, was rather mysteriously shot last Friday night. Reports say that Gilliland was sitting by the fire in his home when someone shot him with a revolver through a crack in the wall. It is reported that Gilliland was shot four times, three balls lodging in his right arm and the other lodging in his right side.

Gilliland had been having some trouble with some of his neighbors, reports say. The person doing the shooting is not known.

Cave City, Ky., Feb. 16.—Floyd Collins was reached and found dead at 2:45 this afternoon, according to an official announcement after rescuers had penetrated into what they believed was the original Sand Cave cavern where Collins was caught.

No medical examination was made as it was impossible for a physician to reach the victim.

The misadventure of Floyd Collins, obscure backwoods cave explorer, has so tapped those elemental emotions and instincts which have swayed humans almost from the beginning of time that more than $150,000 has been spent in this Kentucky wilderness to free him from his subterranean grave and to tell the story to the world.

Body Will Not be Removed From Cavern.

The body of Floyd Collins will be left in his natural tomb and his funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the mouth of the shaft which was dug to rescue him but in vain. His aged father, Lee Collins, consented to the arrangements after Dr. Hazlett, of Chicago, had himself examined Collins and pronounced him dead.

Seven friends of Collins crawled down into the tunnel to identify him, as members of a coroner's jury, including Magistrate Clay Turner, the acting coroner.

"Everything has been done that could have been done and man's ingenuity and modern machinery have failed," said Mr. Collins. "No more lives should be sacrificed in further attemps to remove his body.

If the true story of what is going on behind the scenes in congress could be revealed it would read like a brainstorm. Filibusters are shaping the legislature for the last two weeks. Many interests are anxious to prevent certain legislation from being enacted, many individuals and organizations are eager to put things thru.

The "legislative jam" of yesteryears has arrived. The steering committees are trying to see what they can save out of the wreck. Delay is the chief weapon of the opponents of legislation. By asking for hearings and by attaching riders certain to be taken off, bills are kept from being acted upon. Sometimes they are held so long in committee that serious consideration is blocked. Sometimes the house passes something which contradicts or provokes controversey with the senate. Thus, in the last hours of a session, bills are left by the wayside. The only question now is what can be saved. Many important measures will die on March 4.

President Coolidge became convinced early this session that if he said there would be a special session, congress would dilly-dally and fail to get much through by March 4, perhaps not even appropriation bills. His attitude has brought action at least on the money bills. But the opponents of legislation have taken advantage of the presidential position to kill some measures. Coolidge has said that he would not pledge himself definitely against an extra session, as circumstances might require him to summon congress. But the president has indicated that he has no purpose of calling congress any earlier than next October or November and that if important legislation is left over, he will feel that congress, and not the executive is to blame.

Dr. J. P. Crumpton is improving fast, and will be able to go to work within a few days. He is feeling fine now, but is still a little weak.

The child of Mr. R. S. Easterling which was kicked by a mule over a week ago, is still in the hospital but is getting along nicely. It will be able to go home in a few days.

MORE EXPLOSIVES ARE BEING USED BY FARMERS NOW

Increases From 76,000 Pounds Last Year to 100,000 Pounds To Date This Year.

Auburn, Ala., Feb. 16.—A substantial increase in the amount of explosives used by farmers this winter compared with last is shown by L. C. LeBron, agricultural engineer.

During the 1923-24 season farmers used 76,000 pounds of soda as compared with 100,000 pounds of pyrotol to date this season. Indications are that additional orders will total 50,000 pounds making the total this year double that of last.

Both sodatol and pyrotol are war-salvaged explosives which are distributed at cost to farmers through their county agents. The supply of sodatol was exhausted last year while pyrotol is still available; and, according to numerous reports received by Mr. LeBron from farmers, pyrotol is strongly favored by them.

Three Alabama counties—Baldwin, Limestone, and Monroe—each bought a carload of pyrotol containing 16,000 pounds, while Randolph and Elmore each bought more than 5,000 pounds.

Mr. LeBron has notified the county agents that a supply of pyrotol has been stored in Auburn for the convenience of Alabama farmers. A popular practice among farmers is to use explosives for stumping land ahead of the plows during the spring breaking in March and early April. That bought by them has been used for clearing new land, stumping, ditching, tree planting, rock blasting and for other farm explosive purposes. He estimates that a saving of $10,000 has been effected on the amount handled to date. The government distributes it to farmers at cost.

FIRE AT COOPER CONSUMES TWO STORES

A fire in which two store houses were destroyed occurred at Cooper, Monday night between 12:00 and 2:00 o'clock. The wood structure belonging to Mr. T. C. McSwain, which was occupied by J. M. Stroud, and the store house of Tom Patterson, together with the contents of both were burned. Both stocks of goods consisted mostly of groceries, and the total loss of the conflagration is estimated at about $2,500.

ORIGIN FOUND TO FAMOUS SLOGAN

"Safety First" Was First Used by Steel Company in Illinois

Chicago, Feb. 16.—The origin of the slogan "Safety First" has been traced to a sign used above the gate of an Illinois steel company, 15 years ago, according to the National Safety council. The sign read: "Safety is the first consideration in this plant." This particular plant also used the slogan on all of its correspondence. Before long, the employees of that plant were referring to the "safety first" idea and what it meant.

"Safety first' does not mean safety above all else in its true sense", W. H. Cameron, managing director of the National Safety council, says. "It means the exercise of reasonable caution in meeting the hazards of our everyday existence so as to minimize the useless destruction of life and limb by avoidable accidents. At least 75 per cent of the 85,000 lives lost in accidents in the United States last year could have been avoided by the exercise of ordinary caution on the part of those killed or some other person directly or indirectly responsible.

CHILTON HI DEFEATS MARBURY

Chilton County High School basket ball team defeated the Marbury team last Friday afternoon on the former's court at Clanton, 33 to 9. The Chilton team outclassed in every phase of the game, especially in goal-shooting. Chilton showed a fine defense system, letting Marbury have but few shots at goal. Marbury is accustomed to an indoor court, and the play being on an open court handicapped them some. However, Chilton has beaten them once this season on their own court. The whole Chilton team played air-tight ball, making it hard to pick a star, although Rutland shot goals almost at will throughout the game. Champion played a good defense game for Marbury, and he, with Mitchell and Sanford, played best for their team. The line-up is as follows:

Chilton	— Position —	Marbury
Thompson	R. F.	Sanford.
Rutland	L. F.	Gray.
Ruffin	C.	Mitchell.
Hayes	R. G.	Peek.
Connatser	L. G.	Champion.

Field goals: Thompson 2, Rutland 9, Ruffin 2, Hayes 3; Gray 2, Sanford 2. Free throws on fouls: Connatser 1; Gray 1. Substitutes: Arant for Connatser; Dallas for Gray.

CONWAY-BAKER TRIAL HELD HERE MONDAY

The case of W. R. Baker against C. C. Conway relative to the membership of the County Board of education of Chilton County was tried at the court house in Clanton Monday by Judge Geo. F. Smoot of Wetumpka. The contest between Mr. Baker and Mr. Conway is an effort to determine which one of the two are to take the place of Mr. L. A. Calloway, who was a member of the Board and resigned some months ago. The name of Mr. Baker was entered on the Republican ticket in the last general election and received a large majority of the votes over his Democratic opponent. The county board failed to recognize Mr. Baker, but instead they elected C. C. Conway to fill the vacancy of Mr. Calloway.

All of the briefs were read by the attorneys and several witnesses examined, but Judge Smoot withheld a decision until he had time to visit the Supreme Court Library in Montgomery and look up some law on the matter. Judge Smoot is to mail in his decision to the Circuit Clerk at Clanton as soon as same is reached.

The counsel for Baker were Grady Reynolds and Omar Reynolds. The counsel representing Conway were Lawrence F. Gerald and J. B. Atkinson, all of Clanton.

The three men who have been in jail in Clanton for three weeks, charged with stealing an automobile at Stanton, were taken to Montgomery and placed in jail there for safe keeping last Thursday. The men were carried to Montgomery and placed where they could be kept in a more safe place. They will not be apt to saw out of the Montgomery jail.

Thompson have been at Dadeville for over a year attending the business of the company down there. The business here has been in the charge of J. T. Thompson. The latter will still live at his place two miles north-east of Clanton, but will be at Dadeville most of the time.

ANNUAL RABBIT HUNT TO BE EVENT OF NEXT MONDAY

Races Begin at 9:00 o'clock at Cross Roads Between Mullins and Hilyer Places in Beat One.

To the sportsmen of Chilton County next Monday will be the biggest day of the year, that being the day on which the annual rabbit hunt will be held. The scene of the event will be at the cross roads between the homes of Dave Mullins and J. D. Hilyer, or at least that is where the fun starts; of course, there is no telling where it will progress to during the day, as the merry band will hunt where there are the most rabbits. The time to meet is 9:00 o'clock, so be there with old Rover, Spot, Fido and Skeet. There will be something for all of them to do; but leave your gun at home. The dogs are going to do the stuff at the annual rabbit hunt.

The delectation of this occasion is free to all who wish to participate. If you have never joined, come and be initiated—now is the best time you will ever have. There are no fees—all it costs is just to go. The dogs will do the rest.

The open season for hunting most all other game is closed under the laws of Alabama, so you might as well take advantage of this last chance. There is no law against killing rabbits, so you need have no fear of violating the law. Be on hand by 9:00 o'clock, lest you be too late to get all the fun; and don't forget the place.

SPECIAL EXAMINER AT PROBATE JUDGE'S OFFICE

On Monday of this week another special examiner from the office of Judge McCord of Montgomery, was sent to Clanton to examine the poll tax records in the office of the Probate Judge of Chilton County. This examiner, together with a special attorney hired by private parties to examine these county records, worked in Judge Reynolds' office a while Monday, and they soon found that no irregularities existed in the records of that office in the poll tax and voting list records. The examiners were very courteous to Judge Reynolds, and they received the same treatment from him.

RURAL PROBLEMS TO BE DISCUSSED

A discussion of rural social problems will be one of the features at the coming session of the Alabama Conference of Social Work which meets in Mobile, March 8-10. The welfare of children in rural communities is becoming an increasing problem with changing conditions in country life. The organization of juvenile courts, the enforcement of school attendance laws and the care of dependent children will be featured on the program.

Many problems center around the rural school. Mrs. John B. Cleaver of Middleton, Delaware, Chairman of the Country Life Committee of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, is to be one of the outsending speakers. She has been especially active in the organization of Parent-Teacher associations in rural schools. She believes that this organization can become the great socializing agency in the community by getting the people to work together for school and community betterment.

Other speakers are to be Mrs. E. L. Hayes of Hartselle, President of the Alabama Parent-Teacher Association; Miss Agnes Ellen Harris, Dean of Women at Auburn; Miss Lulu Cassidy of Atlanta, and Dr. John W. Abercrombie, State Superintendent of Education.

It is expected that a large number of delegates from Parent-Teacher associations and other organizations will be in attendance at the Conference. The railroads have granted reduced fares to Mobile from all points in Alabama at the rate of one fare and a half for the round trip upon the certificate plan.

Cough Remedy Mother Gave Us Still Best

Pine Tar and Honey Beat All Modern Drugs

In thousands of families it has been the custom for many years to keep pine tar and honey always on hand for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, and throat irritations. Our mothers knew that it was good, that it often broke up the worst cough in 24 hours, and that it could be given to young and old alike, as it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs.

And now we are told that in spite of modern medical discoveries there is still no better or quicker cough remedy. Doctors say the pine tar quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion that cause the coughing, also healing soreness, while the honey not only gives a pleasant taste, but helps soothe irritation.

The original compound, made up many years ago and used by millions of people, was Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. This is scientifically composed of just the right proportions of pine tar, honey and other quick-acting, healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in quick relief. If you want the original and the best, be sure you get Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey and no other. Only 30c. at any good druggists.

THE PRAYER THAT BROUGHT VICTORY AND FREEDOM

SCENES of 1776, such as this, will be recalled by picture, tongue and pen throughout the country this month when the nation pauses to honor the birthday of George Washington.

The photograph above, posed by Capt. J. Kirk McCurdy of Swarthmore, Pa., depicts Washington at prayer during the trying days at Valley Forge. This picture was made on the actual spot where the great "father of his country" so often knelt in prayer for Victory and the Freedom our great country now enjoys.

Mr. D. M. Apperson of Maplesville Route 2 was in Clanton a while Monday of this week.

CHEVROLET FACTORY BUILDING MORE CARS

With a scheduled production of 40,000 cars for March, the Chevrolet Motor Company is gaining increased momentum in the building of the new Chevrolet and the working force is being added to in each of the 12 manufacturing and assembly plants thruout the country.

W. S. Knudson, president and general manager, estimates that within the next month and a half the actual factory working force will have been augmented approximately 40%.

"Whereas the sale of the new Chevrolet is pushing us to our capacity to fill orders, we are not expanding our working force any more quickly than we can absorb them," explains Mr. Knudsen. "When going into production with a new model made from new tools, it is important that the entire job be co-ordinated carefully so as to give the high grade result expected by the buying public now as never before.

"Happily, however, expansion of production in our Chevrolet factory centers is not so difficult as might be supposed, because lists of our former experienced workers who may have been out of employment during a short period are kept on hand and these men are recalled to their old positions as they are needed. In this way the majority of trained automotive workers are trained, leaving the training of a minimum number necessary."

Mr. Jim Short of Sardis was in Clanton Monday.

Will Undo Much Evil
By Dr. V. M. Pierce

Knowing the vast amount of harm wrought by diseases of the kidneys, and having had opportunity to observe the analyses and the successful methods of treatment in thousands of cases of kidney trouble at the Invalids' Hotel, I have recently given to the public the latest and perhaps most important of the Dr. Pierce home remedies, "An-uric" (anti-uric-acid) Tablets, which I now recommend to those who suffer with kidney backache, irregularity of urination and the pains and disturbances that come from excess of uric acid in the blood.

"An-uric" can be obtained at all the drug stores. The mere drinking of a cup of hot water each morning and a little "An-uric" before every meal should bring remarkably quick improvement. You may have kidney trouble and not know it. The danger signals to be quickly heeded are backache, depression, aches, pains, heaviness, drowsiness, dizziness, irritability, headaches, chilliness, rheumatic twinges, swollen joints, gout.

If you desire a trial package, send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Clinic in Buffalo, N. Y., and write for free advice.

MISS POPWELL ENTERTAINS

Never was the home any prettier than on last Friday night when Miss Mary Popwell entertained for the Sunday School class.

Red and white being the color scheme, was skillfully carried out. Mrs. R. L. Williams presided over the punch bowl.

Games and music were enjoyed until a late hour, after which an iced course was served to about thirty guests.

Facts about Child-birth

IT has been proven conclusively that much of the suffering, pain and dread experienced during expectancy, as well as at child-birth is entirely unnecessary.

An eminent physician, Dr. J. H. Holmes, expert in this science, first produced the great remedy "Mother's Friend," which aids the muscles and tissues to expand more easily, during the constant readjustment, month after month, right up to the climax of child-birth.

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally. Three generations of expectant mothers have used it. "Pains disappeared in two days after using 'Mother's Friend,'" writes a user. "I owe my life to 'Mother's Friend,'" declared another. Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did, start today and experience the wonderful comfort it will give you.

CONSTIPATION goes, and energy, pep and vim return when taking CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS
Keep stomach sweet—liver active—bowels regular—only 25c.

Sick Headache

"I have used Black-Draught when needed for the past 25 years," says Mrs. Emma Grimes, of Forbes, Mo. "I began taking it for a bad case of constipation. I would get constipated and feel just miserable—sluggish, tired, a bad taste in my mouth, . . . and soon my head would begin hurting and I would have a severe sick headache. I don't know just who started me to taking but it did the work. It just seemed to cleanse the liver. Very soon I felt like new. When I found Black-Draught so easy to take and easy-acting, I began to use it in time and would not have sick headaches."

Constipation causes the system to re-absorb poisons that may cause great pain and much danger to your health. Take Thedford's Black-Draught. It will stimulate the liver and help to drive out the poisons.

Sold by all dealers. Costs only one cent a dose. E-104

"Cleanliness," the old proverb says, "is next to Godliness." But modern philosophers with bobbed hair and painted cheeks paraphrase the famous old adage into "Cleanliness is next to face-powder."

Cost of transportation of children in rural schools by motor-driven vehicles averages about $32 a year per pupil, according to the U. S. Bureau of Education.—Alabama School Journal.

There still seems to be some uncertainty about where Section "C" of the State Highway will go. It was once settled on Seventh Street, but now there has been some objection raised to that route. Sixth Street would be the best route if it were not for Mr. Page's house being in that right-of-way. Mr. Page has a nice house, and the moving of it will greatly inconvenience him and entail quite an expense.

Yes—No—Yes—No—The Ground Hog was (not) on the job this time. For a few days we have sunshine, then we have rain, then we have a freeze. Old Ground Hog might have seen his shadow and he might not—and that might not have a great deal to do with the weather no way. We guess he saw something and is undecided whether it was his shadow or not.

Whether their motive was free newspaper publicity or not, the people of Sand Cave have got it from the Floyd Collins business any way. The daily papers as well as a few million of their readers have gone as nutty over Floyd Collins as they did over cross-word puzzles. But you know people now-a-days crave sensation any way. In fact they are not greatly interested in anything unless it is sensational.

In all parts of Alabama there is a most creditable program of school building in progress. Buildings embodying modern principles of architecture, lighting, and heating may now be found in every county; and the demand for such structures is on the increase. This is a healthful sign and carries with a demand, on the part of the public, that adequate school terms and trained teachers be supplied along with the buildings.

A headline in the Washington Post says that a pastor quit his post because whiskey and dancing girls were brought into his gathering of people. We say hurrah for that preacher. We need more of his kind—in fact no other kind has a right to the pulpit. Our preachers and Christians fellowship entirely too much ungodliness these days, and as a result the church is fast losing its influence. Our people are living too easy and are giving too little thought to the salvation of their souls and the souls of others. The Almighty is going to call our hands some day and show us where we are. It may be a pestilence, it may be a panic, or it may be a world war, but it is coming in some form, and God's people will be humbled to the earth. The race cannot exist long at the rate it is living today.

In view of the fight against Dr. Spright Dowell, president of Auburn College, by the alumnae of Birmingham, the Board of Trustees of Auburn last week gave Dr. Dowell the strongest commendation for the work he has done for the college since he was at its head. This fight against Dr. Dowell was sponsored by highheads who believe that man has attained wisdom above that of the Almighty and that man knows more how to run things than God does. These alumnae want the theory of evolution taught in Auburn as it is being taught in the University of Chicago, and several other of our great institutions of learning. Dr. Spright Dowell is an orthodox Christian man, fearful of God's word and a firm believer in the Bible as it really is. The Board of Trustees did the right thing when they retained Dr. Dowell at the head of Auburn. This question of evolution has no place in our public schools and colleges but the plain old Bible should be taught instead. God knows best for His people, and He has imparted to them through His Book the knowledge to which they are entitled. It is dangerous for man to try to improve on the works of Almighty God.

EDUCATION IN BIRMINGHAM

Birmingham schools cost less per pupil than those of any other of the 23 cities in the 100,000 and over class.—Alabama School Journal.

"WITH MY LITTLE HATCHET—I DID IT!"

GEORGE WASHINGTON

Washington's work goes on and many have helped: Marshall, for 34 years Chief Justice of the Supreme Court; Lincoln, in saving the Union and freeing the slave; Cleveland, who stood out for strong and honest government; McKinley and Roosevelt, in assuring for our country a greater place in the world; Wilson, consolidating the power of a new United States built on miracles of progress and based on the loyalty of men drawn here from every land on earth.

You cannot keep a great man's hands in the grave. So our hearts are lifted up on February 22nd.

But, labor it as we will, what does it all amount to—this tale of a man gone long ago? What have we to do with that dim eighteenth century when the few held their power at the edge of sudden peril and went gay in silks, while the many wore canvas and leather; that age of wigs and powdered hair, of narrow piety and unending toil, of high romance and exalted duty?

Well, you can find out any day at Mt. Vernon. You have seen the pots and pans that cooked his meals, the crude farm machinery that worked his fields, the desk and chair that he used, and then, when the guide is taking your party along the hall upstairs, you hear the man's voice shake a little as he stops by an open door to say, for what must be the ten-thousandth time, "He died in that room." It goes through you somehow. The stout Chicagoan drops his chewed cigar, a New Yorker grabs off his hat, the Boston lady forgets to close her lips on her last question and looks silly with her mouth open like that. It isn't his name on the map from Greenland to the Fiji Islands, his statue in public places of honor, his portrait on the stamps, nor yet that high white shaft of marble soaring to the sky as sunset glory floods the Blue Ridge; not there his fame, but in your sudden hushed sense of the truth of soul and strength of heart by which Washington helped his world.

What word would he have left for us when the fever and pain were on him and he lay waiting for the dawn that he was never again to see coming along the Potomac's silver flood? Perhaps that victorious wisdom which burst so hotly from his heart when the Philadelphia convention seemed bound to end in one more disappointment:

"Let us raise a standard to which the wise and the honest can repair; the event is in the hand of God."

That, forevermore, is George Washington.

STILL MOPPING UP AFTER 1914

If the talked-of disarmament conference materializes this year, it will be 1925's most important event. Just as the Washington Conference was the big business of 1922, the funding of the British debt the big business of 1923 and the Dawes plan the big business of 1924.

All these gigantic operations had their origin in activities begun in August, 1914. Ten years after the war began the world's best minds are still engaged in mopping up. Even so, they have made only a beginning. The armament race is still under way in aircraft, submarines, poison gases and vessels below the limits set by the Washington Conference. The Dawes plan may not work, the Allies still hold the Rhine, Germany has not disarmed, the network of government-to-government debts is still a nasty tangle.

No living man will see the end of the war's effects. When we are doddering toward our graves, statesmen will still be clearing away the debris of the war little by little in order that the normal activities of the human race, interrupted in 1914, may be resumed. 1968 taxes certainly will be drawn upon to meet 1918 debts. And no matter how shrewdly leaders may compound war losses that are of record, outside the ledger there lies all the vast incalculable misery of the conflict, suffering that left its mark and is gone beyond relief.

Year by year, as the civilized world goes along mopping up the results of the war, the conviction that war means nothing but loss ought to grow. If anyone still believes that even victors gain by war, let him remember that it is precisely upon the victors that the responsibility for salvaging operations falls.

ON GOING TO THE DEVIL

They say this country is going to hell.

We are idling too much, quarreling too much, spending too much.

Adults are crazy and young people too smart.

There is too much golf, too many automobiles, too much jazz in foot and head.

Millions of people are drinking bootleg whiskey not good for them and think it smart.

We have many other habits equally bad.

For one thing, we are condemning the reactionists, when they are precisely the men who should be put in charge of affairs.

I have a friend who has been credited several years with owning his own home. He sold it the other day and after he had paid the mortgage, the accumulated interest and back taxes he still owed nine dollars.

Too many of us own our homes that way; too many business houses are controlled by owners like my friend, who had two automobiles and rode in them almost constantly to the neglect of his affairs. He fell heir to a good business from his father, but wrecked it by membership in foolish clubs, by being an automobile enthusiast, by taking too long vacations; by being a modern live wire.

A good fellow, this man.

Too good a fellow.

He complained to me bitterly when he said goodbye.

The modern spirit, this pep thing, this live-wire thing, got him.

It isn't the country that is going to the devil; it is the people. We're having too good a time and not working and saving enough. We've lost control of our children; they are not being properly taught; if we do not ourselves behave our children will not.

There is just one power that can save us: the newspapers.

I appeal to the editors, fine fellows all. Quit criticising the country; jump the people. They're running away.

We have the same country we've always had and it is all right, but we have a different people. They're too progressive, too idle; they have a lot of new ideas and there is no sense in them.—E. W. Howe's Monthly, Atchison, Kan.

Frank Griffin of the Temple community is now in Nashville, Tenn., where he has gone to take a ten weeks course in automobile mechanics in the Auto College of that place.

FARM FACTS

"Farmers get too much credit of the wrong kind and not enough of the right kind."—L. N. Duncan, Auburn, Ala.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has succeeded in developing a puckerless persimmon. It is now being produced commercially in California.

Early spring is a good time to prune peach trees. Winter injuries can be detected and dead branches cut off.

Some housewives save time, patience, and clothespins by pinning small pieces of laundry to a tape, and then pinning the tape to the line.

Those who have tried it agree that farmers can free themselves of debt by raising enough feed and food for their families and livestock.

American farmers send to Chile annually $45,650,000 for nitrate of soda. Most of this is used on southern farms and very little of it would be needed if farmers would plant all the winter and summer legumes which they can work into their cropping systems.

Pigs, poultry, cows, and co-operation have made Danish farmers the richest in the world. At one time they went through a poverty period more severe than that of the South following the Civil War. Ninety-five per cent of the Danish farmers own their homes.

"The Agricultural and Farm Home Program for Alabama" has been published by the Extension Service, Auburn, and is being distributed by the county agents. It is a 48-page bulletin.

SHORT SCHOOL TERMS

From many counties of Alabama, there comes the echo of public resentment as reduced school terms are announced, according to H. G. Dowling, Secretary of the State Teachers Association. It is probable that more than a dozen counties will offer 90 days or less of schooling to rural white children during the 1924-25 term; and a large part of the state is well under a six-months term. Only six counties—Jefferson, Montgomery, Mobile, Bullock, Sumter, and Dallas—can afford anything like a standard 180-day period of open schools.

School funds have increased in some counties; but nowhere have funds kept pace with the rise in number of students and teachers or with the prices of building and equipment materials. In some counties, there was an actual reduction in school money available this year—due to a lowering of property values in certain districts and to the general failure of the public to pay up their poll tax.

CHANGE IN INAUGURAL DATE AGAIN URGED

Inauguration of the President early in January, elimination of the short session of Congress, ratification of constitutional amendments by direct vote of the people, with a time limit on ratification, were urged yesterday in the Senate by Senator Ashurst (Democrat), Arizona.

"No other country has its legislative body meet so remotely after the people have expressed their choice at the polls," he declared.

POOR OR

"Content's a Kingdom"

—THOMAS HEYWOOD

Every citizen of Clanton should possess it. For, are not the Prosperity, Progress and general Welfare of a great Community best reflected in the CONTENTED DISPOSITIONS OF ITS RESIDENTS?

Put yourself in the place of the visitor within our gates. If he's of the type who judge as they pass—and most of them do—he'll formulate his opinion of us and our town by the welcome he receives, the friendliness he observes about him, the neighborliness of our citizens and—the state of CONTENTMENT we show.

So go about with a friendly smile —one that you really mean. Speak a kind word for Clanton whenever the opportunity presents itself. Do a kind deed for your neighbor now and then and he'll do as much for you. Make the visitor feel at home by imparting what information you can with a cheerfulness that bespeaks your CONTENTMENT in living in this great community. Surely, you have every reason in the world to be CONTENT here.

Your interests, both commercial and social, are here. Our resources are just beginning to be developed. And yours are the countless opportunities to make this a better place in which to live and enjoy life to its fullest extent.

We, the undersigned professional and business interests, believe that the happy, CONTENTED citizen is a better Advertisement for Clanton than the biggest billboard on earth could be.

Heed this advice and—Be one.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Mrs. Magne Anderson, left Thorsby last Friday evening to make her home with her daughter, Hilda, Mrs. Ivey Horn, in Birmingham. Mrs. Horn with her three children and brother Albert Anderson accompanied Mrs. Anderson. They all expressed deep appreciation for the many acts and expressions of assistance and sympathy they recived during the trying days of the past few weeks, during the illness, death and burial of Mr. Anderson. They emphatically declare, "There are no friends on earth so good and kind as Thorsby friends!"

Miss Helen C. Jenkins, Principal of Thorsby Institute, left last Thursday for Syracuse N. Y. Where she expects to finish a course of study and receive, when she gradurates next June, a degree as Master of Arts. This will be her third graduation, or more properly speaking her fourth. First, Grammar school, Second High school, Third, College and fourth University. The remarkable thing about it is that between college and university graduation she has spent upwards of ten years carrying a load of responsibility that most people would never dare to undertake. As Principal of Thorsby Institute she has put it the stamp of her ideals, that have made it one of the notable educational institutions of the land, with a splendid reputation, extending from coast to coast. She has also assumed a large share of the duty of securing funds to keep it going, quiet, modest, unassuming, asking but little for herself, she has stood for years as a shrine at whose fires hundreds of young people have lighted their lamps of inspiration and gone forth to live nobler and more useful lives than if they had not known her.

This is no obituary, thank God this woman still lives, very much lives, and is still growing in capacity and influence. Hence her desire for more knowledge, so keen that in the midst of all her cares and duties she has discontinued her studies to a point where only a few months of partial release from details of her school work will enable her to grasp the coveted University Degree, and place her on a higher plane among educated people.

Miss Marie Anderson is in the Central Alabama Hospital at Clanton, where she has had an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. J. R. Gray, nee Louise Adams, of Birmingham, has been spending the past week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Adams in Thorsby.

Mrs. Martha Grothy spent Friday in Clanton.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid Society will meet Thursday afternoon, February 19th, at the home of Mrs. A. E. Reagan.

The Parent-Teachers Association will hold a social meeting Tuesday afternoon, February 24th, at the home of Mrs. C. M. Williams.

The Ladies Guild of Thorsby will hold their regular monthly social meeting Thursday afternoon, February 26th, at the home of Mrs. Chas. S. Howard.

During the electric storm last Monday morning, the public school building was struck by lightning, but although the school was in session, no serious damage was done.

The annual declamatory contest will be held in Bates Hall, February 21st at 7:30.

1. Possessing Prudence—Dorothy Butler.
2. Homliest Cat at the Show—Ethel Patterson.
3. Candle in the Forest—Clyde McKee.
4. New South—Plato Deason.
5. The Highwayman — George Hughes.
6. The rescue of Lygia—Tilden Jackson.

Thorsby Institute library stands today among the best High School Libraries within the State of Alabama. It contains nearly 6,000 volumes of carefully selected books, consisting of upwards of 1,000 volumes of best fiction, and many books of history, travel, biography, science, poetry, music, and art. Also many books of reference, a number of sets of encyclopedia, including the World Book, a very recent and up-to-date publication, Colliers', just received, Chambers, American and Britannica.

VALENTINE DRAWING

On last Friday, at school-close Mrs. Curry's little folks held a valentine drawing in her school room.

There were a number of valentines to be drawn. These, it happened, were pretty evenly divided. The happy spirit of love prevailed.

After the serving of the usual Friday's treats, the alentine-laden pupils, their hearts pulsating with pure and unselfish love at every beat, joyfully wended their way homeward.

Well, Mr. Editor, as we have not seen anything from this part in some time, I will give you a few dots.

The farmers are kindly blue, for it rains so much they can't get through planting oats, and have done nothing toward breaking land for a crop.

Miss Eula Edwards visited Mrs. Irene Williams and Mrs. Emma Pill on the 14th.

Misses Eula and Irene Williams spent the night Saturday with Mrs. Ella Cox near Clanton.

We learn that Miss Cleo Broadhead who is over near Lawley is quite sick.

Mr. R. N. Roebuck is improving nicely after being operated on at the Central Alabama Hospital.

DELIGHTFUL BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Mrs. Oscar Jones' Spend-the-day party of last Thursday, proved a most enjoyable event. The pretty home had been elaborately decorated for the occasion with flowering plants, cut flowers and other ornaments.

A skillfully designed decorative scheme, appropriately combined symbols of both Valentine and George Washington's birthday. These symbols were used artistically in the development of the delightful course dinner that was served at high noon.

POLL TAX INVESTIGATIONS

Why does the State, at the expense of the taxpayers, continue to send special examiners to Chilton County to investigate the poll tax records of the county? This question has been asked a thousand times by the observing citizens of Chilton County. The answer to the question is simple, if properly investigated—in fact, it is too simple for any extended discussion. Everything behind the matter is the simplest of simplicity—even the two citizens of Chilton County who are responsible for the useless investigations are simpletons to the fullest extent of the term.

J. L. Johnson and Tom Hand have worked so hard trying to find something against Judge Reynolds, and miserably failed in every attempt, that they have become fanatics on the question, and have lost all sense of when they run out of something to do and say. It is unfortunate for a man to inherit a fortune and not put it to any better use than to foster useless investigations of a man in office. But that is not all there is to it. These investigations cost the tax payers of Chilton County a great deal. The amount has already run to thousands of dollars, and it looks like it is time for such things to stop. If any reason were ever found, it would be different, but there is none.

Judge Reynolds is forced to maintain a special office for State Examiners to examine his records in, and everyone who comes here leaves in total disgust at the futility of such investigations. Judge Reynolds has got the poll tax business in Chilton County as nearly correct as any probate judge could keep them, and it looks like these guardians of the "birthright" of the "deer peepul" would find it out some day.

If there were any discrepancies in the poll tax records of Chilton County, the voters themselves would voluntarily raise the question as to the why and wherefore. Our voters have sense enough to know when there is something wrong with their poll tax records, and they will look after it without the assistance of J. L. Johnson and Tom Hand. It is the people's interest, and every man will look out for what is his.

The expense is useless and should not be allowed to run any further.

STATE NEWS HAPPENINGS

Tragedy was narrowly averted at Goodwater when fire, originating from a classroom heater, threw 275 students of the Goodwater High School into a panic and rapidly sweeping through the building, reduced in to ashes within a few minutes. Only the presence of mind of ten teachers, who enforced an orderly egress, prevented serious injury to many pupils, it is said. Many of the children left books and wearing apparel behind.

At a meeting of the commissioners' court at LaFayette Monday the sum of $400 was voted by the county towards the fund for providing libraries for the schools of the county. There is available in the county from other sources a like amount. The state department matches a certain amount of this money, and according to school authorities a plan has been worked out whereby $1,800 is available for libraries over the county.

Dr. Spright Dowell, president of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute (Auburn), was completely exonerated of inefficiency and incompetency charges voiced by a group of Auburn alumni at Montgomery, when the board of trustees, after hearing which lasted approximately two hours, unanimously adopted a resolution which had been prepared by a special committee of the board, appointed to investigate the alumni charges.

The Alabama Public Service Commission has granted the petition of the Baldwin County Electric Light and Power Company for certificate of convenience and necessity for onstruction of an electric generating plant and extending from the city limits of Fairhope to serve Battles Wharf, Point Clear, Zundelle, Fish Village, River Park and Magnolia Springs and vicinity.

C. H. Myatt, 15-year-old negro, indicted for criminal assault on a six-year old white girl at Attalla, was tried in the juvenile court and Judge Gilliland ordered him turned back to the circuit court where he will be tried for his life, holding that the juvenile court could not properly discipline him. Myatt's attorney promptly appealed the case to the chancery court and it will be heard there within the next few weeks.

The campaign by state, county and city officials of the drive in Anniston to remove causes of disease has been definitely set under way. The first day's inspection took in the city abatoir where far-reaching changes were made, and more sanitary methods of slaughtering and preparing meats brought here from the county were adopted.

Mrs. W. O. Pardue has filed suit against the Birmingham Waterworks Company for $60,000, alleging that the defendant company furnished her home with water unfit for human consumption and that as a result of drinking same she contracted a severe kidney complain and was otherwise made sick and sore. Fred Fite, attorney for the plaintiff, has demanded trial by jury.

VERSATILE LADY

CLIMBING a telegraph pole, playing a violin in an orchestra, sitting in on a game of bridge whist, or driving a car—Mrs. Nell Wheelock of Concrete, Wash., is equally "at home" in all those capacities. Here you see her perched high up on a telegraph pole somewhere in the upper Skagit River Valley near Seattle.

Yes, indeed, Mrs. Wheelock is perhaps one of the most versatile women in the country. She earns her living as an expert telephone engineer and electrician—a job that calls for much dangerous work atop telephone and telegraph poles in a mountainous section of country where rivers run on edge through crack like gorges and winter blasts tear down giant trees across the telephone lines.

Fifteen years ago, Mrs. Wheelock lived in Syracuse, N. Y., and was sickly two weeks out of every five. Now she is never sick, never needs a doctor—not even when she fell recently and broke an arm. She set it herself and continues to climb poles as easily as she ever did.

She wears overalls, rubber boots and spurs when at work and fine dresses when playing a violin in an orchestra or at social functions. Quite versatile is right.

NO—NOT A MURDER. JUST TESTING BULLET-PROOF VEST

AT first glance, this photograph may have led you to believe it pictured a bit of foul play. And it would have been were it not for the bullet-proof vest that the cool, calm and collected young man at the left is wearing.

The picture shows a test being made of the vest which is the product of a New York corporation. Its makers are of the opinion that it should be worn by all men whose duty is to protect life and property. They cite the fact that one policeman and an average of 27 people come to an untimely end daily in the United States through bullets.

The vest consists of layers of "Bovite" .013 of an inch thick. It is covered with the same thickness of metallized graphitic material which causes a bullet to side-slip without ricrochetting. It will resist every type of revolver or pistol bullet, both the lead and the metal-jacketted.

MODERN WOODMEN OF AMERICA TO GIVE FREE SHOW & LECTURE

"The Hour Glass" will be shown in Clanton at the Wadesonian Theatre on Friday, February 27th at 8 p.m., under the auspices of Dixie Camp No. 16234 M. W. of A., by special arrangement with the national headquarters at Rock Island, Ill.

This is a brand new 4-reel film with unusual spectacular feature and true filmed at the society's free sanito-to life action. Part of the story was rium near Colorado Springs, where the bright sun and vivid color contrasts make the camera so effective. It is an interesting little drama which might have ended in tragedy but did not. Modern Woodmen who know the signs of the forest may guess why. Others will be offered the opportunity to find out for themselves.

When you witness the showing of this interesting photo-play, there will also be a Wm. S. Hart picture and probably a vaudeville act. Admission will be free to the public, and all are invited to come out as guests of Dixie Camp W. M. of A.

The Modern Woodmen has also sent one of their deputies here from St. Louis, Mo., to help build up this camp and others in the State, and all who are interested are requested to see him while he is in Clanton.

New Way to Quickly Stop Worst Cough

A remarkable new and simple method for treating a cough gives relief with the first doses and usually breaks a severe cough in 24 hours.

The treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. People have been astonished how quickly the coughing stopped with this new treatment, and the whole cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription is for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. It is excellent for children as well as grownups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

Senate For Warren As Attorney General

Deadlock Of Six Weeks In Judiciary Committee Finally Broken

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—Breaking a deadlock of six weeks, the senate judiciary committee Tuesday approved the nomination of Charles B. Warren as attorney general. The vote was 9 to 4.

The four congressmen who opposed the nomination in committee were: Borah, republican of Idaho; Walsh, democrat of Montana; Ashurst, democrat of Arkansas; Reed, democrat of Missouri.

The favorable report of the committee was made possible when a few democratic senators joined with administration forces in allowing the nomination to go to the senate for confirmation. Democrats took this move with a view to getting the appointment discussed in public in the chamber.

Warren has been attacked in committee because of his connection with the sugar interests.

Democrats Relent.

Some of the democrats relented in their opposition because of the feeling that the president should be allowed full liberty in choosing members of his official family. This was said to be the motive which guided Senators Overman, democrat of North Carolina, and Shields, democrat of Tennessee, in voting to report the nomination.

With the nomination out of committee, the administration leaders announced they would bend every effort to get confirmation in secret session. They were hopeful this could be done before adjournment next week.

Democrats will demand consideration of Warren in open session. A two-thirds vote of the senate will be required to open the doors. Few cabinet appointments in recent years have been so subjected to bitter fire as that of Warren's.

Senators supporting the appointment were: Cummins, republican of Iowa; Sterling, republican of South Dakota; Shortridge, republican of California; Spencer, republican of Missouri; Butler, republican of Massachusetts; Means, republican of Colorada; Ernest, republican of Kentucky; Overman, democrat of North Carolina; Shields, democrat of Tennessee.

Senator Caraway, democrat of Arkansas, was present, but did not vote. Senators Norris, republican of Nebraska, and Stanley, democrat of Kentucky, were absent.

AVIATION FIELD IS NAMED IN HONOR OF FLOYD COLLINS

Cave City, Ky., Feb. 16.—Floyd Collins Aviation Field was the name given a small flying field which was dedicated here today at the approximate time the 35-year old cave explorer was found.

The field lies ten miles on the opposite side of Cave City from Sand Cave. The field is not large, neither is it level, the sides and ends sloping gently toward the center.

Five airplanes were at the field for the dedication exercises at which former Senator Wm. Henry Jones made a brief address.

DR. T. W. PALMER SPEAKER HERE LAST SUNDAY NIGHT

Dr. Thomas W. Palmer, President of the Alabama College for Women, at Montevallo, delivered an address last Sunday night at the Methodist church in Clanton, in the interest of the work of the inter-denominational Sunday School association, for the advancement of Christian Education in Alabama. The meeting at which Dr. Palmer spoke was a union service, partiipated in by the various congregations of the different churches of the city.

Dr. Palmer has been for some eighteen years, President of the girls' college at Montevallo, and he has attained eminence as an educator who stands for the principles of Christian education. The thousands of women who have gone out from Montevallo and made for themselves a splendid record for Christian service in the homes and churches of Alabama, are a living testimonial for the high ideals of Dr. Palmer as an educator.

The address of Sunday night was predicated upon the speaker's experience as head of the Montevallo College, and was embellished by many forceful illustrations of the subject, taken from the early life and training of Christ as a child.

Some statistics relative to the manner in which our country is failing to measure up to the requirements of the present day for the proper education of our youth in a Christian way were introduced into the address, emphasizing the need of the movement which is being undertaken by the Sunday School association.

Dr. Palmer was very warmly received in Clanton, and it is hoped that in the future he may visit our city more often.

DR. CRUMPTON WILL BE IN OFFICE AFTER NEXT WEEK

Dr. J. P. Crumpton asks us to state to his friends that he has about recovered from his spell of illness, and that if he continues to improve, he will be able to resume his practice of dentistry the first of next week.

Dr. Crumpton was able to attend the annual rabbit hunt last Monday, which we are sure helped greatly in his efforts to convalescence. Dr. Crumpton is a great hunter, especially where there are lots of hound dogs in the affair. He was one of the charter members of the Chilton County Rabbit Hunters Association, and this is one occasion to which he looks forward with much anxiety and interest every year. We are indeed glad that he was sufficiently strengthened after his illness to take part in the event this year.

PAY STREET TAX BEFORE FIRST DAY OF APRIL, 1925

Town Marshal, G. D. Retherford, asks us to remind the boys that street taxes due the Town of Clanton will become delinquent on the first day of April, and that he expects to collect same on or before that date. Mr. Retherford hopes that all who are due this tax to the town will take due notice and be prepared to pay same when called upon.

The city officials are planning some extensive work on the streets next year and the prompt payment of street tax will aid them very much in successfully carrying out their program.

UNDERWOOD BILL VIRTUALLY KILLED BY SENATE VOTE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—The Underwood Muscle Shoals leasing bill was sent back to conference Monday by the senate.

Action came when the senate upheld the ruling of President Cummins that the senate and house managers had violated the rules by inserting new legislation in the measure.

The conferees must now reconsider the bill, but in that work they will be without guidance from Sen. Cummins who refused to point out what he regarded as new legislation.

President Cummins ruled that the bill would be returned to the same conferees.

On the vote the republicans were divided exactly even, 23 in favor of sustaining the chair and 23 against. Among the latter were most of the administration leaders. Twenty democrats had the two farmer labor members voted to sustain while 18 democrats voted to override.

With debate today limited to two hours, Sen. Norris obtained the floor at the outset and held it throughout.

The vote to sustain the chair on the point of order which was made by Sen. Norris, republican, Nebraska, was 45 to 41.

FOUNDER OF KLAN STILL IN DANGER

Gainesville, Ga., Feb. 22.—W. J. Simmons, founder and former emperor of the Ku Klux Klan, who was seriously injured in an automobile wreck near here Friday evening, was said by hospital authorities today "to be resting easily but is not yet out of danger."

Colonel Simmons, who is now supreme monarch of the Knights Flaming Sword and Captain M. A. Moore, of Houston, Texas, supreme recording secretary of the same organization, were en route to Nachoochee Friday evening when their automobile skidded off the road down a twelve-foot embankment, overturning twice.

Captain Moore suffered a broken neck and died at the hospital here late yesterday.

Colonel Simmons sustained two fractured collar bones, and four broken ribs on the left side, one of them puncturing the lung. He was brought to Downey hospital here for treatment.

The third occupant of the car, Roy Rainer, escaped unhurt.

A commemorative ceremony will be held in Atlanta tomorrow afternoon when the body of Captain Moore arrives from Gainesville, en route to Houston, Texas, it was announced tonight.

Members of the Flaming Sword and other organizations will accompany friends aboard the train for the exercises, it was said.

Captain Moore was a member of the Shrine in Galveston, Texas, and of a New Orleans Masonic Lodge.

Mrs. Moore, widow of the dead man, who came here after the accident, will accompany the body to Houston.

WORK WILL BEGIN ON CLANTON STREETS SOON

The council of the Town of Clanton has bought a complete new layout of street working machinery which is expected to arrive here this week, and it will be put to work on our streets right away.

The equipment includes a Best tractor, (5-ton), and a Russell grader, with scarifier. The cost will be about $5,285.00.

We commend the city officials for their action, which bids fair to give us better streets in our city.

TWO DIE, SIX HURT IN SHOOTING AFFRAY

Martin, Ky., Feb. 22.—Two men were killed, including a deputy sheriff, and six others were wounded during a gun fight here today. The cause of the shooting has not been learned.

The dead: Talt Hall, deputy sheriff of Floyd County; Lewis White.

The wounded: John Hall, town marshall of Wheelright, Ky., Steven and John Flannery, Dick Thompson and Norman Collins. Causes of the shooting remained a mystery tonight.

Authorities declared White and John Hall met, exchanged a few words and then drew pistols. White was wounded but he continued to pump bullets at Hall. A few minutes later White fell dead.

The shooting is then reported to have become general among an undetermined number of men. More than 200 shots were fired, according to police reports.

Two versions of the shooting were current. One that a feud existed between White and the Halls, and another was that the Halls were attempting to arrest White.

FRED UPHAM DIES WHILE IN FLORIDA

Fred W. Upham, sixty-four, of Chicago, former treasurer of the Republican national committee, died at Palm Beach, Fla., last week from cerebral hemorrhage.

Mr. Upham went to Chicago in 1894 and entered the lumber business. Besides his interest in politics, he was president of the Consumers' Company, one of the largest corporations of the country, and director of a large coal company. He was president of the Illinois Manufacturers' association in 1908-09.

His interest in national poitics had not waned in thirty-two years, but he held executive office only as a member of the Cook county board of tax reviewers and as an alderman of Chicago.

He was a delegate to the Republican national convention four times since his first election in 1892 for the Eighth Wisconsin district. Since 1904 as chairman of the local convention committee he had organized and financed four national conventions, each year his task became larger and more difficult. He was treasurer of the national committee for seven years.

He had been in poor health for some months before his retirement from the treausureship last June at the urgence of his wife.

ANNUAL RABBIT HUNT HELD ON MONDAY, FEBRUARY 23

The annual rabbit hunt for this year was held on last Monday in the neighborhood of the Dave Mullins place in Beat 1. The affair was attended by the largest crowd of men and boys in the history of the association.

After dinner, when the hunt was resumed, the names of those in attendance were taken and the number registered was about 240. Several who participated in the hunt of the morning had already returned home. The entire number in attendance was in the neighborhood of 300.

It is not known how many rabbits were killed, as no count was made.

Everyone had a good time. It was a clean, orderly sport and those participating in it hope that they may be able to go again next year.

The hunt was in charge of Hugh Simpson, secretary of the association, in the absence of the president, J. Dudley Collins.

We intended to publish the names of all who attended, but up to the time of going to press, were unable to get the list completely. If those who have parts of the list will let us have them we will be glad to publish it next week.

INGENIOUS MIND DEVISES BOON FOR MEN IN PERIL

The above heading sounds like the caption of a medicine advertisement, but it is not. It is our way of saying that Monroe Parrish of Providence has again made himself worthy of distinction among his fellowmen. In way of introduction to this little story we will state that the above named genteleman is the same Monroe who upon one occasion got a watermelon off the Christmas tree at Providence, and some months later came to town with the report that a bull frog had caught one of his frying-size chickens. But so much for that—we will tell what we set out to say.

One day last week Dick Brown carried his big motor boat to the river to try it out, and invited Monroe Parrish and two or three others to go along with him. The new craft performed nicely until it got out in the middle of Mitchell Lake, where the water is about a mile wide, when the engine stubbornly refused to function. All efforts to crank her were of no avail. The wind was rather high and seemed to be getting stronger and stronger. The boat began to rock and reel fiercely, and the condition was something not to be desired at all. There were no paddles on board, and if there had been it would have been hard pulling to get her ashore. Among all the perils of the situation the minds inside began to get busy trying to devise a way to get to the bank—and they had to work fast too, because the waves were almost strong enough to capsize the boat, and were getting worse every minute. It was extremely lucky for the rest of the cargo that such a genious as Monroe Parrish was on board. He jerked a corn sack off the top of the engine and held up one end of the sack in each hand and made a rude sail out of it. At first the wind began to play against the sail and started the boat the wrong way, but by the skillful handling of the corn sack by our hero, the boat was turned straight toward the Chilton shore and in a few minutes she was safely landed.

We do not know that the other men fell down and kissed the feet of their brave and heroic rescuer, but to say the least of it, they thanked him very heartily for his candid and sensible thoughtfulness in devising this clever scheme of bringing the powerless boat safely to shore, thus relieving the frightened passengers from their uncomfortable position.

45-MILE DRAINAGE CANAL COMPLETED

Berry, Ala., Feb. 23.—The 45-mile canal which is to drain Luxapallia swamp in Fayette and Marion counties has just been completed. It has cost $500,000 and will reclaim several hundred thousand acres of marsh land, it is said.

According to reports reaching this city, the dredge which has been at work on the project since July, moved the last shovelful of dirt Tuesday and has already been dismantled.

Holders of the bonds issued to finance the project are having considerable trouble because of a supreme court decision. This ruling holds that the drainage act under which these bonds were issued was unconstitutional, and that, therefore, there was no drainage act in existance when the work was begun. It is expected, however, that the trouble will be remedied by the passage of another drainage law.

Republican League To Meet in B'ham

Chairman of Southern League Will Try to Pull Meeting to Home Town.

Efforts are being made to bring the first convention of the Southern States Republican League to Birmingham about October 27, the organization to be perfected at another meeting which has been called for May 19, at Memphis, Tenn., according to Walter S. Scott, Birmingham, temporary chairman. It is expected that seventeen states will cooperate in the work, it is stated, when the formal organization is started, one of the principal objects being to give advice to the republian administration at Washington as to appointments in this section of the country and otherwise to be of assistance to the G. O. P.

"We are making efforts to hold the convention in Birmingham," said Mr. Scott. "At the meeting, to be held in Memphis, May 19, when the organization will be perfeted, the proposals of Birmingham as the most central location for a convention will be put forth and I believe we have a good chance of getting the gathering here. The league will have a membership mainly among business men, old-time politicians not participating much in the organization."

RABBIT HUNT AT REFUGE ON LAST MONDAY

On Monday, Feb. 23, the men and boys of Refuge Community united at G. N. Easterling's to engage in a rabbit hunt. There were about 40 people in the crowd. At the end of the race the count was made and 44 rabbits was the result of about seven hours' hunt. There were no guns used in the hunt. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves fine, and no one was injured further than some voices were strained. There were some men from adjoining communities in the hunt. This occasion was in celebration of the birthday of George Washington.

HENRY FORD BUYS BIG SEA-GOING VESSEL

The Ford Motor Company enter trans-Atlantic shipping, operating its own fleet for carrying manufactured automobile parts to the company's foreign plants, Edsel B. Ford, President, announced.

At the same time Mr. Ford announced that the company had just purchased the steamer "East Indian" from the Emergency Fleet Corp., as the first large unit in the proposed fleet to be put into foreign service.

"We have decided to enlarge our fleet to include large ocean vessels which will enable us to ship to our European plants and will proceed with these plans at once," Mr. Ford said.

"Our decision in this matter has been prompted by the successful operation of our two small ships, the steamers "Oneida" and "Onondaga," during the last few months.

"These ships have been engaged in carrying automobile and tractor parts to our assemly plants along the Southern coast of the United States and to South America, taking on other commercial cargoes on return trips north. They were put into this service on a rather experimental basis and have proven the feasibility of extending our own shipping service to Europe."

The "East Indian," which the company has just purchased from the Emergency Fleet Corp., is in the Sun Ship Building Company yards, at Chester, Pa., where it will be reconditioned. It has twin screws, driven by reciprocating steam engines, but these engines will be replaced by Diesel engines of the most modern type, Mr. Ford said. The vessel is to be entirely refitted and plans already made call for having it ready for service within six months.

The "East Indian" was built in '18. It has three decks, is 485 feet in length over all, has a 58-foot beam, a capacity of 12,500 tons, a 28-foot draft and a speed of 12 to 13 knots an hour. It makes the fifth unit in the present Ford fleet.

The Ford Motor Company first entered the shipping field last summer when it acquired the steamers "Oneida" and "Onondaga" and put them into service on the Great Lakes carrying ore and lumber from the Ford properties in northern Michigan to the River Rouge plant at Detroit. Later the big steel freighters, "Henry Ford II" and the "Benson Ford," were added to the fleet.

The company sent its first ship to a foreign port November last, when the "Onondaga," carrying a cargo of automobile parts sailed from the River Rouge plant at Detroit, for the Ford assembly plant at Buenos Aires, Argentine, South America. The "Oneida" followed a short time later with a cargo of manufactured automobile parts for plants at New Orleans, La., Jacksonville, Fla., and Houston, Tex.

The "Oneida" is at present in New York loading for another voyage to south coast assembly plants of the company. The "Onondaga," which arrived in New York a few days ago with a cargo of linseed from South America, is to be fitted out for its first inter-costal cruise on which it will carry a cargo through the Panama Canal to Pacific Coast ports where Ford assembly plants are located.

A VILLAGE superstitious that a person who "casts no shadow" is not entitled to live, cost the life of pretty little Ludmilla Timotjevitch whom you see pictured above. She was stoned to death by peasants at Moloj in Jungo-Slavia. Seven persons are now under arrest in connection with the crime.

Old-Time Remedy Best for Heavy Coughs

Stubborn, racking, deep-seated coughs that refuse to yield to other remedies are often checked overnight with the old-time cough medicine that our parents and grandparents "swore by." In spite of modern discoveries nothing has been found to replace good old Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey for giving quick, sure relief for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup and other throat irritations. Doctors say that the pine tar quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing, while the honey not only gives a pleasant taste, but helps soothe irritation.

But be sure you get the original Dr. Bell's and no other. There have been dozens of imitations, but the original is still the best. It often stops the worst cough in 24 hours. Contains no injurious drugs, so can be given even to young children. Insist on Dr. Bell's. Only 30c at any good druggist's.

FARM FACTS

"Alabama must be able to feed herself, raise livestock, diversify and prosper."—Montgomery Advertiser.

If you do not get good seed of the best varieties and use the right kind and amount of fertilizer you cannot expect big yields next fall. These things can be done now at a very small cost.

Before deciding on the variety of cotton and corn to plant, ask your county agent for information about leading varieties in tests and experiments conducted by the Experiment Station, Auburn.

Your neighbor who has made a better success of farming than you have can give you some valuable information. He will gladly do so if you will ask him for it.

Dr. W. M. Jardine, who will become Secretary of Agriculture on March 4, says that farm problems can be solved best by the farmers themselves with the cooperation of bankers and business men.

"Alabama creameries are badly in need of more cream and many farm families are badly in need of the money this cream will bring."—L. T. Wells, Extension Dairyman.

WOMEN LAGGING IN CHURCH WORK

"Running Away After Worldly Things," Says Martha Bensley Bruere.

We are in the midst of a new sort of religious revival. It is a new sort of revival, it is characterized not by the emotional conversion of more women but by an increasing enrollment of men, writes Martha Bensley Bruere, in Collier's.

"I think men are coming in," said a gentle gray-haired minister to me, "because we no longer believe that an overwhelming religious experience is a prerequisite to becoming a Christian. We feel that if a man is a good citizen and believes in God, his place is inside the church. Being converted in the revivalist sense always did seem to come easier to women than to men!"

Women Becoming Worldly.

It is in the six largest Protestant denominations—viz., Baptist Congregationalists, Lutherans, Methodists, Presbyterians and Episcopalians—that the change is most marked. The Roman Catholic Church has always had about as many women as men. Eight other churches, which include the Greek church, the Jewish congregations and the Volunteers of America, have from 52 per cent to 90 per cent of men. But in those six evangelical churches in 1906 the women outnumbered the men nearly 2 to 1. By 1916 the majority was reduced to 3 to 2, and the inequality is already diminishing.

"Women lose their spirituality!" said a preacher of a northern church—one used to speaking with authority. " By that I mean they are giving up their church affiations.

"My congregations on this last circuit looked like men's meetings—the men were so in the majority," he continued. "The women are running away after worldly things!"

Since the armistice, he has been doing graves registration work. His home is in Hoboken, N. J.

How's Your Back?

If you suffer with backache, kidney or bladder trouble you cannot afford to overlook one word of this.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—"For several years I had considerable trouble with my back, kidneys and bladder—a constant ache that would increase at times to a pain almost unbearable. It was impossible for me to change the position of my body. At night I was in double trouble, I felt a great need to get up and yet every time I moved it would be like a knife going through me. I had tried all kinds of medicines in the hope of finding something that would give me help. In January 1921, I learned of Dr. Pierce's An-uric Tablets and made up my mind to see if they would help me. It was a hard fight, but with perseverance the 'An-uric Tablets' won a complete victory. I am very thankful to Dr. Pierce for putting up such a medicine."—Jas. M. Prince, 1017 E. 14th St.

THE Ford car has remained the undisputed leader for value in the motoring world. There are certain fundamental reasons why this is true. It is a car, properly designed and staunchly constructed, having a motor which has proved itself reliable, long-lived and economical.

It is adequately serviced by an organization reaching to every community and neighborhood. These combine to give the Ford car the highest resale value in proportion to list price.

And as production volume of the Ford has grown the purchase price has been steadily reduced.

SHOOTING AFFRAY IN BIRMINGHAM

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 24.—Shot through the left shoulder, S. G. Robbins, street foreman for the city of Birmingham, was in a serious condition at Ensley infirmary this morning. M. L. Belew, 23, 1325 Avenue G, Ensley, who was is Ensley jail charged with assault with intent to murder, claimed that he shot Robbins because the latter was annoying his wife.

The shooting occurred at 9 o'clock this morning at Belew's home, where Robbins was found lying with his head toward the door. The bullet, which had traveled through the upper part of his body at the shoulder, was from a 41 calibre revolver. Belew made no effort to escape.

Belew's statement to Thomas L. Christian, assistant chief of police in charge of the Ensley division, and Officer H. H. Ware, who investigated, was to the effect that Robbins had been annoying his wife.

Robbins maintained that he had never seen either Belew or his wife before. He declared that he had been called out on a complaint concerning the condition of an alley at Avenue G, and 14th street, Ensley. He said he intended calling on some of the neighbors to see exactly what the nature of the complaint was, and went to Belew's home with this in view.

"I knocked at the door and no one answered," Robbins said. "I opened the door and walked in, and as I did so, Belew shot."

Mrs. Belew is reported to have told the officers that she knew Robbins only slightly, because he had called at the door several times. She is said to have added that she saw him pass the door Monday.

Robbins lives at 4208 11th Avenue, Wylam. He is about 50 years old and a grandfather.

G. L. Gober, Ensley street commissioner, is reported to have substantiated Robbins' statement that there was a complaint about an alley at Avenue G and 14th street, near the Belew home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Ellison of Chattanooga, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ed Giles, this week.

Keep stomach sweet—liver active—bowels regular—only 25c.

Sick Headache

"I have used Black-Draught when needed for the past 25 years," says Mrs. Emma Grimes, of Forbes, Mo. "I began taking it for a bad case of constipation. I would get constipated and feel just miserable—sluggish, tired, a bad taste in my mouth, . . . and soon my head would begin hurting and I would have a severe sick headache. I don't know just who started me to taking but it did the work. It just seemed to cleanse the liver. Very soon I felt like new. When I found Black-Draught so easy to take and easy-acting, I began to use it in time and would not have sick headaches."

Constipation causes the system to re-absorb poisons that may cause great pain and much danger to your health. Take Thedford's Black-Draught. It will stimulate the liver and help to drive out the poisons.

There has been more said in the United States about Rudolf Valentino's whiskers, which he sprouted while visiting back home in Italy, than has ever been said about the giant brain of Secretary Hughes. This only goes to show how trivial and how inclined to levity most of the people of the country are.

Today the name of Floyd Collins is familiar to as many people as is that of Calvin Coolidge, and a month ago not over a hundred people knew there was such a man. But Floyd Collins is dead and Calvin Coolidge is aive. That makes a big difference.

March is the month to start a permanent pasture. Select low land that is too wet for general agricultural purposes, clear and remove the rubbish, and sow a mixture of 10 pounds of lespedeza seed, 5 pounds carpet, and 3 pounds Dallis grass. Turn cattle on as soon as seed are sown. The majority of Alabama farms have at least a little land of this kind.

A bribe-taking priest appears in the news from Atlanta, where Father Thomas P. Hayden, former Roman Catholic chaplain of the penitentiary in that city, is under arrest. With irrefutable evidence against him, the papist confessed to receiving $2,100 as his share of bribes paid by bootlegger convicts, for assignment to "soft and easy" tasks at the Atlanta Federal Prison. Papal subjects, holding official positions in American public institutions, are out of pace, for they are under alien sovereignty, and are not genuine American citizens. Every one of them must be ferreted out and ejected.

The moving picture shows of the country today are exerting as much influence on the men and women of tomorrow as the schools of the country. It is estimated that twenty million people attend the movies daily in the United States, and among those who attend certainly there is a great degree of influence exerted by the nature of the pictures produced, the scenes, and the plots of the plays. Since this form of amusement is so broad, the question is asked, is its influence directed to the betterment of morality, or is it tending to tear down the same? One state board of censors says: "The motion picture has become a menace to society." One judge declares that "Most of them are salacious and vicious." Yet a famous producer insists that "The decent picture pays better than the indecent." Before the pictures are released for the screen, they should be censored as carefully as are the text books used in our public schools. They can be made to have a tremendous influence for good, or they can be just the opposite. Only a careful censorship can make the movies fit for our people to see.

CONFEDERATE PAPAL SCHISM

The New York Times announces that the Raphael Semmes Camp No. 11 of the United Confederate Veterans has received a letter from President Alderman, of the University of Virginia, praising the movement, originated by the Camp, to erect a monument for the women of the Confederacy at Mobile, Alabama. The same article announces that the Raphael Semmes Camp has also received a letter of endorsement from Father F. D. Sulivan, Dean of Loyola University, New Orleans, Louisiana, who is a member of the Society of Jesuits.

Raphael Semmes, for whom this organization was named, was a rabid Roman Catholic. The Confederate movement, into which millions of Southern people were marshalled, was organized and fostered by Roman Catholic sources, as a means of destroying the American Union, through internal schism and disruption, a method of destruction well known to Jesuitism, and skillfully employed by the Jesuits for many centuries. Many of the leaders in the attack upon our Union were Roman Catholics. Jefferson Davis, so-called President of the Confederacy, carried on negotiations with the Vatican. Abraham Lincoln, the man who saved the Union and defeated the papal efforts, was assassinated by a Roman Catholic, John Wilkes Booth, the tool of a Roman Catholic group, who deliberately plotted the murder of the great Emancipator.

The gigantic Stone Mountain memorial carving, portraying Confederate leaders, has been praised and financially supported by the Knights of Columbus, recently received a $10,000,000 gift from Thomas F. Ryan (R. C.), and was the scene and occasion of an outdoor concert, given by the Roman Catholic tenor, John McCormack. The same animus towards schism, which Roman Catholicism fanned into flame in 1861, is still at work, to-day, endeavoring to perpetuate the sense of seperatism and disunion.

The clear-minded and straight-thinking people of the South will prefer to let the dead past bury its dead mistakes, and will not support such schismatic manifestations as the Stone Mountain Memorial. The strong and active interest which the Roman Catholics take in such projects is sufficient clue to any right-thinking American, that the rebellious Southern sentiment ought to be wiped off the slate, and all sections of the country join hands unreservedly to deliver America from the encroachments of medieval popery.—American Standard.

ALABAM RANKS LOW

The Alabama Education Association has just received a bulletin giving the latest ranking of states on educational conditions, a study similar to that issued by the Russellsage Foundation in 1920. "Again our state is placed in the lowest group," says Secretary H. G. Dowling, "being graded as forty-seventh under the latest system of measurement, the same ranking assigned by Dr. Ayres in the report of 1920." Only Georgia and South Carolina rank lower than Alabama.

The report was prepared by Doctor Frank N. Phillips of George Washington University, Washington, D. C.; and the statistics for each state are taken from reports of the U. S. Bureau of Education. School systems of the various states and of the District of Columbia are ranked according to ten points generally recognized as determining school efficiency.

Alabama is making some progress in education; but so are the other states, and our rank continues to be discouragingly low. Of course, some state will always be at the bottom of the list; and this will not be a bad condition when all of them have fairly modern school facilities. But all the states now below the United States average have reason to reflect carefully, for this average does not meet a standard that would be tolerated by a modern town or village.

SHORT BERRY BOXES

Use of short berry boxes in the section around Cullman, Ala., has recently been brought to the attention of officials of the United States Department of Agriculture.

"There are three legal sizes for berry boxes used in interstate shipments; namely, ½-pint, pint, and quart," the department says. "The United States Standard Container Act requires that berry boxes must be of these standard capacities and forbids the shipment of short sizes in interstate commerce.

"Many growers think that if they use short baskets the manufacturer and not the shipper or grower is responsible. This is not the case, unless the grower or shipper can produce a guaranty, signed by the manufacturer or dealer.

"Growers should require the person from whom they obtain baskets to guarantee that the containers are of proper capacity. The Net Weight Amendment to the Food and Drugs Act also holds the shipper responsible for marking the correct weight on the crate holding the berry boxes, and growers should assure themselves that the boxes are of such capacity that the marking on the crate is correct."

Judge S. M. Adams was able to attend church last Sunday, after an illness of several weeks.

WHY IS IT—

WHERE ROSES BLOOM IN DECEMBER

The above is the heading of an advertisement of the L. & N. Railroad Company which appeared not many weeks ago. The L. & N. has been putting on a great campaign in the North and East, using such apt phrases as the above in all the farm magazines and journals of those sections. The purpose of this campaign is an effort of this great railroad company to interest northern capitalists in southern farming and southern industries. The South has long been recognized as the Garden Spot of the world, tho its development has been slow. The L. & N. realizes this and it is spending thousands of dollars trying to help in the development of our Southland.

This company is maintaining at Louisville, Ky., an immigration and industrial bureau under the management of Mr. G. A. Park. This bureau has for its object nothing but the advancement of the South, and is informing the world of the many advantages offered by this section of the country. The people of the South should feel very grateful to the L. & N. Railroad Company and especially to Mr. Park, for the efforts that are being put forth in this noble undertaking.

CLUBS FOR FARM BOYS

Quiet but effective work is now in progress over Alabama to enroll farm boys in agricultural club work for the year. The county demonstration agents are in charge in their respective counties; and T. A. Sims and J. C. Lowery, State club leaders, are rendering special assistance in the different counties as rapidly as they can do so.

Boys are being invited to become club members not with a view to winning prizes but to learn to be successful farmers.

Last year cotton club boys in practically every county having a county demonstration agent demonstrated that Alabama land is capable of making a bale of cotton to the acre at a handsome profit. At the same time many of the corn club boys obtained yields of 40 to 50 bushels per acre, while equally as good showings were made by the livestock club boys and also those who selected peanuts and other crops.

The yields of these club boys averaged about three times the average yields of their dads, or the average yields of the entire state. At the same time the boys showed handsome profits as a result of using good seed of high-yielding varieties, of fertilizing properly, good preparation, proper cultivation, and boll weevil control. They did all these things as instructed by their county agents.

While the opportunity is presented to all farm boys, the club leaders and county agents actually want only the boys who mean business and who will stick to the work and follow instructions throughout the year. Nice profits should be expected at the end of the year for all who follow instructions.

OAK HILL

The United Singing Society met in regular session here Sunday afternoon, with a small attendance, on account of the bad condition of the roads and the funeral of Bro. L. A. Honeycutt, which was held at Union Grove.

A short talk was made by President A. H. Glasscock, who spoke kind words of praise of the deceased brother, who some fifteen years ago, directed the building of the church at this place. We feel our loss keenly, but we hope our loss is Heaven's gain, so let us all bow in humble submission to the will of our Heavenly Father.

After hymn No. 137, "He's My Saviour Too" was sung by the President prayer was offered by Bro. T. L. Matthews, who solemnly invoked the divine blessings of God upon us all and especially upon the great society which is such a blessing to our community, after which the following directors were called, and directed from one to three songs each: W. J. Northcutt, L. R. Cobb, Henderson Hayes, E. H. Foshee, E. L. Glasscock, Herlie Mims, with Prof. A. H. Glasscock directing for the second time.

Organists were: Misses Emma Campbell, Flossie Cobb, Inez Hayes and Esther Atkinson.

A duet was rendered by Miss Ollie Glass and Lester Cobb of the Oak Grove class, which brought forth notes of praise from almost all who heard them. We were glad to have the Oak Grove class with us, which so ably helped us in making the occasion the great success that it was.

After the announcement of our quarterly meeting, Rev. W. H. Falkner again invoked divine blessings upon us. Visitors are always wanted, and will be given a hearty welcome to join with us any time you will attend.

CEDAR GROVE

The singing society met at this place Sunday afternoon. There was a large crowd present and the singing was good.

Directors were: J. W. Lowery, Marvin Champion, Frank Mastin, Claudie and Neacie Smith. A ladies' quartette was rendered by Neacie Smith, Onzell Elland, Claudie Smith and Zemma Collins. Two quartettes rendered by Neacie Smith, Kermit Lowery, Alpheus Littlejohn and D. W. Ward. Organists were Claudie Smith, and Bonnie Littlejohn. Several visitors were present, all of whom we were very glad to have with us. We invite you to come any time we meet, which is the Second and Fourth Sundays in each month.

DOING HIS DUTY

"For two years I suffered agonizing pains in my stomach, belching up sour and bitter fluids and gas. My tongue was always coated. Doctors were unable to help me. The first dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy made me feel 100% better, and I am now feeling better than at any time in my life. I deem it my duty to advise other sufferers." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestnal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or moneey refunded. Sold by Alred Drug Co., Clanton, Ala., and all leading druggists everywhere.

Rev. G. A. Hornaday of Mt. Creek was a welcome visitor at the Clanton Baptist Church last Sunday.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

The most important matter of interest to Thorsby citizens at the present time is the 5-mill tax election to be held Monday, March 2nd, at the Town Hall. On the favorable result of this election depends the security for payment of principal and interest of the $10,000 in school bonds, so generously supported at an election held a few weeks ago, to decide if such bonds could be issued.

These bonds will have no attraction for investors unless there is provision made by taxation, approved by a majority of the voters of Thorsby, to secure payment of principal and interest. With this security the bonds can be sold and money secured with which to put our new school buiding into shape to be occupied next fall. Every voter is urged to exercise their right of franchise next Monday and do their best to roll up a big majority in favor of this project. It is an easy way, and the only way by which we can hope to carry out our plans and complete the work so long under way.

Any person inclined to observation of current events must be impressed with the rapid growth of the use of electric current for lighting, since it has been under the direction of W. H. Goodgame, whose energy and foresight have pushed it to limits far beyond what was first anticipated, with a plant of the capacity now in use.

This pioneer work has been the stimulation of a keen desire in the minds of Thorsby people to have available, not only for light service, but for the various uses to which electric power may be applied, an all of the time, instead of a few hours, daily service.

There is a growing insistence that some concerted action be taken to get connected up with The Alabama Power Company who have an unlimited source of supply so near at hand. The people of Thorsby have always shown themselves progressive, and if given an opportunity would soon adopt the use of electric energy in many ways now unthought of because it is not available.

Mr. G. F. Harper has bought the interest of Wm. Billingsley in the general store which they have conducted for the past few years, and will carry on the business under the name of G. F. Harper. Willie Scott has returned to Thorsby, and has been installed as Mr. Harper's chief assistant.

Rev. J. P. Lowery and daughter, Mrs. Howard Garrick, are both quite sick with bronchitis. With two in the family sick in bed, the home becomes somewhat of a hospital.

Rev. Stone of Minnesota, will preach at Thorsby Lutheran church Sunday, March 1st, speaking in Swedish at the morning service and English in the evening.

The Ladies Guild of Thorsby will hold their monthly sociable at the home of Mrs. Chas. S. Howard, Thursday afternoon, Feb. 26.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Foss, Mrs. Clyde Mead and Miss Naemi Turnquist, motored to Birmingham last Monday.

Miss Clara Petersen of Birmingham accompanied by a young man friend, a Mr. Self, visited the home of Miss Petersen's parents, Martin and Mrs. Petersen, in Thorsby, last Sunday.

Several friends surprised Mrs. David M. Paxson last Monday afternoon, in celebration of her birthday anniversary. Among the guests were: Mesdames Ollie Tagg, Hattie M. Gerald, Wm. Billingsley, James Bosworth, E. F. Mead and Charles Odell.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Odell of Staples, Minn., are visiting Mr. Odell's sister, Mrs. E. F. Mead.

Mrs. S. C. Wood spent the week end with her sister in Birmingham. During her visit she visited an oculist for treatment of her eyes.

The Y. W. A.'s and Fidelis Sabbath class of Thorsby Baptist church, will give an entertainment and box supper at the Wadesonian Theatre in Thorsby, Saturday, Feb. 28, at 7:30 p. m. The proceeds will go to the Piano Fund of the Baptist church. Come! Good eats and a good time!

The Parent-Teachers Association will present as an entertainment, "A Tom Thumb Wedding," in Bates Hall at 7:30 p. m., Tuesday, March 3rd. After the close of the entertainment, refreshments will be served free, to those who attend the play, and pay an admission fee of 35c for adults and 20c for children. The "Spread" will be served on the lower floor of the building. Come and help the association in their work.

A new plan to raise money for our public school equipment was put over one day last week; under direction of Miss Lena Franklin, a member of the faculty. The 8th grade children solicited contributions for a lunch to be served to the children of the lower grades, at 15c per. The scheme worked fine and the sum of $8.00 was quickly gathered in which will be used for the purchase of a much needed book case.

At the Congregational church, Sunday night, March 1, it is planned to have preaching service instead of the usual 1st Sunday night Praise service, which will be held on the third Sunday night in March.

Misses Gladys Flummer of Birmingham, and Marie, of Enterprise, where she is teaching, spent the week end with Mrs. Ed Piper.

Mrs. G. F. Harper and Mrs. Wm. Billingsley made a business trip to Birmingham last week to purchase new spring goods for the Harper store.

Mr. Wm. Billingsley has caught the back-to-the-farm fever, and will devote his time to agricultural pursuits.

Mrs. T. C. Sims entertained the Y. W. A. society on Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 23.

The home was beautiful with cut flowers and plants.

After the business meeting, a social hour was enjoyed, with lovely refreshments to one of the largest crowds that has ever been in attendance.

CHRSTIAN ENDEAVOR

The society met at the usual hour, 6:30 p. m., Sunday, Feb. 22, with Mr. Roy Rayburn as leader.

We are having a series of missionary meetings, and at this meeting, "Industrial Missions" was discussed.

We had a real good attendance, somewhat better than usual, and a number of the members present took an active part in the discussion.

There were many interesting discussions, particularly on the topic given by Mr. Plato Deason, which was upon the great work being done for the natives of Aniwa Island, one of the group of the Hebrides. Mr. John G. Paton is the missionary carrying on this work and from Mr. Deason's talk it seems that he is striking many difficulties there, but through persistence he conquers them.

Miss Alithea Parker will present her piano pupils in a recital at Bates Hall, 7:30 p. m., February 28.

Two prizes for the year's work were offered at the beginning of the term by Miss Parker. These rewards will be made Saturday evening.

The declamatory contest last Saturday evening was very close. The judges, Mr. C. R. Foss, Dr. S. C. Wood and Mrs. Reno Villadsen, were given a hard task by the contestants. Mr. Foss' comments, in reviewing the program and awarding the gold pieces, were timely and humorous, and brought a hearty response from the audience. The prizes went to seniors, Miss Clyde McKee and George Hughes. We enjoyed the others so much that we hope they will appear on next year's program.

POOR O

THE FARMER DOESN'T NEED A CRUTCH

There has never been a political party in this country which didn't call itself the farmers' friend. In late years there has been none which didn't admit that something was wrong with a marketing system which gave the farmer so little and cost the consumer so much. A possible way out has now been agreed upon by the Agricultural Conference, whose report President Coolidge, in keeping with his preelection promises, has recommended to Congress.

Briefly put, the proposal is that the government do its part by permitting and encouraging and regulating cooperative associations, by making credit cheaper and easier to get at, by providing a central clearing house for information, and by giving the farmers at least an even break with manufacturers in the matter of tariff rates.

But no scheme will work unless the farmer himself r'ars up on his hind legs and makes it work.

The day when a farm was sufficient to itself has gone by. Either we shall have great farms, owned and operated by corporations, or we shall continue to have small farms, whose owners or renters will cooperate in selling their products, and probably also in buying seeds, fertilizers and machinery, and even in hiring labor.

There are already excellent models for this sort of joint enterprise. Last year one fourth of the farm products of the country are said to have been sold cooperatively. Some day practically all may be sold that way. The farmer doesn't need a governmental crutch. Given a fair chance he'll stand on his own feet.

COLLEGE PARTY TO VISIT EUROPEAN COUNTRIES

A second European tour is planned this summer by President Guy E. Snavely of Birmingham-Southern College, with a party to be organized and conducted by him as was the one last summer.

Germany is added to the itinerary for this year, it is announced, with visits to Berlin, Heidelberg, Frankfort, and a steamer trip on the Rhine. Other countries to be toured are France, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland, and England. Special features include the battle fields of Chateau Thierry, Belleau Wood, Rheims, and Waterloo.

Sailing from New York June 13th, under auspices of the Temple Tours, Boston, the party, according to the itinerary, is to visit Paris, Avingnon, Nice, Genoa, Pisa, Rome, Florence, Venice, Milan, Interlaken, Lucerne, Munich, Nuremburg, Dresden, Berlin, Heidelberg, Frankfort, Amsterdam and The Hague, Brussels, London and Liverpool. Most of these places were pictured in the European letters of Dr. Snavely last summer, which appeared in the Birmingham News.

Mr. Henry Robinson of Beat 16 was a visitor to Clanton Tuesday. Mr. Robinson celebrated his 64th birthday on Wednesday of this week.

Rheumatism

"Yes! it's all gone."

DO NOT close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. You can get rid of your rheumatism by building up your blood power. It is a fact that rheumatism means "blood poverty." It is a fact with the increase of red cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S.S.S. will help Nature build these red-blood-cells! S.S.S. is one of the most powerful blood cleansers in existence. Its results in thousands of rheumatic cases have been nothing short of amazing! The medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable. This is very important to remember! What can be more inspiring, more wonderful than to see the shackles of pain released from your struggling body, swellings, lingering pains, stiffness of joints and muscles all disappear; your stomach made strong; your face pink with the old sweetheart glow, your blood enriched and your cheeks more plump as they used to be. You can do it! Take S.S.S., the great destroyer of rheumatic impurities.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

When the correct letters are placed in the white space this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

TUNNELS are always objectionable and frequently cause delays in running schedules. Yet, because of various reasons—extra expense, right of way, and greater physical obstacles—tunnels have been constructed by all great trunk lines.

In line with its policy of constantly striving for improvement to its service by bettering its road conditions, the Louisville & Nashville Railroad is at present engaged in the gigantic undertaking, involving the expenditure of $760,000.00 in constructing "fills" to eliminate bridges and ultimately to remove a tunnel at Muldraugh's Hill, just south of Louisville.

For nearly a year the work of filling in two great gorges totaling 1,400 feet in width and 90 feet in depth, has been going on. The work will not be completed for another twelve months, but when the track is laid over this hill it will cut off a considerable amount of time, and will materially facilitate operations and improve the service to the public.

When you are impressed with statements that the railroads are earning huge dividends, ask for authoritative information on operating costs and investment in necessary improvements.

MISS ELZIE MARTIN DIES NEAR CALERA

Our entire community was sadly shocked Sunday afternoon, February 22, when the news of the passing away of Miss Elzie Martin was announced. God, in His wisdom, sent the death angel and called from our midst one whom we loved dearly.

For two weeks she suffered intensely, everything that loving relatives and friends could do was done, but God, understanding all things better than we do, saw fit to call her home. We know she is not suffering now as she did while here, but there is a vacancy in the home that can never be filled. She was the sunshine of the home and will ever be missed by, not only her loved ones, but by her girl friends in the community where she lived so long.

She was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Martin, and was 22 years of age. She leaves a mother, father, two sisters and a brother, besides a host of friends, to mourn her loss. To be taken so young, for she was in the prime of youth, useful and promising, is indeed sad and hard, but God rules and we are His.

The funeral services were conducted at the home of Rev. W. H. Pilgreen of Calera, assisted by Rev. Morgan and Rev. Weston. Two of her favorite songs were sung, "Asleep In Jesus" and "I Shall Be Satisfied Then." The home was filled with a large concourse of sorrowing friends, and the body was laid to rest in the Rock Springs cemetery under a pall of lovely flowers. The young men pallbearers were, Mr. Homer Martin, Mr. Leon Busby, Mr. Alza Martin, Mr. Dock Adams and Mr. Charles Busby, who were her Sunday School friends.

Her memory will ever remain as that of a noble girl and we cannot forget her smile that alway sgreeted us when we met her.

Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved loved ones, yet we know human kindness cannot heal their broken hearts.

SAMBO HARMON ARRESTED AGAIN FOR STEALING

Sambo Harmon, a negro boy of Clanton was arrested for stealing on Monday night. He is charged with taking things from the store of Marcus Brothers.

For several weeks things have been disappearing from the Marcus store at night. On Monday it was arranged for someone to stay in the store Monday night and see who the visitor was. Emmett Thomas and Earl Marcus remained in the store and just a few minutes elapsed before Sambo appeared. When he saw he was detected he ran away, but the officers overtook him and put him under arrest.

This is the second time Sambo has been arrested for stealing in the last few weeks.

We suggest that an effort be made to get a few policemen or deputy sheriffs, (or even the high sheriff would be alright), to join the rabbit hunters' association, so they can guard the camp while the other members engage in the hunt. In this way maybe we could leave our rabbits and lunches in the cars and not find they have been stolen when we return.

MT. PLEASANT

Dear Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me a small space in your valuable paper to announce that there will be a quarterly meeting at this place, Friday of this week, Feb. 27. Everybody is invited to come out and spend the day with us, and we expect everyone who possibly can, to bring dinner and help make this service a success, should the weather permit.

Prof. Sutton of Verbena was in Clanton Tuesday night and stated that the finishing touch is being put on the arrangements for the Fiddlers Convention to be held Friday night of this week.

Fred Howard of Thorsby was in attendance at the rabbit hunt Monday and proved to be one of the most efficient members of the association. None of the briar patches were too thick for Mr. Howard to go through.

Night Coughing—How to Stop It

Night coughing which, through loss of valuable sleep, often makes you feel utterly worn-out and useless during the day, and by quickly weakening the system lays you open to the most dangerous infections, can now be promptly checked by a very simple treatment. People who have hardly been able to rest on account of coughing spells have found that they can sleep the whole night through undisturbed often after the very first trial.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals the soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which is the real cause of the cough. The result is that you usually sleep as soundly as a babe the very first night, and the cough goes in a very short time.

The prescription contains no opiates or harmful drugs. Excellent for children as well as grown-ups. For coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, sore throat, spasmodic croup, bronchitis, laryngitis and bronchial asthma. At all good druggists. Ask for

POPE PLEASED BY U. S. CATHOLIC WORK

Rome, Feb. 24.—Although the greatest reserve is being maintained regarding Cardinal Mundelein's audience with the pope on Wednesday, its unusual length indicates that his holiness took the opportunity to ask for detailed information about the Catholic church in America, and perhaps, to consult the American cardinal about the general problems confronting the church.

It is no secret that the prosperity and zeal of the Catholic church in America is the cause of deep satisfaction to the Holy See, which is eager to know the opinion of the American Catholics on all important matters.

The Vatican especially appreciates the deference shown to the Catholic church by the United States government and the complete liberty which the church enjoys.

BIG STILL RAID IN COOSA COUNTY

Man Parker, Central Figure in Liquor War, Taken by the Officers at Still

Goodwater, Ala., March 2.—(Special.)—Sheriff Prater and Deputy Sheriff Pierce Vaughan conducted a raid in the Moriah community, western part of this county, and arrested A. J. Parker, better known as Man Parker; his son, and Westley Dannis at the still, where operations were being conducted to make a run of moonshine liquor. The beer, the still and other aparatus connected with the still were destroyed by the officers.

Parker has been suspected of making liquor for quite a while. The officers got on to the location of the still and placed themselves at vantage points before Parker came, and it is said by the officers, they spied Parker coming and as he came he fired the woods to raise up a smoke screen.

All the parties at the still were arrested and carried to Rockford, where they made bond and returned home.

It was in this community a few years ago where a brother of Man Parker, Walter Parker, was shot from ambush but recovered, and Bert Vansandt was tried and sent to the penitentiary for it. After the shooting of Walter Parker, Bert Vansandt was shot from ambush, and Walter Parker was tried and convicted of the shooting of Vansandt, and last year Man Parker was shot from ambush but recovered. All the shootings and trouble are said to have grown out of a moonshine feud.

Bert Vansandt served part of his time and was paroled, and Walter Parker is still serving his sentence. No one was tried or indicted for the shooting of Man Parker.

Mens S. S. Class Won Prize on Last Sunday

The Men's Bible Class of the Clanton Baptist Sunday School won the attendance prize last Sunday by showing a total attndance of 71, against a total of 59 for the Ladies' class the Sunday before. As a token of the splendid showing made by the men, Superintendent G. C. Armstrong presented the class with a new record book.

Mr. Armstrong promised the Ladies that if they would show an attendance of 65 on the second Sunday in April, he would give them a record book also.

Mr. H. T. Pipes very kindly stated to the ladies that if any of them got water-bound on that day, the men would lend them one of their boats, inferring that some of the men might have used boats to get to churrh last Sunday, but Judge Adams protested the suggestion of Mr. Pipes, making the point that it was not orthodox for any Baptist to plead water-bound.

We look for the ladies to come up to the mark of the Superintendent and take the prize offered them.

7th Street Has Still Got The Highway

After another little skirmish before the state highway commission Monday, the concrete road through Clanton remains designated to go down seventh street, as decided by the commission a month ago.

A delegation favoring the sixth street route, went to Montgomery Monday to try to get the matter reopened and to present further argument in favor of sixth street, but the commission held to its former ruling and refused to reopen the case.

Coolidge Takes Over Reins of the Government

With the confidence of the entire American nation behind him and an era of the soundest prosperity this country has enjoyed since the world war, prevailing—President-elect, Calvin Coolidge, was inaugurated yesterday at Washington; and with him Chas. G. Dawes, was sworn in as vice-president, who will be presiding officer of the Senate.

That "Silent Cal," in fulfilling the policies of the late President Harding, had done remarkably well was attested by the immense vote he polled at the November election. So he is not a new hand at the game of running the Government, and the American people are confident that his will be an administration of many worthy achievements.

Despite his protests for only the utmost simplicity, President Coolidge was inaugurated amidst elaborate ceremonies. The capital was overcrowded with thousands of distinguished visitors from all parts of the world — all eagerly awaiting the eventful hour when the oath of office was taken by the President.

Negro Forged Checks On Clanton Merchants

Last Saturday night four or five merchants of Clanton became victims of a rather peculiar check-forging scheme. Four merchants have already reported having cashed checks for, it is supposed, the same negro man, and the negro used a different name each time to indorse the checks. All four of the checks were signed D. Johnson, and the negro told the merchants that the check was his pay for work done with D. Y. Johnson's road crew which is doing work on the highway near Clanton. All of the checks were written out with ink in a fairly good business hand-writing, and the negro indorsed the checks on the back, with a pencil, in a very poor hand. The check cashed by Moates Brothers was indorsed as John Moore, the one cashed at Elmore's as John Williams, the one cashed by Jim Scroggins of West End as Hairy Reese, and the one cashed by Broadhead's as W. Harris. It is supposed that two or three more were passed on some of the other merchants of Clanton.

The forgery was first detected when Moates Brothers carried their check to the First National Bank for deposit Monday morning. All of the checks already detected were made out on the First National Bank of Clanton.

The negro purchased small amounts of goods from each of the merchants paying for same with the checks and drawing the rest in cash. The checks ranged in amount from $18 to $20. Most of the goods the negro purchased have been found in side-alleys of Clanton, and some of them were left at a negro shoe shop, the negro saying that he would call for the goods the next day. The negro has never called for his goods.

Sheriff Littlejohn has made a diligent search for the forger but has been unable to get any track of him. Mr. D. Y. Johnson says that no negro by any such name has ever been on his payroll.

A. E. A. Meets in Mobile For This Session

All of the teachers in Alabama have been assured by the Mobile Chamber of Commerce that no matter how many of them attend the Alabama Educational Association Convention at Mobile, April 2, 3 and 4, adequate rooming accomodations will be found for every one of them within Mobile's five hotels, or in private homes, centrally located within the city.

A letter addressed to the teachers through their official organ, the Alabama School Journal, gives the information that in addition to the hotels, the Chamber of Commerce rooming committee will have at its command a sufficient number of rooms in Mobile homes to take care of all who wish such accommodations; prices range from $1 to $1.50 per day per person.

"The city of Mobile and the Chamber of Commerce are backing the assurances given that your visit to Mobile shall be pleasant and enjoyable and that the expenses will not be excessive in proportion to the services offered.

"There are many interesting scenes in and around Mobile. Your entertainment as guests of the city will include a trip on Mobile Bay and River, aboard a safe and commodious steamer, and a tour of the city, in automobiles. The local teaching forces are planning additional courtesies."

The special committee, having in charge the entertainment of Mobile's guests during this convention have requested that educators who desire to make special arrangements for individual or group accommodations, make their wants known to Chairman Sam. H. Lackland, of the Chamber of Commerce Rooming Committee.

PRETTY PLAY "ROSETIME" AT HIGH SCHOOL FRIDAY NIGHT

The students of the Chilton County High School, under the direction of Miss Henderson of Hot Springs, Ark., will put on a musical comedy entitled "Rosetime" at the high school auditorium Friday night of this week. The students have been practicing for the play for the past several days, and it bids fair to be one of the best ever staged in Clanton. A small admission will be charged and the proceeds will go to the high school.

The people of Clanton who avail themselves of witnessing this play will be accorded a real treat, since it is going to be something fine. Don't let the date slip your mind and be there by 8:00 o'clock, so as not to miss any of it.

"Old Reliable" L. & N. Will Celebrate

Seventy-five years ago the L. & N. Railroad Company received its charter to construct a railroad from Louisville, Ky., to Nashville, Tenn., a distance of 185 miles. Therefore, this great company is this week celebrating its Diamond Jubilee. The company is proud of its massive achievements during the past three quarters of a century, and it is observing this occasion this week in honor of its noteworthy existence.

Since the year 1849, when the "Old Reliable" had its birth, its stretch of railroad track has been drawn out to cover a distance of over 5,000 miles, running through fourteen different States of the Union and serving nearly one-fifth of the population of the United States. This is indeed a record of which the management of the L. & N. can be justly proud.

The Union-Banner is carryng this week, a large advertisement of the L. & N., in which is displayed a map of the immense territory which the road serves, together with some figures, showing the present status of the company and also what it proposes to do in the future. The people of the South are interested in this, our home corporation, and it will be interesting to know something of what it has done for us during its life. Turn to this anvertisement and read it; it has some good information for you.

Bigger, Better Chicks At the Lowest Cost

Experience has proven that chicks hatched in modern incubators are larger and more vigorous than when hatched under the average hen. When you count the cost of feed and trouble of caring for setting hens, it is found in the majority of instances to be a saving to buy the little chicks, or to get your eggs hatched in an incubator. Besides, you may have early chicks hatched in time to mature into profitable winter layers; and it is the winter eggs that pay real profits. All who are interested in poultry will find it to their advantage to call on Mr. F. E. Mastin, who has installed several new and up-to-date incubators at his chicken farm. These machines are of large capacity, and if you want to get your eggs hatched, Mr. Mastin is prepared to serve you. He will either hatch eggs for customers or sell chicks of the best bred-to-lay strain of White Leghorns at lowest prices, considering quality.

Farmers of Chilton County are not doing what they might in the chicken business. It is a business matter of great opportunities which should be studied and applied by our people to their advantage. The knowledge and experience of men like Mr. Mastin should be utilized by the people on the farms of Chilton County in developing the possibilities of poultry raising. Mr. Mastin does not want to be nor does not expect to be the only farmer in Chilton County to make good at the poultry business. He will be glad to help anybody else get started in the right way.

It has been reported that Mr. Joe Maddox has smallpox.

Flem Higgins is building a handsome new home on Eighth street, North, between the homes of Dr. Crumpton and Marvin Carter.

COOLIDGE SIGNED POSTAL PAY BILL

Postal Employees Will Get A Raise In Salary Under the New Law

Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—Postal employees may rejoice—their raise in pay is assured.

Members of congress and the cabinet cannot rejoice—at least not yet—for Mr. Coolidge hasn't made up his mind as yet what to do about their pay increases.

The postal pay bill has had hard sledding. All sorts of obstacles have been put in its way, but at last the measure has gone through congress and has been signed by the President.

Mr. Coolidge realized that the bill doesn't quite satisfy from a revenue standpoint, the needs of the treasury in paying for the postal employees' increase, but it nearly does.

At least the measure is not open to the same objection as the one he vetoed, which appropriated $60,000,000 without showing from what source the funds were to come. It would have had to be borne by the taxpayers.

The new bill provides various increases in postal rates, but at best they are approximate, and may provide more revenue than estimated.

Mr. Coolidge had been urged to sign the measure on the ground that within a year, a further study of rates will have been made and adjustments can be made to meet any deficits. He therefore signed the measure.

Work Progressing On Road Near Jemison

The pouring of cement on the section of the State highway between Jemison and Wessington is going on at full blast now. The work has been impeded for the past two months on account of so much rain, but now that the weather is more favorable, the workmen are pushing the construction right along. If the weather remains agreeable, the link between Jemison and Wessington will be finished within a few weeks, and soon after completion will be opened for traffic.

Rockford Youth Killed Last Saturday

Goodwater, Feb. 28.—George Sims, age 21, was instantly killed about noon to-day when the lumber truck which he was driving turned over on the road near Sylacauga. His neck was broken in the accident.

Sims was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Sims of near Rockford, in Coosa County. His body was turned over to a Sylacauga undertaker for burial. Funeral services were held on Sunday at Sears Chapel near Rockford. No details about what caused the truck to turn over have been received here.

New Way to Quickly Stop Dangerous Cough

It is almost criminally careless not to properly attend a persistent cough, which by seriously weakening the system lays you open to far more dangerous infections. For by a very simple treatment you can stop the coughing spells almost instantly and often relieve the stubbornest cough in 24 hours.

This simple treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The prompt relief of the heaviest cough seems almost magical.

The prescription is highly recommeded for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's coughs and spasmodic croup—no opiates or other harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

COOK 10 - 10 COTTON SEED

If you plant cotton at all, it pays to plant the best seed. COOK 10-10 is the best by test at the experiment stations.

C. M. Mauldin, Wilsonville, Ala., on Southern and Vincent, Ala., on Central of Georgia railroads, is the largest multiplier of Cook 10-10 seed in the State. His seed are absolutely pure and are RECLEANED. No dirt, trash, or faulty seed in them.

"Siamese" Girl Twins are Able Musicians

Being destined to go through life united by a segment of bone that links their spines does not overshadow the happy dispositions of Violet Hinton and her sister, Daisy, of San Antonio, Tex. The twins, pictured above, get all the enjoyment they can out of life—much as would any other human being.

They are said to be the first girls born united, of an English speaking race, who ever lived to reach maturity. They are 17 years of age. Both are apt musicians, playing either the saxaphone or piano with equal skill. In the photo, Violet is shown at the piano with Daisy accompanying her on the saxophone.

A PARABLE OF TWO YOUNG MEN

There were two young men to each of whom or their heirs was left a fixed income of two hundred dollars a year for fifteen years.

These young men married and decided to build homes for their wives and hoped-for children.

One of them said "I will not go in debt but will pay as I go. I will take my annuity and build my home from year to year as it comes in." So he spent his two hundred a year on his house. As the house was to cost two thousand dollars and as he had only two hundred dollars a year to spend in building it, nine years had gone by before he was ready to put on the roof. As the foundation had been exposed to the sun and rain during the nine years, it had rotted away, hence he had nothing on which to put the roof and his two thousand dollars was wasted. He and his family having no home had to take the heat of a blistering sun in summer, the hail and freezing winds and rains of the winter. Some of his children died of exposure; his wife, sick, tired and disgusted with the folly of her husband, took the living children and went back home to her father. Through folly, he not only wasted his patrimony but made miserable those dependent on him and wrecked his own life.

The other young man said "I want my house, and as I need it now, I am going to make arrangements to get it now." So he went to a man who had the two thousand dollars and he said, "I have a yearly fixed income of two hundred dollars. If you will lend me the two thousand dollars at 5 per cent interest per annum, I will assign to you my annuity of two hundred dollars, one hundred of it to pay the interest at 5 per cent on the two thousand dollars, the other hundred to go into a sinking fund to pay off the principal of two thousand dollars for as long a time as may be needed to pay the two thousand dollars in full."

This arrangement was made. The house was built, the family made comfortable and happy. At the end of fourteen years the debt was paid, for if one hundred dollars be put into a sinking fund yearly, bearing 5 per cent interest, it will pay off two thousand dollars in a little less than fourteen years.

If these two men were livng today in Alabama, the one who would not go in debt to get a home would vote against issuing bonds to build roads, the one who borrowed the two thousand dollars to build his house would vote for it.

The rule that applies to building houses applies to building roads.—J. A. Rogers, President State Highway Commission of Alabama.

H. M. BATES BUYS CARTER BROS. GARAGE IN CLANTON

One day last week Mr. H. M. Bates, formerly of Enterprise community, purchased of Mr. Marvin Carter, the business which has been operated in Clanton for several years as the Carter Brothers Garage. Mr. Bates, who will manage the business in the future, is a hustling young man and has a splendid practical knowledge and long experience in the automobile and general repair business. As Carter Brothers have been doing in the past, Mr. Bates will continue in the future to specialize in battery work, although he will do all kinds of automobile repair work as well.

Mr. Carter will continue his sales business of the Atwater-Kent radio receiving sets and will devote his entire time to the promotion of this agency. For the present Mr. Carter will continue his radio business at the garage of Mr. Bates.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henley, Gladys and Miss Gene Thomas have also had a trip to the land of flowers.

MORE CORN ON ACRE BY GOOD VARIETIES

Can Increase Alabama Crop Millions of Bushels by Using Right Kind of Seed.

By planting good seed of the best varieties Alabama farmers can add millions of bushels of corn to their crop this year.

An analysis by Frank E. Boyd, extension agronomost, of experimental results shows that to a very marked degree per acre yields are determined by the variety of seed planted. Over an 80-year average in the Experiment Station here the highest yielding variety averaged 35.4 bushels per acre, on the lowest 29.8, a difference of more than 5 bushels per acre.

During four years of tests in cooperation with farmers in South Alabama the average of the highest yielding variety was 27.7 bushels per acre and the lowest, 18. During a two year period in North Alabama the highest was 22.2 and the lowest 10.8.

It is apparent, therefore, that the best varieties will yield at least five bushels per acre more than the poor varieties; and if every farmer used a good variety the total yield would be increased by millions of bushels. In 1924 the farmers of this State had 3,229,000 acres in corn.

There are several good varieties of corn for Alabama but no one variety is recommended for every county in the State. County demonstration agents should be consulted for information as to the best varieties in their respective counties. Rather than to plant seed of a poor variety a farmer can well afford to pay $5 a bushel, or more, for good seed.

The condemnation commission for the right of way on the new highway through Chilton County has been at work this week appraising the property through which the road passes. The commission is composed of Alf Mims, Monroe Parrish and Will Hays.

THE OLD RELIABLE

SEVENTY-FIVE years ago the L. & N. received its charter to construct a railroad from Louisville to Nashville—a distance of 185 miles. Today, it is one of the most important transportation systems in the world, serving fourteen states in which reside one-fifth of the Nation's population, and connecting the principal trade centers of the Central South.

With more than 5,000 miles of track excellently constructed and maintained; with freight and passenger equipment of the most modern type, and with a carefully-trained and most efficient corps of employes—"The Old Reliable" this week celebrates its Diamond Jubilee Anniversary.

During all this three-quarters of a century the L. & N. has constantly striven to provide the best possible service to the people of the South; it has weathered the financial storms; it has not changed its corporate name and it is one of the few large railroads of the country that has never been in receivership. It has never failed to meet its obligations; to pay every dollar to its workers, its creditors and its bondholders, and for a majority of these years it has been able to pay its stockholders a moderate return for the use of their money.

In thanking the public for the patronage which has made possible the growth and success of this railroad, and in soliciting its future support, the Management pledges a continued effort to serve its patrons, and submits as evidence of this purpose the following comparison of its progressive development since the earlier days of its career:

Property investment (approx.)	$391,000,000	$366,267
Locomotives	1,347	2
Freight cars	64,825	45
Passenger cars	922	4
Officers and employes	80,609	25
Compensation per month	$6,100,000	$2,309

As a further indication of its determination to produce unexcelled transportation, the L. & N. during the past five years, has authorized or expended for improvements over $120,000,000, or 38 percent of the amount of money invested during the first seventy years of its existence. During the first two months of 1925 it has already appropriated for improvements a total of about $20,000,000.

T. J. Dorminey, governor of Stumps Hills, was in Clanton Monday and Tuesday, attending Commissioners Court. He called at The Union-Banner to get the latest news from Washington.

Monroe Parrish of Beat 16 was in Clanton Saturday. He was besieged by his friends on every hand to hear him tell how he managed to paddle a motor boat with a corn sack. Mun says corn sacks are not as fast as motors, but when motors fail, corn sacks are mighty fine if you haven't got anything better.

Indications are now that those fortunate enough to be in jail this spring will have plenty of early vegetables to eat. We saw Tom Littlejohn working in his garden several times during the past week. Besides being a good sheriff, about the next best thing Tom is, is a gardener.

The new machinery bought by the town authorities of Clanton has arrived and already is at work with telling effect. Several of the main streets have been scarified and scraped, and are in good shape again. During the summer months, this machinery will go over all the streets.

The radio hasn't got very much on Uncle Jim Baker. Before it was expected that anybody had gotten back from Montgomery Monday, Uncle Jim was informing the folks that Seventh street still had the highway. It is strange how Uncle Jim knows so much, and the way he has of telling what he knows is unequalled by the radio, telephone, telegraph or newspaper extra.

SOME ESSENTIALS FOR SERVICE APPLICABLE TO CHILTON

Mr. H. M. Atkinson of the Georgia Railway and Power Co. gives five factors which he terms essential for the development and increase of new industries in a community. These essentials are as follows:

1. Availability of raw material.
2. Labor supply and conditions, both skilled and unskilled.
3. Transportation facilities.
4. Power supply.
5. A favorable attitude of the public mind toward the establishment and operation of industries.

Those of us who are interested in developing some kind of industries in Clanton and Chilton County can find in these five essentials an assurance that this county is able to offer to more than one industry guarantee of every item which Mr. Atkinson prescribes as necessary for the success of a community in securing and holding industries.

We have a wealth of available raw material for more than one cotton mill in Chilton County. We have a plenty of hardwood timber to supply more than one industry using that material in different ways.

We have the best labor supply and labor conditions that can be found anywhere. Our people are all native Americans, and no class of people have ever been found to be more reliable and steady workers. Under modern conditions of the textile trade the work in the mills is a work [illegible] is suitable for the best class of [illegible] ers. Chilton County can [illegible] at qualify under the [illegible] work-labor supply [illegible] certainly [illegible] Transportation, [illegible] ements for [illegible] tion that enter [illegible] cessful [illegible] acilities is a ques- [illegible] ins been [illegible] largely into the suc- [illegible] get an [illegible] ation of industries. It [illegible] said that Clanton can not [illegible] industry to locate here because [illegible] L. & N. Railroad, being the only line running through here, would enforce such rates and requirements of transportation as would prohibit the location of an industry here.

We do not believe that the disposition of the L. & N. Railroad toward industries would be such as to prohibit the location and operation of an industry in Clanton. That kind of talk sounds to us more like an excuse which somebody has employed by which for some unknown reason they choose to evade their part in trying to get an industry located here. There are other towns in Alabama that have only one railraod running through them, and are successfully operating different kinds of industries—and some of them are on the L. & N.

Then it should be remembered that when you take the whole of Chilton County into the bargain, you have the service of two other railroads besides the L. & N. There is the M. & O. and the Southern in the western part of the county which form a crossing or junction point at Maplesville.

The fourth item in Mr. Atkinson's list of requirements is for adequate power supply. In this respect Clanton and Chilton County has an advantage that is not surpassed by any place in the world. The availability of the service of the Alabama Power Company here is sufficient answer to any question that might be asked by any manufacturer anywhere about our power resources.

Now the last, a favorable attitude of the public mind toward the establishment and operation of industries. We have that, but it is like the butter in a jar of sweet milk. It is not yet in a lump, and is therefore not really "butter." If all the favorable sentiment for the location and operation of new industries in Chilton County were centralized, coordinated, and properly directed, we would have a cotton mill here just as quickly as it would be physically possible to put one up.

When we get through talking about how nice it would be to have some industries, and decide to get together and try one, we can do it. We have all the physical requirements; we only lack the proper mental determination.

THE FOUR-YEAR RECORD

It is four years ago yesterday since President Warren G. Harding took up the tangled threads of a war-torn government at Washington and set himself with determination to the tremendous task of bringing back to order the chaos that was bequeathed to him and his associates. Soon after Harding became President there began a series of grim tragedies that have made the four-year period that would have comprised his term of office a very conspicuous time in the history of our country.

Before the end of the term we find that Harding himself is dead, physically overcome by the great burden of his official life; his wife, who [illegible] was one of the most beloved wo[illegible] was ever graced the White H[illegible]en who gone on to the gre[illegible]use, is also Sawyer, the intima[illegible] beyond; Dr. lly physician of [illegible]e friend and fam- Another [illegible]ne Hardings, is dead. Harding[illegible] who was close to the cabi[illegible] and who was put in the in[illegible] as attorney general, has run [illegible] evil ways; and another close friend of the late President, also a member of the cabinet, has encountered a tragic fate in the manipulation of his public career.

But with all the tragedy that has attended those whose personality was looked upon four years ago to lead the country from the unstable ways of that day, we are to be thankful that where they left off, others took up the unfinished tasks that fell from their hands and carried the business of our Government forward in a manner amply befitting, until to-day our land enjoys the most orderly and stable conditions we have had since the time when we departed from the ways of peace to cast our men and money into the great orgy of war that was destroying Europe and seriously threatening to overturn the entire civilized world.

Harding was a good and great man, but it appears now that he was but the herald of one greater than he, in the person of the almost mysterious silent Calvin Coolidge, who has dumfounded the whole world with his ability to get things done.

Possibly the most gratifying accomplishment of our Government in the past four years is the reduction of the national debt. After the war, when our debt was at its high tide, the amount the United States owed was about twenty-six and one-half billion dollars. To-day it is but a little over twenty-one billions. That is to say, within four years the national debt has been reduced by one-fifth. This record is probably unparalleled in any other country or in any of our other post-war periods.

The reduction of our national debt has brought about a consequent reduction in Federal taxes, and there is a prospect of further tax reductions as one of the first acts of the new Coolidge administration.

There are some critics who seek to paint a dark picture for the transactions of our national administration during the past four years. But it is mighty hard for them to make the country believe it is so very dark in the midst of the shining lights of prosperity which are beaming their rays upon our land from one side to the other.

LUCK KEPT CALVIN COOLIDGE FROM POLITICAL OBLIVION

Yesterday, Wednesday, March [illegible] Calvin Coolidge took the oath of office as President of the United S[illegible]tates for a term of four years. Instead of entering this position of prestige and power, Mr. Coolidge might have been on this day retiring to [illegible] plare that would have meant political oblivion to him, because many vice presidents have entered into political oblivion after one term in that office, never to appear again in the headlines.

But here enters the element of chance, luck, or fate, whatever you may choose to call it, that has placed Mr. Coolidge in the foreground of the world's activities for another four years. But in fact, it is the course of natural events, coupled with political success that has in four years brought Coolidge out of the obscurity that hangs like a curtain over the vice presidency, and made him the most powerful ruler on earth.

The death of President Harding was the one great stroke of the hand of fate which brought Mr. Coolidge down from the dusty shelf of the vice presidency and put him on the stage of activity to play the part of a man challenged by the most exacting duties that ever fell upon human shoulders.

Mr. Coolidge has been able to meet those duties with a record of successful and candid performance scarcely paralleled by that of any man who has preceded him in the highest office of our Government. The wonderful manner in which he has succeeded in the performance of the duties of the office which fell from the shoulders of his beloved predecessor was reflected in the election last fall, the result of which brings him back into the presidency for another four years with an approval from the country as emphatic as any President has ever received.

Of the luck of Coolidge, Mark Sullivan says:

"Coolidge, in the means by which he was elevated, is the beneficiary of probably the greatest gamble in the universe, the vice presidency of the United States. It is a gamble in which you have one chance of winning. That chance lies in the death of the President. Every other chance points toward political desetude. Coolidge is one beneficiary of the only winning square on the board. Roosevelt was another."

Roosevelt fought against being made vice president because he did not want to be put on the shelf. He wanted something that had more action in it than the vice presidency. He knew that there was only one chance left for him to ever get back into action again if he became vice president, and of course he did not think it was at all likely for that one chance to fall to his advantage. But McKinley was kiled by the cruel hand of the assassin, and Roosevelt at once scrambled out of the dusty shelf of the vice presidency and became the most spectacular figure that ever occupied the high office of President of these United States.

Coolidge was much different from Roosevelt in his views of the vice presidency, as he is likewise much different from Roosevelt in many other ways. He was willing to take the office with no regrets about the activity of which it would deprive him. His quiet, unassuming disposition rather suited the quietude of the office of vice president. As for his future, he perhaps had never even dreamed of any greatness that might come to him. He had ever been a busy though quiet man, doing his duty with a zeal and efficiency that marked him as a great man, but with no intimate thoughts of himself. He took little concern about whether the big world should ever know of his greatness.

But fate made him President and he proved to be equal to the duties of the high place. His name shall adorn the pages of history with a lustre not excelled by any who have gone before him.

With all the love and admiration that we held for the lamented President Harding, we feel constrained now to say that it must have been best for the country that his place was taken by such a man as Calvin Coolidge. If it were not so, the hand of Divine Providence would not have designed it.

OAK GROVE

We are glad to say that health of this community is good at present. Everyone is taking advantage of the beautiful spring weather to begin farming. Our Sunday School was not so large last Sunday, due to bad weather.

The Singing Society met Sunday afternoon with a good attendance. The house was called to order by the President, Mr. W. J. Northcutt, followed by prayer by Mr. Hayes. Directors for the afternoon were: Messrs. L. R. Cobb, Lassie Northcutt, E. L. Glasscock, Mr. Hayes, E. H. Foshee, Dick Martin and A. H. Glasscock for the second time. A quartette was rendered by Mr. Hayes, A. H. Glass, E. H. Foshee and E. L. Glass, which was enjoyed very much. We were glad to have the visitors from Jemison, Providence, and other communities, and invite them to come again.

Our B. Y. P. U. met Sunday night with very good attendance. The Juniors, in charge of Miss Florence Cobb, gave a splendid program, after which came the Seniors. The group captain being absent, Miss Flossie Cobb took charge. A nice program was rendered. We had several visitors, and welcome them back again next Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Freeman, of Ensley, spent last week visiting relatives here.

Mr. C. L. Martin of Wylam spent Sunday night at home.

Mr. Ernest Durbin of Gadsden is visiting his mother at Jemison.

Miss Lola Mae Martin, who has been visiting her sister in Bessemer, returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gore from Collins Chapel were here Sunday. Miss Jessie Cobb returned home with them Sunday night.

Misses Ollie Glass and Myrtle Martin spent Saturday night with Lesta Cobb.

Miss Flossie Ellison and a friend from Birmingham spent Sunday with Miss Ivy Suttley.

Next Saturday night and Sunday are our regular preaching appointments; everybody come.

Mr. A. C. Vinzant of Union Grove was a visitor to Clanton last Saturday.

POOR OR

Boosting Clanton

IS MORE THAN MERELY "THINKING" OR "SAYING" GOOD THINGS ABOUT THE TOWN. REAL HONEST-TO-GOODNESS BOOSTING MEANS THAT EVERY CITIZEN IN OUR TOWN MUST CARRY OUT THE FOLLOWING PRINCIPLES EVERY DAY HE LIVES HERE:

1. Assume his share of civic responsibility and contribute his moral and material support to any movement toward good government. An efficient yet human administration is the backbone of a prosperous Town.

2. Do his part in getting and keeping good churches and schools, for these institutions are the builders of progress for the coming generation.

3. Patronize home merchants and professional men, for they are mainly responsible for the comforts, pleasures and opportunities that Chilton County affords to its citizens.

4. Lend your efforts to keeping our streets and our yards clean and attractive. An attractive town is good business, for a healthy atmosphere is one of the first requisites for drawing new citizens of the right sort.

5. Be generous in thought, word and deed to his neighbors and fellow citizens. Most of the happiness in Life is gotten by doing for others and entering into the spirit of co-operation. Don't be narrow and selfish, but lend a helping hand to your neighbor.

THESE ARE THE PRINCIPLES THAT, WHEN EVERY PERSON DOES HIS BEST TOWARD ACTUALLY CARRYING THEM OUT, WILL BRING US ALL PROSPERITY AND HAPPNESS.. WE PROSPER ONLY AS THOSE ABOUT US PROSPER, SO --- EVERY LOYAL CITIZEN OF CLANTON AND CHILTON COUNTY IS URGED TO BECOME AN ACTIVE, WORKING PARTNER WITH US --- LET'S DO SOME REAL BOOSTING FOR OUR TOWN BY MAKING IT BETTER IN EVERY WAY.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

The spirit of Thorsby was shown in the 30 to 1 vote cast in favor of the new 5-mill tax for the coming ten years, to secure payment of principal and interest on a $10,000 bond issue recently approved by Thorsby voters, to secure funds for the completion of our new public school building, now under construction.

Carl Langville and family and Miss Anna Werniss, motored from Ensley last Sunday to visit Miss Werniss' mother, Mrs. M. Grothe, of Thorsby.

Mr. Ben Brown of Ozark, a former student in Thorsby Institute, paid a brief visit to old friends in Thorsby Tuesday morning, while on his way home from a visit in Birmingham.

Marvin Davenport and wife are mourning the death of their two-weeks old baby.

R. L. Bonner, a theological student at Howard College, will preach at Thorsby Baptist Church next Sunday, March 8, morning and evening.

Miss Nell Shannon spent the week end visiting relatives and friends in Montgomery.

Little Marie, daughter of Nels and Mrs. Petersen, celebrated her seventh anniversary, Saturday, February 28. Quite a number of her small friends were present to help her enjoy the games, fun and festivities.

The first semester piano recital, gven by Miss Parker's pupils, was greatly enjoyed by those present. Much interest had been manifest in a system of stars, which has been in use throughout the semester. A star was given for perfect fingering, perfect note work, or perfect rythm. The first prize was awarded to Dorothy Butler and second prize to Doris Freeman.

By no means was all the excellent work done by these two prize winners. Miss Lois Primm rendered in fine style, a selection written for left hand performance. Not as a stunt, but because her right hand was temporarily disabled. Miss Irene Benson exhibited skill in interpretation and harmony, using the piano as an instrument and not a machine. Still others showed remarkable progress for the time they have taken lessons.

Considerable interest was manifest among Thorsby people when it became known that engineers of The Alabama Power Company were making a thorough survey of the prospects and possibilities for profitable business, if they decide to enter this field in the near future. None of their men would talk for publication, but it is no secret that the company is giving the matter careful consideration, and not the least attraction is the pioneer work already done by the Thorsby Light Company, which, with a limited service, has awakened a desire on the part of the whole community for an efficient all-time service, at rates that will permit the use of many electrical devices in the homes, and stimulate the location of many industrial plants in Thorsby, which will use current in paying quantities.

The writer visited Brewton, Ala., many years ago, and had occasion to take a midnight train for home; he will never forget the impression made by their all-night electric light service. It marked the place as a live town, in his mind. We need it in Thorsby.

You can always draw a crowd to witness a good play by children. This was manifest last Tuesday night by the "Tom Thumb Wedding" put on at Bates Hall, under the auspices of Thorsby Parent-Teachers Association in charge of Miss May Florence Robinson of Kansas City, who rehearsed the children for their respective parts. Many funny incidents were included in the program, and the large audience greatly enjoyed the proceedings, which netted a neat sum for our public school improvement fund.

The Congregational Ladies Aid Society will be entertained on Thursday afternoon, March 5, at the home of Mrs. Robert Johnson.

It is always a pleasure to see things well done. Such a pleasure was ours when on a recent Sunday afternoon we visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Petersen, long time residents of Thorsby. Here is one of the places Thorsby, and Chilton county citizens may be proud of. It is in fact a model farm, and all wrested from a barren hill top by this worthy couple.

From the moment one enters the turnstile gate at the roadside end of the broad and well kept path leading to the house, of neat design and well painted, one is conscious of seeing the work of masters of the art of farming. The farm consists of a 40-acre tract with half of it under cultivation. Here one can see a fine half acre patch of Alfalfa, at this season showing the space as completely covered as though it were a velvet carpet, yet in good seasons he cuts it five times with a yield of about a ton at each cutting. Strawberries are a staple crop with these people, and although weather conditions sometime make a poor crop, they still have faith and keep at it. Peaches are successfully grown here; big red cheeked ones, of a variety that come after most others are gone, and sell for top prices, right at home, with more demand than they can supply. We saw a few pecan trees for family supply, a few cows are kept, the milk being run through a seperator and the cream sold, although Mrs. Petersen is an expert butter maker, they find it is the best way to handle the product. The stock are kept in an up-to-date dairy barn, with swivel stanchions and a concrete trough at the back of the stalls which carries all liquid manure to a tank in the yard. The whole place, even to the barn and dairy house, is lighted from an acetylene gas plant. About fifty hens are kept.

While building all these elements of thrifty farming, this couple has had ten children; three boys now remain at home; three girls and four boys are filling important positions elsewhere.

"A FOOL THERE WAS"

A fool there was, and the coin he spent,
Even as you and I,
He had a good job and felt quite content
Each week his salary came—and went
He didn't save a single cent
Nor did he even try.

When he heard folks talk of a rainy day
Even as you and I,
Thought he, "But I am young and gay
And the years when I'll be old and gray
Are very, very far away,
Deprive myself? Not I."

So he scoffed at the fellows that saved their dough
Even as you and I,
While he was always on the go
At cabaret, or dance, or show,
They pegged away, and he thought them slow,
"Poor dumbbells," he would sigh.

Around with a sporty crowd he'd chase
Even as you and I,
He found it hard to keep the pace,
So he went in debt with a smiling face
His pals all swore he was an ace
And such a generous guy.

But all of a sudden one fine day,
Even as you and I,
He clutched his side and began to sway;
An ambulance carried him away,
And for many weeks he lay
While the rest of the world went by.

And when he emerged and again began
Even as you and I,
The fool was a weaker but wiser man;
The savings idea he'll no longer pan—
He salts every nickel he possibly can,
A nest-egg he has by.

He watches spendthrifts with much concern,
As recklessly they buy;
He knows some day they'll have their turn.
Advice from him they'd probably spurn,
For each one has his own lesson to learn
Even as you and I

CALERA COMING TO THE FRONT

Of late days many new and strange faces are to be seen on the streets of Calera. A large percent of these strangers are here to take advantage of the opportunities being offered by the little town which bids fair to make a city of several thousand people within the next few years. The new comers have added to Calera, one modern furniture store, one up-to-date grocery store, one modern commercial hotel, one furniture and auto upholstering shop, one modern steam pressing and tailoring shop, one clothing store and one new meat market.

Mr. A. B. Baxley, formerly of Clanton, has accepted a position with the Calera Realty Company. This company has within the last few weeks closed a number of deals on business and residence property, as well as dairy and poultry farms.

The new $1,500,000 lime and by-products plant to be erected by the Alabama Lime & Stone Corporation has centered much interest in and around Calera. From information received, this plant will employ from three to five hundred men.

The citizens of Calera have taken new courage and have fallen in line with the spirit and determination to build at Calera one of the best little cities in central Alabama. In a few days the paving of Montgomery Avenue, which is the principal street of the town, will be complete with curb and gutter. It is now a real pleasure ties as any town in the state. In adthe new asphalt highway. The new east and west highway through the town is now under construction, and when this highway is completed, Calera will have as good highway facilities as ay town in the state. In addition to these highways, Calera has three good railroads, with Union station.

Concrete is now being poured for the new platform, and 750 feet of umbrella rain sheds will be erected around the station at once.

The new high school building which the town proposes to build this year, is something the people of Calera look forward to with much pride. Today there is not a vacant dwelling in Calera. There is room for many new houses and it is hoped that the men who can, will see their opportunity.

Mr. Baxley, with the Calera Realty Company, extends an invitation to all of his friends of Chilton County to call on him for information concerning the town, and to stop and see him when passing through. Office next door to post office.

Mr. James W. Lowe, Linotype operator for the Selma Times-Journal was in Clanton Wednesday.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Mrs. L. F. Gerald, Mrs. Watts Moore, Miss Kathleen Mullins and Arthur Johnson, Jr., motored to Montgomery Saturday shopping.

SCRUB BULL FOUND GUILTY OF CHARGES IN MONTGOMERY

Animah Condemned in Court and Is Sentenced to be Banished From Every Farm in Alabama.

"We the jury, find the defendant guilty of all the charges preferred against him, and sentenced him and his kind to be banished from every farm in Alabama," was the verdict of the jury in the scrub bull trial in Montgomery, February 25.

A. Scrub Bull, which was present in a crate in the court room of the Montgomery County court house, and was charged with being a robber, and unworthy of a place on any farm because of his inferiority when compared with purebreds. Although he was ably defended, in a moment's deliberation the jury found him guilty, with the above verdict.

The trial was arranged by L. T. Wells, extension dairyman, of Auburn, and L. A. Edmonson, county agent of Montgomery County. J. Fred Johnson, assistant attorney general, was judge of the court. Jesse B. Hearin, T. B. Hill, and James S. Parrish prosecuted, while I. T. Quinn and Marion Rushton defended. The leading business men, officials, and farmers of Montgomery composed a jury, of which Judge Dave W. Crossland was foreman. Judge Leon McCord was a witness.

The decision of the jury was considered a great verdict for purebred livestock, especially purebred sires. The trial was unique in that it was the only scrub bull trial ever staged in Alabama.

FRIDAY, MARCH 6 ARBOR DAY IN ALABAMA

The observance of Arbor Day is in accordance with a very old custom originating in Europe in the 5th century, according to the Alabama Commission of Forestry. From an old chronicle it appears that the people of a little Swiss village decided to have an oak grove in the public square. A day was set, and the entire community—men, women and children—went to the woods, carefully took up oak saplings and brought them to the village square where they were as carefully planted. Each boy and girl participating in the labor received a wheaten roll as a reward, and in the evening the grown-up people had a feast and a frolic. For years afterward the anniversary of this tree planting was observed with appropriate ceremonies by the villagers.

In the United States, Arbor Day was first observed in Nebraska in April, 1872, when over a million trees were planted. Kansas and Tennessee followed the lead of Nebraska in 1875 and the next year Minnesota fell in line. Other states followed rapidly. In most states the legislature has designated by law a particular day as Arbor Day. In other instances, however, as in the case of Alabama, the day is set by the Governor's proclamation each year. This year Governor Wm. W. Brandon has issued a proclamation setting aside Friday, March 6.

The planting of trees on Arbor Day by schools, patriotic societies, civic organizations and individuals can provide a direct economic recourse where windbreaks, timber and fuel for neighborhood use are needed. Apart from such purely economic considerations, there are valuable uses for trees for shade and ornamental purposes. Yearly plantings accompanied by appropriate exercises, serve to keep the people continually reminded of the value and necessity of trees and forests, and they have such a far-reaching effect on the public spirit that all communities reap decided benefits from the observance of Arbor Day.

THE MONTGOMERY-BIRMINGHAM HIGHWAY

Work on the river bridge at Reese Ferry has been delayed three months on account of the continued high water in the river. Work on the two unfinished piers will begin in April or May and it will take 60 to 90 days to complete them. The steel for the superstructure will begin to arrive during the spring months and it will take about 90 days to place and rivet it. It is now figured the bridge will be ready for crossing in September.

All the plans for the road contract from Hunter's station through Autauga county to the Chilton county line are about completed and as soon as approved by the Federal department, will be advertised for bids at the March meeting of the highway commission.

As now planned, Prattville will miss the highway but will be connected by a spur. The Tom's route as agreed on, runs on the east side of Prattville and so near the top of the hill and through a part of the suburban part of town that travelers could get a view of our town and be attracted through it. Recently, a suggested change has been made to go half way between the Tom's route and the old Loder route, and down under a hill that will shut Prattville from the view of travelers, and is about the same as the old Loder route. This is again disappointing, and makes Prattville farther away from the highway and the travelers unfamiliar with this section could pass over this route until doom's day and never know there was such a town as Prattville on the map. Prattville is indeed unfortunate, and if ever its people had any influence, seem to have lost it all.

Not long since, the Hon. Alf Tunstall sat before the State Highway Commission and asked for a paved state highway through Greensboro, and the commission laughed at him for his nerve and such a request, but the Hon. Alf Tunstall got it, as was given out through the newspapers last week. Every county seat got the roads through them as intended by the highway laws. Prattville seems to have been up against it. The Progress has never doubted for a moment the location of the river bridge at Reese Ferry meant the routing of the road through Prattville. It realizes that a railroad or highway routed a mile from a town or city may mean very little to the town.

Every merchant and every other citizen of Prattville should feel a deep interest in this as it means much to the future of our town.—Prattville Progress.

—to regain Strength

—brings joy to you and your friends.

EVERY man, woman and child wants to have strength and correct weight. It means the joy of living. To be minus strength and underweight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red cells in your blood, minus health, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S.S.S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women a plus in their strength. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body.

More red-blood-cells! S.S.S. aids Nature in building them by the million! There are no unproven theories about S.S.S., the scientific results of each of its purely vegetable medicinal ingredients are admitted by authorities. Begin taking S.S.S. today. It will give you more energy, vitality and vigor and a more up and going appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

What to Do For A Persistent Cough

Everybody knows how foolish and dangerous it is to let a cough hang on and on. The proper thing to do is to stop it—quick—and for this purpose there is nothing better than that great old home remedy that our parents and grandparents used so successfully—Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. It often relieves a severe cough overnight. Doctors say there is really nothing like pine tar to quickly loosen and remove the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing, while the honey not only gives a pleasant taste but helps soothe soreness and irritation.

But be sure you get the genuine Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey and not some substitute. Dr. Bell's is the original, and has been known for many years as the best. It is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine tar, honey and other quick-acting ingredients, which the best doctors have found to aid in bringing quick relief. Contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, so can be given even to young children—fine for spasmodic croup. If you want the best home remedy in the drug store, get Dr. Bell's. 30c at all good druggists.

REFUGE LADY HAS PECULIAR STROKE

Health of this community is good at present, except Mrs. Adeline Connell. About five o'clock Saturday afternoon she left to go to the cowpen to do the regular evening work. While there she suffered a stroke of some kind, becoming blind. In trying to return to the house she went about 150 yards beyond the house, where she was found by R. N. Connell, O. R. Robinson and A. N. Johnson, about 3 o'clock Sunday morning. When found, she was lying on the ground, across the creek from the house. Her body was very cold, but life remained. A doctor was summoned and the lady is very much improved.

Judge Reynolds received a telegram from Governor Brandon last week, urging him to attend a meeting of the American Legion Endowment Committee of Alabama, at the Tutwiler Hotel in Birmingham last Saturday. On account of official business, Judge Reynolds could not attend the meeting.

BALLOON TIRES OPTIONAL ON ALL FORD AUTOMOBILES NOW

Probably the most important news in automobile circles during the last week was the announcement that balloon tires are to be furnished as optional equipment on all types of Ford cars.

This is probably the greatest recognition given balloons since their introduction on the market, and should prove an impetus to their popularity.

The Ford Motor Company has long been interested in balloon tires and has been carrying on experiments with them for some time. Its decision to supply balloons comes only after severe tests which, coupled with the good results obtained by individual owners, have proven these tires to be thoroughly practical for Ford cars.

To compensate for the harder steering with balloon tires, a special steering gear with a greater reduction will be installed on all cars carrying these tires.

Balloons to be furnished for new Ford cars will be of standard size 29 by 4.40, straight side, and mounted on wood wheels. This equipment will be available at a comparatively small additional cost to the new car purchaser.

Arrangements also have been made for providing dealers with balloon tire equipment so that any Ford car owner who desires to do so can have his tires changed over from the high pressure tires to balloons.

Distribution of the new balloon tire equipment has been made to the Ford dealers and is now available to present and prospective Ford owners.

URGE COTTON CLUB WORK

Cotton club work as a means of putting the rural boy or girl in the South through College is being urged by club leaders as a stimulant to 4H activities. It is the plan being followed by Paul Grimsley, the Alabama boy declared the champion boy cotton raiser in America at the International last fall, and it is also being used as the basis of membership appeals in several localities. Grimsley is the lad whose bale of cotton brought him that handsome check from the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation, which is using the bale in demonstrations of improved methods in cotton growing.

Grimsley's career is any boy's career. He is sixteen years old and was reared on a farm in Talapoosa County, Ala. In 1922, on the first patch of ground that he could call his own, he raised two bales of cotton on five acres. He did no better the next year, but on the following year, under the direction of S. M. Day, county agent who is also the club work leader for his locality, Grimsley succeeded in growing a bale of cotton on less than an acre. It was this bale that won him over a hundred dollars in addition to several other prizes, and made him the junior cotton king of America.

Young Grimsley's "philosophy" is well expressed in a message which he has written for the farm youth of America. "I feel that club work offers an easy way for the Southern boy to go to college, for he can, during his High School course, have a cotton crop each year and make enough money above expenses to pay a good part in putting him through, providing he uses some economy," he wrote.

"I am also convinced that new methods taught us by our leaders and which have proven successful at our experiment stations are superior to the old ways. These methods mean less trouble to the farmer and less expense, and trained agricultural experts are ready to help him in producing larger yields. Farmers now realize that they have something to learn from these men about their own business, and this accounts for the active interest in progressive farm methods."

IN MEMORY OF LITTLE HULETT HAYS

Little Hulett, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hayes of North Clanton, after ten days of intense suffering from scarlet Fever, was released from pain and quietly fell asleep at 10:30 a. m., Thursday, February 26, leaving to mourn his departure, the heartbroken parents, two brothers, three sisters, besides other relatives, and a host of friends who had learned to love his gentle disposition and winning ways.

All that human ministry could do having failed to give permanent relief, we could but bow in submission to the Father above and say "Thy will be done." The Saviour's words, "Of such are the Kingdom of Heaven," were our solace.

Our baby has been with us for the short period of one year, nine months and three days, and with Job we can say, "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away, Blessed be the Name of the Lord."

He was laid to rest at Liberty Hill Friday morning. Owing to the violency of the disease, funeral services were held in the cemetery, words of comfort being spoken by A. L. Foshee from Romans 5:12,13, which strengthened in the hearts of the loved ones the hope of meeting their darling at the first resurrection. "Then the Lord shall descend from Heaven with a shout that awakens the sleeping saints, and send forth His angels to gather them from the four corners of the earth."

Little Hulett's guardian angel, which protected him in life and watches over the precious little mound in death, will then hasten to bear him, clad in immortality, to the arms of his now bereaved parents. What a glorious meeting that will be!

As we left the grave, banked with floral tributes of carnations and early spring flowers which little Hulett had loved so dearly, by faith we looked forward to the new earth and to see him, roaming the fields or mountain with little wings, plucking the never-fading flowers.

While we are sad and lonely, we mourn not as those without hope, for if we are faithful,

We shall meet beyond the skies,
Some sweet day;
Gaze no more with tearful eyes,
Some sweet day;
We shall clasp our own again,
Free from sorrow, sin and pain,
We shall wish no more in vain,
Some sweet day.

A FRIEND.

CARD OF THANKS

We herein express our heartfelt thanks to the doctors and nurses who rendered such faithful and efficient service in the sickness and death of our baby, to the neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy, and for the floral offerings.

Floors Never Get a Holiday

YOU know how many times you walk on them—how often the furniture is moved across them—how muddy shoes streak them. They're always on the job. And if they show all this wear they detract from the beauty of the rooms and halls. Folks who use Pee Gee Floor Enamel have no need to worry about their floors. It is so elastic, and yet so hard that heel marks, scruffing and other floor-abuses will not show. It dries overnight with a high-gloss finish, and you have a floor that will not crack or peel, nor does water affect it.

John H. Patton Died Sunday At Jemison

Mr. John H. Patton, age 76 years, died at his home at Jemison on last Sunday afternoon, following a stroke of paralysis the day before his death.

For many years Mr. Patton has been a familiar character at Jemison, where he was known as an upright and worthy citizen. He came to Jemison 38 years ago and engaged in the mercantile business, which he continued until a few years ago.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and the Baptist Church, to both of which he was intensely devoted. The Masons had charge of the burial services at Pine Hill cemetery Monday afternoon.

Mr. Patton is survived by his wife, two sons, James W. Patton of Jemison and John Patton, Jr., of Charleston, W. Va., one daughter, Mrs. N. W. Henson, of Charleston, W. Va.

The passing of this good man and sturdy citizen will leave vacant in his community a place which he has long filled with a life of honor and respect. He will be missed at Jemison by his many friends. But the sadness caused by his departure from the walks of men is turned into beauty as one reflects upon the many good traits of his character which stood out in many ways to mark him as a real man among men.

Jasper Hotel Clerk Gets A Flogging

George Tallant, a hotel clerk at Jasper, is reported to have been taken into the woods near the city Monday night and given a severe flogging by a band of hooded and masked men. The daily papers reporting the account of the incident Tuesday, could find no reason for the flogging other than that somebody said they had heard Tallant say things in criticism of the Ku Klux Klan.

BRIDGE FELL IN

On Tuesday afternoon, a large truck passing over the bridge at the south end of Sixth Street, caused the structure to give way and fall in so as to prevent further traffic until some repairs are made. Sheriff Littlejohn has obstructed the road on each side of the bridge, and traffic will be diverted until the bridge can be made safe.

MT. PLEASANT

There will be a program consisting of readings, quartettes, choruses and a pantomime of "Double the Dose," rendered at the Mt. Pleasant school, 3 miles northwest of Clanton, on Saturday night, March 14.

Everybody invited. The program will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Admission: 15 and 20 cents.

THE FACULTY.

VICE PRESIDENT CHAS. G. DAWES

THE United States now has a Vice President. Since the death of President Harding and up until last Wednesday, March 4th, there was no vice president of the United States. But we have one now by a big majority. The above is a likeness of Charles G. Dawes, who was inaugurated last week as vice president of the United States, and by virtue of that office automatically became presiding officer of the United States Senate. And the latter is no "gravy train" either, since, to keep all those old hoary-headed law-makers straight, and all kindly pulling in the right direction is SOME job. But old "Hell and Maria" can come about as near accomplishing this feat as anybody in the country. Even in his inaugural speech Mr. Dawes laid down the law very plainly to the Senate, and his forceful manner of saying what he means left no doubt in the minds of the senators what they might expect from their presiding officer.

Carmichael Candidate For Governor

Outlines His Platform In Formal Announcement Of His Plans For The Race.

Archie H. Carmichael of Tuscumbia definitely placed himself in the race for governor of Alabama in a formal statement issued in Birmingham Saturday night. He outlined briefly the policies he will advocate and promised a detailed announcement later in the year.

Mr. Carmichael with several friends was in Birmingham during last week, where he conferred with local political leaders. Opposition to a state income tax, advocacy of school, health and road improvements and economy in the state government are stressed in his statement, which follows:

"I would like to be the next governor of Alabama and have definitely decided to make the race. At a later date I shall announce my candidacy. Schools, health, roads, will be paramount in my campaign. I shall declare in favor of progress along all lines, the full and speedy development of the port of Mobile and such legislation as may be necessary to force the power at Muscle Shoals to contribute its utmost to the prosperity of the state.

"I shall oppose an income and inheritance tax, and shall favor the raising of necessary revenues for a progressive administration of the affairs of Alabama and their economical administration. I shall favor apportionment of the load of taxation."

For months Mr. Carmichael's name has figured in the pre-campaign talk over the state, and his statement removes all doubt as to his intentions. He has been active in politics for years and is a veteran legislator, having served in the house and senate and as speaker of the house.

Harwell G. Davis, attorney general, announced several weeks ago that he would be a candidate in the gubernatorial race. Lieut. Gov. Charles McDowell is avowedly a candidate, and Col. Bibb Graves already is conducting an active campaign. Other candidates are expected to get in the race during the summer.

Wert Files Candidacy.

The first hat to be officially tossed into the ring for the next political contest to be decided in 1926 was flung in last Saturday, when Thomas W. Wert of Decatur, filed with the secretary of state his formal declaration for the office of attorney general of Alabama.

Mr. Wert announced himself as a candidate for the democratic nomination for attorney general in the primary to be held the second Tuesday in August, 1926, at which time democratic nominees for most state offices, including that of governor, will be selected. He is the first candidate for any office in the next election to formally declare his candidacy.

Mr. Wert had for some time been prominently mentioned as a likely candidate for the office of attorney general. He is a member of the law firm of Wert and Hutson of Decatur, former judge of the law and equity court of Morgan county, and is a World war veteran, having commanded a machine gun company of the Eighty-second division overseas.

Names of several other Alabamians have been mentioned as likely to enter the race for attorney general. Those who have been mentioned for the office include Lamar Field, assistant attorney general; F. E. St. John, representative from Cullman in the 1923 legislature; John McCoy, assistant solicitor of Jefferson county, and R. T. Simpson, Jr., of Florence.

McArthur May Run.

F. D. McArthur, attorney and member of the board of education of Jefferson county, who has been talked as a probable candidate for governor, made it known Saturday that he will make a decision and declare his position within the next few days. The chances are that he will enter the race.

The boom for Mr. McArthur was started several months ago by his friends. He had declined to comment until Saturday, when he said: "I thank my friends for their interest and feel that I cannot, in justice to them, remain silent longer. The probabilities are that I will enter the race within a few days."

Singing at Friendship Fourth Sunday P. M.

The fourth Sunday in this month is the regular preaching day, and in the afternoon the singing society will meet and sing for two or three hours. The society has not been meeting for the past few months, and all singers are urged to come out and help the society to get organized again.

The singing society will meet only once a month at Friendship. The Walnut Creek class has kindly consented to meet only once a month—on the second Sunday afternoon, so as to work together with the Friendship class. So, as much so as possible, the singers of both churches will meet at Walnut on the second Sunday afternoon and at Friendship on the fourth Sunday afternoon.

The 1925 Showalter books will be used at Friendship the fourth Sunday, so all singers are requested to come and bring your new books. It is hoped that a goodly number of singers will be present. The singing will begin about 2:00 o'clock. Everybody be there by that hour.

J. C. Harrison, Prison Inspector Here Friday

Mr. J. C. Harrison, State Prison Inspector of Montgomery, was in Clanton last Friday inspecting the county jail and the county poor house. Mr. Harrison found both these institutions neatly kept and in good condition.

After finishing his inspection work, Friday afternoon, with a few friends, he went down to Mitchell Lake on Coosa river and rode around over the pond a while in a motor boat. Mr. Harrison enjoyed the outing so well that he returned too late to catch his train to Montgomery, but it was lucky that he got here in time to catch the south-bound local.

Mr. Harrison was very favorably impressed with the beautiful scenery on Mitchell Lake and stated that he knew of no better place to bring his family to spend their summer vacation.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Mr. John H. Patton, who died at Jemison last Sunday, request us to convey to their friends and neighbors in the community of Jemison, their sincere appreciation of the sympathy and kindness extended them in their bereavement.

"FIGHTING IN FRANCE" DRAWS BIG CROWDS TO WADESONIAN

The great war picture, "Fighting in France," produced from the actual fighting while it was going on during the world war, was shown on the screen at the Wadesonian Theatre in Clanton Tuesday night and Wednesday night of this week. The picture proved a wonderful success, great big crowds witnessing it at every production. The picture was especially interesting in that it was taken from the actual fighting, and the thrills were there galore.

Dr. Clarence Roper of Boothton spent a few days in Clanton the past week, coming here to see his sister, Mrs. J. D. Armstrong, who has been ill for some time.

A total of 174 stills were smashed during the month, and 101,000 gallons of beer, 1,130 gallons of whiskey, 166 gallons of wine and 380 bottles of home brew destroyed.

Thirteen automobiles, two trucks, one horse, one mule and one wagon were confiscated during the month.

Five arrests were made by state officers on murder charges during the month, and arrests were also made for a number of crimes, including arson, highway robbery, burglary, grand larceny, reckless driving, and a number of other charges.

Of cases made by state officers which were disposed of during the month, convictions were secured in 250 cases, 20 were nolprossed and only 12 acquitted. Twenty-three sentences ranging from a year and a day to 15 years were imposed from cases made by the law enforcement officers.

Cash fines assessed from cases during the month amounted to $20,073. Expenses of the department for the month were $8,625.72.

Rejects Royal Title and Home to Star on Screen

HERE'S a tiny miss to whom a royal title and a home in a royal palace with boundless attention and treasures, mean nothing. She is little Diana Kahn, oft-called the most beautiful child on the screen, who rejected the offers of a Hindoo prince to adopt her and confer on her the title of princess. He was won by her beauty but she preferred her film career to wearing a title.

Little Diana is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Kahn of Media, Pa., a suburb of Philadelphia. At present, she is being starred in a film series called "The Adventures of Diana."

BIG FOX RACE

The Union-Banner:

Will you please give me a place in your valuable paper. I have seen some reports of hunts, so here comes mine.

Last Tuesday morning I was awakened by dogs. I did not think much about it at the time; just thought it was a farmer's dog that had risen early and was trailing a rabbit, so I went about my work. It began to sound like they were trailing a fox. To make a long story short, Floyd Nix had come down and jumped a fox, so I jumped right in without being asked. We did not catch the fox, but all that saved his scalp was that a bunch of bulldogs ran in and upset the hounds. A close call for Mr. Reynard Fox.

ALABAMA NEWS

Three Montgomery county road projects have been awarded $500,000 by the State Highway Commission The money will come from the proceeds of the sale of $7,000,000 of State Highway bonds which will take place in the near future. The money will be spent on a hard surfaced highway from Montgomery to the Judkins Ferry bridge on the Wetumpka road; from Montgomery to the Reese's Ferry bridge on the Prattville road; and on reconditioning the Selma road from Montgomery to the Lowndes county line. To expedite the work on these projects, the Montgomery county board agrees to pay the expense of a surveying party to begin work at once. It is believed the surveys can be completed, the plans made up, the work advertised, the contracts let by August 1 and a larger part of the work done before next winter.

The Alabama public service commission has mailed out the annual reports formerly adopted and inspected by them for electrical, gas and water utilities. The report is the first standaridzed form of annual report required to be filed by these utilities, and will materially assist the commission as well as the various utilities in all rate cases and other matters, as the reports are based on the uniform classification of accounts adopted and prescribed by the commission last November requiring all utilities to keep their books and records in accordance with a standard accounting system.

At the meeting of the junior chamber of commerce of Selma, it was decided to put a curb market in the first story of the city building offered to them. Reports from Tuscaloosa brought back to Selma by R. H. Hamner, convinced the members that the curb market would be an asset to Selma. Final plans have been completed for its operation on March 15. A county-wide gardening campaign will be entered into immediately in co-operation with the county council and members of the farm bureau.

More than half of the physicians of the Tennessee Valley are now using the facilities of the Tennessee Valley laboratory, according to a report for February, which was made public by Dr. Perollio. A striking feature of the report for the month was examinations of 92 for typhoid. Tuberculosis showed only five to be positive out of 56 examinations. A mark falling off was noted in diptheria. Out of 105 persons examined only 19 positive cases were discovered.

A petition was filed with the Alabama public service commission by R. S. M. Wright and Thomas W. Millican, seeking certificate for convenience and necessity to authorize the sale and transfer of the properties and assets of the Winston County Telephone Company from Wright to Millican, and from Millican to James F. Scofield, of Birmingham. The company has approximately 500 miles of telephone lines, it was stated. The petition was docketed for hearing at Montgomery, April 6.

Information has been received from the State Department of Game and Fisheries that the United States Bureau of Fisheries will send an expert to Alabama to aid I. T. Quinn, commissioner of Game and Fisheries, in locating a suitable place for the establishment of a fish hatchery. He will also assist in any other matters pertaining to fish in the State.

Bids will be opened March 25 at the state highway department for gravel surfacing of three miles of road in Pike County between Troy and Orion. Bids will also be opened on the same date for two small bridges in Blount County, on the Birmingham-Decatur highway.

The Decatur city council has set April 7 as the date for the election when the city will vote on a $50,000 bond issue to help build a Tennessee River bridge at that point.

Coffee County farmers are planning to plant a large acreage in both cotton and peanuts this year, according to Probate Judge J. A. Carnley. Judge Carnley states that last year's cotton crop in Coffee County was the best since 1914.

Being largely coal miners and farmers' sons, boys of the Altoona high school had no trouble in agreeing to make blue overalls their school uniforms. It is said the vote was unanimous. All the male students are now appearing in the blue denim.

Three hundred passengers of the steamer LaFayette, coaling at Mobile, were guests of the Mobile Chamber of Commerce for a drive through the city and suburbs. Numbers of Mobilians were guests at a luncheon aboard the LaFayette at noon. The LaFayette is the largest passenger vessel that has ever coaled at Mobile.

The Etowah County Farm Bureau announces that it will quit taking orders for fertilizers to be purchased co-operatively on March 10. All farmers in the county, whether members or not, have been invited to participate and it is said that many of them have sent in orders. Indications are said to point to a large cotton acreage.

After deliberating for three hours, the jury trying the case of L. J. Sampler and Tom Hicks, negroes, in circuit court at Anniston on charges of highway robbery, returned a verdict of guilty. The penalty was fixed at 25 years in the state penitentiary. They are charged with holding up G. B. Mayne, an Anniston merchant.

The Birmingham City Commission's fight to compel the Louisville and Nashville and Alabama Great Southern railroads to spend upward of $3,000,000 in constructing underpasses at the Fourteenth, Eighteenth and Twentieth street grade crossings, now rests with the Supreme Court of Alabama. City Attorney W. J. Wynn revealed that the city has appealed from the decision of Judge W. M. Walker, of Chancery Court, who several weeks ago denied the city's motion to quash the petition for relief filed by the carriers. Wynn looks for a decision within a month or six weeks.

As provided in the will of the late John J. Eagan, president of the American Cast Iron Pipe Company, one of Birmingham's most enterprising industrial corporations, the transfer of the common stock in the company has been accomplished formally, the employes of the company receiving their share through Mr. Eagan's executors, Susan and Young Egan and Marion M. Jackson. The transfer involved 1,085 shares, the total outstanding common stock of the company at the time of Mr. Eagan's death, and a formal transfer was made.

The linen shower for the Baptist Hospital in Selma which was Statewide in its appeal was attended by 75 prominent men and women from all over the State. Five thousand articles were given to the hospital, valued at $3,500 together with $400 in cash, the largest gift being given by the Selma association. There were 228 sheets 621 pillow cases, 98 spreads, 74 blankets, 30 1-2 pairs curtains, 585 hand towels, 897 table napkins, 412 tray covers, 476 kitchen towels, 585 hand towels, 555 bath towels and a number of other articles.

Foreign corporations are obtaining permits to operate within the State of Alabama at a rapid rate, according to Secretary of State, S. H. Blan, who says that 972 have already qualified to do business here in 1925. Indications at present are that the number of foreign corporations to qualify with the Secretary of State will far exceed those of last year when slightly more than 1 300 filed papers. The list includes several European corporations as well as those from other States in the Union.

The watercress harvesting season is at its height in Madison county and every train out is carrying large shipments of the plant grown in the lakes and ponds of the county. C. E. Dennis has developed this business during recent years and it has grown to large proportions. He "farms" a large area of lakes where the cress grows in profusion and ships to many hotels in the U. S. and Canada.

Deeds covering sale of 15,000 acres of virgin short leaf pine sold recently by the Deal Sawmill company of Tuscaloosa to Sipsey company of Eldorado, Ark., have just been filed in the probate office at Tuscaloosa. The deeds required $1,035 in revenue stamps. The timber tract extends from Buhl in Tuscaloosa county into Greene county. A saw mill at Buhl was included in the deal.

Definite plans for the formation of a safety council in Anniston were announced by officers of the junior chamber of commerce. WHY FARMING DECLINED

A review of the present status of agriculture in New England has shown that the more important contributing causes of the condition which exists are: Waste of farm resources; failure to understand and practice the fundamental principles of business; lack of an adequate program of farm management and soil management, with the attendant depletion of soil fertility; choice of unsuitable and oftentimes unmarketable varieties; the use of poor seed; the keeping and breeding of inferior animals; the use of purchased feeds instead of home grown grain; quantity instead of quality production; and failure to grade produce properly and according to law. The decline of New England agriculture presents a serious problem which deserves the most careful study.—Banker-Farmer.

The Sway of Eloquence

Down in my part of the country in the old days of silver tongued speakers and sour mash Bourbon, we were a high strung and sentimental people, and oratory moved us as nothing else would. There was once a brawny blacksmith in our county who was elected justice of the peace on the strength of his Confederate record and because his wife was distantly related to the Crittenden family, and the first case he sat to hear was one growing out of the death of a cow under the wheels of a freight train. After the evidence was all in, the attorney for the plaintiff made a most effective argument. In vivid word pictures he sketched the abundant virtues of the late cow; he described her sweetness and her gentleness, her capacity as to milk; he told of the great bereavement to her immediate family, consisting of a young calf, and he dwelt upon the heartlessness of a railroad system which by its brutal carelessness had at one fell swoop, as it were, made stew meat of the parent and an orphan of the offspring. His peroration is still remembered. The language of it was homely, yet moving.

"And, finally, squire," he said in summing up, "if the train had been run as she should have been ran, and if the bell had been rung as she should have been rang, and if the whistle had been blowed as she should have been blew—both of which they done neither—this here cow would not have been injured at the time she was killed."

As he sat down the new justice said with a voice husky with feeling, "I've done heared enough! Plaintiff wins!" and proceeded to enter judgment for the full amount of damages. But the lawyer for the other side protested. He insisted he had a right to be heard, and, though the justice said he had already made up his mind, he admitted that it was no more than fair for the young gentleman to make a speech, too, if he wanted to, and told him to go ahead.

So the lawyer for the railroad cut his moorings and went straight up. He was a genuine silver tongue, with automatic tear valves and a frictionproof jaw. He soared right into the clouds and continued to sail 'round up there for quite a spell. Among other matters pertinent to the issue, he introduced the American Eagle, Magna Charta, First and Second Manassas, Paul Revere's Ride and the Bonny Blue Flag Which Bears but a Single Star, concluding the whole by giving the Confederate Yell and bursting into a violent fit of weeping.

As he sank into his seat the justice, with a touch of the true old Jeffersonian simplicity, wiped his streaming eyes upon his shirt sleeve, and in a voice quivering with sobs exclaimed:

"Well, don't that beat all! Defense wins!"

"ROSETIME" STAGED AT THE CHLTON COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL

"Rosetime," a drama, staged by the pupils of the Chilton County High School Friday evening proved to be exceedingly clever. The choruses were particularly catchy and full of pep. The plot of the play was good and ran with apparent ease throughout the scenes. There was a large and representative audience, for Chilton Countians enjoy good entertainment. Much credit is accorded Miss Bernice Henderson and McK of the Lyceum Producing Company of Atlanta, and of the high school faculty for the successful production of "Rosetime."

ECZEMA

You will be compelled to admit that the results of S.S.S. are really amazing!

MANY people imagine that eczema or tetter needs only some external application on the skin in order to get relief. This is because the attention of the sufferer is so violently directed to the intense burning and itching which accompanies this disease. Try as they may—permanent relief will never be theirs until the disease laden blood is thoroughly cleansed.

We know there is one thing that stops eczema and that is more red-blood-cells! S.S.S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it. Skin eruptions, eczema, with all its fiery, skin digging torture, and its soul-tearing, unreachable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting giants of Nature! S.S.S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826.

S.S.S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body strengtheners known to us mortals! When you put these facts together,—then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. S.S.S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S.S.S. does build red-blood-cells, it routs eczema, clears the skin, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, and gives you that more up and going appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

DAYS WE'LL NEVER FORGET —

Inaugural Address of Mr. Coolidge

The complete text of President Coolidge's inaugural address at the Capitol last Wednesday was as follows:

My Countrymen:

No one can contemplate current conditions without finding much that is satisfying and still more that is encouraging. Our own country is leading the world in the general readjustment to the results of the great conflict. Many of the burdens will bear heavily upon us for years, and the secondary and indirect effects we must expect to experience for some time. But we are beginning to comprehend more definitely what course should be pursued, what remedies ought to be applied, what actions should be taken for our deliverance, and are clearly manifesting a determined will faithfully and conscientiously to adopt these methods of relief.

Already we have sufficiently rearranged our domestic affairs so that confidence has returned, business has revived, and we appear to be entering an era of prosperity which is gradually reaching into every part of the nation. Realizing that we can not live unto ourselves alone, we have contributed of our resources and our counsel to the relief of the suffering and the settlement of the disputes among the European nations. Because of what America is and what America has done, a firmer courage, a higher hope, inspires the heart of all humanity.

These results have not occurred by mere chance. They have been secured by a constant and enlightened effort marked by many sacrifices and extending over many generations. We can not continue these brilliant successes in the future, unless we continue to learn from the past.

It is necessary to keep the former experiences of our country both at home and abroad continually before us, if we expect to have any science of government. If we wish to erect new structures, we must have a definite knowledge of the old foundation. We must realize that human nature is about the most constant thing in the universe and that the essentials of human relationship do not change. We must frequently take our bearings from these fixed stars of our political firmament if we expect to hold a true course. If we examine carefully what we have done, we can determine the more accurately what we can do.

Americanism Is Heritage.

We stand at the opening of the one hundred and fiftieth year since our national consciousness first asserted itself by unmistakable action with an array of force. The old sentiment of detached and dependent colonies disappeared in the new sentiment of a united independent nation. Men began to discard the narrow confines of a local charter for the broader opportunities of a national constitution. Under the eternal urge of freedom we became an independent nation.

A little less than 50 years later that freedom and independence were reasserted in the face of all the world, and guarded, supported, and secured by the Monroe Doctrine. The narrow fringe of states along the Atlantic seaboard advanced its frontiers across the hills and plains of an intervening continent until it passed down the golden slope to the Pacific. We made freedom a birthright. We extended our domain over distant islands in order to safeguard our own interests and accepted the consequent obligation to bestow justice and liberty upon less favored peoples.

In the defense of our own ideals and in the general cause of liberty we entered the great war. When victory had been fully secured, we withdrew to our own shores unrecompensed save in the consciousness of duty done.

Throughout all these experiences we have enlarged our freedom, we have strengthened our independence. We have been, and propose to be, more and more American. We believe that we can best serve our own country and most successfully discharge our obligations to humanity by continuing to be openly and candidly, intensely and scrupulously American. If we have any heritage, it has been that. If we have any destiny, we have found it in that direction.

But if we wish to continue to be distinctively American, we must continue to make that term comprehensive enough to embrace the legitimate desires of a civilized and enlightened people determined in all their relations to pursue a conscientious and religious life. We can not permit ourselves to be narrowed and dwarfed by slogans and phrases. It is not the adjective, but the substantive, which is of real importance. It is not the name of a nation, but the result of the action, which is the chief concern.

Urges Adequate Defense.

It is well not to be too much disturbed by the thought of either isolation or entanglement of pacifists or militarists. The physical configuration of the earth has seperated us from all of the Old World, but the common brotherhood of man has united us by inseperable bonds with all humanity. Our country represents nothing but peaceful intentions toward all the earth, but it ought not to fail to maintain such a military force as comports with the dignity and security of a great people. It ought to be a balanced force, intensely modern, capable of defense by sea and air, beneath the suface and in the air. But it should be so conducted that all the world may see in it, not a menace, but an instrument of security and peace.

This nation believes thoroughly in an honorable peace under which the rights of its citizens are to be everywhere protected. It has never found that the necessary enjoyment of such a peace could be maintained only by a great and threatening array of arms. In common with other nations, it is now more determined than ever to promote peace through friendliness and mutual good will, through mutual understandings and mutual forbearance.

We have never practiced the policy of competitive armaments. We have recently committed ourselves by covenants with the other great nations to a limitation of our sea power. As one result of this, our navy ranks larger, in comparison, than it ever did before. Removing the burden of expense and jealousy, which must always accrue from a keen rivalry, is one of the most effective methods of diminishing that unreasonable hysteria and misunderstanding which are the most potent means of fomenting war.

This policy represents a new departure in the world. It is a thought, an ideal, which has led to an entirely new line of action. It will not be easy to maintain. Some never moved from their old position, some are constantly slipping back to the old ways of thought and the old action of seizing a musket and relying on force. America has taken the lead in this new direction, and that lead America must continue to hold. If we expect others to rely on our fairness and justice we must show that we rely on their fairness and justice.

If we are to judge by past experience, there is much to be hoped for in international relations from frequent conferences and consultations. We have before us the beneficial results of the Washington conference and the various consultations recently held upon European affairs, some of which were in response to our suggestions and in some of which we were active participants. Even the failures can but be accounted useful and an immeasureable advance over threatened or actual warfare. I am strongly in favor of a continuation of this policy, whenever conditions are such that there is even a promise that practical and favorable results might be secured.

Would Join World Court.

In conformity with the principle that a display of reason rather than a threat of force should be the determining factor in the intercourse among nations, we have long advocated the peaceful settlement of disputes by methods of arbitration and have negotiated many treaties to secure that result.

The same considerations should lead to our adherence to the permanent court of international justice. Where great principles are involved, where great movements are under way which promise much for the welfare of humanity by reason of the very fact that many other nations have given such movements their actual support, we ought not to withhold our own sanction because of any small and inessential difference, but only upon the ground of the most important and compelling fundamental reasons.

We can not barter away our independence or our sovereignty, but we ought to engage in no refinements of logic, no sophistries, and no subterfuges, to argue away the undoubted duty of this country by reason of the might of its numbers, the power of its resources, and its position of leadership in the world, actively and comprehensively to signify its approval and to bear its full share of the responsibility of a candid and disinterested attempt at the establishment of a tribunal for the administration of even-handed justice between nation and nation. The weight of our enormous influence must be cast upon the side of a reign not of force but of law and trial, not by battle but by reason.

We have never any wish to interfere in the political conditions of any other countries. Especially are we determined not to become complicated in the political controversies of the Old World. With a great deal of hesitation we have responded to appeals for help to maintain order, protect life and property, and establish responsible government in some of the small countries of the western hemisphere. Our private citizens have advanced large sums of money to assist in the necessary financing and relief of the Old World. We have not failed, nor shall we fail to respond whenever necessary to mitigate human suffering and assist in the rehabilitation of distressed nations. These, too, are requirements which must be met by reason of our vast powers and the place we hold in the world.

POOR OR

INAUGURAL ADDRESS OF MR. COOILDGE

kind has long been seeking for a formula for permanent peace. Undoubtedly the clarification of the principles of international law would be helpful, and the efforts of scholars to prepare such a work for adoption by the various nations should have our sympathy and support. Much may be hoped for from the earnest studies of those who advocate the outlawing of aggressive war. But all these plans and preparations, these treaties and covenants, will not of themselves be adequate. One of the greatest dangers to peace lies in the economic pressure to which people find themselves subjected.

Economic Readjustments Needed.

One of the most practical things to be done in the world is to seek arrangements under which such pressure may be removed, so that opportunity may be renewed and hope may be revived. There must be some assurance that effort and endeavor will be followed by success and prosperity. In the making and financing of such adjustments there is not only an opportunity, but a real duty for America to respond with her counsel and her resources. Conditions must be provided under which people can make a living and work out of their difficulties.

But there is another element, more important than all, without which there can not be the slightest hope of a permanent peace. That element lies in the heart of humanity. Unless the desire for peace be cherished there, unless this fundamental and only natural source of otherly love be cultivated to its highest degree, all artificial efforts will be in vain. Peace will come when there is realization that only under a reign of law, based on righteousness and supported by the religious conviction of the brotherhood of man, can there be any hope of a complete and satisfying life. Parchment will fail, the sword will fail, it is only the spiritual nature of man that can be triumphant.

It seems altogether probable that we can contribute most to these important objects by maintaining our position of political detachment and independence. We are not identified with any Old World interests. This position should be made more and more clear in our relations with all foreign countries. We are at peace with all of them. Our program is never to oppress, but always to assist. But while we do justice to others, we must require that justice be done to us. With us a treaty of peace means peace, and a treaty of amity means amity.

We have made great contributions to the settlement of contentious differences in both Europe and Asia. But there is a very definite point beyond which we can not go. We can only help those who help themselves. Mindful of these limitations, the one great duty that stands out requires us to use our enormous powers to trim the balance of the world.

While we can look with a great deal of pleasure upon what we have done abroad, we must remember that our continued success in that direction depends upon what we do at home. Since its very outset it has been found necessary to conduct our government by means of political parties. That system would not have survived from generation to generation if it had not been fundamentally sound and provided the best instrumentalities for the complete expression of the popular will. It is not necessary to claim that it has always worked perfectly. It is enough to know that nothing better has been devised. No one would deny that there should be full and free expression and an opportunity for independence of action within the party. There is no salvation in a narrow and bigoted partisanship.

Urges Party Responsibility.

But if there is to be responsible party government, the party label must be something more than a mere device for securing office. Unless those who are elected under the same party designation are willing to assume sufficient responsibility and exhibit sufficient loyalty and coherence, so that they can cooperate with each other in the support of the broad principles of the party platform, the election is merely a mockery, no decision is made at the polls, and there is no representation of the popular will. Common honesty and good faith with the people who support a party at the polls require that party, when it enters office, to assume the control of that portion of the government to which it has been elected. Any other course is bad faith and a violation of the party pledges.

When the country has bestowed its confidence upon a party by making it a majority in the Congress, it has a right to expect such unity of action as will make the party majority an effective instrument of government. This administration has come into power with a very clear and definite mandate from the people. The expression of the popular will in favor of maintaining our constitutional guarantees was overwhelming and decisive. There was a manifestation of such faith in the integrity of the courts that we can consider that issue rejected for some time to come. Likewise, the policy of public ownership of railroads and certain electric utilities met with unmistakable defeat.

The people declared that they wanted their rights to have not a political but a judicial determination, and their independence and freedom continued and supported by having the ownership and control of their property, not in the government, but in their own hands. As they always do when they have a fair chance, the people demonstrated that they are sound and are determined to have a sound government.

When we turn from what was rejected to inquire what was accepted, the policy that stands out with the greatest clearness is that of economy in public expenditure with reduction and reform of taxation. The principle involved in this effort is that of conservatism. The resources of this country are almost beyond computation. No mind can comprehend them. But the cost of our combined governments is likewise almost beyond definition. Not only those who are now making their tax returns, but those who meet the enhanced cost of existence in their monthly bills, know by hard experience what this great burden is and what it does. No matter what others may want, these people want a drastic economy. They are opposed to waste. They know that extravagance lengthens the hours and diminishes the rewards of their labor.

I favor the policy of economy, not because I wish to save money, but because I wish to save people. The men and women of this country who toil are the ones who bear the cost of the government. Every dollar that we carelessly waste means that their life will be so much the more meager. Every dollar that we prudently save means that their life will be so much more abundant. Economy is idealism in its most practical form.

Economy To Reduce Taxes.

If extravagance were not reflected in taxation, and through taxation both directly and indirectly injuriously affecting the people, it would not be of so much consequence. The wisest and soundest method of solving our tax problem is through economy. Fortunately, of all the great nations this country is best in a position to adopt that simple remedy. We do not any longer need wartime revenues. The collection of any taxes which are not absolutely required, which do not beyond reasonable doubt contribute to the public welfare, is only a species of legalized larceny. Under this republic the rewards of industry belong to those who earn them. The only constitutional tax is the tax which ministers to public necessity. The property of the country belongs to the people of the country. Their title is absolute.

They do not support any privileged class; they do not need to maintain great military forces; they ought not to be burdened with a great array of public employees. They are not required to make any contribution to government expenditures except that which they voluntarily assess upon themselves through the action of their own representatives. Whenever taxes become burdensome a remedy can be applied by the people; but if they do not act for themselves, no one can be very successful in acting for them.

The time is arriving when we can have further tax reduction, when, unless we wish to hamper the people in their right to earn a living, we must have tax reform. The method of raising revenue ought not to impede the transaction of business; it ought to encourage it. I am opposed to extremely high rates, because they produce little or no revenue, because they are bad for the country, and, finally, because they are wrong. We can not finance the country, we can not improve social conditions, through any system of injustice, even if we attempt to inflict it upon the rich.

Those who suffer the most harm will be the poor. This country believes in prosperity. It is absurd to suppose that it is envious of those who are already prosperous. The wise and correct course to follow in taxation and all other economic legislation is not to destroy those who have already secured success but to create conditions under which every one will have a better chance to be successful. The verdict of the country has been given on this question. That verdict stands. We shall do well to heed it.

Moral Questions Involved.

These questions involve moral issues. We need not concern ourselves much about the rights of property if we faithfully observe the rights of persons. Under our institutions their rights are supreme. It is not property, but the right to hold property, both great and small, which our Constitution guarantees. All owners of property are charged with a service. These rights and duties have been revealed, through the conscience of society, to have a divine sanction. The very stability of our society rests upon production and conservatism. For individuals or for governments to waste and squander their resources is to deny these rights and disregard these obligations. The result of economic dissipation to a nation is always moral decay.

These policies of better international understandings, greater economy and lower taxes have contributed largely to the peaceful and prosperous industrial relations. Under the helpful influences of restrictive immigration and a protective tariff, employment is plentiful, the rate of pay is high and wage earners are in a state of contentment seldom before seen. Our transportation systems have been gradually recovering and have been able to meet all the requirements of the service. Agriculture has been very slow in reviving, but the price of cereals at last indicates that the day of its deliverance is at hand.

We are not without our problems, but our most important problem is not to secure new advantages, but to maintain those which we already possess. Our system of government made up of three seperate departments, our divided sovereignty composed of nation and State, the matchless wisdom that is enshrined in our Constitution, all these need constant effort and tireless vigilance for their protection and support.

In a republic the first rule for the guidance of the citizen is obedience to law. Under a despotism the law may be imposed upon the subject. He has no voice in its making, no influence in its administration, it does not represent him. Under a free government the citizen makes his own laws, chooses his own administrators, which do represent him. Those who want their rights respected under the Constitution and the law ought to set the example themselves of observing the Constitution and the law.

While there may be those of high intelligence who violate the law at times, the barbarian and the defective always violate it. Those who disregard the rules of society are not exhibiting a superior intelligence, are not promoting freedom and independence, are not following the path of civilization, but are displaying the traits of ignorance, of servitude, of savagery, and treading the way that leads back to the jungle.

Welcomes Congress' Aid.

The essence of a republic is representative government. Our Congress represents the people and the States. In all legislative affairs it is the natural collaborator with the President. In spite of all the criticism which often fall to its lot, I do not hesitate to say that there is no more independent and effective legislative body in the world. It is, and should be, jealous of its prerogative. I welcome its cooperation, and expect to share with it not only the responsibility, but the credit, for our common effort to secure beneficial legislation.

These are some of the principles which America represents. We have not by any means put them fully into practice, but we have strongly signified our belief in them. The encouraging feature of our country is not that it has reached its destination, but that it has overwhelmingly expressed its determination to proceed in the right direction. It is true that we could, with profit, be less sectional and more national in our thought. It would be well if we could replace much that is only a false and ignorant prejudice with a true and enlightened pride of race. But the last election showed that appeals to class and nationality had little effect. We were all found loyal to a common citizenship. The fundamental precept of liberty is toleration. We can not permit any inquisition either within or without the law or apply any religious test to the holding of office. The mind of America must be forever free.

It is in such contemplations, my fellow countrymen, which are not exhaustive, but only representative, that I find ample warrant for satisfaction and encouragement. We should not let the much that is to do obscure the much which has been done. The past and present show faith and hope and courage fully justified. Here stands our country, an example of tranquility at home, a patron of tranquility abroad.

Here stands its government, aware of its might but obedient to its conscience. Here it will continue to stand, seeking peace and prosperity, solicitous for the welfare of the wage earner, promoting enterprise, developing waterways and natural resources, attentive to the intuitive counsel of womanhood, encouraging education, desiring the advancement of religion, supporting the cause of justice and honor among the nations. America seeks no earthly empire built on blood and force. No ambition, no temptation, lures her to thought of foreign dominions. The legions which she sends forth are armed, not with the sword, but with the cross. The higher state to which she seeks the allegiance of all mankind is not of human, but of divine origin. She cherishes no purpose save to merit the favor of Almighty God.

CHILTON COUNTY MINUTES NOT CALLED FOR

The Union-Banner still has a number of copies of the Chilton County Association minutes uncalled for. The churches of this association should have these minutes.

Mr. Billingsley, clerk of the Association left with us a list of churches with the number of minutes due each. The following churches have not called for their minutes: Union Grove, Sardis, Pleasant Grove (Lawley), Providence, New Cedron, Friendship, Collins Chapel and Macedonia.

The clerks of the above named churches will please take notice and call here for their minutes, or send us 5c in stamps and we will mail them to you. Or if some other member of the churches named are coming to Clanton, they might call here for their minutes. The churches ought to have their minutes and The Union-Banner has not the least use in the world for them.

Blinding Headaches

"For about twenty years," says Mr. P. A. Walker, a well-known citizen of Newburg, Ky., "one of our family remedies has been Black-Draught, the old reliable. . . I use it for colds, biliousness, sour stomach and indigestion. I was subject to headaches when my liver would get out of order. I would have blinding headaches and couldn't stoop about my work, just couldn't go. I used and it relieved me.

"About eight years ago my wife got down with liver and stomach trouble. . . We tried all week to help her, . . . but she didn't get any better. One day I said to the doctor, 'I believe I will try Black-Draught, it helps my liver.' He said that I might try it and to follow directions. She was nauseated and couldn't eat or rest. She began taking Black-Draught and in two days she was greatly improved and in a week she was up."

W. M. U. TO MEET

Announcement has been made that the district meeting of the Womans Missionary Union will meet in Clanton on Friday, March 27, 1925, and the W. M. U. of the Clanton Baptist church extends to all sister organizations of the Eastern District a cordial invitation to co-operate with them by sending a full quota of delegates, and thus crown with success this meeting of the Womans Missionary Union.

Morning and evening sessions will be held in the church auditorium at 10:00 and 7:30 o'clock respectively. Misses Kathleen Mallory and Hannah Reynolds will be guests upon this occasion. Dr. T. W. Ayers of China, one of the first medical missionaries sent by the board to that country, will also be present. These faithful leaders, whose lives have been given over to consecrated service for the Master, will be there, with a wealth of varied experiences. These leaders are highly entertaining.

Prospective guests are requested to write at their earliest convenience to Mrs. J. Watts Moore, Chairman of the Homes Committee, Clanton, giving time of their arrival, so that entertainment may be provided for all visitors.

Uncle Tom Hinton, the well-known fisherman, of Coosa River, was in Clanton last Saturday.

Simple Way To End Night Coughing

No matter how long you have been troubled with exasperating coughing at night, robbing you of valuable sleep and thereby weakening your system and laying you open to dangerous infections, it can usually be stopped at once by a very simple treatment. Most people have found that they can sleep the whole night through undisturbed often the first time they try it.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is you usually sleep soundly the very first night, and the entire cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription is for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup and almost every throat irritation. It contains no opiates or other harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. On sale at all good druggists. Ask for

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Eptiomized Form.

Jefferson county ranks second of all the counties in the United States in the matter of deaths from tuberculosis, R. A. Brown, head of the organization that is building the tuberculosis sanitarium on Shades Mountain, told the board of revenue. Mr. Brown appeared before the board in the interest of an appropriation of $20,000 promised the association by the old board a year or two ago. He told the members that unless additional money is received, work on the buildings now under way will have to stop in two or three weeks, all funds available for that purpose being about exhausted. Mr. Brown stated that Jefferson county has about 1,400 deaths a year from tuberculosis, and that only the county in which Denver, Colo., is located exceeds the Jefferson county ratio per thousand.

Mrs. W. A. Robinson, of Gadsden, will preside as regent over the annual conference of the Alabama Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution at Guntersville, March 10-11. It is expected that many of the most prominent women of the state will be in attendance. One of the features of the session will be an automobile ride to the Kate Duncan Smith School for mountain boys and girls at Grant, 12 miles out from Guntersville. The school was built and is maintained by the daughters and was named for Mrs. Kate Duncan Smith, of Birmingham, honorary vice-president of the national body for life. The Kings Mountain Chapter of Guntersville will be host to the delegates and the civic and religious bodies of that city are planning a number of entertainments for them.

The Koppers Company, building 25 additional ovens for the Alabama By-Products Corporation at Tarrant City, and 57 ovens for the Republic Iron & Steel Company at East Thomas, is pushing the work and taking advantage of every day of good weather, it is stated. As was announced 60 days ago, the 25 additional ovens at Tarrant City will be turned over to the corporation during the first part of March, and no change in the plans has been noted. It was annuonced by the Alabama By-Products Corporation at the time the contract for the 25 ovens was given out, and later, when the Kopper company promised to finish the work in March, that it would not be surprising if further contracts were given by the corporation.

CHESTNUT CREEK

Editor Union-Banner:

As we haven't had a write-up from this place in quite a while, will give a report of the last session of the Singing Society, which met Sunday afternoon, March 1.

The singing was all that could be expected under the circumstances. As some of the readers know, the good people of this place are building a new church which is not finished. One end is half open, and it is especially bad on a class of singers when the wind is from the west, as it was Sunday afternoon. We hope that this will be fixed if possible, in the near future.

The house was called to order promptly at 2 o'clock, by the chairman, L. T. Grant. After singing one song, "His Hand Will Guide," Bro. J. D. Hughes invoked the blessings of God on the entire audience.

The following leaders directed 2 to 3 songs each: W. F. Gilliland, Archie Devaughn, I. D. Huett, W. M. Devaughn, S. M. Yates, Jr., O. L. Devaughn. The closing song, directed by Chairman L. T. Grant was "Blest Be The Tie." Lee J. Grant and Miss Lena Mae Devaughn performed very ably at the organ.

One special quartette was rendered under the direction of Prof. W. M. Devaughn, which seemed to be enjoyed by all present.

We invite as many as can make it convenient to meet with us on the next third Sunday, promptly at two o'clock.

FARM OUTLOOK GOOD THIS YEAR

The farmer who takes advantage of present conditions and puts into practice the best information regarding fertilizers, varieties, seedbed preparation, and cultivation of crops, and also management of livestock, should expect a satisfactory year in 1925. A summary of the agricultural situation by extension specialists and members of the agricultural faculty at Auburn says that the outlook as a whole is promising.

On the cotton situation a positive policy is: "Not more acres in cotton, but more cotton per acre." The acreage last year was sufficient to force the price far below what it is if weather conditions throughout the cotton belt had been favorable.

The same is true of corn, the acreage of which in Alabama was a little in excess of that of cotton. Better seed, better preparation of land, and practical soil building work to increase per acre yields are strongly recommended for corn.

Maximum use of legumes is placed among the things most important. Inter-planting with corn and other crops for pastures and for soil improvement, or planting alone for hay and soil improvement, is each important.

It is agreed that the acreage in hay in Alabama this year should be double that of last year. Along with more acres, steps should be taken to increase per acre yields by putting into practice the best information.

Livestock now occupy the strongest economic position they have held in many years. The highest hog prices since post-war fluctuations are expected before the end of 1925. An upward trend in the price of beef cattle for several years is looked for. The position of dairy products is not so strong for the country as a whole but in Alabama it is promising. Every farmer is within reach of one or more creameries which are anxious to buy more cream and pay cash when it is received.

Altogether, the situation is promising. Farmers who are keeping abreast of the times and taking advantage of opportunities as they find them are optimistic.

Jim Retherford of Beat 12 was in Clanton Saturday carrying a hand that was very sore from the bite of a dead hog.

GOODWATER MAN HAS CLOSE CALL IN CROSSING SMASH

Auto of County Solicitor Damaged In Crash With Freight.

Goodwater, Ala., March 8.—John A. Darden, county solicitor, had a narrow escape here last night when a freight train backed into his car at the depot, doing considerable damage. He escaped by jumping onto the running board of his car after it had been hit, and jumping from there onto the crashing railroad car.

The train was not moving very fast at the time, and this, together with the prompt action of the trainmen and occupant of the car, prevented further injury.

It is stated that the view of the backing freight train was obstructed by a train which was coaling at the time, and after stopping, Darden proceeded to cross. The train backed from the opposite side of the passenger train and was within a very few feet when it was discovered. Then Mr. Darden swerved his car to the left to prevent as much of a crash as he could. The rear wheel of the car was crushed and both fenders and front door on the side of the contact were crushed.

SYLVESTER LUCAS ARRESTED FOR VIOLATING LIQUOR LAW

Sheriff Littlejohn made a search of the premises of Sylvester Lucas, near Wilton, last Saturday, and found some liquor in his possession. Lucas was brought to jail and incarcerated on a charge of violating the prohibition law. He made bond Sunday and was released to await his trial.

JUNIUS REED ARRESTED FOR STEALING MEAT

Deputy W. G. Culp went down to Verbena Saturday and took into custody a negro named Junius Reed, charged with stealing meat from the smoke house of another negro. It was charged that Reed stole meat from the smoke house, and a search revealed the meat in Reed's possession.

Reed was brought to Clanton and placed in jail.

Mr. W. H. Shaw of Birmingham, was in Clanton Monday. Mr. Shaw was a member of the board of county commissioners some years ago, while he lived at Jemison. His many friends here were glad to see him.

Mr. S. J. Hayes, the Fuller brush man, is working in Clanton now.

I got relief right away. I had not eaten for 10 days and was as yellow as a gold piece. I could have lived only a few days but for this medicine." It iis a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. The map above presents in clear-cut form the greatest school problem in Alabama, according to H. G. Dowling, Secretary of the Alabama Education Association.

A full school term is an essential of modern education. No excellence of buildings, equipment, or teaching force can take the place of an adequate number of days spent in directed study.

The schools of the United States—averaging all city and rural, long and short terms together—are open for 162 days each year. Some states furnish a ten-month term (200 days). Others, particularly certain Southern states, afford terms far below the standard 180 day length generally accepted as a minimum.

Only six counties of Alabama have a school term for rural white children approaching the 180 days of instruction.

Six other counties are near the United States average—which is not considered a satisfactory condition.

In the remaining fifty-five counties, the rural boys and girls prepare for life under a most discouraging handicap. The doors of the school houses are not open a sufficient number of days to permit their advancing a grade each year, if any creditable standards are enforced.

That the people of Alabama believe in good schools is proved by the great school building program now going on and by the increasingly insistent demands for better teacher and longer terms. The people are willing to pay for better buildings and equipment; but they have a deep-seated belief that adequate terms and trained teachers should be provided by legislative action. They object to fee systems and school supplements for such purposes.

No worth while increase of school funds has been made possible since the county and local three-mill tax laws went into effect ten years ago. Tax values rose greatly during the war; but the cost of everything that makes schools more than kept pace with the increase, and the number of children and teachers continues to outrun the gain in property values. Many counties have voted the constitutional limit in school taxation and still have terms and other facilities utterly inadequate.

Reductions in school terms or in other facilities for education are being made right and left this year, and the cuts must continue until relief is provided through new legislative action. Several counties actually have less school money from all sources than five years ago, and the rist in costs goes on.

Boards of education are facing embarrassment because the public demand for improved schools cannot be met with available public money. The demand for creditable rural high schools especially is creating an impossible situation. Most colleges of the state, and many high schools and city schools have been forced to increase fees in order that something like standard facilities may be offered. In rural schools, the collection of such fees is a nearly impossible task, because the people believe that tax money should carry the whole burden.

Relief will come when the demand for improved conditions in the rural districts become organized sufficiently to enforce recognition and legislative action.

Coughs and Chest Colds Yield Quickly to Old Time Treatment

Physicians now say that the best treatment for a cough is not to merely benumb the throat nerves as many cough medicines do, but to help Nature quickly throw off the cause—congestion and mucous. When this is done the severest cough is usually relieved in a very short time.

This is exactly the action of that old-time tried and proved cough medicine, Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. Doctors say the pine tar is hard to beat for quickly loosening and removing the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing, while the honey not only gives a pleasant taste, but helps soothe soreness and irritation.

But be sure you get the genuine Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey and not some substitute. Dr. Bell's is the original and has been known for many years as the best. It is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine tar, honey and other quick-acting ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in bringing quick relief. Contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, so can be given even to young children—fine for spasmodic croup. If you want the best—a medicine that often relieves a stubborn cough overnight—get Dr. Bell's. Costs only 30c at all good druggists.

WEST CHILTON

Everything quiet.

J. W. Smith of Thorsby was a visitor at W. R. Redding's Sunday.

Robt. A. Smitherman, one of the leading merchants of Randolph has closed out his business there.

Mr. Hugh Miskelly of Arkansas visited his mother here last week.

Mr. Andrew Smitherman and wife of Randolph visited at W. R. Redding's Sunday.

Beautiful spring days are here—time of new styles—time when everything takes on new life—we have no quarrel with new styles of dress or bobbed hair. From an economical viewpoint the modern styles are preferable to those of the "good old days" when twelve or fifteen yards of cloth were required to make a dress.

We are all glad to hear that Mr. Mack Wyatt is back in Chilton again.

Smallpox seems to have run its race in this part of the county.

Mr. Newt Atchison of Birmingham recently visited his father here, bringing his radio set with him; it was an enjoyable occasion to all present as they picked up New York, Cincinnati and other points.

The radio is a wonderful invention; one of the most wonderful of all the ages.

Great things occur and we fail to notice them.

Through private correspondence we learn that our old friend, Mr. Joseph A. Logan, well known by the older people of Clanton and Chilton County, has passed away. He died at his home in Florida. Mr. Logan was prominent in the old-time Populist movement and the "Farmer's Alliance."

He was a big hearted, noble man, a friend of education, the Banner, in its early days, and the worthy poor. He raised an intelligent family; we regret his passing.

H. B. Oliver of Verbena was a business visitor to Clanton Tuesday.

OBITUARY

The dear Lord, in His wisdom and love, sent the death angel to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hayes of near Clanton on last Thursday morning, at 10:30, and claimed for His own the darling little baby boy, Huelett Hayes, and carried his sweet little spirit back to God who gave it, and to the home which Jesus has gone to prepare for every one who is ready. We all know that he was ready, for he knew no sin. Jesus has said to suffer the little children to come unto me, for of such is the Kingdom of God. So God lent this precious little darling to our home for a while, to comfort and cheer the home, and to bloom for a while, and seeing that he needed him to bloom on the heavenly shore, called him. The Lord has carried his spirit to that fair land where there is no need of the sun nor of the moon to shine, for the glory of God shines in it and the Lamb is the light thereof.

Little Huelett was born May 23, 1923. He always had a smile for every one. He suffered but 10 days after contracting scarlet fever until God took him home. All that loving friends and relatives, sympathetic doctors and nurses could do was done, but all in vain. He leaves a vacant place in our home which can never be filled.

In conclusion, we wish to thank the friends, doctors and nurses who were ever responsive to our needs, and pray God's richest blessings on each and every one of them.

MR. and MRS. JACK HAYES and CHILDREN.

Spight and John Patterson, providing the county contributes the sum of $25,000 in aid of the construction of the bridge across the Tennessee river, it being stated that the board of revenue was without funds at this time. It was further suggested that if the board of revenue of Morgan county was able by the latter part of this year or first of 1926 to retire a sufficient amount of the indebtedness of this county so that it can extend aid and keep within the constitutional limitation the sum of $5,000 will then be set aside and devoted to the aid of the construction of the bridge.

Gadsden Cook Found Dying Beside Georgia Road With Flaming Clothes; Alleged Killer held.

Gadsden, Ala., March 10.—George Collas, of Gadsden, was found with all clothes ablaze and dying from 8 bullet wounds in a ditch near Cartersville, Ga., early Tuesday morning, according to messages received here. He died shortly afterward, but after giving officers information that led to the arrest of John Gronos, of Cartersville and Gadsden, as the slayer.

After fatally wounding Collas in a quarrel over a woman, it is alleged, Gronos poured gasoline over the clothes of his victim and applied a match.

The two men left here Monday afternoon to drive to Cartersville. Shortly before reaching there, it is believed, the two men quarreled. People living near the scene of the shooting report that they heard several shots fired about 2 o'clock Tuesday morning. Rushing out, they saw an automobile speed away and flames arising from a clump of bushes by the side of the road.

In the bushes, they found Collas, a living flame, and dying. He lived two hours.

Acting upon information given by the dying Collas, the sheriff of Cartersville, according to information here, arrested Gronos at his Cartersville home. Gronos has refused to talk.

Collas has lived here 20 years. He is a native of Greece, and a cook. A wife and two children survive. Gronos is a native of Italy and a shoemaker by trade.

Officers May Search Cars Without Warrant

Chief Justice Taft Says That Only Unreasonable Searches and Seizures Denounced.

Washington, D. C., March 2.—Federal prohibition agents may lawfully stop automobiles and other vehicles and search them for contraband liquor without a warrant, the supreme court decided today in a case from Michigan, brought by Geo. Carroll and John Kiro.

In another liquor case decision, brought from Georgia by Sig Samuels, the court held that states may, under the constitution, make unlawful the possession of liquor acquired legally before enactment of the Federal prohibition act.

Chief Justice Taft delivered the opinions in both cases, Justices McReynolds and Sutherland dissenting in the former and Justice Butler in the latter.

Declaring that "it would be intolerable and unreasonable if a prohibition agent were authorized to stop every automobile on the chance of finding liquor, and thus subject all persons lawfully using the highways to the inconvenience and indignity of such a search," Chief Justice Taft asserted that "those lawfully within the country entitled to use the public highways have a right to free passage without interruption or search unless there is known to a competent official authorized to search, probable cause for believing that their vehicles are carrying contraband or illegal merchandise."

It was the intent of congress, however to make a distinction between the necessity for a search warrant in the searching of private dwellings and of automobiles, the chief justice stated, and that distinction was constitutional. There is no provision in the constitution which denounces all searches or seizures without a warrant, he said, adding that it prohibits only "unreasonable" searches or seizures.

"The guaranty of freedom from unreasonable searches and seizures has been construed, practically since the beginning of the government," he explained, "as recognizing a necessary difference between a search of a store or dwelling or other structure in respect of which a proper official warrant readily may be obtained, and a search of a ship, motor boat, wagon or automobile for contraband goods where it is not practiceable to secure a warrant because the vehicle can be quickly moved out of the locality or jurisdiction in which the warrant must be sought."

The mere manufacture of liquor can do little to defeat the prohibition amendment unless the liquor can be distributed for illegal sale and use, the court asserted and for that reason it was necessary that the transportation of the contraband be prevented.

The rule to be applied in determining the legality of a seizure without a warrant, as laid down by the court, is whether the seizing officer has reasonable or probable cause for believing the automobile which he stops and seizes has contraband liquor in it which is being illegally transported. This is ample protection to the individual, in the opinion of the court, because it gives him the right to recover his automobile and its contents should he not be guilty of violating the law, and to sue the officers making the arrest for damages when arrests are made without probable cause.

The right to search and the validity of the seizure are not dependent on the right to arrest, the court declared, but are dependent on the reasonable cause the seizing officer has for believing that the contents of the automobile offend against the law.

The evidence, as analyzed in the opinion, showed that Carroll and Kiro had been negotiating with Federal enforcement agents for the sale of liquor and the court held there was ample justification for the stopping and searching of their automobile without a warrant.

Justice McReynolds, announcing that he and Justice Sutherland dissented, said they were of the opinion that the rule which the court laid down was unconstitutional. They protested against the arrest and search of persons upon mere suspicion, and declared evidence so procured should not be used in the courts.

In the Georgia case, it had been shown that Samuels had placed in his cellar liquor obtained before the passage of the prohibition law and before the state of Georgia made possession of intoxicating liquor unlawful. Chief Justice Taft, in the majority opinion, asserted that states could make unlawful the possession of such liquor despite that it was permitted by the 18th amendment and the Volstead act.

Trip To Soldiers' Home At Mountain Creek

It was my good fortune Tuesday to make a visit to my old home town, Mt. Creek, and also to spend a few exceedingly pleasant hours at the Soldiers' Home.

I found a good many of my old friends still residing at "the Creek," apparently just as genial, hospitable and happy as in the good old days when I was fortunate enough to be one of them. There is nothing like a boom on down there, though they are in a rather boastful mood about their completed highway to the Capital City of Alabama, and also over the fact that the Flaketown graphite mines are in active operation again.

But at the Soldiers' Home was where we were most agreeably gratified and surprised to see such wonderful evidences of improvement in sanitation, service, and beauty. The metamorphae of things out there is almost suggestive of the magician's wand. It hardly looks like the same place.

For instance, they have a dairy now that is officially rated at 100 per cent by the State, as well as the Federal specifications. In other words, it is absolutely the last word in what it takes to make a dairy exactly what it should be.

Not so very long ago fire destroyed the old mess hall. It has been replaced by a structure that has to be seen to be appreciated. All of the interior is finished with beaver board, which is white and perfectly lovely. It is paneled with an oak finished moulding and the combination is perfect. In the rear of the mess hall and connecting directly with it is the ample kitchen, spotless in its cleanliness, and perfect in its absolute convenience and equipment. Then underneath is a brick cellar, plastered in white, containing a large refrigerator and a power churn, where all of the products from the dairy are handled and stored for use. The very finest and purest of Jersey milk and butter in ample quantities for every resident of the home is always in this doubly screened and absolutely sanitary storage place.

The large grounds have been intersected with walks, the trees are all trimmed and the entire surface has been cleaned off, harrowed, and sodded with grass.

The lagoon and swamp that used to take up the territory just west of the hospital has been drained and thoroughly dried and is now the most productive area in the large pasture that lies there.

The old rustic log cabin auditorium that was for so many years the main assembly and show place at the Home was recently burned entirely to the ground. Now a neat and tasty frame structure is being completed on the same site that will answer all purposes of the massive old building.

But I am writing too much, and the half has not been told; but before I close I must tell you a little about the duo of magicians who have so wonderfully wrought these fairly-like changes at the Home.

They are Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Fowler, the commandant and the matron. They are doing a labor of love here that will be a mounment of blessing to their memory and a diadem of stars in the mystic future. I knew them and their people away back in the days of my youth, and because of that fact, I am not surprised at the fruits of their later years. They are devoting their time and their wonderful talents to their worok, not because they "need the job" but because they are endowed with sentiments of tenderness and love for the brave old heroes who bore the hardships in the Sixties and whom fortune has left helpless and dependent in a busy world. They are laying up for themselves a crown of glory here that will go with them throughout eternity.

—W. B. Corley.

Vastine Bean Killed When Ford Turns Over

5-Year-Old Son of Oscar Bean Dies in Central Alabama Hospital After Accident.

A very sad accident occurred on the highway a mile north of Clanton last Sunday morning about 10 o'clock, which resulted in the death of Vastine Bean, the 15-year-old son of Mr. Oscar Bean of New Salem community.

According to reports, Vastine had come to Clanton with four other boys after some medicine and were returning with it. When they came to the sand bed at the foot of the hill just north of the Wesson place, they met another car which necessitated pulling out of the road into the sand. One of the radius rods on the Bean boy's car being slipped out of place, left the front axle of the Ford loose on one end, which rendered the steering of the car impossible. So, as soon as the car struck the sand it went wild, and the car going at a lively speed, turned two somersaults and stopped on its wheels, but facing in the opposite direction from which it was going. Vastine Bean, who was driving the car, and the other boy in the front seat were thrown from the car in the turning, but the three boys in the rear seat were still in the car when it stopped, and were only slightly injured. The other boy in the front seat was painfully but not seriously injured.

Vastine Bean received a cut on the head and a bruise in the side of the chest, either of which, doctors said, were sufficient to produce death. He was carried to the Central Alabama Hospital but never regained consciousness. He died a little over an hour after the accident. The other injured boy was carried to the hospital, and is said to be recovering from his wounds.

The funeral was held at Cedar Grove church, two miles south of Thorsby, Monday afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. C. C. Wilkerson, assisted by Rev. S. J. Ezell and Rev. Dykes. Martin, undertaker, had charge of the body.

There were present at the funeral a large crowd of sorrowing friends and relatives to pay their last respects to the unfortunate victim of this tragic accident.

Mrs. T. G. Taylor In B'ham Hospital

Mrs. Sallie Taylor, wife of T. G. Taylor of Clanton, was carried to Birmingham last Sunday morning for an operation. She was carried to the South Highlands Infirmary, and the operation was performed Monday morning about 10 o'clock.

Late reports from Mrs. Taylor say that she is resting well and recovering from the operation.

Roy Goodgame Found Dead Near Verbena

Roy Goodgame, age about thirty years, was found dead about eight o'clock last Saturday night on the railroad track half a mile north of Verbena. Goodgame's head was cut completely from his body and his right leg broken just below the knee, it being supposed that a train passed over him. Goodgame was on his way home in Clanton from Dadeville, where he had been working for the past year. The body was taken up Sunday morning after daylight and brought to Clanton. Martin, undertaker, prepared the body for burial.

The funeral was held at the home of the young man's mother in Clanton at 11 o'clock Monday and interment made in the Clanton cemetery.

The deceased leaves a young widow, they having married some five months ago.

He was the youngest son of the late Frank Goodgame of Clanton, and a brother of Burns Goodgame of Clanton, and W. H. Goodgame of Thorsby.

Family Record Of John W. Hayes

In the discussion of the fatal accident of last Sunday, which resulted in the death of Vastine Bean, Uncle John Hayes, grandfather of the young man, reveals a bit of family history that is both intertsting and noteworthy.

Mr. Hayes is 65 years old, has 14 children, all of whom are living, 39 grandchildren and two great grandchildren. The death of Vastine on last Sunday was the first broken link in the family chain, outside of the death of some of the grandchildren in infancy.

A very high tribute was paid by the grandfather to the young man who was killed last Sunday, when he declared that Vastine was a splendid young man of noble character, a member of the church and a boy of much promise for usefulness in the world had he been permitted to live. Mr. Hayes says the young man had been sent to Clanton to get some medicine for a child of a neighboring family and was urged to make the trip as quickly as possible. It was in an effort to discharge this duty that the fatal accident overtook him and blighted his young life. We learn that the child for whom he was to secure the medicine died and was buried on the same day of the funeral of young Vastine.

Mr. Hayes expressed his thanks to the many friends of the family for their kindness and sympathy in the sadness that has befallen his family in this tragedy.

Mr. F. E. Mastin has just bought some eggs for hatching from some of the best stock in the country. This is in line with his policy of always having the best to be had. He is getting this new stock to help maintain and improve the high quality of his poultry. The eggs he has purchased are from trap nested hens with high egg records and some of the best to be had.

Those who intend to buy chicks this spring should see Mr. Mastin and let him supply you. He will also be glad to help with suggestions or in any way that he can. It will pay you to see him if you are interested in chickens; he is an old hand at the game and should be able to help you.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

Mr. C. O. Johns, of Nashville, Tenn., will lecture on the principles and purposes of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan at the court house in Clanton at 2:30 p. m. next Sunday, March 22. Ladies especially invited to hear this forceful speaker. It will be a treat for everybody.

Death of Mrs. Malissa Collins

Mrs. Malissie Collins, age 84 years, died at her home near Collins Chapel on last Thursday morning. The deceased was the widow of T. J. (Sank) Collins, who died on November 11, 1911. Mrs. Collins died at the old home place where she had lived for the past 50 years.

She was a member of the Collins Chapel Baptist Church, having been a charter member of the church.

The following children survive Mrs. Collins: Mrs. Mary Lou Mims, wife of John Mims of Thorsby, J. H. Collins of Thorsby, Mrs. Martha Littleton of Thorsby, Mrs. Alline Littleton, wife of John Littleton of Collins Chapel, Mrs. Julia Benson, wife of Mat Benson of Collins Chapel, Mrs. Susie Benson, wife of W. M. Benson of Collins Chapel, Sam W. Collins of Calera, and J. Dudley Collins of Clanton.

Funeral services were held at Collins Chapel Church last Friday, Rev. W. P. Lowery officiating.

Sargent Approved For The Cabinet

Washington, March 17.—A favorable report on the nomination of John G. Sargent to be attorney general was voted unanimously Tuesday afternoon by the senate judiciary committee. The committee took less than an hour to arrive at its decision.

President Coolidge Tuesday named John G. Sargent, former attorney general of his native state of Vermont, to be attorney general in his cabinet.

The selection fell upon Sargent a few hours after Charles B. Warren, of Michigan, twice rejected by the senate, had informed the president he did not desire a recess appointment, which President Coolidge had offered.

After Warren had told Mr. Coolidge he did not wish to accept a recess appointment, under conditions which could only prove embarrassing to them both, Sargent was reached by long distance telephone at his home in Vermont and agreed to accept the post. President Coolidge sent the nomination to the senate shortly afterward.

The new nominee for attorney general is an old-time friend of the president. He is 65 years old and is but little known to the country at large, although he enjoys a wide reputation in New England legal circles.

President Coolidge abandoned the fight for Warren with great reluctance and only in the face of senatorial objection to the Detroit man that was unflinching and unyielding.

UNION GROVE

Health of this community is good at present, except colds.

Everybody was glad to see the rain last Saturday.

We were all proud to see so many out to prayer meeting and preaching Sunday night. Rev. T. W. Davis preached as good a sermon as we have ever heard.

Our concert was enjoyed by a large crowd, considering the weather.

Miss Lurline Martin dined with Miss Iris Robinson Sunday.

Miss Amy Robinson spent Sunday with Annie Davis.

Miss Delene Collum dined with Pearl Chandler Sunday.

Miss Lethea Robinson dined with Misses Florence and Lula Cofer last Sunday.

Mr. Burnie Chandler dined with Ervin Robinson Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Robinson spent Sunday with Mrs. Leone Varden.

Miss Louise Connatser spent the week-end with Miss Pearl Chandler.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Bazier and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard spent Sunday with Mr. T. W. Davis and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Fate Littlefield spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Martin.

"Tug" Willis Reports Trip To Mt. Vernon

Mr. J. M. Willis reports an interesting trip to Mt. Vernon in Mobible County, where he went Sunday, with Emmet Thomas and Tom Littlefield, to carry a negro by the name of Will Dunagan, to the asylum.

They got along very well with the negro. On one occasion he took a notion to kill two other negroes who accosted him about something, but he was managed so as to avoid any trouble.

Mr. Willis says that he saw some beautiful country, making particular mention of large tracts of Satsuma orange groves. His eye was caught by a drove of deer at one place, and he has a notion of going back down there some time on a hunting trip.

The roads are reported good all the way. The party left here at four o'clock Saturday, going by way of Selma. They returned at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. On the way back they spent the night at Thomasville.

On Tuesday evening, March 3, at 5:30 o'clock, the death angel called Mr. D. P. Martin from the walks of men to the beautiful home above. He was 67 years old and leaves a widow and seven children to mourn his death. All his children are married except one boy 12 years old.

Mr. Martin was born and reared near Mineral Springs, and was widely known and loved. He was a devoted member and faithful worker in the Baptist Church. He had been in bad health about three years. He had not slept a single night in over two years on account of the dreadful disease, heart dropsy. He had to sit up all the time, and was sitting up when he died.

His last days were his happiest ones. He sang praises to God and shouted until death struck him. He enjoyed singing and praying with all of his friends who came to see him during his illness.

His Body was laid to rest at Union Grove cemetery, Bro. Wiley Davis conducting the exercises.

Weep not, loved ones, for our loss is Heaven's gain. Let us prepare to meet him in that land above.

A FRIEND.

Ford Went Wild — Another Man Killed

Mr. John Broadhead of South Calera was almost instantly killed Monday afternoon about 5 o'clock when a Ford cut-down in which he was riding changed ends on the cement highway at South Calera.

Mr. Broadhead, reports say, was going to Calera to get his son to carry him home from work. Just after he passed the home of Mr. M. H. Martin at South Calera, one of the radius rods went wrong and the car left the road, crossed a ditch on the side of the road, and the front of the car mounted a stump. The car did not turn over. In the accident Mr. Broadhead was thrown from the car and fell in the ditch in the mud and water. He was not dead when first found, but was taken up and carried to the home of Mr. Martin, where he died a few minutes later.

Mr. Broadhead was abbout 50 years old and was the father of two or three grown children. He was buried at the South Calera cemetery Tuesday.

CIRCUIT COURT HERE WEEK OF MARCH 23

Excellent Show By Local Talent

"Flapper Grandmother," a Musical Comedy in Three Acts by Parent-Teachers.

"The Flapper Grandmother," is the sparkling title of an illuminating musical comedy that is scheduled to be given at the High School auditorium in Clanton on March 26, at 8 o'clock p. m. The play is under the direction of the Parent-Teachers Association, and the proceeds will go to the support of worthy causes sponsored by that organization.

A brief advance review of the play reveals that it is really an excellent show and will be put on by a cast composed of the best local talent in Clanton. It will be not only spectacular and spontaneous, but full of screams in the form of uncontrollable laughter. In fact it is so funny that the old hardboiled folks will wind up the evening by calling for the "pain killer" to rub on their aching sides.

The show includes a little bit of everything. It has dashes of sentiment sprinkled with pathos; beautiful melodies galore, with clever dancing. But the one big overwhelming ingredient is fun, which is embellished with spectacular effects, clever lines and original costumes.

As to the cast of characters, there are so many good ones it is hard to tell which is the star. The charming flapper grandmother and her two granddaughters, Lena and Belinda, are a whole show within themselves. You will get 100 per cent satisfaction out of Matt and Andrew. Bobby Smith, as the bashful boy lover of broken hearts, is a never ending scream, to sap nothing of Dr. Joy and Count Seek 'em Rich, who present another triumph of "make-up over matter." Dix Tate and the Jelly Beans constitute the clever young men in the cast, while Rastus and Lilly, the two "gentlemen of color" create their part of the fun too. Lilly, tho a "gentleman," is dressed as a high-toned "yellow gal," wearing a super-vamp costume with ear rings to match.

Others in the troupe who deserve special mention include the debutant flappers, rag dolls, door knobs, little grandmas, matrons, the old King Tut's elf, mummy, and many others.

This comedy is a gem from every standpoint. The situations are absolutely novel, the lines sparkle with originality and mirth, and you will find each character a real joy.

Everybody is urged to see this play. It is going to be absolutely the best ever staged in Clanton, and it is by our own local talent too. Admission prices will be 50c for adults and 35c for children.

THE HIGHWAY RIGHT-OF-WAY

In connection with the building of the state highway through Clanton, a legal question has arisen in regard to the securing of the right-of-way. Some of the property on the proposed seventh street route has to be condemned and it is a question of law as to whether or not the Court of County Commissioners has the right to carry out the necessary proceedings of condemnation of property in the town. A hearing of argument of both sides of this question was held before Judge Reynolds Tuesday. The matter was taken under advisement by the court.

In planning and planting this year keep in mind that only quality commands a sure market.

Ever test your teeth for lime? When teeth decay its one sign the diet needs more foods that contain lime.

Poultry farms in the United States last year produced 678,300,000 chickens, or 29,400,000 more than in 1923, according to the Department of Agriculture.

Where the yield of cotton was a bale to the acre in 1920 the cost of production was 9 cents a pound, and where it was 245 pounds lint the cost was 13 cents. As yields increase the cost per pound decreases.

Unfortunately, there are still a few farmers who are opposed to following scientific results but they are becoming fewer all the time. It is only a matter of time until they will play out.

Blinding Headaches

"For about twenty years," says Mr. P. A. Walker, a well-known citizen of Newburg, Ky., "one of our family remedies has been Black-Draught, the old reliable. . . I use it for colds, biliousness, sour stomach and indigestion. I was subject to headaches when my liver would get out of order. I would have blinding headaches and couldn't stoop about my work, just couldn't go. I used and it relieved me.

"About eight years ago my wife got down with liver and stomach trouble. . . We tried all week to help her, . . . but she didn't get any better. One day I said to the doctor, 'I believe I will try Black-Draught, it helps my liver.' He said that I might try it and to follow directions. She was nauseated and couldn't eat or rest. She began taking Black-Draught and in two days she was greatly improved and in a week she was up."

Characteristic Bust of Late Theodore Roosevelt

REMARKABLE in its conception, artistic and wonderfully lifelike in its execution of that great American's characteristic features—is the verdict of all who have seen the above bust of the late former president, Theodore Roosevelt.

This unusual specimen of the sculptor's art—the work of James E. Fraser—is the property and pride of the city of Santiago, Cuba.

It was presented to that city as testimonial and memorial of Col. Roosevelt's great aid and services to Cuba following the war of 1898 and during his terms of office as president.

Resolutions of Respect For Mr. H. A. J. Harris

Hall f Clanton Lodge, No. 304, I. O. O. F., Clanton, Ala., Mar. 19, 1925.

To the Noble Grand, Officers and Brethren of Clanton Lodge No. 304, I. O. O. F.

We, the undersigned committee beg leave to submit for your approval and adoption the following resolutions:

Our departed friend and brother, Henry Andrew Jackson Harris, was born in Elmore County, Alabama, on the 29th day of October, 1852, where he spent his early years. He married Elizabeth Kelly, January 7, 1875, daughter of Elias and Elizabeth Kelly of Coosa County, Alabama, to which happy union there were born nine children, four boys and five girls, who are all living. Brother Harris joined the Baptist Church when about twenty-four years of age, and until his death took an active part in and was a devoted member to his church. He moved to Chilton County in 1886, where he first became a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge, being a charter member of Clanton Lodge No. 304, which was instituted January 9, 1904. He was elected treasurer of this lodge, December, 1905, which office he held until his death. His devotion to his lodge and his love for the principles of the order were manifest by the fact that Brother Harris, until his recent illness and failing health, in the last year or more never missed a single meeting of his lodge. He was always ready to stretch out a helping hand for the falling brother and extend them sympathy and consolation and within the lodge and out he was a source of honest information to his brothers and friends and was considered one of the old land marks of Odd Fellowship.

It is also significant that all four of our deceased brother's boys belong to the lodge and the majority of his girls belong to the Rebecca Lodge.

Brother Harris was laid to rest with the honors of Odd Fellowship at Chestnut Creek Church on the afternoon of February 26th, 1925, where a great throng of Odd Fellows and relatives and friends assembled to mourn the passing of this good and noble man.

Whereas, the Great and Supreme Ruler of the universe has in His infinite wisdom removed from among us, one of our worthy and esteemed fellow-laborers, Henry Andrew Jackson Harris; and whereas, the long and intimate relation held with him in the faithful discharge of his duties in this lodge makes it eminently befitting that we record our appreciation of him; therefore,

Resolved, That the wisdom and ability which he has exercised in the aid of our organization by service, contributions and counsel, will be held in grateful remembrance;

Resolved, That the sudden removal of such a life from our midst leaves a vacancy and a shadow that will be deeply realized by all the members and friends of this organization, and will prove a serious loss to the community and the public.

Resolved, That with deep sympathy with the bereaved relatives of the deceased we express our hope that even so great a loss to us may be overruled for good by Him who doeth all things well;

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of this organization, a copy printed in the local papers and a copy forwarded to the bereaved family.

Torque Tube Drive

The fine engineering in Buick motor cars is demonstrated by the torque tube drive. This is a steel tube which transmits the drive from the rear wheels instead of adding this important duty to the burden of the rear springs. The torque tube also encloses and protects the propeller shaft. This type of construction also holds the rear wheels in alignment regardless of road conditions.

You can't dodge puzzles. If you don't care for cross-words, there are the parking ordinances.—Key West Citizen.

Prohibition is now going on seven years old, but some wise old guy has asked, "When will the dear child be strong enough to get along without its bottle?"

The last words of a recent auto accident victim were: "Now watch me put her there in 4 minutes." But sad to say, the young driver is not "there" yet and never will be, but instead he is underneath the damp, chilly sod. This should be a glaring admonition to numerous other speed maniacs in the vicinity of Clanton. A Ford, flirting with forty, is a dangerous piece of property.

The terrible dust that is menacing the business section of Clanton is a very forceful argument for paving the streets in that portion of our city. If we had paving on second avenue from sixth to eighth streets; on sixth street from second avenue to first avenue; on seventh street from fourth avenue north to first avenue; and on first avenue from sixth to seventh street, the dust would be practically eliminated in dry weather and the mud would not hinder us in the wet weather—and those annoying bumps would not be shaking us to pieces as we drive our cars over these streets.

BRANDON'S RESPONSIBILITY

In 1920 Alabama and North Carolina began state highway construction.

In 1920 Alabama realty valuations were $670,178,000, North Carolina's $421,421,410.

In 1924 Alabama realty valuations were $643,274.376, North Carolina's $1,672,540,000.

Because of efficient highway administration, North Carolina increased her real wealth more than a billion dollars, or almost four times in four years. In the same period, because of inefficient highway administration, Alabama's real wealth declined $27,000,000. Governor Brandon promised the people better roads, better schools and the development of the seaport. Governor Brandon has failed absolutely to give either better roads or better schools, and with Governor Brandon's sanction the enemies of the seaport in the legislature placed serious obstacles in the way of full seaport development as authorized by the people of Alabama. The people would like to know what Governor Brandon proposes to do about it.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

TO HIM THAT HATH

One of the most notable financial products of the age is William Wrigley, Jr., founder of the $90,000,000 chewing gum corporation.

Only a few years ago he was making and packing his own shipment boxes. At least this is the testimony of his old friend, Paul F. Beich, Chicago and Bloomington candy manufacturer.

He knew him in a little back shop in Chicago.

Wrigley thrived because he was keen to the essentials of success, quality of wares and advertising shares.

Early in his career he packaged Broadway, New York, at a cost of thousands of dollars.

Crazy it was thought. But straightway he had everybody chewing his gum and remembering the label.

He then took to the newspapers, and his climb since has been phenomenal.

His son, P. K. Wrigley, has duplicated his father's genius in Australia. The Wrigleys not satisfied with the broad scope of America have early busied themselves in other worlds to conquer.

Wrigley has made gum chewing respectable. The practice is no longer rated with such personal duties as nail manicuring or the use of the tooth pick, and relegated to the privacy of one's room.

The chewing of gum has come to be a necessity recommended by physicians and approved by biologists.

It is now held that the chewing of gum releases juices useful in digestion and conducive to better health.

Not only that, but scientists claim that latter day civilization tends to disfigure the facial profile and give us the rabbit chin instead of the square contour to which tradition gives such praise for character and determination.

Gum gymnastics is the antidote.

Mr. M. A. Gore went to Tuscaloosa Tuesday to see his brother, Mr. J. P. Gore, who is reported to be critically ill and not expected to live very much longer.

The Modern St. Patrick

SOME POULTRY INFORMATION

The poultry business is a very profitable one when carried on in the right way, and one that should be engaged in more by the farmers of Chilton County. There are a number of things that should be considered in this connection; and for the information of those interested, we will go over a few of them.

The old saying, "Well begun is half done," surely applies to the poultry business. It is necessary to have good stock to make the most from it, and when buying stock you should endeavor to get some of the best. It costs as much to feed a poor hen as it does a good one, and you will make money with a good stock where you will lose with poor stock. Be sure to get something good; it will pay you better and you will enjoy looking after it more.

The cutomary way, and the way with least expense, of going into the poultry business is to start with chicks bought from good stock. That saves you the trouble of hatching them, and everything considered, is the most advisable way of starting. However, be sure to get chicks from good stock, as they will pay you better, even tho they do cost a little more than cheap chicks. They are well worth the little extra cost. Then, another point that should be remembered, is that the closer home your chicks, the better they will do. Chicks can be shipped long distances, but they are almost sure to get chilled and always get rough treatment in handling, and so never do as well as those gotten close by. Another advantage of getting your chicks near by is that you can see and know what you are getting; whereas, you don't know when you get them from away off. It will pay you to get them as near by as possible.

You should have enough chickens to do some good and enough to make it pay you. It is almost as much trouble to care for a half dozen as it is to see after a hundred. You should have at least one to three hundred chicks to start with, and have enough to make it pay. One of the big advantages of having chicks hatched in incubators is that your hens will all be the same age, the chicks will grow faster when raised with a brooder than when raised with a hen, and you can have them off at the right time so that they will pay you most.

During March and April is the best time to have leghorn chicks hatched off, and the leghorn is the best breed to keep. Chicks hatched during the months of March and April should start laying in the fall and lay all winter, when the price of eggs is high, and that is the time to make the most from your poultry.

We hope to see more of the farmers of Chilton County raise more poultry, for we know that it will pay them well, perhaps better than anything they could take up, especially for the time and money invested. Now is the time to get started. Make preparations for raising fifty to two hundred pullets this year, and it will be the best paying thing you will have on the place.

E. C. Powell and T. E. Wyatt went through the country to Tuscaloosa last Friday, (but they went of their own accord). Mr. Powell was contemplating a position with the Tuscaloosa News. Late Friday afternoon the two went from Tuscaloosa to Birmingham, where they spent the night, and returned to Clanton Saturday afternoon. Mr. Powell left on No. 3 Saturday evening for Macon, Ga., where he has accepted a position with the Daily Telegraph.

As Translated Into the English

Sometimes a story takes on added value in the re-telling of it even though the man who repeats it gets it twisted. This doesn't happen often, still it does happen. I recall an instance:

One night at dinner in honor of a distinguished visiting Englishman I was reminded of a yarn which I had from Sam Blythe and when I was called upon by the chairman to speak a few words I told it, and it went very well. It had to do with a prospector in Oklahoma, who, on a Saturday night, bought a quart of moonshine whisky and took it to his lonely cabin, anticipating a pleasant Sunday. But as he crossed the threshold he stumbled and fell, dropping his precious burden and smashing the bottle, so that its aromatic contents were wasted upon the floor. Depressed by his misfortune, the unfortunate man went to bed. As he lay there bemoaning his loss, a mangy, furtive, half-grown rat with one ear and part of a tail, emerged timorously from a hole in the baseboard, sat up, sniffed the laden air and then, darting swiftly to where the liquor made a puddle in a depression of the planking, ran out its tiny pink tongue, took one quick sip of the stuff and fled in sudden panic to its retreat. But it didn't stay; shortly it again appeared, and now a student of rats would have discerned that a transition had taken place in the spirits of this particular rat. Suddenly it had grown cocky, debonair, almost reckless. It traveled deliberately back to the liquor and imbibed again. Seemingly satisfied it started for home but, changing its mind, it returned and partook a third time of the refreshment. Immediately then its fur stood on end, its eyes burned red, like pigeon-blood rubies, and straightening itself upon its hind legs it waved its forepaws in a gesture of defiance and shrilly cried out:

"Now, bring on that dad-blamed cat!"

No one seemed to enjoy my little story more than did the guest of the evening. After the party broke up he made me tell it to him all over again. I could tell from his expression that he was trying to memorize it. In fact, he confessed to me that he expected to use it when he got home as a typical example of American humor.

Six months later I was in London. I attended a dinner. My English friend was the toastmaster. Perhaps my presence recalled to him the anecdote he had so liked. At any rate, he undertook to repeat it.

His version of it ran for perhaps twenty minutes. He entered into a full exposition of the potency of the illicit distillation known among the Yankees, he said, as "shining moon." He went at length into the subject of the habits of rats, pointing out that inasmuch as rats customarily did not indulge in intoxicants a few drops of any liquor carrying high alcoholic content would be likely, for the time being at least, to alter the nature of almost any rat. At length he reached his point. It ran like this:

"And then, this little rodent, being now completely transformed by his repeated potations, reared bolt upright and, voicing the pot-valor of utter intoxication both in tone and manner, it cried out in a voice like thunder:

"I say, I wonder if there isn't a cat about somewhere?"

SCHOOL FUNDS

The latest substantial relief to Alabama public schools was provided by the constitutional amendment permitting county and district three-mill taxes, adopted in 1916. The legislature of 1919 made an increase of $150,000 in the special state appropriation for sschools, less than 25c per child attending, but greatly increased the funds by a stricter method of tax gathering. The legislature of 1923 made no increase in the general school fund.

Most counties have voted the limit of taxes allowed and still cannot run adequate schools.

SCHOOL BUILDING

The construction of improved school buildings has been one of the most noteworthy movements in Alabama during the past ten years. Every county in the state is dotted with attractive, modern school houses constructed generally with the aid and supervision of the state and embodying the latest principles of school architecture.

The building program may be checked now by the fact that no improved building can insure an adequate school term and a trained teaching force. The people are willing to pay for buildings, but only legislation can provide the permanent funds for maintenance.

CLOTHING CONTEST PLANS ANNOUNCED

The second annual State clothing contest for Alabama will be held in Montgomery, April 16-18. Announcement of it is made by Miss Josephine Eddy, Extension clothing specialist, who is helping county home demonstration agents in making plans for it.

According to the rules, home demonstration club girls taking home economics in schools may enter. They will be divided into groups on a basis of work they have done, and prizes will be awarded accordingly.

The objects of the contest as explained by Miss Eddy, are that clothing work shall meet the entire needs of the girl more definitely by having a complete wardrobe rather than for making any one garment; that instruction in clothing given in the high schools and home demonstration clubs shall be more nearly standardized as to quantity and quality; that the quality shall be raised; that teachers and home demonstration agents have an opportunity to measure their work by comparative standards; and that the work being done be placed before the State.

The first contest of this kind for Alabama was held April 24-26, 1924. Thirty-one counties were represented by 108 girls who were the winners in county contests of high schools and home demonstration clubs.

County contests to decide the winners for the state contest this year will be held in a large number of counties late in March and early April. Present indications are that this, the second contest will be larger and much better than the first, which was highly successful.

"HERCULES ACTIVITY IN THE SOUTH"

Is the caption of an item which was recently published in "The Manufacturers Record."

"The problem of production of steam-distilled wood turpentine, rosin and pine oil is an extremely important development not only for the south: but for the entire United States and the world. For the world must look to this source for its naval stores when the gum products, derived from living trees, are no longer available. Our pioneering in this branch of the naval stores industry has necessitated large investments. Although the venture has not yet proved profitablbe to us, we are confident that its future will justify our expenditures.

To supply our naval stores plants, situated a Brunswick, Ga., Gulfport and Hattiesbburg, Miss., we are removing the stumps and waste wood from cut over Southern land at the rate of 70 to 100 acres a day, and converting this wood into serviceable commodities: at the same time helping to make the land suitable for agriculture.

We are also building a thoroughly modern high explosive plant near Birmingham, Ala. Our own development is keeping pace with that of other Southern industries which it is our privilege to serve.

We are now paying salaries and wages amounting to more than a million dollars annually to employees who live in the south and spend their money there. Signed, Hercules Powder Company.

What a blessing it will be to Alabama cut over lands when the people go after their pine stumps and trash which now encumber the ground.

An Arbor Day Item.

In the recent issue of "The Outlook" a New York weekly magazine, we find something very appropriate for an "Arbor Day" essay.

Under the head of "A Monument To Waste" it mentions a gigantic structure at Bogalusa, La., which is a memorial to the wastefulness that once prevailed there in lumbering operations, and still prevails in certain sections of our country. The inscription painted on the giant consumer reads as follows: Bogalusa plant of Great Southern Lumber Co. Refuse Burner. Born Oct. 1st, 1908, died July 4, 1924. Every day during my life of sixteen years, I consumed daily 560 cords of waste wood, or a total of two million six hundred and eighty eight thousand cords. I cost $75,000 but my fire has destroyed $1,344,000 worth of what was formerly considered WASTE. The complete utilization of the saw mill refuse in the manufacture of paper has my fire forever extinguished."

It has been the policy of this company ever since it started operations in the south, to make the city which grew up around the lumbering operations a permanent one. This is being done by utilizing all the logging waste, which includes tree tops and limbs, and also the saw mill waste, in the manufacture of various kinds of paper and pulp.

Now that all the saw mill waste is being utilized by a large paper mill at Bogalusa, the giant refuse burner has been put out of business. This lumber company have also adopted reforestation on an extensive scale and now have 78,000 acres on which they are planting 10,000,000 young pine trees, which will in a few years begin to give a permanent supply for both lumber and paper mills.

Night Coughing Stopped Quickly By Simple Treatment

Thousands who are troubled with persistent coughing at night, which by robbing them of valuable sleep weakens their systems and lays them open to dangerous infections, can quickly act to prevent this danger through a very simple treatment. People who have hardly been able to rest at all on account of coughing spells have found they can sleep the whole night through undisturbed often the first time they try it.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring, and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is you usually sleep soundly the very first night, and the entire cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription is highly recommended for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's coughs and spasmodic croup—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for Nine hundred thousand dollars worth of Alabama seaport improvement bonds bearing interest at 4¼ per cent were sold at Montgomery to Ward, Sterne and Company, of Birmingham, for a premium of $4,525. The bonds were auctioned off by Gov. W. W. Brandon, at a meeting of the state docks commission held in the office of the governor and the sale was marked by spirited competition among representatives of 11 bond buying concerns. Proceeds from the sale will be used in construction of the first dock unit at Mobile.

The Birmingham City hall fraud case was reopened in what was held to be a new and unexpected place when City Commissioner William L. Harrison announced that he would introduce a resolution before the City Commission, demanding filing of civil suits to recover approximately $50,000 found to have been embezzled in the public improvement department of the city "regardless of whom the defendant or defendants may be so long as the evidence tends to show that he or they are the parties who have misappropriated the city's money."

Howard Lamb, 15-year-old boy, who was held in jail in connection with the death of Willie Spray, who dropped dead in Lincoln village just as the two were preparing to engage in a boxing bout, has been released from custody. Examination proved that young Spray died of a heart trouble, accentuated by excitement. Not a blow had been passed, when the boy fell to the floor and expired. An inquiry was made by Coroner D. H. Collier and it was shown that no one could be blamed for the lad's death.

Special deputy sheriffs have been assigned to reinforce police officers and the solicitor's office at Birmingham in a combined move against alleged flogging bands of nightriders who have perpetrated the fourth whipping in a week when D. G. Huston, 2028 1-2 Avenue B, was severely flogged after having been handcuffed and ordered into a waiting automobile by four men whom he says were acting under orders issued by relatives of Mrs. Huston.

B. R. Harding 27, giving his home as Memphis, Tenn., was arraigned in police court at Mobile, charged with burglary. Judge Edington held the prisoner for further investigation. Jewelry valued at several thousand dollars, some of which bore tags of Mobile jewelers whose places had been robbed were found in Harding's possession, according to police reports

Mobile port bonds are bringing a premium. The second block of 4½s was sold to Ward, Sterne & Co., of Birmingham, who took the $800,000 at $5,525 prmium. There were 11 bidders. Previously $1,000,000,000 in port bonds had been sold. Proceeds will be used to build the first of the Mobile port docks.

Uniforms have been bought forghe Huntsville police force. Uniforms have not been used by the police here for a long time and members of the city council declared that they were never able to find a policeman when he was needed because they were "disquised as civilians."

The City of Albany is unable to meet the request of the school board for $15,000 to continue the schools the full nine months, according to a resolution adopted by the city council in special session. It may therefore be necessary to cut the term to seven and one-half months.

TEXTILE INDUSTRY DOING BIG AUTO BUSINESS

Increasing demand for closed cars among other things, is furnishing the textile industry of the country with a big and annually growing business.

The largest user of upholstery materials is the Ford Motor Company and figures which have just been given out by the company not only show how the closed car popularity is growing, but also present an interesting picture of the great quantity of cloth used in trimming automobile bodies. Ford production records disclose that in 1924 close to 40% of the company's passenger car output was closed cars, which is a new high record. To trim these cars it took approximately 3,680,000 yards of cloth, the equivalent of the entire annual output of ten mills of 25 looms each.

Another thing, it required the fleece of more than 875,000 sheep to furnish sufficient wool for all this cloth, and an interesting feature in this connection is that within the last two years the price of wool, such as used in Ford upholstery, has more than doubled. However, manufacturing economies effected in other departments permitted the company to each year lower the price of the Ford closed cars to the purchaser.

Buyers for the company start with the fleece, specifying in detail the exact kind of wool to be used. The quality most desired was determined upon only after much experimental work and long and severe tests. As Ford cars are for the most part subjected to long and hard service, it is necessary to provide in the upholstery cloth not only pleasing and attractive in appearance, but also unusual wearing qualities.

POOR OR

TELL THE WORLD
You're Proud to Live in CLANTON, ALA.

SURELY, you have all the reason in the world to be thankful you live in Clanton. Your commercial interests are here. Your social interests are here. Your prospects here are far more promising than they would be anywhere else. Nary a cloud hovers on the horizon of your future. Could things look any brighter?

COMPARE Clanton with New York, Chicago, or any of the larger centers of the country. There it is - - - "Everybody for himself. Get what you can and the best o' luck." It's hustle, hustle every minute with never a thought or a kind deed for a neighbor's welfare. HOW different the spirit is here. Your neighbor's interests are your own. He thinks - - - "What can I do to please others? What can I do to help improve the town, help it grow and make it a better place in which to live?" Your thoughts are the same. And through your actions and his actions, Clanton has become the best place in the world.

POPULATION DOESN'T MAKE A GREAT COMMUNITY. IT'S THE SPIRIT OF THOSE WHO LIVE IN IT.

SO, do a little "Oral Boosting." Tell the world you're mighty happy to be here.

Do yours, by "WORD OF MOUTH!"

COURT HOUSE AT TALLADEGA BURNED

Talladega, March 13.—Fire originating in the belfry destroyed the Talladega county courthouse last Friday night at an estimated loss of $150,000. Insurance carried on the structure totalled $25,000. The blaze climaxes a long series of fires of suspicious origin in this city.

The flames were discovered about 8 o'clock and the fire department responded immediately. Firemen were prevented from entering the cupola by smoke and flames and were forced to confine their efforts to the ground. More than a dozen hose were played on the building but with little results.

The court house, a two-story brick structure, is located in the center of the business section. Stores were threatened for a time by the sparks from the burning structure. The roof caved in within a half hour but the building was several hours burning. Only bare brick walls are left standing.

Records of the probate judge, tax collector and assessor were locked in a vault on the first floor and are believed saved. However, many records of the circuit clerk on the second floor were destroyed.

Owing to the heroic efforts of Knox Camp, son of former Probate Judge J. E. Camp, a number of papers in the probate office were saved. Seeing the fire in the cupola, he broke a window in the probate office, unlocked the vault and placed a number of records in the fireproof container.

The court house was an historic structure which had been added to and remodeled several times. Among the prominent men who have crossed its threshold was Senator John T. Morgan. Several years ago the building was badly damaged in a tornado.

Probate Judge E. A. Hammett announced that a called meeting of the county commissioners would likely be held tomorrow to arrange temporary office quarters until the court house can be rebuilt.

Suspicion has heretofore been aroused that a firebug has been operating in Talladega. Two unsuccessfull attempts have been made to burn the railroad station. About one month ago the clubhouse burned at a loss of $12,000.

Lumber Plant Burns.

Wednesday night the plant of the Burton Lumber Company was practically destroyed at a loss of about $10,000. Last night a negro undertaking establishment suffered a $27,000 fire loss. A small blaze at the Alabama Furniture company's store last night was soon extinguished by the fire department.

Agents of the state fire marshal's office are expected here at once to investigate the court house fire.

Proved.—"Do you believe in what they call the unconscious mind?"

"What do you mean by that?" inquired Senator Sorghum cautiously.

"A part of your mentality that causes you to know things and yet not realize that you know them."

"Certainly. Almost any man is liable to have that kind of an attack when he is making out his income-tax return."—Washington Star.

ALABAMA EGG LAYING CONTEST OUTSTRIPS NEW YORK AND NEW JERSEY TESTS BY A BIG MARGIN

Auburn, Ala.—Alabama's first annual egg laying contest is leading the United States in egg production.

Two big national contests are now in progress at Long Island, New York, and Vineland, New Jersey, the hens entered representing the very pick of the country's finest birds.

Yet New York and New Jersey are lagging behind Alabama!

At the end of the twelfth week of the contest now in progress at Auburn, the 960 hens in the Alabama competition had reached a production of 47.05 per cent.

The best the Long Island contest could do was 32.67 per cent for the week, and the New Jersey show's production mark was 39.96 per cent.

This, in the face of the fact that Alabama poultrymen were worried about the probable showing of the Alabama hens, before the contest began! This being the first national egg-laying contest ever held in Alabama, it was feared that this state's showing would be a poor one. It was feared that Alabama birds would be at a disadvantage in competition with crack birds from some of the country's greatest poultry centers. But not only has the Alabama contest covered itself with glory—an Alabama pen still holds the championship in the contest today. It is that of F. A. Rew, county demonstration agent, at Carrollton, whose ten white leghorns lead the contest with a production of 457 eggs in twelve weeks.

Memphis Pen Is Second

Next to Mr. Rew comes the entry of the Happy Poultry Yards, of Memphis, Tenn., with 447 eggs; Howard Poultry Farm, of Dunn, N. C., with 443 eggs; and Great Southern Poultry Farm, of Lineville, Ala., with 438 eggs.

White leghorns continue to lead as the best producing breeds, all of the leaders in first to seventh place being of that breed. Judge Sam High's Buff Orpingtons come next to the white leghorns with a total egg production to date of 397.

In studying the feed records for the twelfth week it was noticeable that the amount of mash consumed was greater in proportion than that of grain for any previous seven-day period. The lighter breeds are receiving scratch grain at the rate of 11 pounds per 100 birds, and the heavier breeds at the rate of 13 pounds per 100 birds.

Conditions of housing and feeding are identical for all birds in the contest. Jazz Scratch and Mash Feeds, manufactured by the W. M. Cosby Flour and Grain Company, of Birmingham, are being used exclusively in the contest, and the showing made in the Alabama contest, in comparison with that of the New York and New Jersey contests, has been very gratifying to the officials of the Cosby Company.

High Individual Hens

The high individual hens in the contest to date are as follows:

Bird No.	Owner	No. Eggs
701	Mrs. T. T. Tatum	75
879	Valley Red Farm	73
840	Oscar Heinhart	72
159	Mrs. Alice T. Peart	70
304	Great Southern Farms	69
217	Happy Poultry Yards	69
900	Sumter Red Farms	67
909	Ridgeley Yards	67

Electric lights were turned on the birds for the first time one night recently. Many of the feathered flappers from the country did not know what to make of such a strange sight, but in a very short time they came off the roost, ate very heartily of grain, visited the mash hopper and water pail and then went back on the roost. The lights were on only for a period of 15 minutes the first night, gradually increasing until they remain on now for an hour each evening.

With a view to aiding tourists travel and reducing to a minimum the danger from crossings, curves and ferries, the Alabama Highway Commission has begun the work of marking the principal highways of the state and placing danger signals near points on the roads where accidents might occur. More than seven thousand markers will be necessary to cover the trunk roads in the state, according to W. S. Keller, state highway engineer, who says that it will probably be a year before the work contemplated can be completed. The markers will consist of a pole painted in yellow with the number of the route stenciled in black against the yellow background and will be placed at all road intersections, forks and at corners in cities where the highway turns. In the event that two of the highways merge in city streets for a short distance, both route numbers will be posted.

Contracts between the River Falls Power Company and municipalities of Brantley and Dozier and petitions to construct a transmission line from Gantt, via Dozier to Brantley and an electric distribution system in Dozier, were approved by the Alabama Public Service Commission. The commission also approved a contract between the River Falls and the Houston Power Companies for reciprocal interchange of electric energy and for permission to construct a transmission line from Gantt to Geneva. The Alabama Power Company was given authority to extend the availability of its service classification "D" in Huntsville and Gadsden. Such extension permits furnishing of electric current for cooking and heating purposes to restaurants, hotels and other such establishments.

The Etowah mines, idle for 13 years, and recently taken over by the Sloss-Sheffield Steel and Iron Company, are now in operation. Eighty men are at work in the opening and 300 will be employed by February 15, it is stated. Within a short while the daily output will be 500 tons and it is expected to eventually grow to 800 tons. The mines were last operated by the Alabama Company but were shut down when the property line was reached. Last year a large adjoining acreage was purchased and preparations made to resume work on a large scale. The Sloss Company has built a three-mile spur track which enables it to handle ore from mine to furnace with its own trains.

One of the largest artesian wells in the state which had poured out water in the yard of the county jail in Selma for 20 years, ceased suddenly to flow and officials can see no reason for the cessation. No new well has been bored in Selma since the well of the Country Club last spring and this is separated from the jail by Valley Creek. Twenty-five years ago Selma had more artesian wells than any other city in the world, it was said, except Artois, in France. But many of these wells have stopped flowing, tapped by the boring of another well. The stoppage, ever has been gradual while this of the county jail well was sudden.

Only forty-two white children of school age in Gadsden are out of school, according to a report of the board of education by Superintendent C. A. Donehoo, who has checked over the 1924 census with the enrollment of the public schools. The figures show, he says, that 99 per cent of the white children of Gadsden are enrolled in some school. The negroes do not make such a good showing with 530 children not enrolled in any school. It is understood the authorities will investigate the cause and endeavor to enforce the compulsory school laws so far as the negroes are concerned.

Three important elections were held in Lawrence County last week, the question of whether a five mill tax should or should not be levied in the Landersville, Moulton and the Town Creek school districts for the purpose of acquiring or erecting a school building or of paying for a school building already erected was voted upon. In the Landersville district the vote was 32 to 16, or two to one in favor of the measure; at Town Creek each of the eight votes cast were for the measure and there the whole district shouldered the $12,000 debt that a few men have been bearing for several years; in the Moulton district, counting challenged votes on each side, the vote ran 120 against a new building and 118 favorablbe to the measure. The privilege of holding the election was granted in the last general election by an amendment to the state constitution.

L. C. Frank, milk specialist, of the United States public health service, who is working with the Alabama state health department in milk control work, is going in February to the states of Illinois, Minnesota and Missouri to explain to the officials of these states the Alabama system of milk control work. The model milk ordinance sponsored by the health department of this state has attracted much interest in various parts of the country.

The Conecuh Livestock Association held its first co-operative hog sale of the year at Evergreen. Two cars of hogs were sold. Except for the condition of some of the roads, at least three cars would have been sold, it is said. One hundred and forty-two hogs totaling 45,050 pounds, brought 20 farmers $2,106.45. Mr. A. B. Boutwell, of Greenville, was the successful bidder and the sale per pound ran as follows: No. 1, 9; No. 2, 8; No. 3, 7; No. 4, 6, and rough, 7 cents.

Alabama bankers from forty-two counties who met here under the auspices of the agricultural committee of the Alabama Bankers Association to study agricultural and farm home problems approved the program as worked out and adopted at a meeting of farmers, farm women and agricultural workers here three weeks ago and pledged their support in putting it into operation.

Efforts to enforce the state compulsory school laws in Gadsden are to be made during the next few weeks. Every complaint that families are too poor to furnish books will be investigated by the probation officer, juvenile court and the superintendent of the city welfare department, and wherever justified they will see that the books are furnished from a public fund.

Mrs. Etta Shaddix, 36, died at the Fairfield Hospital as the result of burns received at her home, 2513 Fifth Avenue, Bessemer.

James Barfield, of Rome, Ga., has been elected teacher of the newly added courses of religious instruction in the Gadsden High School.

Representative citizens of Bessemer including owners of the Bessemer General Hospital, are planning a proposal to the board of revenue for the sale of the hospital to be operated by Jefferson County as a branch of the Hillman Hospital.

One hundred and twenty-eight persons are said to be quarantined in their homes in Birmingham with small pox.

G. B. Swann, 63, of Morris, was cranking his car preparatory to going to work when he dropped dead.

Coughs Always Dangerous—Quick Way to Stop Them

Chronic coughs and chest colds often lead to more serious trouble. Not only is the infection itself dangerous, but the continual coughing spells day and night so weaken your entire system that you can no longer fight off disease.

So stop a cough the quickest you can. To do this there is nothing better than that old-time tried and proved remedy—Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. Doctors say there is nothing like pine-tar extract to quickly loosen and remove the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the cough, while the honey both gives a pleasant taste and helps soothe irritation. The quick relief to the stubbornest cough often seems almost magical.

But be sure you get the genuine Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey, and no substitute. Dr. Bell's is the original pine-tar honey and has been known for over a quarter of a century as the best. It is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine-tar, honey and other quick-acting, healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in quick relief. Contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, so can be given even to young children—fine for spasmodic croup. If you want the best, a medicine that often relieves the severest cough overnight, make sure you get Dr. Bell's. Only 30c at all good druggists.

MRS. BROADHEAD EDITOR OF OUR SOCIAL COLUMN

The Union-Banner takes pleasure in announcing to our readers this week that Mrs. Grady Broadhead will henceforth be the editor of our social and personal news page.

In this connection we desire to solicit for Mrs. Broadhead the co-operation and support of every citizen of Clanton, to the end that the local news of the town may be presented more fully every week.

We especially urge that the ladies of the town make an effort every week to give to Mrs. Broadhead any items of interest about their social activities.

Mrs. Moore Entertains the "Round Dozen."

A most enjoyable afternoon was spent when Mrs. J. Watts Moore entertained the Round Dozen Club and a few invited guests, complimentary to Miss Alice Powell of Port Royal, Ky., the guest of Mrs. S. J. Ezell.

The home was made attractive with spring flowers and potted plants.

After the sewing hours, Mrs. Moore, assisted by Mesdames J. Hance Alred, J. W. Hayes and Miss Kathleen Mullins, served a most delicious salad course, carrying out St. Patrick's idea.

Those enjoying this lovely hospitality were: Mesdames S. J. Ezell, J. P. Hayes, T. C. McSwain, L. F. Gerald, H. M. Simpson, E. E. Upchurch, Arthur Johnson, J. W. Hayes, M. L. White, Bama Cox, J. M. VanDerveer, J. Hance Alred, Grady Reynolds, Grady Broadhead, Misses Alice Powell and Kathleen Mullins.

P. T. A. Meets.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association was held last Friday afternoon at the public school.

The Vice President, Mrs. Howard Foshee, called the meeting to order. A real entertaining program was splendidly rendered by the pupils of the fourth grade. Many of the Dutch customs were well presented. The business session followed. The Secretary, Miss Cheshire, read a letter of interest to all, from the school board, stating that definite plans for a new school building would be made within the next three weeks.

The pictures for attendance were awarded Miss Jones' room.

Mr. Grady Reynolds returned to Dothan Sunday afternoon, where he is engaged in Federal court, after spending the week end with his family.

W. M. U. Meeting in Clanton, on March 27th.

The W. M. U. of the Clanton Baptist church cordially invites all sister organizations of the eastern district to co-operate with them, by sending a full quota of delegates to attend the W. M. U. District Meeting to be held at the Clanton Baptist church on Friday, March 22. Miss Kathleen Mallory and Hannah Reynolds will be guests upon the occasion. Dr. T. W. Ayers of China, one of the first medical missionaries sent out by our board to that country, will also be present.

These faithful leaders will be here and a treat is in store for all who attend. All are well known for the work they have performed; they are entertaining, for their minds are stored with much rich material, acquired in their many years of faithful service.

Delegates will confer a favor by writing Mrs. J. Watts Moore immediately upon their decision to come, so that arrangements may be made for their entertainment in Clanton homes.

Capacity Unlimited.—An "eating competition" was organized in a mining town in the north of England. One competitor, a giant collier, six feet in height and broad in proportion, succeeded in disposing of a leg of mutton, a plentiful of vegetables and a plum pudding, washed down with copious drafts of ale. He was unanimously declared the winner, and was being triumphantly escorted home when he turned to his admirers and said:

"Eh, lads, say don't hee say nowt of this to my old woman, or she won't gie me no dinner!"—The Continent (Chicago).

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

The entertainment given by Helen Keller Literary Society last Saturday night, under the management of Miss Katharine Perry, a member of Thorsby Institute faculty, was worthy of a much larger attendance than they had. The characters in the two short plays presented were well chosen, and rendition of the parts assigned them, was in most cases, excellent. The Japanese songs, in costume, interpreted by action by Miss Perry, presented a dainty and pleasing picture which will not soon be forgotten by anyone who saw it.

The praise service last Sunday night at the Congrgational church was one of the most enjoyable and best attended of any yet held. The program consisted of familiar hymns and Gospel songs composed by Fanny Crosby, and was intended to be a memorial service in celebration of her birth. Although blind from childhood, she composed more of the songs and hymns in common use today by all Christian denominations, than any writer who ever lived.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Flummer, former residents of Thorsby, made a week end motor trip from Birmingham, where they now reside, to Enterprise, Ala., stopping at Thorsby to pick up Mrs. Ed Piper, whom they took along with them to visit their daughter, Marie, who is teaching at Enterprise.

Ed Piper and Nat Bentley motored to Montgomery last Saturday, on business.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid Society meets Thursday afternoon of this week at the home of Mrs. Chas. S. Howard.

The many Thorsby friends of Oscar Bean and family, who live in the New Salem community, deeply sympathize with them in the loss of their eldest son, Vastine, who was killed in an automobile accident on the Montgomery road, near Clanton last Sunday morning, and the painful injury of a younger brother, who was with him when the car turned over. Vastine Bean, about sixteen years old, was formerly a student at Thorsby Institute, and his teachers speak of him as a particularly bright and clean young man, whom they all loved.

L. A. Norman, superintendent of construction under Miller Bros. contract for paving the Birmingham-Montgomery highway from Shelby county line to Lomax, has secured possession of George Freeman's cottage on Washington street, next to S. E. Norton's home, and moved in Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Goddard of Continental, Ohio, are visiting Mr. Goddard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Goddard in Thorsby. They expect to remain about two weeks.

Nels C. Petersen and family motored to Oxmoor last Sunday to visit Mr. Petersen's brother, Harry, and family.

Mrs. Clyde A. Mead entertained last Thursday afternoon in honor of her aunt, Mrs. Charles Odell, of Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Dilger of Birmingham spent Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Paxson; they were on their way to Mobile, by motor.

The Ladies Guild of Thorsby will hold their monthly social gathering, Thursday, March 26, at the home of Mrs. M. J. Soberg.

Mr. Wm. Neal and daughter, Mrs. Eikenberry, who have been spending the winter in Thorsby expect to leave early next week for their home in Indiana.

Nat Bentley is hard at work to finish his filling station at the corner of Jones street and the new highway. It will be fitted up in modern style for such purpose, and altogether be a desirable addition to Thorsby. We understand he intends soon to begin another building of the same style of exterior finish, located between his new building and the town hall, to be used as a drug store and refreshment parlor. He expects to have this new venture in readiness for use by the time the highway is finished to Lomax.

Senate Rejects Warren Again

President and Appointee Silent After Defeat; Opinion Is That Warren Would Refuse If Appointed.

Washington, March 16.—The nomination of Charles B. Warren to be attorney general was rejected for a second time today by the senate, 46 to 39, as compared to the 40-40 tie a week ago.

Immediately there arose a question whether Mr. Warren would accept a recess appointment which President Coolidge announced last Saturday would be offered to him in the event the senate took such action.

Neither the executive nor Mr. Warren made any statement. Secretary Sanders said Mr. Coolidge had the situation "under advisement," and Senator Curtis of Kansas, the republican leader, who, with Senator Butler, of Massachusetts, carried word of the senate action to the White House, declared the president would make known his position tomorrow.

No official would intimate whether these indications pointed to a refusal by Mr. Warren to accept a recess appointment, or would say whether Mr. Coolidge had under advisement the submission of a new nomination tomorrow or at some later date.

Meanwhile the senate is held in special session. Leaders of the opposition to Mr. Warren declared it would be held for some time unless Mr. Coolidge submitted another name. Until the senate adjourns, a recess appointment cannot be made.

The vote came after four hours of fiery debate before crowds that jammed the galleries and extended in long lines through the corridors. Presentation of the case of Mr. Warren, and of the president, rested largely with republicans of the judiciary committee, two of whom made their maiden senate speeches in the fight. The leaders of the Old Guard of other days remained silent.

Although the only question in doubt was the size of the majority by which the nomination would be rejected, the calling of the roll was followed with even a more eager intensity than was manifest last Tuesday when it was first turned down because of the inability of Vice President Dawes to reach the chamber in time to break the tie.

The vice president was in the chair every minute of the session today and had his first real experience in attempting to enforce senate rules against demonstrations, which came frequently from the gallery as quips and jibes were hurled across the chamber by senators.

The hosts on both sides had been marshalled, some coming from sick beds and others having been summoned from great distances to cast their votes in the history-making struggle between the White House and the senate.

This was one of the few times in recent senate history that all the senators present answered when their names first were called.

As the roll started, Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, who collapsed last week in the senate, came in slowly and took his seat. A minute or two later, Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, recognized leader of the insurgents, who had been called from Florida, entered the chamber and took his seat in a front row directly before Mr. Dawes.

The roll call showed this division:

For confirmation: republicans: Bingham, Butler, Cameron, Capper, Cummins, Curtis, Dale, Deneen, Dupont, Ernst, Fernald, Freys, Gillett, Goff, Goodin, Hale, Harreld, Jones of Washington, Keys, Lenroot, McKinley, McLean, McNary, Means, Metcalfe, Moses, Oddie, Pepper, Pine, Sackett, Schall, Shortridge, Smoot, Spencer, Stanfield, Wadsworth, Watson, Weller, Hollis—39.

Against confirmation: republicans: Borah, Brookhart, Couzens, Frazier, Howell, Johnson, Ladd, LaFollette, Norbeck, Norris—10.

Pairs were announced as follows:

Edge, republican, for; Stephens, democrat, against.

Phillips, republican, for; Pittman, democrat, against.

Warren, republican, for; Overman, democrat, against.

Reed, republican, of Pennsylvania, for; McMaster, republican, against.

Green, republican, for; Jones, democrat, New Mexico, against.

Senator Underwood, democrat, Alabama, is in Bermuda and was without a pair. There is no announcement how he would have voted.

Immediately after the result was announced, the senate went into executive session, confirmed a single postmaster and adjourned until noon tomorrow. Senators Curtis and Butler then drove rapidly to the White House, where they were closeted with the President and Mr. Warren for half an hour.

Emerging from the executive offices for the return trip to the capitol neither had any statement to make, but later Senator Curtis said he and Mr. Butler had informally reported to the president that the senate had no further business to transact unless Mr. Coolidge had a further communication to make.

The president then told the senators he would make known his position to them tomorrow. He seemed unperturbed by the senate action and merely smiled when informed the nomination had again been rejected.

Mr. Wallace C. Edler of Thorsby was a visitor to Clanton Wednesday. Mr. Edler is looking hale and hearty notwithstanding his eighty-odd years of age.

Jack O'Brien Escaped From Jail

Sheriff Littlejohn received notice Tuesday that Jack O'Brien, otherwise known as J. C. O'Bryan, had escaped from the Montgomery County jail about daylight Monday morning. O'Brien is one of the three young men who stole Mr. Parnell's car at Stanton a few months ago and were caught over in Mississippi. The three men were brought to Clanton and placed in jail. After attempting to escape from the jail here, they were sent to Montgomery for safe keeping.

O'Brien, together with two other men named Fillingim and O'Hara, sawed themselves out of the "bull-pin" on the third floor and descended to the top of the jail garage by means of ropes made of sheets, and leaped to safety. O'Hara was caught by police, but O'Brien and Fillingim, notwithstanding the fact that the jail was guarded on all sides, made good their attempt to get away. A diligent search is being made all over the state for O'Brien. Fillingim was later caught at the home of an old sweetheart in Montgomery. An officer had been stationed there, and Fillingim stepped right into the officer's arms as he entered the back door of the house.

Jew Says Coolidge Speech Anti-Klan

It is possible, said a prominent magazine the other day, to pick out words from the Bible which say "There is no God."

With contortion just as violent as such a picking of Bible words would be, David Lawrence, a Washington syndicate writer of some prominence, picks out of President Coolidge's inaugural address words which he construes into denunciation of the Ku Klux Klan.

Mr. Lawrence may be deceiving himself; he will not deceive many Americans. With him, the wish is father to the thought. Though his name sounds American, David Lawrence is a Jew. He believes it to his interest to dislike the Klan. Posing as an interpreter of Presidents, his desire leads him to see in the President's words meanings that are not there.—Fellowship Forum.

Officers Capture Fine Copper Still

Late Wednesday afternoon of last week Sheriff Littlejohn came in with a fine copper distilling outfit of 35-gallon capacity, which he had found near Ervin Schoolhouse in North-west Chilton. The still was a well made outfit and was perfect in every respect, it being made of sheet copper throughout.

No one was at the still when the officers found it, but evidences were that it had been in operation the day before. Five gallons of whiskey were found and destroyed together with about 150 gallons of beer. No arrests were made.

Girl Wins Prize For History of Clanton

In the Junior I year, or the sixth grade, of the Clanton Grammar School the English teacher recently put on a contest among her pupils to see who could write the best essay on the life history of Clanton. The essay of the winner was to be published in the county papers. Little Miss Vivian Gray, the 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Gray of Clanton, was declared the winner, and The Union-Banner takes pleasure in publishing in full her essay.

Not only is this essay interesting from the standpoint of English and Composition, but the historical facts contained therein will be of considerable interest to the people of Clanton and Chilton County. The dates and incidents referred to in this sketch have been verified by several of the older citizens of our town and may be relied upon as being authentic. Following is the essay:

Life History of Clanton

(By Vivian Gray.)

Clanton was first begun in 1871, the same year Birmingham was first settled, and is now 54 years old. It was named after General Clanton, who distinguished himself in the war between the states. Lomax was Clanton's first depot, goods being hauled from there as this was a flag station.

The railroad was graded before the war, then called the North and South Alabama, and finished in 1870.

The first courthouse, built some distance from here, was burned down and rebuilt in Clanton in 1872-1873, after the railroad had been finished, with Mordica Robinson as Probate Judge. This was torn down and rebuilt in 1886, while H. J. Callen was Judge, who served for 18 years. This was replaced by a brick buildinig during the term of Honeycutt, who became Judge after Mr. Callen. This brick building was burned during Reynold's term, and the present one built at an expense of $70,000.

Mr. Alfred Baker was the first merchant of Clanton, beginning in 1871. He was also the first representative from Chilton. Other merchants were the Gullahorns and Captain John Hanna.

Dr. Stewart and John Hanna were leaders in building the first school house.

The First Baptist Church was built in 1872, by J. A. Mullins, pastor. The First Methodist Church was built in 1874, with O. A. Duke as one of the leaders.

The town was incorporated in 1890, and re-incorporated in 1900, with W. L. Sampey as Mayor.

E. Y. McMorris built the first high school in 1893, which he served as teacher for several years. This school building was removed, and W. C. Robinson's lumber yard occupies the ground.

The first hotel was built on the site occupied by Upchurch Drug Co., by a Mr. Baker; the second by L. A. Thornton, and still stands on second avenue.

Next, Mr. Wilson built a hotel on the lot occupied by the Wilson Hotel. This was burned, and the present Wilson Hotel built by Wm. Wilson, Jr.

About the year 1910, Clanton seemed to put on new life. Since that time, the then old field has been filled by the section called the "Gowan Addition." The County High School, Exchange Hotel, and many other stone and brick buildings have been built and occupied by stores and shops.

It is safe to say that within the last 15 years her population has more than quadrupled, trade has increased many fold, her schools have kept pace with population, and her churches, consisting of four denominations, have changed from the $300 type of 1872-4, to the present Baptist, costing $35,000, and Methodist costing, when completed, $50,000.

COME TO ISABELLA

Chilton High Team Beats Sidney Lanier

The baseball team of the Chilton County High School went down to Montgomery last Friday and Saturday and started the Sidney Lanier High School team off into the season with a severe black eye.

The game on Friday resulted in a score of 6 to 5 in favor of the Chilton team, after twelve innings.

A double header was staged on Saturday. Chilton took the first by a score of 6 to 2 in eleven innings. The second game was called at the end of the fifth inning with the count tied, 1-1.

This is the first instance on record of prep school baseball in Alabama, that two teams have played extra inning games on consecutive days.

The work of Littlejohn in the field was sensational. Hayes Played his regular good game in short, while Thompson gained the admiration of all by his splendid work behind the plate. C. Jones, Ruffin, and Rutland did well in keeping the pill under guard while in their territory. J. Jones and Mullins exhibited fine fielding ability, the latter doing especially well for the experience he has had. Sanford gave promise of some good work in the future, holding them behind the plate like a veteran, although it was his first participation in Varsity athletics, and connecting for a sizzling single his first time up in the third game.

A number of Clanton people were in Montgomery to witness the games and they came back with the highest praise for the ability of the home team.

Chilton plays F. D. A. S. in Wetumpka next Friday afternoon. Accompany them and see some good baseball.

Lande To Open New Store at Opelika

Mr.. Maurice Lande announces his plans to open a new store in Opelika in a few days, which will carry about the same size stock of goods which he carries at "The Leader" in Clanton. Mr. Lande will continue to live in Clanton, and carry on his business here.

To those who trade at "The Leader" it is of interest to know that the opening of the new store will give Mr. Lande larger buying power, which advantage will come back to his customers in the form of more and better goods at lower prices.

Since coming to Clanton Mr. Lande has been a liberal buyer of newspaper advertising, thus keeping the public constantly informed of the offerings at his store. He expects to follow out this policy at Opelika.

Upon a recent visit to Opelika, Mr. Lande was very favorably impressed with the little city, especially since the announcement of the location of the Pepperell mills there. There are other industries on the way to Opelika, announcement of which will be made soon.

Mr. Harry Margolis will go to Opelika to have charge of the new store there. His friends regret that he is to leave Clanton. He will be missed at "The Leader." But the success of this young man as manager of the store at Opelika is a foregone conclusion.

Ku Klux Lecture Draws Great Crowd

The court house in Clanton was filled to overflowing on last Sunday afternoon with people from all parts of the county to hear Mr. C. O. Johns of Nashville, Tenn., on the fundamental principles of the Ku Klux Klan.

Mr. Johns proved to be a very able and interesting speaker and he was loudly cheered by the vast audience at many places in his discourse.

He spoke for about two hours and the patience with which the audience listened to him and the reception given his utterances was evidence that his address was considered worth while by those who listened to it.

One Detail Was Missing

On the historic afternoon when Jack Johnson fought Jim Jeffries in Nevada for the world's championship there was a baseball game at the old Polo grounds. In the press stand, among others, sat Sid Mercer, the sporting writer, and Franklin P. Adams, the column conductor. For some reason or other, ringside bulletins were not being received at the ball park. Naturally, the crowd wanted to know how the fight was going.

Several hundred spectators, drawn by the fact that telegraph instruments were clicking in the press stand, packed themselves solidly behind the wire netting in the hope of hearing tidings from Reno over the wire. Mercer and Adams got a joint inspiration. They pretended to be taking a ringside description off one of the instruments. First one would chant off a purely imaginary account of a round, and then the other would.

Now it so happened that Adams had a bet down on the negro to win, and accordingly favored the black contender. In his turn to "read" a round, he would depict Johnson as hammering Jeffries into a pulp. But Mercer, who was a partisan of Jeffries, would each time retaliate with a spirited but, of course, purely fictitious account of how the white man, having rallied heroically, was now dealing mighty blows upon the head and body of the tottering, weakening black.

Naturally, the listening crowd was torn by conflicting emotions. Cheers and groans marked the utterances of the two gifted romancers. Eventually, when the multitude had grown so in numbers that the pressure of its bulk threatened to break down the netting, the conspirators decided it was time to bring their joke to a climax.

Mercer, cocking his head above an instrument as though the better to hear, began reciting, somewhat after this fashion:

"Round-seven! At-the-sound-of-the-bell-the-two-men-leap-to-the-center - of-the-ring! They-exchange-a-whirlwind-of-jabs-and-upper-cuts! The-fighting-is - the - fiercest - ever-seen-in-a-heavy-weight-contest! Suddenly-the-knock-out - blow - is-delivered-upon-the-point-of-the-jaw! The-defeated-man-drops-like-a-log! His-seconds-drag-his-unconscious-form-into-his-corner! The-maddened-throng-acclaims-the-winner- and-pandemonium-reigns-supreme!"

Here he paused and, with the air of one who has completed a hard job, made as though to sit down.

From a thousand throats behind him one question arose in a mighty chorus: "Who wins?"

Dramatically Mercer raised his hand for silence, and a deep hush befell.

"The dispatches did not state," he said, simply, and sat down again.

CLANTON BOOSTERS

VanDerveer Real Estate & Insurance Company Capable of Valuable Public Service To Clanton and Chilton County

For a period of time extending further back than many of us can remember, the name of VanDerveer has been prominently and intimately associated with the business, civic, and fraternal activities of Clanton and Chilton County. More than 30 years ago Mr. Joseph P. VanDerveer came to Clanton and identified himself with the progress of the town and county, which connection he maintained actively up to the time of his death a little over a year ago. For the purpose at hand we will let it suffice to say that his career was indeed an honorable one. He came to the end of his way surrounded with a vast group of sorrowing friends and associates.

One of the angles of Mr. VanDerveer's very versatile business acumen turned him toward the insurance field, in which he soon became recognized as a very capable authority. He began writing insurance in Clanton over 30 years ago. Since that time insurance agents have come and gone. He himself has laid down the things of this life and gone to his eternal reward. But to-day the name of VanDerveer is still with us. It has outgrown the limitations of the sphere of the mere insurance agent, and has become an institution builded upon the firm foundation that was laid in the beginning by one who was devoted to his business, and ever striving for the highest ideals of perfection toward service to those who came to him.

The subject of this sketch is the VanDerveer Real Estate & Insurance Company, of Clanton, as we know it and see it to-day, under the ownership and management of Mr. John M. VanDerveer. The purpose of this little dissertation is not to draw attention to the VanDerveer organization as an agency that sells insurance and collects premiums thereon. We see in the business as it is being conducted, the embodiment of the principles of service to the public, which endows it as an institution worthy of honorable mention. We appreciate the fact that Clanton has such an institution, and we believe that it will be worth while for the people of Clanton and Chilton County to know Mr. VanDerveer better and make more constant use of the advantages which he holds out to them.

People should realize that insurance in its various applications has become one of the most vital and important elements of the business and commercial life of modern times. In this respect the subject of insurance touches and concerns the people of Clanton and Chilton County in the same measure that we hold and exercise our relation to the whole of the commercial world. Our insurance interests radiate from us, reach out step by step through the vast reticulations of intricate details of the superlatively wonderful system of its building, finally touching the fountain head of the world's greatest insurance organizations. The circuit of our contact with the generating powers of insurance is made complete through the men who study insurance for us. Consequently, those men who study insurance and know the application of its principles are able to render a valuable public service in many ways. It is in the performance of such service in a reliable and unostentatious way that the house of VanDerveer commends itself to you and to me at this time as an institution of worth to us and deserving of the good will of those who live and do business here.

The VanDerveer Real Estate & Insurance Company was organized some years ago by the late Joseph P. VanDerveer and his son, John M. VanDerveer, the present owner and manager of the business. The two continued in the business together until the death of the father, whereupon the son took up the operation of the business, and is going forward in a way that portrays rare insurance-business ability, capacity for public service, and willingness to assist his fellowman.

Here we are reminded of one of the recent sayings of "Hambone," as follows: "It is all right for a man to follow in the footprints of the other fellow, provided he is able to make footprints of his own after the other fellow stops."

This bit of philosophy has a unique application to the purpose of this little story of John VanDerveer of today. His daddy went ahead of him and made many footprints. As John came along close behind him he found that those footprints made the way much easier for his less experienced feet. That was natural, just as it is the case with all boys who are blessed with a daddy to blaze the way for them into the business world. But by and by the father's footprints stopped, and then it was up to John to prove to the folks here that he was able to make footprints of his own—footprints that would be worthy of him who had gone before.

It must be a great incentive to John now to do his level best to keep up the high standard of business integrity and unselfish public service that was visioned, cut out and patterned by his father. His friends are gratified to see him sit steady in the boat and pull on the oars faithfully.

Of course everybody knows that John VanDerveer sells insurance; but had you ever thought about the value of the institution of which he is the head? His business is to study and learn and know insurance. His pleasure is to impart that knowledge to anyone who might be benefitted by such information.

If you have any kind of a question concerning insurance that you want answered, just take it to his office and let him show you that he is willing and ready and able to assist you. He has the answer right at hand, and you can depend on his information being correct and up-to-date. "Insurance is not a side-line with me; it is my business;" and "I challenge anybody to ask a question about the business dealings of any insurance company in America that I cannot answer from the information in my office," are two of the slogans of Mr. VanDerveer.

It doesn't make any difference what kind of an insurance policy you have or who you bought it from, the office of Mr. VanDerveer with all its equipment, insurance library, information, and experience, stands ready to serve you in any way that will be helpful to you, and that without cost.

It is of no extraordinary interest to us that Mr. VanDerveer sells insurance. Lots of men do that. There are several good men in Clanton who sell insurance; but the selling or buying of insurance is not all there is to the transaction in many instances. And it is noteworthy that Mr. VanDerveer maintains and operates in Clanton an insurance information bureau that is as able and capable of serving the people of Clanton and Chilton County as any office of the kind in the whole country.

Doubtless there is not another town the size of Clanton in the State of Alabama that has an insurance office as thoroughly equipped for service as that of Mr. VanDerveer.

His library contains every book of insurance facts and statistics that is known and recognized as an authority on the subject of insurance. He receives every week and every month the five leading insurance journals of the country, and a careful study of these keeps him posted on the thousands of intricate problems that arise every day in the vast world of the insurance business.

When John goes home at night and deposits his hat on the bureau and hangs his feet upon the fireboard, he forthwith proceeds to read. Seeing him you might think that he is reading the evening newspaper; but not so. He is delving deep into the pages of some insurance magazine and digging out problems that will make him more able to correctly answer the next question that some policy holder may ask him about insurance. He is a capable insurance expert by virtue of hard study and devoted practice of insurance, just as naturally as a man may become a capable lawyer by virtue of hard study and the practice of the profession of law.

While he devotes a good deal of his time to gratuitous service in the way of information and explanation of insurance problems, Mr. VanDerveer finds time to get out and buck the line regularly and keep himself in trim for the artful tactics of really selling insurance; for after all, it may be remembered that insurance men have to make a living, and they make their living by selling insurance.

We consider it a fine record that the VanDerveer Real Estate & Insurance Company has in force to-day considerably more than one million dollars of life insurance in Chilton County which has been sold by the firm.

Mr. VanDerveer is recognized among the insurance fraternity as one of the ablest men in Alabama insurance circles. The old line life insurance company which he represents has him listed as one of the 300 leading producers of insurance business in the entire United States. He is not at the top of the list; but he is not near the bottom either. He was recently offered a position as assistant agency director for one of the leading life insurance companies of the South, at a very flattering salary. He refused the offer, stating as his reason that he did not care to leave Clanton; which expressed in another way, means that he wants to show us folks here that he is yet able to continue making footprints of his own in the insurance business.

And the fact that Mr. VanDerveer declines to leave Clanton reminds us of another good quality in him—that he is an ardent Clanton booster. A few weeks ago when The Union-Banner sought the co-operation of the business people of the town in a booster campaign, the VanDerveer Real Estate & Insurance Company was one of the first to agree to go with us in the little venture designed to draw attention of the public to Clanton as a thriving, promising, progressive place to do business. We appreciate the co-operation of Mr. VanDerveer and the others who joined us.

Next week we will have a story about another business firm in Clanton which is a great asset to the town, and which is also a member of our booster club.

FARM FACTS

Low yields usually follow poor preparation of the land.

Co-operate with your farm and demonstration agents.

Are you sure that your seed are good, and that they are a leading variety?

Have you planned to make more hay this year? Alabama is far short on hay now.

Five or more crops can be raised on the same land in one year by inter-planting. Something should be planted each week.

Put your boys and girls in club work. Your farm and home demonstration agents will help you.

The moon has its place in the universe but it was not created to tell us when to plant. Any moon is a good planting moon.

Pure sunlight, without the interference of window glass, is an essential in making strong-boned animals.

Hens give off more moisture per hundred pounds of live weight than any of the farm animals. It is essential that the moist air be carried off if the house is to stay dry. Have plenty of fresh air, but no drafts.

Stop Night Coughing This Simple Way

People who have persistent, annoying coughing spells at night, and who through loss of valuable sleep are weakening their systems and laying themselves open to dangerous infections, can stop their distressing trouble promptly by a very simple treatment. Hundreds who have hardly been able to rest at all for coughing, have gotten their full night's sleep the very first time they tried it.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is that you usually sleep as soundly as a babe the very first night, and the entire cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription is highly recommended for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's coughs and spasmodic croup—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. It is on sale at all good druggists. Ask for

MELLON TO RESIGN IF HE LOSES NEXT TAX SLASH BATTLE

In politics there apparently is no such thing as a second honeymoon.

Ordinarily, when a president takes office the "enemy" agrees to a sort of armistice and everybody is happy while the "lune de miel," as the French call it, shines in the sky. Mr. Coolidge had his presidential honeymoon in the days of sadness following Mr. Harding's death in 1923. He has started his first term in his own right beset by troubles on many sides.

The senate grabbed its first opportunity in a brief two-week extra session to play as much havoc as possible. Mr. Coolidge also handed down his decision in the famous Tacna-Arica controversy and, as a result, the Peruvians today are heaping maledictions upon his head and upon the heads of all North Americans.

Governmental problems pile high on every hand but Coolidge is determined to take a breathing spell—honeymoon or no honeymoon. He feels that the country wants a surcease of government.

"More business in government and less government in business" is a holdover from the Harding administration.

The great problem to which the president wants to devote himself during the next six or eight months is taxation. He will study the subject with Sec. Mellon, of the treasury. Mellon is once more going to try to impress, if not impose his tax views upon congress. He would like to see a Mellon tax law on the statute books. That is why he is staying on at the hard task of the treasury at a time when a man of his multi-millions ordinarily would be spending his winters on the Riviera and his summers in cool idleness.

If Mellon fails at the coming session, it is more than likely that he will promptly retire from the cabinet.

The situation which has developed in the senate makes Mellon's chance of success seem doubtful. The same men who wrecked his tax plan a year ago are still strong in the senate and, while a substantial reduction at the next session is a forgone conclusion, the reductions apparently will be made along the lines of the present law, framed by the democrats with the aid of the insurgent republicans. This combination still rules the senate and it will take far more tact and diplomacy and leadership than show in the last tax fight to bring the senate to a strictly administration point of view—to the philosophy that smaller taxes for the very rich men is the best way of sending money back to industry and bringing greater prosperity.—Montgomery Advertiser.

MANY FARM HOMES BEING IMPROVED

The farm home improvement movement which was launched in a systematic way throughout Alabama at a State-wide meeting in Auburn early in 1925 is already bearing fruit. Reports received by Miss Agnes Ellen Harris, State home demonstration agent, from county agents show that there is wide-spread interest in home improvement; and that definite results have been obtained already in the majority of counties.

Carrying out the "Standard Farm Home" idea as defined at the Auburn meeting, new farm homes are being built and equipped according to these specifications. Waterworks and electric lights are leading projects. Houses are being arranged and equipped for comfort and convenience.

In one month, Mrs. Victoria C. Lingo, home demonstration agent for Barbour county, received 9 requests for assistance in home improvement work.

All of the home demonstration club women of Coosa are now standardizing their homes by painting, re-arranging kitchens, and installing water systems, according to Miss Gladys McCain, home demonstration agent.

A better kitchen contest has been launched among the club women and an "Own your Own Room" contest among the club girls of Escambia. The same contest is being conducted by the club girls of Conecuh County.

Six women's clubs in Colbert County are studying home improvement. Already they have had an exchange of shrubs for landscaping and have started a better kitchen contest.

With the co-operation of the county agents, the Dale County Farm Bureau plans to standardize 50 farm homes this year. Club girls of Barbour, Montgomery, Macon, and Dallas Counties are making home improvement a leading project for the year.

Col. J. O. Middleton returned last Saturday from Trenton, N. J., where he had been attending court for a week. While in the East, Mr. Middleton visited New York and Washington. The Colonel reports that he had a very enjoyable trip.

Why Is It—

REV. P. G. CARTER IN FAYETTEVILLE, TENN.

Editor Union-Banner;

Doubtless you heard some time ago that I had left Geneva, Ala., and am now situated or located at Fayetteville, Tenn. The Geneva people gave me a raw deal in the end, but it has worked out for our good here, as we have a good church which, though not large in numbers, is very fine in spirit and are very congenial and kind to us. Fayetteville is a place of about 4,000, and is modern in every respect, with paved streets and sidewalks, a splendid water system, and other features that help to make it a very desirable place in which to live. In addition to the full-time work here, I am pastor of a country church three and a half miles from the city, where I preach two Sunday afternoons in each month. This is not a large church, but a very loyal one. The two churches together give me a much better salary than I have ever received before, and of course, a much wider range of work. We like the work here very much, and personally, it is agreeing with me splendidly. I am now enjoying the best health of my life, due somewhat, doubtless, to the operation for appendicitis that I had in Clanton.

Since coming here, I have failed to receive your interesting paper, and therefore, am not informed as to what is going on down there. If it is agreeable to you, I would like to receive it here, if you will please change the address from Geneva, to Fayetteville, Tenn., which is quite sufficient. I presume Clanton is still growing, and The Union-Banner doing a great business. Please remember me to all my friends, and let them know that I am getting along nicely and doing well. With very best wishes, I remain,

Yours very truly,
P. G. CARTER.

WANT BOYS AT TRAINING CAMP

Last summer I attended the Citizen's Military Camp at Anniston. While there, the officers appointed a captain from each county in the state to arouse interest in the summer camp in his home county.

The training at these camps is free; railroad transportation is paid by the government; you are under no more obligation to enter the service at any time in the future than you would be without the training; it offers you a month's vacation at the government's expense. You are not only given military training, but are taught how to take care of your health. The arousing of good citizenship and many other things of value come in the course. Anyone in high school should not miss at least one of these camps. If you go to the first, you will not wait to be asked to attend the others.

If there are any boys in Chilton County who desire further information in regard to the Citizen's Military Training Camp, I will be glad to give this information, if I can, and also will furnish application blanks.

Fifteen years ago cigarettes were common only among little runty lads who wanted to make themselves "feel big" by getting behind the barn and smoking a few puffs. Now, would you believe it, there are over seventy billion (70,000,000,000) "store bought" cigarettes smoked in the United States yearly, not counting the roll-your-own kind, made from Duke's Mixture, Bull Durham and Prince Albert. If one cigarette is equal to one "coffin tack," seventy billion cigarettes will be equivalent to quite a few pine boxes.

LETTER FROM CHINA

Shanghai, China, Jan. 24, 1925.

Dear Friend;

This is Chinese New Year with its clanging cymbals, beating drums, flying flags, flaming banners and bing-banging fire-crackers. The ground is covered in many places with red fragments until it looks like red snow. The many-hued cloth dragons are about the streets carried by men concealed within. They writhe and twist along and even climb poles to second story verandas to devour out-hanging vegetables in which are hidden money. While they go through these gyrations thousands on thounands of fire-crackers are exploded around them and gongs and drums add to the feafening din, the dragons squirming and twisting to the music.

This is the first sabbath the Chinese have had since last New Year. Every store is closed. No business is done and the people are out in their "best bib and tucker." My, how gorgeous some of them are! They were up all night last night, cleaning house, cleaning themselves paying and collecting debts, buying cakes, candy, food, etc. to last for several days when nothing can be purchased. Lots of people go worshiping idols, burning incense, and candles. Temples are crowded, and strange as it may seem, gambling is on in thousands of homes. One would suppose that on a day when so much worshiping is done people would try to be good; but it's not so. Gambling, which is against the law, is winked at now and is not interfered with during New Year's holidays. Chinese think if they are lucky at gambling now they will be prosperous all year. They worship the gods and gamble almost hand in hand. All gods come in for worship just now; but the one worshiped most zealously is the god of wealth. Chinese thoughts and words seem to be of him, eating things symbolic of wealth, writing sentences on red paper on their front doors suggestive of wealth and hinting to the spirits their desire for wealth. When meeting on New Year's morning they say, "Kong-she, fah-dzai," Happy greetings, abounding wealth, as we say, "Merry Christmas." Indeed New Year is much to them as Chrisstmas is to us and as birthdays are to us. New Year is considered everyone's birthday in China. But their desire for riches is selfish and there is not that whole-souled loving giving as with us at Christmas, though there is some giving. They know not God and His great Christmas Gifts, so it is not surprising that they do not know the blessed Christmas spirit that makes Christmas time so unselfishly happy in America.

I enclose a Chinese god-of-wealth. He sits on a great ingot of gold for a throne, "Foh"—happiness—is above him and around him are his servants who carry all kind of precious things for those who please him. In front of the god is a great pot of jewels. Back of him on one side is the great Gold Mountain and on the other Silver Hill on which is the money-tree. If Wu-te is pleased with one and allows him to shake the tree, down will come abundance of money.. "He is a wonderful god indeed. But judging from the number of poor people in China, he is not "pleased" with a lot of people. I tell the Chinese that the real God of Wealth is our God and Savior Jesus who says the silver and gold are His and the cattle on a thousand hills, and that He promises to supply ALL our needs according to His riches in glory. We have a blessed Savior, who, tho He does not always give us gold and silver and diamonds as we'd like, does satisfy the inmost longings of our souls, and after a few years, He gives us a home with Him in His "Many mansions." He is so very precious! Last Sunday thirty three of our boys and girls in Sunday School took Him as their Savior and I am so glad. Christmas seasons was a joy time indeed. Not only were the Sunday Schools blessed; but in our Street Chapel, too, a number of heathen decided to take Christ to be their Savior. Be glad with us and them. Pray for China.

Yours gratefully in Christ's glad service,

(Rev.) H. G. Hallock.

WHAT MAKES 'EM SPEED?

(From Collier's Weekly)

Why is it that nearly every person who drives a car gets in a hurry just as soon as that person puts his or her hand on the wheel? I have watched people walking in and out of stores, churches, theaters, schools and even passenger stations in a leisurely sort of way, but the very moment one of these slow-and-easy persons puts his or her hand on the steering wheel of a car—then it's good-bye! Where they are going or how long they have to stay is not the question—it's "go!"

Young or old, rich or poor, white or black, married or single—it's all the same, Packard or Star, Buick or Ford—they are all in a hurry.

Not half an hour ago, a farmer old enough to have grandchildren came near running over me. He was driving a rusty-looking, worn-out Ford, and he passed down Front street, going helter-skelter, hell-to-split, just as the congregation was leaving the church. Said he was going "nowhere in particular—just going."

To-morrow, if that old rascal comes to town, he will be driving a pair of scrawny mules hitched to an old Nissen wagon made in 1870, and if the mules make five miles an hour this "speedster" will be perfectly satisfied. Why is it?

W. G. COX, Burlington, N. C.

Employees in the Ford organization were paid more than a quarter of a billion dollars in wages and salaries during 1924, according to payroll totals made public last week at the offices of the Ford Motor Company.

The largest payrolls were at the Highland Park and River Rouge plants of the company in Detroit, the total for the two plants alone reaching the enormous figure of $172,820,145.66 for the last year.

At other plants and at branches throughout the country the company during the last year paid employees a total of $72,532,476.53. The figures given out also include wages and salaries paid at the Lincoln Motor Company, a division of the Ford Motor Company, the C. E. Johansson Co. Inc., and the Fordson Coal Company, which totaled $8,648,906.18, bringing the grand total of the organization up to $253,001,528.37.

SPRING

She told him to
Wipe the dishes.
Nothing doing.
She begged him to
Fix the towel rack.
Not a move.
She asked him to please
Carry out the ashes.
He only sighed.
AND then she said:
"John, your
Radishes are Coming up
In the garden!"
WOW! One jump and he was
Out of the chair. Grabbing
Neither hat nor coat
He dashed madly from the House. He ran around in Circles calling the Neighbors to come and look.
And he got a rule. And Measured how high his pets
Had grown.
And he hoed.
And he raked.
And he weeded.
And he sprinkled.
And he wouldn't come
Back in the house
Until darkness overtook him.

OH! MAN!

POOR OR

Clanton's Prosperity

CLANTON CAN BE PROSPEROUS ONLY WHENEVER FOLKS IN THIS COMMUNITY HAVE SET THEIR HEARTS IN THAT DIRECTION AND HAVE CONTRIBUTED THE ENERGY NECESSARY TO BRING THAT CONDITION ABOUT. CLANTON WILL BE PROSPEROUS IN REALITY WHEN EVERY CITIZEN HAS ASSUMED HIS OR HER SHARE OF CIVIC RESPONSIBILITY.

COMMUNITY PROGRESS MEANS GOOD GOVERNMENT, CLEAN MINDS, THE SPIRIT OF SERVICE, ALLEVIATION OF POVERTY, ABSENCE OF UNEMPLOYMENT, INCREASE OF CO-OPERATION AND AVOIDANCE OF WASTE.

AND this progress will not come from any single effort. Every one of us in Clanton must constantly strive for the betterment of the community in every way possible.

LET us have the courage, energy, enterprise and patriotic service to make Clanton an example and inspiration to other communities. LET us make our town more than a mere plot of ground on which we live. Let us work toward what Clanton should be. Then, with all working together, "the ideal community" will inevitably be the comment wherever the name of our town is mentioned.

The following Clanton firms subscribe to the above appeal for civic patriotism:

ROAD CONTRACTS FOR $200,000 LET BY COMMISSION

Contracts for road work aggregating $200,000, in three counties, were awarded by the state highway commission on Thursday.

The projects: Dallas county construction 12.8 miles of gravel road betwwen Selma and Plantersville, contract awarded to W. C. McCoy, of Lafayette $82,478.32.

Baldwin county, gravel surfacing of 25.09 miles of road between Stockton and Little River, awarded to Bennet Bros., of Dothan, for $65,015.

Marengo county, one and nine-tenths miles of cement concrete road from end of federal aid project 21 to Demopolis, contract awarded to S. K. Jones, of Memphis, for $52,962.57.

It is understood that work will begin at once on the projects.

The Farm Bureau Cotton Association will mail checks, early in April, to its members for $2,000,000.00. It will come when farmers need it for making this crop. Had they received all the money for their cotton crop last fall most of it would have been spent. Co-operative marketing pays.

The business of conducting a great transportation system is not one which can be learned over-night or mastered by men and women who have not had practical experience. There are no "soft berths" in this organization, no useless jobs and no "appointments from the outside".

Every important position—in every department—is held by a man or woman who has been trained to do his or her particular job. Every important position of this and other railroads is held by someone who has risen from the ranks.

Such care in training makes for both safety and efficiency in railroad operations and has made American railroads the most satisfactory transportation systems in all this world.

ALABAMA NEWS

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form.

An interesting decision relating to the authority of county boards of education in the matter of consolidating schools located in separate school districts was handed down by the supreme court in the case of the state ex rel Wright et al versus W. E. Campbell et al; appealed from the Clay circuit court. The law provides that county boards may consolidate schools located in separate school districts only with the consent of the district trustees. In the case in question, the Mt Olive school district in Clay County was consolidated with another district school, the consent of the Mt. Olive trustees being given on condition that the school house be located at a site agreed upon, however, the county board decided to locate the school at a different site from that agreed upon. Patrons of the Mt. Olive school applied to Clay Circuit Court for mandamus to compel the county board to maintain a school in the Mt. Olive district and to declare void its order providing for the consolidation. The lower court ruled in favor of the county board, but this decision was reversed by the supreme court and a decree rendered granting the writ of mandamus. The supreme court held that the board in making the consolidation was bound by the condition upon which the trustees gave their consent and that the condition being repudiated the consolidation failed.

Dr. Hawkins D. Westmoreland, of Huntsville, who died several weeks ago of sleeping sickness, left an estate worth approximately a quarter of a million dollars, according to his will which has been filed for probate in the Madison County Probate Court. The estate consists of valuable farm lands in Limestone and Madison counties, bank stock and valuable property in Huntsville. The Birmingham Trust and Savings Company is nominated executor of the will and trustee of the estate and after a few individual bequests are made, the residue of the estate is to go to the testator's daughter, Maria, and son, Hawkins D. Jr., in equal division, stipulated amounts to be paid them monthly for their support at present and the principal to be given them later. There is a special bequest of $1,000 for the establishment of an obstetrical ward in the Huntsville hospital.

A suit brought by John Richmond seeking to recover $9,000 on a war insurance policy issued to his step-son, Charles Root, who died while in service, was dismissed by Judge W. I. Grubb in federal court at Birmingham. In his ruling the jurist upheld a demurrer filed by Assistant Prosecutor Jim Smith, in which it was outlined that not Richmond, but two aunts in North Dakota, being next kin, should be the beneficiaries of Root's policy.

Bill Green, of Selma; Clarks Staggers, of Benton, and Alton Edwards, of Old Town, are planning to spend six months on a cotton boat scheduled to sail from Mobile March 26. They will touch at Liverpool and also London and will also go to Antwerp on the North Sea. They will spend the early summer in this way.

Arthur Cushion, Chester Thompson, Dwight Myrick, Leonard Cushion and Herschel Pollock were each fined $100 and sentenced to 90 days at hard labor, following their pleas of guilty to the charge of being members of the "toombstone gang" which terrorized North Gadsden recently. They all denied they used dynamite to warn residents to leave the community. They admitted they placed toombstones at the front door steps of several houses, but said they did it for fun. Mayor Wier suspended the sentence pending good conduct, because the boys are only 16 and 17 years old.

Remodeling of the Montgomery branch of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, construction of an annex and cable yard and other improvements in the service to cost over $200,000, will start April 1, it was announced by W. A. Steadham, district manager of the Southern Bell Company.

More than a million dollars is to be spent on Jefferson County highways this year, it is reported. The money is to come from the seven million dollar bond sale to be made May 4 by the State Highway Commission.

Damage resulting from a fire originating in the Toole Banking Company building in Montgomery is estimated at $30,000.

Gypsy Smith, Jr., is conducting a joint revival meeting at Tuscaloosa. A tabernacle has been erected to seat 2,000.

HOW BANKERS HELP

Seventeen students are securing an education in the Georgia State College of Agriculture through financial aid which the State Bankers Association is giving. In 1923 the Association increased its annual dues so as to contribute toward the education of boys and girls in club work who could not otherwise receive a higher education. This year, therefore, $1,000 was put into a trust fund with the College to be loaned to students who need help. It was placed in what is known as the "Ex-President's Fund," a fund which has been receiving voluntary contributions from the retiring presidents of the Bankers Association since 1915. In amount the fund is now $7,153. Fifty students have been helped prior to this year, making a total of sixty seven.

SINGING AT FRIENDSHIP SUNDAY AFTERNOON GOOD

The singing at Friendship church last Sunday afternoon was exceptionally good and enjoyed by a house full of people. Several from the Walnut Creek class as well as quite a few from Providence and Refuge joined in with the Friendship class, and all together enjoyed two hours of the very best singing. There were also several other visitors and leaders from other communities, who helped nobly in the singing.

The following leaders directed three songs each before recess: T. G. Wyatt, O. R. Robinson, Jesse C. Jones, and W. M. Devaughn. After a recess of 20 minutes, the following directed: C. H. Robinson, E. L. Powell, C. T. Miller, J. R. Robinson, J. W. Cleckler, and W. H. Robinson. Those serving on the program committee were: R. M. Robinson, Jesse C. Jones and O. L. Devaughn. The closing song was sung by W. H. Robinson, after which the benediction was offered by Rev. M. Lockhart.

There were several other directors present and the committee would have liked to have used all of them, but time would not permit.

The thanks of the Friendship class are extended to all the visiting singers for their help, and they are invited to come back again. The class will meet only once a month—every fourth Sunday afternoon—and all singers have a standing invitation to come out and help in the singing.

COUGHS
Quick Way to Stop Them

Persistent, racking coughing, which by rapidly weakening your entire system lays you open to more dangerous infections, can be checked often with the first dose of that old-time tried and proved remedy—Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. And there's a reason. Doctors say there is nothing like pine-tar to quickly loosen and remove the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing, while the honey both gives a pleasant taste and helps soothe irritation. It is often astonishing how quickly this combination relieves the stubbornest cough.

But be sure you get the original Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey, and no substitute. Dr. Bell's has been known for over a quarter of a century as the best. It is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine-tar, honey and other quick-acting healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in quick relief. Contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, so can be given even to young children—fine for spasmodic croup. If you want the best, a medicine that often relieves the severest cough overnight, make sure you get Dr. Bell's. Only 30c at any good druggist's.

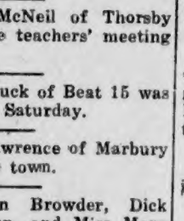
Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says:



"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used "Mother's Friend" and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA 46, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

Rheumatism

"Good-bye old crutch!"

THERE IS positively no longer any excuse for suffering the agonies of rheumatism! Especially in the autumn of your life, when the vital organs weaken, impurities multiply and linger in the muscles and joints, as never before. It is now, just now, when you cannot afford to guess. No day returns!

Here is a joyous fact which can mean to you a fond farewell forever to all the miseries, the tortures, the body-twisting pains that you have suffered from the demon of rheumatism. It is a fact that rheumatism means "blood poverty." It is a fact with the increase of red-cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S.S.S. will help Nature build these red-blood-cells! S.S.S. is one of the most powerful blood cleansers in existence. Its results in thousands of rheumatic cases have been nothing short of amazing! The medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable. This is very important to remember! What can be more inspiring, more wonderful than to see the shackles of pain released from your struggling body, swellings, lingering pains, stiffness of joints and muscles all disappear; your stomach made strong; your face pink with the old sweetheart glow, your blood enriched and your cheeks more plump as they used to be. You can do it! Take S.S.S., the great destroyer of rheumatic impurities.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

A remarkable incident happened at the home of C. E. Lucas on last Thursday night. As night approached the sky looked stormy and Mrs. Lucas, like a good housewife, set out tubs to catch rain water that might fall on the roof of the house. Friday morning one of the tubs had an occupant, in the form of a live catfish, fully six inches long. During the two days the fish lived many Thorsby people saw it. It is a problem where it came from. Our readers will remember that Thursday was the day of the dreadful tornado that swept through southern Illinois and Indiana, and it may be that the fish was scooped up from some stream or small lake and carried by the wind to be dropped from the rain clouds in Alabama. Many incidents are on record where small fish and frogs have come down in showers.

The fine weather of the past week has greatly advanced the prospect of an earlier harvest than usual, for strawberries in this section. The fields are now white with blooms, and in many there are half-grown berries.

Reno S. Villadsen, who for the past year has been assistant chief engineer, employed by Alabama State Highway Commission, on the Birmingham-Montgomery highway, has resigned to accept a position as chief engineer for the Montevallo Coal Mining Company, with headquarters at Aldrich, Ala. Mr. Villadsen is well known among mining operators of the state as an expert in mining engineering, and has frequently received offers to return to this line of work. He says this one is so important he cannot afford to turn it down.

Although his work is located about twenty miles from Thorsby, he will continue to reside here, going and coming daily by automobile.

The eight hand piano recital given last Saturday night at Bates Hall by the sight reading piano pupils of Miss Alithea Parker, was a delighful exposition of technical training, and a surprise to many, that so many of our young lady high school students are capable of attaining such proficiency in rendering difficult classical music, within one or even two years from the time they began taking lessons.

Mrs. Ollie Tagg entertained at a luncheon last Friday afternoon. Among those present were Mesdames Hattie M. Gerald, E. F. Mead, Clyde Mead Odell, D. M. Paxson, C. R. Foss, J. M. Bosworth, M. J. Soberg, J. O. Johnson, C. E. Lucas and S. E. Norton. The table and rooms were nicely decorated and the several courses were neatly prepared and daintily served.

An interesting item which was omitted from our last week's notes was Arbor Day exercises at Thorsby Institute, which included the planting of a fine pecan tree on the campus, with appropriate ceremonies; the tree was a gift to Thorsby Institute by Mrs. Anna. Villadsen.

Mrs. L. E. Diefenderfer and son Milton were week end visitors in Birmingham.

Walter Morgan and family of Birmingham, were visitors at the home of Mrs. Morgan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Soberg, in Thorsby last Sunday.

Sylvester and Clyde Robinson, former Thorsby boys now of Birmingham were visitors here Sunday.

Young People's Christian Life Conference.

Thorsby is one of three places in the southeast where these Christian Life Conferences are being held, Atlanta, Ga., and Star, N. C., being the other two places. In each of these such conferences were held about a year ago.

Their aim is the inspiration of the young people for Christian service, and their equipment for that type of work. A wonderful program has been worked out under the direction of Dr. John K. Browne, veteran missionary in Turkey, now over 80 years old; a glorious character with a message that grips everyone.

Miss Pearson is a field worker representing the Congregational Sunday School Extension Society in the southeast. Her special mission is young people's work. It is a pleasure to see her in action.

Rev. Neil McQuarrie and Rev. J. F. Blackburn will both share with Miss Pearson in the leadership of the conference.

Also, Miss Helen Wilcox and Miss Catherine Coley, extension workers with the children and young people of Georgia and Alabama will help.

This Christian Life Conference is for the young people, and all such in Thorsby and vicinity are invited to join with others who come from other places. At Star, N. C., and Atlanta, young people came for a day by automobiles, from 70 and 80 miles distant. All of the speakers are worth hearing. Don't miss it!

Miss Allie Bagwell, a former student at Thorsby Institute and now at Montevallo college for girls, was a week-end visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Butler.

The Misses Nettie Lou Graham, of Clanton, and Mamie Walker, of Collins Chapel, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Mead last Saturday.

Mr. Earl Mead of Birmingham was a Monday visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Mead, in Thorsby.

Miss Olive Pearson of New York spent Tuesday in Thorsby, attending to details of preparation for the Christian Life Conference which begins at Thorsby Congregational church Friday night and continuing through Saturday and Sunday, March 27-28-29. Miss Pearson will be remembered by all who met her at a similar conference held here about a year ago.

Mesdames W. J. Billingsley and D. M. Paxson were visitors to Clanton last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Petersen and baby were visitors at the home of Mr. Petersen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Petersen, Sunday, returning on the afternoon train to their home in Oxmoor.

The Y. W. A. met on Tuesday afternoon with Miss Lena Franklin, at her home on Jones street. Ten members met with their counselor, Mrs. E. R. Piper. A very interesting program was held on Evangelism. The Thorsby Y. W. A. was reorganized in November with ten charter members, and at present there are 19 live workers. These girls are cooperating with their able leader, Mrs. Piper, and are accomplishing what they set out to do. We hope in the near future to increase our roll.

MARS HILL

On last Saturday morning Luther Leach and brother, Joel were rabbit hunting. Joel, 15 years of age, was standing on a log over a creek, when he dropped his gun and striking it on the log, shot himself through the stomach, falling off the log into the creek. His brother, seeing him fall, ran to him and helped him out of the water, but no one being near to help him carry the youth, he was forced to run about a mile to tell the news to the folks at home. On returning they found him up on his knees, with his dog by his side. He was placed on sheets and carried home, and a doctor called, who gave little hope of his recovery. He lived until 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

He was laid to rest Sunday afternoon, at Mars Hill cemetery, the funeral being conducted by Rev. J. N. Scott.

He leaves a father, mother, three brothers and two sisters to mourn his loss. His last request was that the hymn, "At The Cross," be sung at his funeral. He will be missed by many, and most especially by his schoolmates. The sympathy of the entire community is extended the bereaved family.

C. W. SCOTT.

Report Grand Jury For Chilton County

59 Cases Examined, 247 Witnesses Questioned, 43 True Bills Returned.

State of Alabama, Chilton County.
To the Honorable George F. Smoot, Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit of the State of Alabama:

We, the Grand Jury empaneled at this the January Term of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, beg leave to make this report at this time:

We have examined 59 cases, and 247 witnesses, and have returned 43 True Bills.

We have examined the bonds of the County Officials, and find the same with sufficient sureties to amply protect the County.

We have examined the books of the County Superintendent of Education, and find them neatly and correctly kept.

We hereto attach a report of the County Treasury, and mark it Exhibit "A."

We find the fee book of the Probate Judge has been kept as provided by law. We have examined the Sheriff's Feed Book and find it neatly and correctly kept, so far as we were able to ascertain, and we have examined the Poor House of our County, and find that the County has made a number of improvements; there has been one new house constructed since the meeting of the last Grand Jury, and others improved, the conditions here appear to us to be comfortable for the inmates, who are being taken care of by the County; there were 6 male inmates and 8 female inmates, and there was 1 negro inmate, who informed the committee from the Grand Jury that they were being well cared for, and had plenty of substantial food and clothing. We are informed by a number of the people of our County, and we heartily endorse, the idea of building a Home for the Poor of our County near Clanton; while the Poor House as it is located at present is about 3 1-2 miles from Clanton, we feel that the work it is being done under the present conditions of our County Treasury.

We find that the Jail of our County is in a neat and splendid condition. The Sheriff, from what he has told us and from information we have received from others, is doing his best to safeguard the keeping of the prisoners of the County. The Sheriff informs us that some weeks ago three of the prisoners came very near making their escape, by drilling a hole into the ceiling, constructed of concrete, with steel bars inlaid in the concrete of the ceiling. He apprehended these prisoners just before they were ready to make their escape; the Grand Jury desires to congratulate the Sheriff in the matter, especially in view of the fact that he has no guard at the Jail to assist him, and to protect the County from such escapes.

We find the Court House in good condition, except some of the moulding in the Courtroom is falling, and recommend to the proper authorities that this be repaired, if it is possible to do so.

We have no complaint to the Grand Jury regarding our public roads, the fact is that the roads are in better condition than they have ever been before.

The Sheriff informs the Grand Jury that law violation in our County is on the decline. It is his belief from all reports that whiskey manufacture in the county is by far less than it was a year ago; there is some whiskey being made in Stumps Hill community, and in the Sardis community, and in the Dry Valley community, and the Sheriff asked the Grand Jury in their report to call upon the good people of those communities to assist him in every way possible to stamp it out.

We thank your Honor for his clear and impressive charge. It has been an aid to us in our deliberations, and we want to thank our Solicitor for his assistance in the performance of our duties; he has aided and guided us in our deliberations in a way very satisfactory to us.

We want to express our appreciation of the efficient service of the Sheriff and his Deputies, and we want to report further that the people of the County should be congratulated upon the efficient and earnest work of our Sheriff, and we sincerely hope that the good people of the County will stand by him, give him assistance and encouragement that we may have a cleaner and better County, and a more law-abiding citizenship.

We thank the Bailiff for his prompt attention in his duties.

Having completed our duties, we await the further orders of the Court.

Dated this the 26th day of March, 1925.

J. L. MESSER, Foreman.

JUDGE SMOOT DECIDES AGAINT BAKER AND CONWAY

The decision of Circuit Judge Smoot in the Baker-Conway case involving the question of which one is entitled to serve as a member of the county board of education of Chilton county was entered on the record of the court Tuesday afternoon. The order of Judge Smoot reads, "Trial and judgment of ouster against C. C. Conway and denial of Wm. R. Baker's right to hold office."

The net result brings the situation to where there is not a qualified successor to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of L. A. Calloway, the selection of the County board and the election of the people both being nullified by the court order above quoted.

The order of the court does not affect the right of J. M. Smith to serve as a member of the County Board of Education, to which place he was elected last November.

Those who are familiar with the law state that the place which was being contested between Conway and Baker will be filled by appointment of the State Superintendant of Education.

The good farmer has planned sufficient feed crops for his livestock for this year and until harvest in 1926.

CHILTON HIGH TRIMS WETUMPKA AGGIES

In a slow game, marred by many errors and much squabbling, the Chilton High baseball team came from behind in the latter minutes of the game last Friday, in their tilt with the Wetumpka Aggies, and won 6to 3. The Aggies scored their three markers in the first inning and could not put another across, although they threatened in the eighth.

The Aggies showed a fair defense, and better offense. Harris pitched a good game for Wetumpka, allowing only five clean blows, among them a circuit swat in the sixth by Hayes, and a three-sacker by Vann in the fourth frame.

Vann pitched well for Chilton for seven innings, weakening in the eighth and was replaced by Calloway. Calloway couldn't find the platter and filled the bases as quickly as possible and with baseball skies looking dark for Chilton and dark fast coming, Jack Hayes took the mound. This inning was a pure battle of wits, in which Hayes shone brilliantly, as he struck out two batsmen and outwitted the third to retire the side.

The whole Chilton team played a fair game but showed poorer form than when playing Lanier.

Out of four contests entered this season, Chilton has come out winner in three, tying the third of a three-game series with Sidney Lanier High.

Chilton has a good fast team and should make a good showing this spring. They go down to Greenville next Friday and Saturday to play two games with Butler High.

WIFE DOING GOOD WORK

"I have been bad off with stomach and liver trouble and bloating for many years. No doctors or medicine helped me. On the advice of my druggist, I bought a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and I don't want to miss a single dose. It has given me more benefit than all the medicine I have ever taken. I feel I am doing good to recommend it to others." REVIVAL AT THE METHODST CHURCH IN CLANTON

The date set for the Methodist revival is April 5-19, inclusive. Dr. J. M. Glenn, Elder of Dublin District, Ga., will have charge of the services.

Dr. Glenn is in his prime. He has made revival meetings a specialty. He has had charge of the Indian Springs camp meetings for years. He has conducted some of the most outstanding tent meetings in the state of Georgia and Alabama. He runs at high tension, but is sane and keeps himself well poised at all times. He has run meetings in a number of our leading churches in our own conference. He was chosen as the regular speaker for the Epworth League Conference held in Montgomery last year. We are praying and expecting to turn Clanton up side down for God during this meeting. "Come and we will do thee good."

Miss Ruth Harris will be the choir director. The following is what Dr. Glenn has to say of her work:

"She is one of the very best soloists in all the country, and is a splendid leader. She was a teacher of music in the Western University for several years and gave it up to enter the evangelistic field as a singer. I heard her at Indian Springs camp meeting two years ago where she sang the Gospel message to thousands of people to their delight."

We desire the cooperation of all the churches and cordially invite the community at large to worship with us.

Miss Harris will be with us on Sunday, the fifth. Dr. Glenn will join us the sixth.

SINCE WHEN, BROTHER?

Says the esteemed Franklin County Times of Russellville:

The time has passed in Alabama when politics can be made overnight in a room at the Exchange or Tutwiler Hotels, or the Battle House in Mobile. The rural voters are thinking and reading for themselves. They are not going to listen to the lobby gossipers, or the "leaders" who chat for a few minutes in a hotel room and throw their support to any certain candidate.

If the transition has taken place, we would suggest that it has done so since the session of 1923. The only difference between the present and the past is the fact that "the rural voters" hop in their flivvers after supper and attend these "over-night" sessions at the Exchange hotel and the lobbyists have a harder time keeping their tracks covered up.

Some Interesting Facts About The First Bank That Was Ever Estalbished In Chilton County

The best and in fact the only true index to the permanent and lasting progress and development of a community is that which is reflected from the books of the banks in such a community. If our banks grow and prosper, and operate their business upon a constant incline in deposits, resources, profits, etc., it is a certain indication that the business life of our community is making proportionate progress.

That Clanton has two such banks doing business here is a source of pride to all of us who are striving to push our town forward in that course of progress.

The subject of our story this week is The Peoples Savings Bank of Clanton, which is the oldest bank in Chilton County, and in fact the first bank that was ever established in the county.

This bank opened for business on December 7, 1901. The original officers were W. E. Holloway of Montgomery, president; Dr. E A. Matthews cashier. Dr. Matthews resigned as cashier in 1902, and W. T. Callen was elected as his successor. Mr. Callen served as cashier until the year 1909, when he was succeeded in that position by Mr. Jno. A. Thomas, who had been assistant cashier since the organization of the bank. Mr. Callen was then elected vice-president.

Mr. Holloway resigned the position of president in 1912, and W. T. Callen was elected to succeed him. Mr. Callen remained as active head of the bank until his death in March, 1922.

Frank J. Callen became assistant cashier of the bank in 1914, and upon the death of his father in 1922, he was elected to the presidency, which position he yet holds.

J. B. Downs, a business man of wide prominence in this county, served as vice-president from 1920 to 1923. Dr. N. S. Johnson has served as vice-president since 1923.

The men who have been connected with The Peoples Savings Bank in the various capacities since its organization are among the prominent names on the roster of Clanton's most worthy citizens and successful business men.

The Peoples Savings Bank, being the first institution of its kind ever established in this county, stands therefore as the one which "broke the ice" or "blazed the trail" through a time when banks were not known and recognized as they are today. But she was guided by sound business judgment, nourished upon safe practices, and it is not at all strange that we are able to say that we have with us today, in a hale and healthy condition, the first bank that was ever known to the people of this town and county.

Many of the men who guided the institution through the experimental stage of its first years are gone from among us, but their mark is left as an everlasting index to the sound principles which guided them.

The original price of stock in this bank was $30 per share. Stockholders have recently refused offers of $200 per share for their holdings. Other evidences of the substantial progress of this institution are found in these facts: The stockholders have never been assessed; they have received dividends every year since 1902. The capital, surplus and undivided profits as shown by statement of condition of the bank on December 31, 1924, amounted to the sum of $87,755.77.

The officers of this bank take great pride in the fact that it is one of the honor roll banks of the United States, which means that it is one of the comparatively few banking houses in the country that possesses surplus and profits in excess of the amount of its capital stock. This distinction is enjoyed by only one out of every ten banks in the United States.

During the twenty-odd years that this bank has served the people of this community, millions of dollars have passed through its channels. During the World War this bank handled several hundred thousand dollars worth of Liberty Bonds on its own account and for its customers and its friends, thus helping Clanton and Chilton County to do its bit in financing the progress of our country in the great struggle for world peace. There have been numerous times in recent years when this bank was a valuable assistance to the county in a financial way.

A number of young men and young women of Clanton have gone out into the world and made good in the banking business, basing their success upon the training received with the Peoples Savings Bank and the good business men who directed its operations.

Mr. H. G. Heflin, present cashier, was elected to the position in 1922. Reedie Taylor became connected with the bank in 1922. He was elected assistant cashier last year. The present Board of Directors consists of Dr. N. S. Johnson, G. C. Harris, W. L. Popwell, H. S. Shaw, Walter Popwell, and F. J. Callen.

Mr. Frank Callen became actively connected with the bank in 1914, and has been in constant service since that time, excepting the period of his enlistment in the U. S. army in 1918.

The young men who are today responsible for the operation of the affairs of the bank are very capable and trustworthy persons. They have come up in a school of experience with teachers who were ranked as our very best citizens and wholly dependable business executives. Under their supervision it is reasonable to suppose that The Peoples Savings Bank has a future of great promsise before it.

Many of our old citizens, now customers of the bank, were among the first to make deposits when the bank opened in 1901. Quite often you can hear one of these "old timers" say "I have done my banking business with this bank for twenty-odd years, and have never lost a penny in dealing with them.

The present management of the bank fully realizes that service is the soul of success, being satisfied with a reasonable profit, and ever aware that the bank must be kept safe, and that money entrusted to them must be guarded with absolute safety. A bank could not hope to attain the record of the P. S. B. with a set of principles any less considerate of the interests of the people and the community which it would serve.

There are sixteen stockholders in the bank, all of whom are citizens of Chilton County, among whom are farmers, merchants, professional men, and in fact, men from all walks of life, and absolutely familitr with and in sympathy with Chilton County, its citizens, and with the best interests of this community at heart.

Its growth has been like that of the oak—steady and sure—builded upon a solid foundation.

The people of Clanton are proud of the record of this bank, which has been one of the cornerstones of Clanton's development from a little cross-roads community to one of the most beautiful and progressive little cities of Alabama.

Next week we will tell you the story of our other bank, The First National, which though much younger than the Peoples Savings Bank, is already recognized as a tower of strength in the business activities of Clanton and Chilton County.

Night Coughing—How to Stop It

Night coughing which, through loss of valuable sleep, often makes you feel utterly worn-out and useless during the day, and by quickly weakening the system lays you open to the most dangerous infections, can now be promptly checked by a very simple treatment. People who have hardly been able to rest on account of coughing spells have found that they can sleep the whole night through undisturbed often after the very first trial.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals the soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which is the real cause of the cough. The result is that you usually sleep as soundly as a babe the very first night, and the cough goes in a very short time.

The prescription contains no opiates or harmful drugs. Excellent for children as well as grown-ups. For coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, sore throat, spasmodic croup, bronchitis, laryngitis and bronchial asthma. At all good druggists. Ask for

RUNNING WATER FOR ALL HOME POSSIBLE

Every farm woman can be relieved of the burden of drawing water from wells or dipping it from springs and carrying it to her house. "Farm Water Works and Sewage Systems," a new bulletin published by the Extension Service of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn, states that a simple water system, consisting in the main of the pitcher pump with sink and necessary pipes, can be installed at a cost of $19 to $24 for materials; and that this system will work wherever a shallow well or cistern is available.

The bulletin, which was written by T. B. Chambers, Extension agricultural engineer, and Prof. M. L. Nichols, contains detailed instructions with illustrations as to how to install water systems from the simple pitcher pump to a complete water system costing hundreds of dollars. It shows how to install sewage systems and emphasizes the importance of proper sewage disposal from a sanitary and health standpoint.

The bulletin was prepared in connection with the "better homes" movement now in progress in Alabama, and is being distributed by the county farm and home demonstration agents.

In another publication Prof. Nichols and Mr. Chambers have estimated that 11 1-2 two-gallon buckets of water are used per day in the average farm home, and that this water is either drawn from a well 30 feet deep or carried 61 feet. This work is estimated to consume one hour of the farm woman's time each day and 46 of her working days each year. In carrying the water she walks100 miles and does work equivalent to unloading 22 cars of coal of 32 tons capacity each.

"FLAPPER GRANDMOTHER" WAS A SPLENDID PLAY

The Parent-Teachers Association is to be congratulated upon the splendid entertainment which they provided for a large audience at the High School auditorium last Thursday night. The occasion was the playing of "The Flapper Grandmother," a lively drama composed of characters personified by local talent of Clanton.

All the characters acquitted themselves well. The leading parts were played by Miss McKinnon, Miss Alma Robinson, Mrs. Hance Alred, Miss Kittrell, Clay Marcus, Orrville Mastin, all of whom deserve special mention.

Relation of the Ku Klux Klan To American Citizenship

This is the first of a series of ten articles which we shall publish at the request of the Ku Klux Klan, dealing with the relation of that organization to American citizenship. We suggest that those who are interested in knowing the attitude of the Klan study these articles carefully. We feel that an organization that adheres to the ideas advanced in these discussions is worthy of the good will and support of all good citizens. If you do not agree with us after reading the articles, we shall not fall out with you for your opinions and conclusions.—The Editor.

THE BRAMBLE BUSH GOVERNMENT

The trees went forth on a time to anoint a king over them; and they said unto the olive tree, Reign thou over us.

But the olive tree said unto them, Should I leave my fatness, wherewith by me they honour God and man, and go to be promoted over the trees?

And the trees said unto the fig tree, Come thou, and reign over us.

But the fig tree said unto them, Should I forsake my sweetness, and my good fruit, and go to be promoted over the trees?

Then said the trees unto the vine, Come thou, and reign over us.

And the vine said unto them, Should I leave my wine, which cheereth God and man, and go to be promoted over the trees?

Then said the trees unto the bramble, Come thou, and reign over us.

And the bramble said unto the trees, If in truth ye anoint me king over you, then come and put your trust in my shadow.—Judges 9:8-15.

In Palestine there are few trees of the larger growth. With the exception of the banks of the Jordan, one may travel all the way from Hattin in the north, to Hebron in the south, without finding many trees of conspicuous height. It is true olive trees, fig trees, sometimes mulberry trees, abound, but to no great size. This probably explains why the Hebrew mind in its use of the figurative regarded a large tree as a symbol of a ruler. It suggested to them something majestic, something like King Saul, who stood head and shoulders above his fellows.

In the Scripture above quoted, we have this concept illustrated. The trees, as a people, are conceived as meeting in convention for the purpose of selecting a ruler. Their desire was to choose a man who would be as much superior to them, as was a certain kind of tree to the other trees of the forest. So, it is said, they first chose an olive tree, then a fig tree, then a grape vine, and as a final resort were forced to choose a bramble bush.

Government is organized society. Where two or more people agree to live in community fashion, it is necessary to have certain laws, or rules of conduct, which would vouchsafe liberty to each individual, and prevent transgression thereon by the other party. Let this number be increased by any given multiple acoreding to the number of people in any society and the result will be a government of that size.

The value of government can hardly be overestimated. It has to do with the most costly thing in the world—humn life. The results of the value of government are manifold. They touch self, fellowmen, business, education, religion, the home.

Individual life would not be safe.
Education would be paralyzed.
Religion would wane.
The home would be jeopardized.

Let it be repeated: It is hardly possible to overestimate the value of government. Yet, it must be sadly admitted that Americans, probably more than any other first-rate power on earth, ignore their responsibility to government. Rather let it be said they fail to realize that they are a part of their government or that they have anything to do toward maintaining it. Many of them seem to think their government consists in the person of an old man called Uncle Sam, with long gray beard, a beaver hat and a grotesque suit, the entire costume being generously besprinkled with stars. Many others seem to think the government is an undefinable something that resides at Washington, D. C., and as to taking any part in it, that is a thought that rarely enters their minds. Christ acknowledged the value of government in many of His addresses. He strongly urged the duty of the individual to the government. On the occasion when was propounded the question: "Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar?" He demanded they show him a piece of miney ascertaining the profile stamped thereon and He asked them whose image and whose name they were. Upon being told they were Caesar's, He at once replied: "Render therefore, unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's," and added: "Unto God the things that are God's." Thus, Christ emphasized the duty of the individual citizen toward his government, which was typified by Caesar. He place side by side with that, the duty of the individual to his God. This shows that citizenship and religion go hand in hand.

It is a self-evident truth that he who honors God most, honors his country most. And when taken in this religious way, the converse is also true: He who honors his country most honors God most.

David emphasized the same thing when he poetically exclaimed: "If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning. Let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth, if I remember thee not; if I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joy."—(Psalm 137:5,6.)

Erecting a government may be likened unto the construction of a building. Each building is large or small according to the amount of material that goes into the construction, just as each government may be large or small, acoording to the size of its constituency. The buildings may vary, also, in architectural design, according to the particular form of government in each instance. But, just as a building is composed of separate stones, so a government is composed of individual lives and as lives are spiritual, the sum total of the government is spiritual. As the stability of the structure depends upon the material out of which it is constructed, so is the strength of a government in proportion to the stamina of those lives of which it is formed. A faulty stone will make a building insecure. And an unlawful citizen will make a government proportionately insecure. Multiply these by as many times as the occasion admits of, and it can be readily ascertained just how strong or how weak the building, or government, may be.

Our Amercian government is idealistic. It is largely spiritual, and to be spiritual means to be invisible. Our government is also forward looking. Our government is based on the things that have to do with the soul and the conscience and the heart. It was born in an atmosphere of prayer and after all jocularity concerning our materialism has been indulged in, there is, nevertheless, a deep national and religious conscience manifested by the fact of our placing on our money these words: "In God we Trust."

Some say that we should not change from the position of our forefathers; others say we should. Each may be right or wrong according to what is spiritually meant. In the matter of fundamentals we should never change from that of our fathers. In the modern interpretation of these fundamentals, we should be governed by conditions. If we, as a government, change, let it be like the position of a moving ship with its prow pointed to a definite destination—a change in the course of progress along a logical line to a definite end. Let us not be like the change in position of a ship that is lying idly on the waters, washed hither and thither by each shifting wind and current. Change along a line of growth is not only desirable but absolutely necessary. Aimless change results in no constructive achievement. We are changing as a government and this can be readily seen by taking our bearings. As compared to the government established by our forefathers and that which they had in their spiritual vision, we are losing our identity. Note some of the changes and see whether they are logical as based upon the premise of the Declaration of Independence, or whether they are illogical—out of conformity with the spiritual concept of our fathers.

First, there is Polyglot-ism, in which Europe is being out-Europeanized. Those who favor inter-nationalism and who would make of the United States of America a Polyglot nation and still keep it American, are trying to do the impossible. If in Europe these various nations cannot live in peace under different flags and within definitely prescribed boundary lines how can they be supposed to live together in this country under one flag and one set of rules? Surely if they are in constant conflict with one another as seperate nations, harmony cannot be logically expected when they are herded together in one conglomerate mess. Added to this the advocates of inter-nationalism would force upon us both non-assimilable Asiatics and Africans.

Another change which may be noted is the growth of machine politics. And it is a machine, having no soul. Regardless of the party name under which it operates, it will, when carrying out its selfish ends, regard the individual with no more compunction of conscience than does the driver of a steam roller regard a clod of dirt. Surely, such cold-blooded action was not in the minds of our forefathers when they formed the Declaration of Independence.

Grafting is indulged in on a huge scale and with open disregard for law or decency. It is a well known fact that many of those who are supposed to religiously represent the people, wax fat with their ill-gotten gains through the channel of grafting. Yet it seems the people do little to correct that abuse. If a man steals a million dollars or a railroad, he is often hailed as a captain of industry; if he steals a loaf of bread he is jailed. Where such reaction is found on the part of the people, there exists the need for an awakened conscience. Disregard for law and order, has been growing at an appalling rate. The late President Harding in an address before a men's Bible Class in Washington, said in substance, that every law-breaker sins against his fellow-citizens.

Also, there are insiduous ideas of disruption being made into our body politic. Often-times these are brought in so shyly that they are not suspected until they begin to bear fruit. During the last war (and may it be the last war!) when America had her mind concentrated on the battlefields of Europe, there suddenly pushed up at her feet in the harbor of Baltimore, the submarine DEUTSCHLAND. We did not see that sly visitor working its way across the Atlantic, hiding on the ocean bed, or diving under the cruisers of France and England that were waiting outside Cape Hatteras, nor did we dream of anything like it until we were startled by its actual appearance within our domestic waters. Nor should we think all enemies are material. Those that are to be dreaded are invisible enemies. They come to this country with frightful rapidity in the form of philosphies, ideas, suggestions, and the like. We are being fed on them in our food. Our national body is having this poison injected into it. The minds of our children are being surreptitiously impressed with these enemy ideas. Looking upon these changes in birds-eye view we cannot escape the conviction that we are changing, but changing in the wrong direction. If not checked, these conditions will result in our national un-doing. They will cause us to cease being American.

At this point the necessity for the rise of the Ku Klux Klan may be seen. The Klan is a protest of America against the injection of non-American elements into our government to our hurt. Since the Klan movement is a protest, Klansmen are, therefore, Protest-ants. Since our government is one that sprang from Anglo-Saxon and Nordic races we are, therefore, as Klansmen, Anglo-Saxon Protest-ants. And since every signer of the Declaration of Independence was a member of the White race and since it is the ambition of the Ku Klux Klan to hold this government true to the fundamentals of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, therefore, Klansmen are of necessity, White, Anglo-Saxon Protest-ants.

Folks — Meet the Man who Wrote "Sweet Adeline"

REMEMBER back, fifteen or twenty years ago, on a warm summer's evening, the "gang" used to sit out in front of the house and wear out the words and the tunes of "Sweet ADD-EL-INE MY AD-EL-INE," until far into the night? And how, at many a party since then, dry or wet, that song has been revived again and again?

Few of you, perhaps, ever knew who the author was. He is Dick Gerard, a New York City postal employee—shown at the piano in the photo above. It seems strange that, although about ten million copies of the song have been sold in the last twenty years, they have netted the author only $3,000 in royalties. Sales during the first two years the song was on the market brought Gerard a mere $1,000.

Alabama farmers will be short on hay again next year unless they plant a larger crop than is now expected. As a general rule each farmer should increase his "intentions to plant" hay at least 50 per cent.

A trip into the country in any direction from Clanton will reveal the fact that our farmers have been on the job during the last few days preparing their land for the planting of crops.

Dr. Gwaltney, speaking at the Baptist church in Clanton last Sunday night, said that the world is growing better. It is true that there are lots of good people in the world to-day, and we believe will be as long as time lasts, but it seems to us that it takes a person very much bent toward optimism to view all the crime and immorality of the twentieth century and say that the world is growing better. However, we hope that Dr. Gwaltney is right.

The workmen for the city are getting material ready to begin the sidewalk paving recently authorized by ordinance on Third Avenue between Eighth and Tenth Streets. The city officials have done a great work toward improving the city by the building of sidewalks. The plan upon which they are doing the work is a great saving to the property owners. A few years ago there was a private contractor here who put down sidewalks at prices ranging from a dollar a foot upward as high as he could go. The city plan as now pursued runs about 75 cents a foot, and also provides a much more desirable pavement.

The Good Book tells us that Christ drove the money changers from the temple beacuse they were making of His house a place of merchandise. What does our Maker think of us now when we make a day of merchandise out of His day? Fifteen thousand people paid their money last Sunday to see a ball game in Montgomery, a goodly number of whom neglected church work in order to go. We don't believe the government ought to try to force people to observe the Sabbath, but the people ought to recognzie and respect it without being compelled to do so.

When two men reverently raise their right hands and swear before God and the judiciary that they will "tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth," and then take the stand and tell entirely different tales about one and the same incident, what does it mean? It must mean that one or the other of them has maliciously sworn a lie. Yet it is not at all an uncommon thing to see men do such things in the courts of our country. When people get so there is no dependence to be put in them when they are put on their oath, the country is getting in a tough row for stumps.

MRS. MARTHA VINSON

Mrs. Martha A. Vinson, wife of the late John R. Vinson, died at her home in the Bethany community last Sunday night about 10 o'clock. Mrs. Vinson was 73 years of age. The remains were buried at Bethany cemetery Monday.

LITTLE PEN-O-GRAMS

THE WANDERING PIANIST

No, it is not Harry Snodgrass, but the only difference is the name. The person under discussion is Jack Hood from Cincinatti, who has been in Clanton for the past two weeks, and during his short sojourn here has won a wide reputation as a master manipulator of the ivories.

Jack, who is only 22 years old, made his first appearance in Clanton at the Weldon Music House some twelve or fourteen days ago, when he came into that store and very impromptu like told Mr. Beutell that he wanted to peck on the piano a bit. He was shown over to a brand new Starr, and he began at once to introduce himself to the bystanders who had happened along and dropped in. No one knew his name, but everyone took it for granted that it was the original Harry Snodgrass and asked no further questions.

Since coming to Clanton Jack Hood has become acquainted with lots of folks and he has accepted invitations into the most prominent homes of our city to play for them. He has played for a number of social gatherings, as well as for the play at the high school last Thursday night. Everywhere he has appeared he has won the admiration of all who like classical music as well as those who profess to know how to play themselves. He went up to Thorsby one night last week and played for the Wadesonian Theatre. Before coming to Clanton, he played for the radio broadcasting station, WMC, at Memphis, Tenn.

Playing a piano seems ti be natural instinct of Jack's. He says that he has been playing all his life, and strange to say, he has never studied music at all. It is simply natural with him, but he has git it just the same.

Mr. Hood has made Clanton his home for the present, and while here he will be pleased to play for any kind of gathering where his services are wanted, and he can fill the bill anywhere. If you want him to play for you in your home, let him know, or if you want him to play for some social occasion he will be glad to accept an invitation to do so.

WILL THE REGISTRARS MEET THIS SUMMER?

Several people who are qualified to become registered voters in Chilton County are inquiring if the Board of Registrars will be in session during this summer.

Judge Gulledge, chairman of the Board says he is considering the matter, and would be willing to ask the Court of County Commissioners to call the registrars into session, provided it is seen that such a session would serve a useful purpose of convenience to a sufficient number of people who desire to register.

It is also pointed out that a session of the board of registrars this summer would make it more convenient for people to come and register than a session in the winter months.

It seems advisable that the question be studied carefully and the board be called into session this summer if it is determined that the same would be of the best advantage to those who are eligible to become qualified voters.

"PADLOCK" PROVISION DRYING UP COUNTRY

The "padlock" is closing up booze-selling joints with an effectiveness never accomplished in the enforcement of the Prohibition law. Those responsible for the enforcement of the Federal laws are using the "padlock" section of the law more and more, and are obtaining results not previously scored, according to officials of the Prohibition Enforcement Bureau at Washington.

In New York City, the wettest spot in the country, information on more than a thousand cases is before the District Attorney, and will soon be laid before the Federal Court. It will result, it is predicted, in making the metropolis more nearly dry than it has been in its history.

Under the "padlock" provision of the act, a place where the sale of liquor is detected may be locked up for as long as a year, with the result that not only the man who sold the liquor is liable to punishment, but the owner loses the rent. The result is that thousands of landlords who have not heretofore been particular to whom they let their property are either assuring themselves it is to be used for lawful purposes or are demanding bonds from their tenants to protect them in case the property is padlocked.

Under the "padlock" provision, three thousand places have been closed in Chicago, alone, during the last two year.—Fellowship Forum.

PREACHING AT POOR HOUSE LAST SUNDAY

Editor Banner:

I want you to give me a little space in the good old Banner. I noticed in your last issue where you said Uncle Dock Wells would preach at the county home the fifth Sunday. My wife and I decided to go and hear Uncle Dock once more, and we are indeed glad that we went.

Uncle Dock preached a very interesting sermon from a text found in the 9th verse of the 19th chapter of Luke: "And Jesus said unto him, this day is salvation come to this house, for so much as he also is a son of Abraham." I don't think I ever heard a text that was more appropriate for the occasion. There was a large attendance and all seemed to enjoy the services, especially the inmates of the alms house. We also enjoyed some good old time singing.

Uncle Dock said he would preach again there the third Sunday in April at 3 o'clock. Also that there would be singing on that day from 1 o'clock to 3 o'clock in the old time books.

I feel that it is the duty of all citizens to visit the county home and try to help cheer those unfortunates who live there. If Uncle Dock can afford to go there and preach, others of us can surely afford to go and lend our help by our presence.

I want to say that the late improvements at the farm have added much to the convenience and attractiveness of the place. It is kept nice and clean and is beyond what I expected to see.

—G. W. Marcus.

NOTICE TO NON-RESIDENT

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of Omar L. "Chuckle" Column

WHY IS IT—

Mr. Jones, a serious business man
Will walk into his office in
The morning with a frown
On his face—pronounced enough
To "stop a clock."
His employees put their noses to
The grindstone the minute Jones
Appears and they're afraid to Come within ten feet of him.
All day long you'll hear Jones
Roaring out dictation.
Every time he grabs the phone you
Think he's going to take a bite
Out of the mouth-piece.
That disposition stays with him
From about the first of October
Until—er—er—one of these nice

APRIL DAYS

When you'll find that dignified,
Serious-minded prince of Commerce—Mr. Jones—happily parked
Out in the bleachers at the Ball park. Rubbing elbows with
Tony, the bootblack, on one side
And Mike, the window-washer, on
The other. As the game progresses—
Keep your eye on the affable Mr. Jones.
Watch his enthusiasm rise and his Dignity say farewell. Along about the Fifth inning, the score tied, the Bags full and the home club at bat.
Blooey! There goes Mr. Jones!
He starts the fireworks by ripping
Off his collar when somebody singles.
His hat he sails up in the air when
The next batter doubles. And from then on
You would never recognize Mr. Jones.
He gets so excited he forgets peanuts
Have shells. And that dime bottle of Pop he's drinking tastes like champagne
To him. So the game goes on
Jones comes to his feet too frequently
For those seated in back of him, but
He pays no attention to their—
"Down in front!" And—gosh—the Language he uses. Like—
"Atta Boy. Gwan—ya' Big Bum! Yere blind! At's
Hittin' the ol' apple!
Why didn't ya' slide—
Ya rummy?"

AND

If the home club wins, he'll walk
Into the office smiling next day.
If it loses—somebody gets fired!

Prominent Chicago man predicts—that in the next war—girls will be conscripted to fight in the ranks. Won't that be lovely? We can picture ourselves over-hearing a headquarters conversation somthing like this:

General Brunette: "Send word to the enemy that I can't be bothered with their company to-morrow. Got some shopping to do and also an appointment with regimental beauty specialist."

Colonel Blonde: "Wee. Wee. Madam. And shall I order the artillery to use white or pink powder to-morrow?"

POOR OR

Clanton's Ambitions

CLANTON wants more population, more industry, more capital, more trade, more prosperity.

AND the unfailing formula for accomplishing these ambitions is to make Clanton attractive -- then, keep it so. There is plenty of room in our town for citizens of the right sort. They will come, if Clanton broadcasts an inviting message beyond the borders of this community.

FOR years, country populations have gone cityward. But the peak has been reached. The tide has turned. City folks are flocking out to the small and medium-sized towns -- where they find more joy in living.

CLANTON can reap its share of this vast number of home seekers. But ambitions have got to be backed up by performan ce. We must be receptive to the coming of good citizens. We must stimulate pride and patriotism within the community. We must make certain that we can provide all the essentials that make for moral and physical well-being of all who would come among us.

GOOD government, thriving industries, good schools and churches, pure water, clean streets, better roads, opportunities for the rising generation, a progressive community spirit and true co-operation --- all make for a splendidd inducement to folks looking for a REAL HOME TOWN.

LET each one do his part toward making Clanton a better place to live in --- SPREAD THE GOOD WORD TO EVERY CORNER OF THE GLOBE!

AUTOMOBILE FACTS

In 1924 there were produced in the United States, 3,650,000 cars and trucks, with a wholesale value of $2,279,096,000. There were 45,000,000 tires manufactured, with a wholesale valuation of $627,697,000. Parts and accessories, other than tires, were valued at wholesale, $872,838,000. This represents an increase of 38% over 1922 and a decrease of 10% for 1923.

There are engaged in the motor vehicle and kindred lines, 3,105,000 people. More people than the population of our own state of Alabama.

The automobile and kindred lines manufacturers paid in excise tax to the Government during 1924, $144,000,000.

In the world today there are 19,500,000 automobiles and the registration in the United States alone is over 17,000,000.

It is interesting to know that 726,000 cars were required to carry automobiles and parts over the railroads. that 70% of all crude rubber is used in the manufacture of cars and tires; 53% of the plate glass was consumed by this industry as was 10% of all aluminum and 10% of all iron and steel mined. 65% of upholstering leather was required by the manufacturers of automobiles.

During 1924 the automobiles consumed 6,029,000,000 gallons of gasoline; 605,000,000 pounds of crude rubber and 191,000,000 pounds of cotton were required for the manufacture of tires.

To give service to this wonderful industry there are in the United States 50,512 car and truck dealers, 59,989 public garages, 67,828 service stations and repair shops and 64,233 supply stores.

There were 380,000 motor vehicles exported during 1924 and as a contrast, only 745 motor vehicles imported.

In our own state there are 2,298 automobile dealers and repair shops; a registration up to February 12th of 163,904 motor vehicles with ad valorem taxes valued at $24,293,274.00.

The state received through its two-cent per gallon gasoline tax the sum of $1,608,929.72; 80% of which amount, less expense of operating automobile department, were available for maintenance of roads in Alabama.

Through the courtesy of Senator Rogers of the State Highway Department we will soon be able to publish in these columns a weekly bulletin showing the progress of highway building in Alabama. This information will be interesting to the motor owner readers of this paper.

Selma may get a new railroad straight down the Cahaba valley, through one of the richest districts of the state, through the connecting of the lumber road of the Kaul Company with that of the Brownlee Lowry Company, running from Potter's to Sprotts in Perry County. Potters is a small siding about four miles west of Selma, where the Brownlee-Lowry Company is cutting a right of way through Perry to Sprotts, thirty miles distant. The Kaul Company is laying heavy steel rails on a line from near Helberger, back of Tuscaloosa, and it is believed the difficulties of linking up the two roads can be easily overcome.

The Pea River Power Company has been sold to the Gulf Electric Company, according to authentic information received here. The latter company is a subsidiary of the Alabama Power Company, and Judge A. It serves Troy, Brundidge, Samson, Opp, Kinston and Elba. Gov. Charles Henderson is president.

MRS. ADELIA HUBBARD

Died at her home in Jemison, Mrs. Adelia Hubbard, wife of T. J. Hubbard, age about 67 years. She was a noble lady. The writer having known her for 50 years never heard anyone make a disparaging remark about her, or speak a word against her in any way. She was a member of the church—baptized on the second Sunday in September, 1881. On the day of her baptism her pastor remarked that he had that day baptized a Christian. She was a lady of great kindness and patience. She raised a most interesting and intelligent family of children. Her life was beautiful; she will live long in the memory of those who knew her.

On the morning of March 23 the "Silver cord was loosed" and her spirit returned to Him who gave it. Sad though she is gone, but we are glad of her life.

"What if the clouds do for a moment,
Hide the sweet light of morn that nears,
Soon the glad sun of promise given,
Rises to shine a thousand years."

Her remains were laid to rest in Macedonia cemetery, near her old home. Funeral conducted by Dr. Ezell, assisted by Rev. R. M. Honeycutt. The floral offerings were wonderful and beautiful, the casket almost banked with flowers.

She sleeps in hope of a glorious resurrection. We sympathize with the bereaved family.

Pine Tar and Honey Still Best for Chest Colds and Coughs

Our mothers and grandmothers would never be without pine tar syrup in the house for coughs, chest colds, etc. This was many years ago, but modern medicine has never been able to improve on this time-tested remedy. Doctors say the pine tar is hard to beat for quickly loosening and removing the phlegm and congestion that are the actual cause of the cough. At the same time pine tar and honey soon soothe and heal all irritation and soreness.

The kind that has been used with never-failing success in thousands of families for years is that known as Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. This is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine tar, honey and other quick-acting, healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in quick relief. It contains absolutely no opiates, narcotics or harmful drugs, so can be given to young children—fine for spasmodic croup. It tastes good, too. If you want the best, a medicine that often stops the severest cough overnight, be sure you get Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. It costs only 30c at any good druggist's.

Remember

That the breadwinner in one out of every fifteen families in the United States is an employe of a railroad.

That the average national wage in all lines of industry in the United States is but $663.00 per annum, while that of railroad employes is approximately $1,600.

That railroad employes are permanent, worthwhile citizens, community builders, and tax payers.

That the railroads operate freight and passenger service in all kinds of weather, every day in the year.

The Railroads Deserve Your Patronage

When you see the stream of busses, trucks and passenger cars which pass you on the main highways, do you ever stop to consider the fact that railroad taxes are helping materially to pay for the roads over which these carriers are operating?

Have you ever investigated and compared the relative value to your community of these [illegible] methods of transportation? Ask these questions: How many people do the bus or truck lines employ? How much money do they spend in your community? How much do they contribute (in taxes) to your community's welfare?

The railroads afford the best of transportation—at the lowest of rates. They deserve your patronage.

The course of the cotton market during the past week has been steadily downward, due to constant liquidation as a result of the improved outlook for the next crop. The large sales of fertilizer indicate an intention on the part of farmers to increase acreage.

Somebody found a big and ugly boll weevil sauntering around the court house in Clanton the other day. He must have been making an early start in quest of somebody's cotton patch. Government reports on weevil conditions indicate a heavy survival of the insects in the southern and eastern sections of the cotton belt.

Power in the Blood!

You will be compelled to admit that the results of S. S. S. are really amazing!

MAN'S GLORY is his strength—yet how few there are who are really as strong as they should be. The blood thins, gets weaker, blood cells wear out—general weakness and a gradual break-down of the system results.

We know there is one thing that puts power in the blood, and that is more red-blood-cells! S.S.S. builds them by the million! We know that as blood cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! But have you ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought of it. So-called skin eruptions—pimples, boils, blackheads, eczema all pack up and go when the tide of blood cells begins to roll in. Blood cells are the fighting giants of Nature. S.S.S. is one of the greatest blood cell builders, blood cleansers and body builders known to us mortals. Here is your opportunity! S.S.S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Backache on the Farm

The farmer's wife who bears and rears children, does her own housework, keeps chickens and has other outside work to do, needs a sound back to carry her burden of toil. So does the farmer, who has to work early and late, and to do much bending and lifting.

Unfortunately, it is a fact that more farm men and women than other people suffer with lame or aching backs, and it is a trouble that allows hardly a moment's peace, day or night.

Chronic backache is very often due to weak kidneys and for kidney trouble, Dr. Pierce has worked out a new and special remedy, "An-uric." Ask your nearest dealer for it.

"An-uric," by increasing the flow of the urine, helps the kidneys to flush out of the system the uric poisons that cause the damage to the kidneys and bladder, the aching back, swollen joints and many aches and pains that are ordinarily called rheumatism.

Write Dr. Pierce (above), President Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Everybody in Thorsby and a lot of people elsewhere will regret to learn that Miss Helen C. Jenkins, principal of Thorsby Institute, was carried to a hospital in Syracuse, N. Y., last Saturday to have a hurry-up operation for appendicitis. A letter from her physician written Sunday says she is doing well and, on account of her generally good physical condition, is likely to make a rapid recovery. The letter also said that her mother was on the way to be with her a while. Our readers will remember that Miss Jenkins secured a leave of absence to enable her to attend a universiay at Syracuse to finish a course she has been working on for several years, amid her numerous studies. When finished, this course will entitle her to a Master of Arts degree, which means much to a teacher, as it denotes a high standard of education.

The celebration of the 35th anniversary of their wedding by Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Norton on Wednesday, March 25th, afternoon and evening, was a very delightful social occasion. Their home was tastefully decorated with dogwood, daffodils, fleur de lis, violets, chrysanthemums and potted plants. Upwards of 60 guests called to extend congratulations, and many letters were received from friends unable to be present. The gifts were not only bautiful but of a character that will long endure as pleasing reminders of the occasion.

Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Watts of Birmingham, and Mrs. Anna Parnell motored to Thorsby last Sunday to visit Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Wood. Both Mrs. Watts and Mrs. Wood are daughters of Mrs. Parnell.

Mrs. S. C. Wood and Mrs. J. E. Each motored to Montgomery Tuesday on a shopping expedition.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Henning and children are planning to leave Thorsby next Monday on a motor trip to New Mexico to visit relatives. Mr. Henning intends to return April 20th, leaving his family to make a more extended visit.

Mrs. Garrick and Miss Winnie Garrick of Georgia, mother and sister of Mrs. C. M. Williams, and Mr. Howard Garrick and Mrs. Burdett are visiting in Thorsby.

Mrs. E. F. Mead's brother, Mr. Charles Odell of Saint Paul, Minn., who, with his wife, have been making a visit of several weeks in Thorsby, left for home on Wednesday. The Mead family with their guests, visited Birmingham last Thursday and Montgomery on Sunday, both trips were by automobile.

Mrs. Clyde Sims will entertain the Y. W. A. and the Y. M. U. of Thorsby Baptist church at a farewell social given in honor of Miss Minnie Sue Stewart Saturday afternoon, April 4.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Sidwell of Dadeville have returned to their home after spending the week end with Mrs. Clyde Sims.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cox gave a party Saturday afternoon, March 28th in celebration of the fifth birthday anniversary of their little daughter, Ruth Judson Cox. The guests were little Misses Helen Kendrick, Minnie Pearl Mims, Agnes Mims, Mary Sue Porter, Hattie Porter, Myrtle Williams, Mary Cox, Julia Cox, Lucille Cox, Bessie Cox, Jewell Deason, Jessie Cox, and Willie Connatser, and Masters Curtis Burnett, Luther Williams, Lloyd Williams and James Cox. The little folks were delightfully entertained with games for a while and then ushered into the spaceous dining room and served with tempting refreshments amid spring flower decorations.

The Baptist G. A. girls met with Elinor Rowell Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. where they had a good missionary program. There were 17 present. After the service closed refreshments were served and all had a good time.

The big week end event in Thorsby was the Young Peoples Christian Life Conference, beginning Friday night and closing Sunday night. First, because it brought here quite an array of experienced Christian workers among young people. Rev. Neil McQuarrie and Misses Olive Pearson, Catherine Coley, Helen Wilcox and Ida F. Lockwood, all trained in Christian service and able to give interesting talks, instruction, and illustrate modern methods of arousing interest in Christian life. Mixed with the serious features of the program, there were many opportunities for relaxation and social enjoyment.

The missionary play at Bates Hall Saturday night, graphically presented the opportunity and need for Christian service in foreign fields and made a lasting impression on all who saw it.

The banquet at the dormitory Saturday noon was an occasion of joy and good fellowship. For more than a half hour while the guests were at table the eating of a bounteous dinner was interspersed with songs and speeches that scintillated with good humor and yet all had a moral that was impressive for good. Not the least of benefits derived from the conference was the inspiration imparted to many by the young women leaders. While they gave ample evidence that they were quite human, they also showed our young folks that it is quite possible to devote a lot of humnity to Christian service and have an influence for good in life that can never be accomplished by too much seriousness and long faced Christianity.

Christian Endeavor.

We were very fortunate in having Miss Catherine S. Coley, a member of the faculty in the Atlanta Theological Seminary, with us for our leader in Christian Endeavor last Sunday evening. Miss Coley was one of the leaders of the Christian Life Conference which was held here, beginning Friday evening, March 27, and closing Sunday evening, March 29. The Christian Endeavor meeting was one of the best and most interesting of any we have had for some time. The subject was "Friendliness as expressed through evangelistic meetings," and was explained by only a few of the members, the leader giving an idea of each topic as she introduced it, but even if they were few, they covered a wide range. We had a much larger audience than usual. Representing the Congregational S. S. Extension Society and the Home Missionary Society were Miss Helen Wilcox, Miss Ida F. Lockwood and Mr. Neil McQuarrie of Atlanta and Miss Olive Pearson of New York City. They, with Miss Coley, were also ledaers in the Christian Life Conference. Immediately following the Christian Endeavor services we had the pleasure of hearing some Missionary stories of China, Japan, India and Africa, by Miss Wilcox and Miss Coley, and one of how home missionary work had been and might be successfully carried on in America. All of these were very interesting and impressive and made us regret that we could not have some such visitors with us in each meeting.

WILSON DAM TO BEGIN TO OPERATE EARLY IN JULY

Washington, March 30.—Bids for the purchase of hydro-electric power developed by the Wilson dam at Muscle Shoals, Ala., will be invited by Secretary Weeks.

Estimates given the war secretary by army engineers reveal that the Wilson dam will begin development about July 1, of 100,000 horse power daily.

The decision to sell the power was made because of the failure of congress to dispose of the Muscle Shoals development through legislation covering that phase of the Alabama project.

In the present situation, it was said, the most practical solution of the power question was to make the Wilson dam product available to power users pending final determination of the question by congress.

Better Offers Sought.

This plan has been contemplated by army officers with a view of starting power developments at the dam, without delay, and at the same time provide a market for the product.

It is the intention of Sec. Weeks to enter into contracts revokable by the government on 30 days notice, with private power companies who offer the government the best return on its investment.

Army engineers do not expect to secure high rates for the power to be sold since the purchasers are required to base their contracts on brief time periods and cannot themselves enter into long time contracts with consumers.

Face Heavy Expenses.

It is pointed out also that the companies interested in power distribution probably will be faced with heavy expenditures in the construction of transmission lines over which the power can be carried from Muscle Shoals to the consumers in the states adjoining.

Army engineers recognize also that the power companies may hesitate to construct at their own expense these transmission lines because of the brief interval during which the power may be available to them under the terms of the contracts contemplated.

AGRICULTURAL COMMITTEE VISITS BIG POWER PLANTS

Committee of Engineers and Farmers Visits Lock 12 and Mitchell Dam Plants Wednesday.

On Wednesday of this week the joint agricultural committee composed of officials of the Alabama Power Company and agricultural engineers from the Experiment Station at Auburn and some of the leading farmers of the State, stopped off in Clanton on their way to the big Coosa River hydro-electric plants of the Alabama Power Company.

Those of the committee who were here on the trip included Mr. E. A. O'Neal and Mr. R. F. Groom of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, Mr. T. J. Whatley of Opelika, Messrs. M. L. Nichols, E. C. Easter and P. O. Davis of Auburn, E. W. Ashmead and J. U. Benziger, local officials of the Power Company, Dr. E. A. White of the National Powers Committee of Chicago, and Mr. A. B. Tucker, the Power Company's advertising manager of Birmingham. The group was joined in Clanton by Mr. W. M. Wyatt of The Union-Banner.

The purpose of this Agricultural Committee is to study plans for the utilization of electric power by the farmers of Alabama. The Alabama Power Company is furnishing the engineers to make these experiments, which are done in connection with Farm Bureau experts and agricultural engineers from the Experiment Station at Auburn.

The object of the visit of the committee to Chilton County was to look into and ascertain the origin and making of the electric power, so that they would be more prepared to study the application of this energy to the farms of the State.

The committee went from Clanton to Lock 12. After looking over the plant at Lock 12, they took a boat for Mitchell Dam and were shown the more advanced processes used in making electric current at that wonderful hydro-electric plant.

A complete report of the trip and the investigations of the committee will be published in The Union-Banner next week.

WHITE MAN, NEGRO MAN AND NEGRO WOMAN ARRESTED

Early last Sunday morning, about 8 o'clock, Sheriff Littlejohn and Deputy Culp went out in Frog Level, west of Clanton, where they suspicioned some whiskey was being smuggled. An investigation revealed that John Mims, son of Else Mims, had three or four quart bottles of whiskey in his buggy and was crashing the bottles when the officers found him hidden behind a negro hut. Enough of Mims' liquor was saved by the officers for evidence.

A search of Lula Mickey's house near where Mims was arrested revealed about three quarts of whiskey hidden in a box of rags in the negro woman's house. Arthur Calhoun, a negro man, was in the house with the negro woman, so both of them were arrested.

The two negroes, together with John Mims, were brought to jail. The negroes were released on bond Sunday afternoon and Mims was bailed out some time later.

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS FROM OVER ALABAMA

Frank Lockwood, Montgomery architect, was instructed by the members of the board of directors of the Montgomery Memorial Hospital to proceed at once to make plans and specifications for three new buildings for that institution. The new buildings already required are nurses' home, a central heating plant and a children's pavilion. With the erection of the children's pavilion the entire front will be filled out and will form an architecturally complete structure.

issue warrants for current school expenses, to be payable at the beginning of the next school year and filed the complaint through his attorneys. Judge Jones, in making the decision, stated that the issue was contained in section 104 of the school code which says that the county boards have authority to borrow money "to meet teachers' salaries and current expenses when the current funds on hand are not sufficient to meet the same, to be secured by a pledge of the current revenues of the year."

County boards of education in Alabama, to all legislative intent, have the right to anticipate revenues of the incoming school year to meet expenses for current needs when such anticipation is based upon a county or district school tax income, under a decision handed down in Montgomery Circuit Court, dismissing a petition for an injunction restraining the board of revenue from borrowing $15,000. J. W. Heustess, tax payer of that county, challenged the right of the board to

By a majority of 69 to one a mass meeting of East Gadsden citizens voted in favor of annexation of that suburb to Gadsden. It was decided to petition for an election at an early date to determine the question in an official way. Speakers said that East Gadsden is confronted with the problem of schools, water and lights and is not incorporated. They declared a merger with Gadsden is the only solution.

DR. MARCUS BACK AT PRIVATE WORK AGAIN

Dr. T. J. Marcus tells us that the smallpox situation in the county is now sufficiently under control that he no longer needs to give his time to this work for the county, and that the Commissioners Court has released him from this duty. He has now gone back to his regular practice of medicine and will be glad to answer the calls of his patrons.

However, if more cases of smallpox should develop in the county, Dr. Marcus will take care of them for the county, but he is not devoting his entire time to this work now.

There are only three or four cases of smallpox in the county now, they being some negroes about three miles south-west of Clanton.

CHILTON HIGH DIVIDES WITH BUTLER IN TWO GAME SERIES

In a two game series with Butler County High School at Greenville, on Friday and Saturlay of last week, Chilton High divided the series, taking the first by a score of 6 to 3, and dropping the second 5 to 4. Unfavorable weather in the last game caused many errors on both sides, but Butler comes to Clanton on May 1 and 2 for a series, and the Tigers have high hopes of swamping them on the home ground.

Chilton plays Sidney Lanier next Friday and Saturday; Lanier has a fast ball team, and is rated as one of the best in the State. Chilton gave them quite a jolt when they took two out of three at Cramton Bowl in Montgomery a short time ago, and both teams will be fighting hard next Friday and Saturday. The games will be played at Polk's Park, the Chilton baseball park.

LECTURES TO CHILDREN AT FRIENDSHIP SUNDAY SCHOOL

On last Sunday, after the regular Sunday School work was disposed of as quickly as possible, all of the little children of the school, about fifteen or twenty in number, were called together on the front seats and lectured to by Mr. H. F. McCary for about thirty or forty minutes. Mr. McCary had been promising the children for the past several Sundays that some Sunday he would tell them some Sunday School stories, so there being a goodly number of children present last Sunday, he concluded to tell them some short stories.

Mr. McCary held the close attention of these little ones during the whole time he was talking to them. In his discourse he told some three or four stories tbout loving deeds of little boys and girls and the way God in His tender love had blessed them for their kind deeds.

Telling stories for little children seems to be of considerable interest to Mr. McCary, and he is very proficient in this undertaking. Mr. McCary is also a well posted student of the Bible and is capable of intelligently discussing most any biblical subject that may be introduced to him.

Dr. Turner M. Dennis is over at Lanett in Chambers County this week doing work for the State. We understand that Dr. Dennis is making some investigations for the State regarding some tubercular cattle in Chambers County.

NATIONAL HEALTH DRIVE SET FOR MAY THE FIRST

More Spent in Nation for Chewing Gum than Keeping Children Well, Says Hoover.

Washington, April 7.—Sanctioned by President Coolidge and directed by Secretary of Commerce Hoover, one of the greatest health demonstrations in American history will take place May 1st, 1925.

May Day will be set aside by the president in behalf of the health of the 34,000,000 normal children of the United States, Secretary Hoover, in speaking as president of the American Child Health Association, announced Tuesday of this week.

"President Coolidge is calling upon the nation to bring public attention on a national scale to its child health problems and the methods of their solution," Hoover said.

The Objectives

The objectives are these: That there should be no child in America that has not been born under the proper conditions that does not live in hygenic surroundings; that ever suffers from under-nutrition, that does not have prompt and efficient medical attention and inspection; that does not receive instruction in the elements of hygiene and health."

One million children of this country were born deficient and 35 per cent of the normal born were deficient when they became of age, according to a survey just completed by the Child Health Association.

"While we have every sympathy for the deficient children, if the nation is to march forward it will do so not on the feet of its deficient children but of the so-called normal child," Hoover declared. "We will have neglected our moral responsibility if we do not mobilize all our forces to give our children a heritage of health. This must be the new vision of continued democracy."

America's annual doctor bill is approximately $1,400,000,000 according to Hoover. For health work, only $60,000,000 is spent each year thru federal, state and municipal agencies. In other words, 25 times as much is spent for cures as for prevention.

More Spent on Gum

A greater sum is spent annually for chewing gum than for safeguarding the health of children, said Secretary Hoover.

Backed by an annual budget of $500,000, the Child Health Association has conducted a survey of 86 cities of between 20,000 and 70,000 population. The result demonstrates "why we had such a deficiency in health standards of the men when they were called to national service for the World War," according to Mr. Hoover.

Forty-one cities had no provision for hospital care of tuberculosis. 29 per cent of the children had not been vaccinated. Forty cities had done nothing to establish control of diphtheria. Forty-two cities have not established pre-natal clinics for mothers. Sixty per cent of the schools had no health instruction.

The commissioners court of Chilton County was in session at the court house Monday and Tuesday of this week. This was the regular monthly meeting of the court wherein they consider road matters only. They remained in session till some time Tuesday disposing of road and bridge matters for the county.

Clanton Will Have Fine New Theatre

Mr. C. W. Wade Will Build New Playhouse On Old Baptist Church Lot in Clanton.

The lawsuit over the old Baptist church property on Main street in front of the courthouse, between W. C. Robinson and C. W. Wade has recently been ruled by the Spreme Court in favor of Mr. Wade, which means that the property is now free from litigation and open for improvements.

Since the property has been released to him, it is Mr. Wade's purpose to build on this lot a very up-to-date theatre and picture show for the theatre-goers of Clanton. Mr. Wade has the building across the railroad where he is now running his show leased for the rest of this year, and he intends to have his new building ready for occupancy by January 1st, 1926.

Mr. Wade will put up a building with a frontage of 25 feet and a depth of 125 feet. The building will be a one-story structure made of brick with a nice pressed brick front. It will be made especially for his show and built in such form as to be most suited for this purpose. On the side or the show building Mr. Wade is going to build a smaller brick building which he will use for storage purposes.

This property is an ideal location for a picture show since it is on Main street right in the edge of the immediate business section. There is plenty of parking room in the vicintiy for the cars of those who come to the show.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT REVIVAL DURING COMING WEEK

On Friday night of this week Dr. Glenn will make a special lecture for young people. His subject will be "The Young Man and his Temptations." All young people of Clanton as well as older ones should not fail to hear Dr. Glenn on this subject.

On Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the Knights Templar will worship with the Methodist brethren. The Knights will be in full regalia and will be segregated from the rest of the audience.

On Sunday afternoon at 3:30, Dr. Glenn will speak to men only. Boys under 12 years of age will not be admitted.

On Monday afternoon at 3:30 a special sermon will be preached for women. Girls under 12 will not be admitted to this service.

The press of the country where Dr. Glenn has preached has given high commendation to these special sermons by Dr. Glenn. All the men and women respectively should avail themselves of the privilege of hearing Dr. Glenn on these special addresses.

Oh! Look! What a Sweet Easter Surprise!

IF all lonesome bachelors could wake up on Easter morn, find a great big egg awaiting them and then—when they went to open it—get a sweet little surprise like that pictured above—say, wouldn't life be grand and glorious? It would seem like a fairy tale.

Anyway, this cute little study—posed by Miss Virginia Vance of Los Angeles—is a pleasant reminder that Easter is nigh. And, really, folks, don't you wish the happy event was tomorrow?

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lindquist and Martin Nelson of Bessemer spent the week end at the home of Mrs. Frank Nelson. They were accompanied by Mrs. William Hughes of West Virginia, who is visiting Mrs. Lindquist.

Mrs. Sims entertained the Y. W. A. and friends last Saturday afternoon, in the form of a farewell party for Miss Stewart, who was a teacher in the public school here. A number of nice presents and remembrances were presented Miss Stewart. Brick cream and cake was served. Easter baskets filled with eggs were souvenirs. A contest was enjoyed, Mrs. Reno Villadsen and Mrs. Bice receiving the prizes. Those present were Mesdames Wm. Billingsley, E. R. Piper, Kelly, McCain, Grover Bice, Ben Davenport, Herbert Peterson and Mrs. Sims; Misses Dolly Sorrell, Olene Mims, Jewel and Ruth Martin, Mary Tindal, Essie B. Willis, Leora Goodgame and guest of honor.

The William C. Gorgas division of the Helen Keller Literary Society of Thorsby Institute gave its final program for the year on April 3, at 3 o'clock. Margaret Sangster, James Whitcomb Riley and O. Henry were the authors considered. Miss Jewel Martin presided, and Miss Pearl Steiner acted as Secretary. The various members of the program were introduced by Miss Bernice Williams of the program committee. A very pleasing story of Margaret Sangster entitled "Flowers" was read by Miss Perry as the opening number, and there followed a quartette by Misses Lorena Primm, Pearl Steiner, Lois Primm and Bernice Williams. The song rendered was the poem "Little Orphant Annie," by James Whitcomb Riley, and its merry wit made an appeal to all. Miss Mattie Scott and Miss Mae Maddox read two other poems by Riley—"Lizbuth Anne on Bakin' Day" and "The Squirt Gun."

O. Henry, the short story king, was next introduced, and through the story of his life, given by Mr. Tilden Jackson, and the memoirs of his daughter, told by Miss Gladys Murphy, we came better to know and understand this beloved master of the short story. Anecdotes of the author were well told by other members of the society. Miss Perry closed the program by a reading of one of O. Henry's stories —"Springtime a la Carte."

The Thorsonian Society which includes all the school except the two upper classes, met at the same time. The program was a presentation of the work of those who are deprived of either sight or hearing. Poems by blind authors were read and one member played a composition for the piano by Beethoven, the great musician who became entirely deaf. Two classes made up of members of the Society, illustrated the way in which the deaf learn to read the lips and also the way in which the blind learn the nature of things by the sense of touch. An explanation of the Braille alphabet was also given and a sample of it, written by a boy pupil in Alabama School for the Blind, at Talladega, was shown.

Mrs. S. C. Wood entertained the Congregational Ladies Aid Society on Thursday afternoon, April 2.

The Baptist Ladies Aid Society will be held at the home of Mrs. Ed Piper Thursday afternoon, April 9.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Martha Grothe Thursday afternoon, April 16.

Rev. Bokke, the new pastor of Thirsby Lutheran Church, has arrived in Thorsby with his wife and four children, and after Monday, April 13, will occupy a part of Mrs. Hattie M. Gerald's house as their home.

Wm. J. Billingsley left for Mobile last Tuesday, where he will make inspection of high school buildings in Mobile County, attend Alabama Educational Association, after which he will visit parts of Florida and then his brother Ira, in Mobile.

Word received from Mrs. F. E. Jenkins, mother of Miss Helen C. Jenkins, says that Miss Jenkins is making a good recovery from her operation for appendicitis.

The special meetings planned for this week at the Congregational church cannot be held on account of the inability of Rev. Chas. T. Lunsford of Hackleburg, Ala., who had been engaged to conduct the meetings, to leave home, because of a serious accident to the man he had expected to leave in his place to attend to his business while absent. Some effort has been made, at short notice, to secure another man, but without success.

Miller Brothers, contractors for paving the north half of Chilton section of the Birmingham-Montgomery highway, have completed the work from Calera to Jemison, and this week are moving their camp and equipment to Strasburg, where they will receive material and mix their concrete for distribution at both the Jemison and Lomax ends of their stretch of road, and work from both ends toward Thorsby. They are stringing a line of water pipe from Jemison to Lomax and will get a water supply at "Charlotte," west of John Carlson's farm. They expect to complete their contract early in July.

Thorsby public school closed Friday, April 3, and as usual some of the scholars are making haste to get in for the spring term of Thorsby Institute. Among those already enrolled are Lucille Howard, Martha Williams, Alta Each and Lloyd Howard. Probably several others would like to go in were it not for the fact that their parents need them in the fields.

Strawberries are ripening; the first shipment, 8 crates, was sent to Birmingham Monday night.

The annual picnic of Thorsby Institute was held Wednesday, April 1, about 2 miles southwest of Thorsby. The day was perfect and everyone had a good time; many played so hard that they were lame and tired for a day or two afterward, but these outings, when all goes well, serve to limber up the joints and get the cobwebs out of the brain and make the boys and girls more fit for the closing term of school.

Green Gore went fishing Friday in the Coosa river below Mitchell Dam and was exhibiting his catch of catfish in Thorsby Saturday; among them was one weighing 44 pounds. Some fish.

I set the day to go to the hospital, but then I saw the advertisement of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. Since taking it I am feeling like a two-year-old. Relation of the Ku Klux Klan To American Citizenship

THE BRAMBLE BUSH GOVERNMENT

At the beginning of this article the mind of the reader was directed to a fable in the Book of Judges. Now notice the application of the fable. It will be noticed that there is a gradation down-scale from the olive to the bramble. In Palestine, the olive has long been regarded as the tree of the sanctuary. With the oil extracted from the olive were anointed the heads of prophets, priests and kings. It was preeminently the tree that symbolized religion.

Next to that tree, the fig tree merited the respect of the people. The fig tree represented domesticity and communion, or prayer.

The grape vine represented friendliness and good cheer, as indicated by the juice of the fruit.

The bramble bush with its lacerating thorns, represented something that stood for worthlessness. It is good for nothing except to be gathered into bundles and burned.

In the fable we see the people first desiring a ruler whose life was the antitype of the olive tree. They wanted as their leader a good man, a religious man of the Sanctuary. But the olive tree declined and caused the people to have to enter upon further balloting.

The man represented by the fig tree, their second choice, was to be a man of domesticity and prayer. He, likewise, refused.

Their third choice centered upon a man of genial disposition, sociable and as we would say, a good mixer.

The fourth choice was a bramble bush. A worthless briar. Each of the foregoing gave his business as the excuse for not serving the people. The man represented by the bramble bush gave no excuse, for he had no business that he would be called upon to leave. He was a man who spent his time in worthless idleness. From the olive tree to bramble bush is a great fall. And just as water cannot rise above its source, neither can a bramble bush government produce anything but bramble bush conditions.

There is a divine law which holds the possessor of a talent responsible for the correct use of that talent. This same law holds one morally responsible for the evil conditions which result from one's deliberate non-use of one's talents. The olive tree boasted the qualifications of good government. So did the fig tree. So did the grape vine. The willingness on the part of each of these to serve would have resulted in profit to the people But they were selfish. They were too busy about their own affairs, seeming not to realize that one's affairs are safeguarded or jeopardized as one's government is strengthened or weakened. Did the olive tree complain of the bramble bush government under which it had to operate? If so, it was its own fault.

There is a sin of omission as well as one of commission. It is highly probable the sin of omission is the greater of the two. To do evil is bad. To fail to do good is deplorable. Responsibility accompanies either act. One is responsible for the evil one does. One is also responsible for the good one fails or refuses to do. In the teachings of Christ, a Klansman's Criterion, it will be seen He emphasizes omission more than commission. In the parable of the virgins or in the parable of the talents this is quite evident. Those virgins who were punished by being made to remain outside were not punished for what they did, but for what they failed to do. The same is true concerning the man with one talent. He did nothing with his talent, therefore, he was punished. The judgment scene which Christ so graphically portrays carries with it the same idea. Those who were discarded had failed to do their duty rather than having been guilty of the overt acts of sin. They clothed not, they fed not, they visited not. In no case were they said to have broken a Commandment but in each case they failed in the line of obedient response. These are examples of the immensity of the sin of ommission. The same is true in the fable of the trees, the vine and the bramble bush. The olive tree failed to do its duty, the fig tree did likewise. So also did the vine. And each was punished because over them all was placed an inferior government which was traceable to their own inactivity.

The application of the above to our own government is very plain. The fault of Americans with reference to their government does not so much consist in their sinfulness of living nor in their antagonism to the state. It consists mainly in an apathy that is appalling. Americans wish for good government and they wish for good laws and they wish for prosperity; but they seem to forget that good government and good laws reside in the power of those people who wish them and who are able to produce them. Then will come prosperity as a logical sequence. We as Americans, should not deplore (for instance) that large percentage of appointive offices filled by those whose loyalty is divided between this country and a spiritual. potentate across the seas. This condition, if such exists, is due to those Americans who could have had it otherwise but who refused to give a sufficient amount of attention to their government. Instead of lamenting certain conditions (which would be a negative stand,) our duty, the rather, is to bestir ourselves to bring about these conditions that are in keeping with our desires as native-born, Protestant Americans. The prophet Jeremiah wrote the Book of Lamentations as he sat in a cave near the Temple Area, but those Lamentations did him no good for they were not constructive, To lament does not insure our making progress. The only wise way is to bestir ourselves to the extent of our ability, being willing to put our country first and our personal affairs next.

Ever since the time of the Tower of Babel, God has dealt with particular or individual nations. If not in the course of human events He has chosen a given nation through which to achieve certain purposes. Who shall not say nations have frequently unconsciously carried out the Divine Plan? Sometimes God has revealed this special mission to the nation in question. Sometimes, if we go entirely by the record, God has used nations without telling them they were being Divinely used. Kings ruled and have been the agents of Almighty God unknown to themselves at the time. In the case of the Hebrew nation it was somewhat different. God chose a certain man from the valley of the Euphrates river and plainly told him He (God) was going to make of him a nation. Through this nation God achieved certain needs. Through them the world was given an idea of government based on the laws delivered from Mount Sinai. Through them the world was given an example of the best literature. Through them the world was given the doctrine of monotheism in its purest form. Through them the world was given a Redeemer.

There is a host in the United States of America today believing our country is of Divine origin, and is to be especially used by Almighty God for carrying out the Divine purposes. Those in America so believing, regard the national mission as one which is Heaven-sent. They believe God dwells in the body of America. Just as "God was in Christ reconciling the world unto Himself," using the body of Christ as a channell of operation, so do these serious-minded Americans believe God has clothed Himself with the body of this government for the purposes contained in the Divine will. Therefore, to be an American is a serious responsibility and citizenship in this country and under these conditions should be taken most seriously. God has a purpose. That purpose may not as yet have been revealed, but He is working to some great end and those in America who believe this country is the national channell through which God is working are offering themselves as contributions to this national body that the will of God may be more perfectly done. This is carried out in the Klan Chapter, the Twelfth of Romans: "Present your bodies a living sacrafice, holy, acceptable unto God." The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan firmly believe America is God's vehicular nation at this time. Unlike the olive tree, the fig tree, the vine, they are volunteering in order that the government might be one which is most pleasing to God, instead of forcing God to use an imperfect channell such as a bramble bush, in place of an olive tree, to express His Divine will in government.

With Mayor Wier as master of ceremonies in which officials of the Alabama Power Company and many representative citizens took part, the lights of Gadsden's new white way were turned on at 7:45 o'clock Wednesday night, April 1st. A concert by the 167th regiment, Alabama national guard, was a feature. Fifty-five 600 candle power lights now illuminate Broad street as bright as day. The system is said to be the most modern in the country.

The number of specimens going to the Tennessee Valley laboratory is increasing from both the public and the physicians, according to a statement made public by Dr. O. J. Perolio, director. Comparison with last year's reports shows that from January 1 1924, to April 1, 1924, a total of 2,277 specimens were examined. From January 1, 1925 to April 1, 1925 a total of 4,475 specimens were examined or almost double that of last year.

March was the second best month in the history of Ensley steel works and blast furnaces. The best month ever recorded at the Ensley plants was March, 1924, when all previous records were broken. This would have been eclipsed this year, it is believed, but the month contained five Sundays and the steel works close on the Sabbath. The total production for March this year was placed around 107,000 tons.

The price of getting drunk or being caught speeding an automobile in Huntsville has gone up, according to Mayor Fraser L. Adams, who presides over the police court. Every person who is convicted in his court of being drunk will be fined $25 and all speeders will be assessed $25. Heretofore the fines have been $5 and $10. A stricter enforcement of all city ordinances has begun.

The banks of Gadsden have decided to open at 6 o'clock evenings and remain open until 8 o'clock on the steel plants' payday in order to accommodate working people as well as business houses. They will close at 3 o'clock in the afternoon as usual, but will reopen at 6. Most of the plants in the district pay off at the same time, and it is said that additional banking facilities are needed.

Forty-five carloads of cabbage moved from Alabama last week, principally from Mobile county, according to N. H. Brown, chief of the markets division of the State Department of Agriculture. Only one carload moved last year for the same period, he stated. Thirteen carloads of sweet potatoes and two carloads of strawberries were shipped last week.

THE VALUE OF A HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATION

By Lou L. Jackson, Junior II of the Thorsby Junior High School.

A truly democratic country must have a high school system which gives education to all, which covers all stages of education, which permits direct passage from a lower to a higher grade.

In ancient times there were very few high schools—in fact, there were no high schools until the nineteenth century. The people began to think more about high school education after they began to build high schools. The great war between the North and the South destroyed nearly all the high schools. After the Civil War the people found out that they did not have enough high schools established. There were many parents who were not wide awake to the value of education for their children.

After the year 1865 the people began to think more of their children's education. The high schools were greatly attended by 1880. Of course it is impossible to estimate exactly the value of education received in schools and colleges as compared to self education. If you do not have a high school education, you cannot get a good position.

Every civilized nation realizes that there is no more important institution in the world today that the high schools. Every boy and girl knows that if they wish to become a doctor, a lawyer, a dentist, a mining engineer, a teacher, or to follow any other profession in life, that they cannot if they do not have a high school education. If a high school student has successfully completed a course of study, he is graduated and receives a diploma just as he did when he graduated from public school. High school degrees are of great value. The ordinary arts course covers four years. The first year is called Freshman, second Sophomore, third Junior, and fourth Senior. These four years are not only applied to the classes but to individual. At some high schools, the school year is divided into two parts of 18 weeks in each, called semesters.

A graduate of high school can make $5,000 a year. A public school graduate con only make $1,000 a year, where a man without any school can get anly $500 a year.

The work of a Junior High School is preparing the pupil for Senior High School.

I believe the time is coming when every person that gets a position in a good place of business, will at least have to have a high school education. Every person will need a high school education to make a living.

Let's use more labor-saving machinery this year.

Use the harrow and culti-packer freely before planting.

The best time to kill weeds is when they are small.

Store enough eggs in waterglass for use next winter.

Scientific knowledge intelligently applied makes prosperous farmers.

Kill, pen, or sell all roosters when the hatching season is over.

Don't become restless and plant too early because spring is much earlier than usual.

A big agricultural need is more farmers trained in cooperation with a cooperative attitude.

After land is thoroughly prepared shallow plowing that will kill weeds most effectively is all that is needed.

Only the dairymen who are buying feed and milking low-producing cows are dissatisfied with dairying, according to L. T. Wells of Auburn.

It is reported from Washington that $405,000,000 will be spent by the various state highway departments for road building during the next year.

Billy Boll Weevil is all set for a big year unless cotton growers get him with poison or the weatherman knocks him out with hot dry weather in July and August.

Julius Rosenwald of Chicago recently gave $10,000 to Tuskegee Institute. Mr. Rosenwald is president of the well known mail order house of Sears, Roebuck & Co.

There has not been a lynching in Alabama for the past two years. North Carolina is the only other southern state that comes up to that record.

Doctors J. P. Crumpton, J. E. Gowan and E. G. Hyman left Sunday for Mobile, where they will spend the first of this week at the Alabama Dental Association. While there they will take a steamboat trip to Havana. They will return to Clanton about Thursday of this week.

The next proposal for a road bond issue in Alabama is already drawing forth the satire of the cartoonists. Some of the voters of the state are going further than satire and declaring open opposition to the proposal. It will be a very regrettable thing if the present bond issue to match Federal aid has been managed in such a way as to cause the defeat of the next one.

Circuit court is over and quite a few law violators have tasted of the bitter cup of conviction. Some happened to have enough pecuniary influence and other pulling powers to stay off their sentences for a while longer, while others not so fortunate had to board the train for Kilby prison or Vredenburgh or somewhere else. We have less criminals in the county now than we did two weeks ago.

DRIVING ON!

STOCK LAW IN BEATS 8 AND 15

At the request of some of the leading citizens of Beats 8 and 15 of Chilton County, we warn the people of these beats against letting their stock run at large. These beats are protected by stock law, and if stock is allowed to continue to go at large, the penalty of the law will have to be used against the owners of such cattle.

Some think that because they live on the county line or near same, the stock law does not affect them. This is a mistake. According to the law, you are supposed to keep your cattle up just the same as anyone else.

We hear a great deal of commendation for the good work of the Circuit Court of Chilton County last week. The action of the jury is especially commended for sustaining the several indictments for law violations and rendering verdicts of conviction against the defendants. The disposition of the jury to uphold the law and punish violators is hailed as an indication of better times in Chilton County.

The show-down came last week, and the wrangle over which route the highway would come through Clanton was finally settled for Seventh street. The payment to the county for the cost of the right-of-way on Seventh street was made by the parties who were pulling for that route, and so far as we can learn there will be nothing else to hinder the building of the road. Work has been started on the grading and bridges both north and south of town and it is hoped that it will progress rapidly until completion.

COUNTY SINGING CONVENTION

The Harp and Harmony Convention of Chilton County will meet in semi-annual session at Cedar Grove church near Thorsby, first Sunday in May, and Saturday before. All bring your Harp and Harmony books. All invited.

REYNOLDS SPOKE AT CONCORD LAST FRIDAY NIGHT

SPRING FLOWERS

Your attention is called to the annual ruthless destruction of our Southern evergreens and beautiful wild flowers. Now that the time is near when our woodlands will be a bower of beauty with their fragrant buds and blossoms, every person is requested to be a vigilant committee of one to see that the extravagant waste of this kind is stopped. Let our slogan be: "Spare the bed and save the bush."—Conservation Comm., Civic Club, Mrs. Hayes, President.

ROAD CONTRACTS LET

Wetumpka, April 4.—Contracts have been awarded by the state highway commission for surfacing of the road from the Judkins ferry bridge to Wetumpka, a distance of six miles. The contract has been let in three sections with a slightly different material being used on each section. The three kinds of surfacing will be asphaltic clay gravel, rawhide type and limestone rock asphalt. The cost will be approximately $91,000.

It is also understood that Montgomery county has plans in the making for paving this highway from the bridge into Montgomery so that, in a short time, there will be a paved road from Wetumpka to Montgomery. This in time, will also connect this section with Birmingham as the Montgomery-Birmingham highway will be completed in the near future.

REV. J. H. THOMAS WILL CONDUCT REVIVAL AT FRIENDSHIP

The services of Rev. J. H. Thomas of Tarrant City have been secured to help the pastor, Rev. W. W. Robinson, in the revival at Friendship Baptist Church beginning on the fourth Sunday in July. Rev. Thomas has lots of friends in Chilton County who will be glad to learn that he is going to be in our midst again. Further announcement will be made later.

REFUGE NEWS

Editor Union-Banner:

Allow me just a short space to say a few words in regard to our school which closed recently. We think the teachers have done excellent work with our children in this community.

Also, I want to say a few words in regard to our prayer meeting which was formally announced to meet every first Sunday night. We had a very interesting meeting last Sunday night in spite of a bad night. The crowd was small but God fulfilled his promise that where two or three were gathered together in His Name, He would be in the midst of them. We invite all to come and help, and especially the members of this church, that we may turn things upside down for God.

ANOTHER EFFORT MADE TO GET FLOYD COLLINS

Cave City, Ky., April 4.—Men are digging again into Sand Cave and again the goal is what remains of what once was Floyd Collins. The death tomb, far underground, will not be Floyd Collins' final sepulchre if the efforts are successful. Homer Collins, brother of the cave victim, is financing the plan to bring Floyd Collins' bones from the well where he was held until he died from starvation and exposure.

The movement to bring up Collins' remains contemplates penetration of the torture chamber and recovery of the corpse from the natural rock vise which held the cave explorer a prisoner until he died—and continues to hold what was left of him.

SHELBY SHERIFF IN FIERCE FGHT WITH BOOTLEGGERS

Sheriff Falkner Slightly Injured in Effort to Make Arrest of Alleged Moonshiner.

Columbiana, Ala., April 6.—Sheriff J. J. Falkner and his son, Deputy C. J. Falkner, engaged in a battle yesterday with alleged bootleggers in the northern part of Shelby County, as a result of which the sheriff sustained a twisted leg and Andrew Falser was arrested on a charge of resisting an officer and violating the prohibition law.

According to information here, the officers attempted to arrest Andrew and Horace Falser. A rough and tumble fist fight occurred. The son captured Andrew Falser, but Horace Falser escaped but not until after a shot had been fired at him by the sheriff. The Falsers are said to have had a fruit jar filled with liquor in their possession, which they poured out when they saw the officers coming.

Four or five other residents of the neighborhood are said to have witnessed the fight.

Andrew Falser was brought to jail at Columbiana but was released later under $500 bond in the liquor case and $300 on the charge of resisting an officer.

Sheriff Falkner when seen today said that he was slightly hurt and that he did not consider the occurrence of any consequence.

Cough Remedy Mother Gave Us Still Best

Pine Tar and Honey Beat All Modern Drugs

In thousands of families it has been the custom for many years to keep pine tar and honey always on hand for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, and throat irritations. Our mothers knew that it was good, that it often broke up the worst cough in 24 hours, and that it could be given to young and old alike, as it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs.

And now we are told that in spite of modern medical discoveries there is still no better or quicker cough remedy. Doctors say the pine tar quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion that cause the coughing, also healing soreness, while the honey not only gives a pleasant taste, but helps soothe irritation.

The original compound, made up many years ago and used by millions of people, was Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. This is scientifically composed of just the right proportions of pine tar, honey and other quick-acting, healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in quick relief. If you want the original and the best, be sure you get Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey and no other. Only 30c. at any good druggists.

OAK GROVE

On April 2, Mr. W. J. Northcutt was given a surprise birthday supper. Mr. Northcutt also received many presents. The evening was enjoyed by all present. Mr. Northcutt sends thanks as follows:

"I wish to thank, through your paper, the Juniors and Ladies for their interest shown in my 49th birthday, as they gave me a surprise supper. It makes me think that I haven't lived all these years without making some friends. It cheers me in gloomy times and makes me think it is worth while to live and enjoy all those blessings which come to all of us. Being serving at court, I was not able to be with them at the surprise supper, so I gave them a surprise also.

W. J. Northcutt."

Mr. Northcutt received eight large cakes, besides all the other goodies which were given. It was "supposed" to have been a surprise party, but as Mr. Northcutt was busy in court, the result was a surprise all around.

TWO-WEEKS REVIVAL BEGINS AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Mr. Editor:

Last Monday night at the local Methodist church, the opening exercises for a revival of several days duration occurred. There was a large and interested audience on hand, and it looked like there was manifested a real spirit of earnestness and co-operation that was most commendable and encouraging.

Dr. Glenn, who is doing most of the preaching for the meeting, fired his opening shot at the citadels of sin, and his able discourse held the strictest attention of his hearers from first to last. These first services seemed to presage a revival of real religious sentiment in our town.

Bright and soon the next morning the rumble of many wheels was heard on our streets, and upon investigation it developed that a typical circus show with all of its customary "side lines" was assembling on the scene. Arriving as it did, so pat on the job, just as the spirit of truth and righteousness was opening a campaign for better things and higher ideals, it suggested thoughts to us on the wonderful efficiency that always "happens" to be displayed by the powers of darkness.

Another thing I wish to suggest is this. Suppose all of the card parties, dances, moving picture shows and other places of like character would call off all of their festivities during this revival. Would it not be wonderful? Could Clanton contrive to capture, by any other means, so splendid and so commendable an advertisement abroad as that?

Not only that, I am one of the "old fogies" who still believe in a personal God and in His personal interest in what we do and how we live. He would bless and prosper our town in proportion to the respect and honor we give Him.

I hardly hope to see this occur here, but there are others, I dare say, besides myself, who would rejoice to see our town do itself the honor of honoring God to that extent on this occasion.

W. B. CORLEY.

Inspired Gestures.—A new aid to good preaching has been discovered.

During the past summer a suburban church asked a church bureau to send a supply for a certain Sunday. The following Monday the clerk of session called to tell how much the congregation enjoyed the preacher of the day.

"That was a fine man you sent," said he; "the people all sat up and took notice. His gestures were great. He swung his arms and certainly sent it home. Can't you get him again for next Sunday?"

The minister was called on the telephone and told that the congregation was so well pleased with him that they would like to have him return the following Sunday.

"Well, I'd like to," said he, "but I think I'll have to refuse. I liked the people and enjoyed the service, but there was one thing that did not appeal to me: There were too many mosquitoes."—The Continent.

ALABAMA NEWS

M. L. Belew, confessed slayer of S. G. Robins, Ensley street foreman, was acquitted on a charge of murder by a jury in Judge H. P. Heflin's court, after only 20 minutes of deliberation. Belew apparently was unmoved by the verdict and maintained the attitude of indifference he had maintained throughout the trial. Mrs Belew, star witness for her husband sobbed audibly when the verdict was read. Belew's trial was regarded as one of the most unique in the history of Jefferson County courts inasmuch as the defendant did not take the stand in his own behalf, but relied wholly on the testimony of his wife for acquittal. Robins was killed in the Belew home last February. The State contended the street foreman was shot while at the home to investigate an alley complaint. The defense introduced testimony to show that Robins had annoyed Belew's wife; that he was at the Belew home on the afternoon before the killing and insisted on returning the next morning over Mrs. Belew's protest. Mrs. Belew declared on the witness stand she told her husband of Robin's visits and requested that he stay at home to protect her, declaring her husband shot Robins when he called the following morning only after he had embraced her and made a move to get his gun.

By agreement of attorneys the hearing of the writ of mandamus by which Mary Williams, negro, is seeking to force the jury commission of St. Clair County to refill the jury box has been postponed indefinitely. The woman, who is suing the Alabama Fuel and Iron Company of Birmingham for $100,000 damages because of the death of Mike Harris, her husband, in one of the company's mines, charges that the commission has entered into a conspiracy to leave the names of negroes out of the jury box and that it has filled the box with the names of persons friendly to or under the influence of the fuel corporation. Judge Martin agreed to pass the case to be reset later.

Establishing a new record for Mobile's import business the month of March saw more than $2,000,000 worth of goods and comodities brought through the port, according to figures at the office of the Mobile Chamber of Commerce. There were 146 vessels entered and cleared during March and of these 33 were entered and 46 cleared in the foreign trade. Imports in the Mobile customs district including Birmingham, Pascagoula, Gulfport and Mobile for 1924, were valued at $3,615,014 about one million dollars more than the imports received here during the months of March. These figures were given out officially from the collector of customs offices.

The oldest man in Walker county is dead, and his passing was unusually pathetic. John McCawley was born in the State of Pennsylvania in 1815, according to an old record, and died at the Walker County Almshouse, in the 110th year of his life. The old man used to reside near Boldo, six miles east of Jasper, but if he had any relatives or friends in that part of the country, the superintendent of the county farm and almshouse was not able to locate them. The remains of John McCawley were laid to rest unhonored and unsung. No ceremony was held at the almshouse or at the grave, it is said.

Sam Johnson, 82, Confederate veteran, was killed by a freight train on the Alabama Great Southern railroad crossing at Valley Head, witnesses declaring that he had attempted to jump across in front of the engine.

Ten thousand persons from Selma Dallas county, Camden, Marion and the Canebrake, joined in a pilgrimage to old Cahaba in celebration of LaFayette's visit to Alabama's first capital 100 years ago. An impressive ceremony was held at the monument marking the site of Alabama's first capital.

One hundred and sixty-seven complaints were received and investigated during March by the Birmingham Humane society, according to a report issued by Fred Bender, humane officer.

A philanthropic woman of Birmingham has donated a sum of $5,000 for beautifying the grounds of the State Baptist Orphanage in Troy.

The store of the Attalla Furniture company, located on Fourth street in Attalla, was destroyed by fire, the loss being in the neighborhood of $12,000

The T. C. I. Company, of Birmingham, received orders last week for 16,000 tons of 90-pound steel rails from the Florida East Coast Railroad to be used in relaying stretches of that road.

Emory Folmar, of Troy, past president of the Rotary Club of that city, was elected governor of the Twenty-Sixth Rotary District at the recent annual meeting at Mobile.

Opelika will have its annual chautauqua during the last week in May, and running six days. The junior chamber of commerce will sponsor the chautauqua, and it has also the indorsement of the business men of the city.

Monday, April 6, has been designated as decoration day by Gov. W. W. Brandon, in a proclamation, to be observed throughout the state in honor of the memory of American soldiers who fell in the World War. The governor in his proclamation urged appropriate exercises.

MISS ROBERTA CURRY IN MUSICAL COMEDY

Friends of Miss Roberta Curry will be interested to learn that she has signed a contract with Gilbert and Sullivan of New York, to play one of the leading parts in "Princess Ida," a musical comedy which opens at Shubert Theatre on April 13th.

Miss Curry has been in New York for several months and has been striving hard to win a place in the theatrical world. Her appearance in "Princess Ida" will give her opportunity to further demonstrate her ability.

She reports that her radio program a few days ago was a gratifying success, at the same time expressing regret that the people of Clanton could not "pick her up."

Was He Hungry?—Speaking of church programs, which are furnished to churches too cheaply, one printer says they are nearly always done in a rush, the preacher man waits until the last minute to hand in his copy and his writing is usually patterned after Horace Greeley's. A Chicago preacher intended to write for his text: "Be ye therefore steadfast." The printer translated the hieroglyphics: "Be ye there for breakfast."

Impossible.—Coed—"You know I didn't accept Fred the first time he proposed."

Friend—"I guess you didn't; you weren't there."—Minnesota Ski-U-Mah.

It Often Works.—Mother—"Henry, I wish Muriel would give that young man some encouragement. He would make a splendid husband."

Father—"Have you tried telling her he's a worthless bounder and that she's never to speak to him again?"—London Opinion.

Volunteer Assistance.—First Lady—"We got a hundred dollar radio set and had the electrician come in and attach it."

Second Lady—"That's nothing. We had a five hundred dollar set and the sheriff came and attached it."—Tennessee Tar.

Somebody Stung.—"Would you like to go with me to the apiary this afternoon?"

I began using it and soon my bowels acted regularly and I was greatly relieved. I used it every once in a while for about 18 years.

"About two years ago I found I was having indigestion, a tight smothering in my chest, then severe pain, especially after eating sweets. I commenced taking just a pinch of Black-Draught after meals, and by doing this I could eat anything.

"I gave Black-Draught to my children for colds and headaches. I can certainly recommend it."

Black-Draught is used, with satisfaction, by millions.

CLANTON BOOSTERS

The First National Bank of Clanton, Established in 1919, is Already a Strong Bank, and is a Real Clanton Booster

We have for our subject this week The First National Bank of Clanton, in the story of which we shall try to present to our readers some of the things which this institution is doing for our town and county. These articles, as stated before, are in connection with the booster campaign which is being conducted by The Union-Banner in cooperation with a number of our business institutions. The First National is one of this group of Clanton boosters. It is a great factor in that colltetion of business agencies that make Clanton a good place in which to live and make a living.

While interviewing the officials of the bank in search of material for this little story, we came across one statement that tells in a few words how the First National feels about boosting Clanton. It was as follows:

"One of the fundamental policies of The First National Bank is that the deposits in the bank are to be used, as far as possible, to aid in the development and growth of our own locality, first of all."

It seems to us that this one plank in the platform of The First National is sufficient to mark it as a very potent power in the furtherance of Clanton's aims toward community development. No business institution in our town and county is more capable of effective community service than a good bank, and when the men behind the First National come to us with such a declaration as that above, we should express great pride in their efforts.

Compared to some of our business institutions, The First National Bank is one of the youngest among us. But the figures that it takes to set down its financial status would indicate a much more mature age.

This bank opened for business on November 17, 1919, with $30,000 of deposits for the first day. Now look at this: At the close of business on the last day of last year the deposits totaled $639,103.59—far beyond the half million mark.

The capital stock of the bank was $30,000 at the beginning. It has since been increased from time to time, until at present the total amount of the capital stock, surplus and profits is more than $77,000.

The growth of this bank is evidence of the soundness, stability and progress of Clanton and the surrounding country. It is also evidence of the service that the bank has rendered and the hearty response of our people to that service.

There is in circulation somewhere in the world, $30,000 of Uncle Sam's money which has been issued by the United States Treasury upon the representations of the First National Bank of Clanton. This money in the form of five, ten, and twenty-dollar bills, bears the name of the bank and the signatures of E. E. Upchurch, President, and John C. Page, Cashier, upon its face. There is no telling where this money is; it is in the hands of somebody. But wherever it goes, it tells the story of our First National Bank in Clanton. It gives assurance in the market places of the world that Clanton is a town worthy of a bank that bears the sanction of the United States Government.

The First National is used as the depository of the State of Alabama for all tax money which the people of Chilton County pay into the State Treasury; also as the depository for the Chilton County school funds, the Town of Clanton, and the County of Chilton.

"Service" is a word that is used in the creed of every business institution, and therefore, it is a word that is interpreted in many ways, even to the extent of absolute misuse in some instances. It has as many definitions as it has uses. Real banking "service," as the First National interprets it, is "more than giving just ordinary attention to your affairs." Mr. John C. Page, cashier of the bank, in expressing his conception of the term "service," said:

"Here we take a personal interest in our customers, and study their individual needs, to the end that we may serve them better; and we study the scope of our possibilities as a bank and the application of legitimate banking practice to the end that we may exercise and employ such possibilities toward the development and growth of this, our own locality first of all."

Now, all of us believe that Clanton and Chilton County is the best place in the world to live and make a living and carry on our business. And when we contemplate the record that the First National has established in the short period of its existence, we are the more strengthened in our belief about the advantages of our town and county. We know that the resources of this section must be solid or else it would not have made this bank what it is. And right here let it be remembered that the First National is not the only bank that stands as an evidence of this community's dependable resources. Last week we told you about the Peoples Savings Bank of Clanton. There are outside of Clanton, three other banks in Chilton County, which bear testimony of the good times which we have been having.

The First National is a member of the Federal Reserve System. To those who believe in boosting the advantages of Clanton and Chilton County it is a source of great satisfaction to know that behind this bank stands the strength of the Federal Reserve Banking System, of which it is a member. Through the First National the people of Chilton County are offered the protection and other advantages of this great government institution with its billions of assets and its strict United States government supervision.

One of the strongest assets of the First National is its board of directors, the members of which are all men of high standing in our county—men who have already made notable successes in their own lines of business. The personnel of this board is as follows:

E. E. Upchurch, owner of the Upchurch Drug Co., of Clanton.

G. C. Walker, County Solicitor of Chilton County, and one of the leading attorneys of the Clanton bar.

D. I. Deramus, Jr., of Verbena, one of the foremost merchants of Chilton County.

John C. Page, of Clanton, who is also cashier of the bank, and a very congenial, progressive and influential business man and citizen.

A. M. Grimsley, capitalist, of Fayette, Ala. Mr. Grimsley is one of the leading bhsiness men of Alabama. He has so many business connections that it would take much more space than we have here to relate them all. He is connected with about 15 state and national banks throughout Alabama, and personally is rated as worth a half to three quarters of a million dollars. Mr. Grimsley is very much interested in the progress of the communities represented by his banking connections, and it has been worth a great deal to Clanton and Chilton County to have his influence come to us through The First National Bank.

These directors are constantly in touch with the affairs of the bank, giving it their attention and the benefit of their wide experience. Thus is guaranteed the operation of the bank upon a policy that will serve the people of this section in the fullest application of the word service.

In order to guarantee that a national bank is conducting its business along the lines prescribed by the government, at least twice a year a national bank examiner walks in and takes temporary charge of the books and accounts and makes a thorough investigation of its affairs to see that it is obeying the strict national bank laws. This strict supervision does not curtail the usefulness of national banks to the communities they serve. Rather, it guarantees that the operation of the bank in rendering that service shall be along lines and upon principles of business that are the most wholesome for permanent progress.

The officials of the First National are E. E. Upchurch, President; G. C. Walker, first Vice President; D. I. Deramus, Jr., second Vice President; John C. Page, Cashier; C. O. Jones, Assistant Cashier. These men are too well known to need any further introduction at our hands.

The First National is a member of the American Bankers Association. Thereby it enjoys and passes on to the people of this section many splendid advantages in banking service which can not be secured otherwise than by such membership. The main features in this respect are the protective department, insurance features and travelers checks.

A stranger coming to Clanton, prospecting upon the desirability of our town in every way, would take our banks as a criterion for our business possibilities. And to be sure, we have such banks as would reflect great credit upon our town and county. And the esteem in which our citizens hold these banks is measured by the very generous patronage which is accorded them.

Next week we will continue this series with the story of another very valuable asset to Clanton.

Why Ball Players Can Now Keep "Their Mind on the Ball"

THOUGH the average fan may not have noticed it—heretofore, ball players have been mentally annoyed in the game because of "cropping up" shirt-tails and slipping trousers.

Billy Lauder, old time New York Giants player and now one of the coaches of the Chicago White Sox, made a study of the problem. With the result that he devised the "Billauder' a new type of baseball uniform which locks shirt and trousers together by means of the belt and an arrangement of belt-loops.

The photo shows Lauder trying on one of his special uniforms.

My Favorite Stories

By IRVIN S. COBB

Driven Beyond His Strength

The late Paul Armstrong had two favorite stories. One of these he called by the title "Pansy and the Pilsener," and while it was funny, it would never do for publication in a newspaper having a family circulation. The other was what is known as a parlor story. It dealt with a down-and-outer, who made a precarious living as a sandwich man. Encased front and back, like a turtle in its shell, between broad boards which bore advertisements for a dairy lunch, he marched the Bowery all day long for wages barely sufficient to keep body and soul together.

One day, as he plodded his weary route, he saw a shining coin lying upon the sidewalk. Instantly he set his foot upon it, and then, stooping with a difficulty because of his wooden waistcoat, he clutched it in his eager fingers and raised it to his eyes. Then his heart inside of him gave a great throb of joy. It was a twenty-dollar gold piece. He was wealthy beyond his wildest ambitions.

Across the street was an excavation for a new building. He hurried thither. Standing on the edge of the digging he unbuckled the straps which bound the squares of planking to him, and, kicking them to pieces with a glad exultant cry, he flung the shattered emblems of his servitude down into the hole below. Then straightway he departed for the nearest saloon, and stalking in, a triumphant figure even in his flaunting tatters, he slapped his precious gold piece down upon the bar and called for a drink of whisky. It was to have been the first of a long and gorgeous succession of drinks of whisky.

Someone jostled him in the side. He turned his head to see who might be interrupting his happy dreams, and when he looked back again his double eagle mysteriously had vanished, and the barkeeper was motioning him to depart.

He protested, naturally. Whereupon the barkeeper reached for the bung starter, swung it with a skill born of long practice, and struck him squarely between the eyes. A moment later the ex-sandwich man found himself sprawling on the sidewalk, his happy visions gone forever.

A prey to melancholy, filled with deep disappointment and a yet deeper sense of injustice, he got upon his feet and started to limp away.

Next door to the saloon was a basement barber shop. From it at this instant there emerged a Bowery mission worker, an elderly gentleman of a benevolent aspect, his pink jowls newly scraped and his face powdered. As he climbed up the steps to the level of the sidewalk this gentleman bent over to refasten a loosened shoelace.

Now, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the derelict never before had seen the missionary, but as the latter stooped, presenting before him an expanse of black coat tails, the misanthrope hauled off and dealt the gentle stranger a terrific kick.

With a yell of astonishment and pain the clergyman landed ten feet away.

"What did you mean by that?" he demanded, rubbing the seat of his trousers with both hands. "Why did you kick me?"

"Oh," said the ex-sandwich man, in tones of an uncontrollable annoyance, "you're always tying your shoestring!"

New Way to Quickly Stop Worst Cough

A remarkable new and simple method for treating a cough gives relief with the first doses and usually breaks a severe cough in 24 hours.

The treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. People have been astonished how quickly the coughing stopped with this new treatment, and the whole cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription is for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. It is excellent for children as well as grownups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

CHILTON HI LOSES FIRST SERIES THIS SEASON

Chilton High lost their first series for this season to Sidney Lanier High of Montgomery last Friday and Saturday. Chilton had formerly beaten this team in a three-game series. At the present time, the standing of games won and lost are: Chilton, won 3 and lost 2; Lanier, won 2 and lost 3. Chilton won Fridays's game 7 to3. Vann pitched a fair game for Chilton, but had not the whole Chilton club played jam-up ball behind him, there might have been another story to tell. Littlejohn carried off the fielding honors in this game, stabbing long ones which looked good for extra bases, while "Jelly" Jones was helping the home team with the willow. "Jelly" showed the best hitting form he has showed this season.

Lanier won both ends of the double bill played on Saturday, April 11. Chilton showed poor form in the field, while Lanier produced an entirely different brand of baseball from what they exhibited on Friday.. These two games were marked by many errors and long hitting. From the two games Thompson got 2 home runs, C. Jones, the first man up on the Chilton lineup, 1, and Pickett, for Lanier, 2. In the first game, Hammel for Chilton laced one for three bags, with one aboard. Calloway, working in the second game, held the visitors in check fairly well for the first few innings, but weakened in the latter part of the game. Erratic work in the field lost these games for Chilton. With the support which Vann received in his game, either Hammel or Calloway might have won.

The final scores were: Lanier, 9-7; Chilton, 5-4.

Chilton plays the Wetumpka Aggies on the local field next Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

PARRISH-GOODGAME WEDDING

Mr. Webb Parrish of Clanton, and Miss Leora Goodgame of Thorsby, were married last Friday.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Goodgame. Mr. Parrish is a very deserving young business man of Clanton.

They will make their home in Clanton, where their life together begins amid the good wishes of a large circle of friends.

The people of Chilton County elected two men last November (Smith and Baker) to fill two vacancies on the board of education. These men are Republicans, and were elected over their Democratic opponents, Pattillo and Oden, by big majorities. Now comes word from the State Superintendent that Baker and Smith shall not hold the offices to which they were elected, but that the Democrats, Pattillo and Oden, who were rejected by a majority of the voters, shall hold the offices. That is Alabama democracy.

Last week a business trip to Evergreen, Conecuh county, was made by J. M. Wyatt, G. C. Robinson, J. Mid Mims and E. L. Wyatt. They report having had a very enjoyable motor trip through the country.

Jack Jennings of Calera was in Clanton Wednesday.

Tom Powell has moved his family from Evergreen back to Clanton.

HAS SHIPPED 63 CRATES OF STRAWBERRIES FROM 2 ACRES

Mr. J. A. Hester of Clanton states that he has already shipped from 2 acres of strawberries, 63 crates of berries. Mr. Hester says that this first shipment a little more than pays the expense of raising the entire crop, and that he has gathered only about one-sixth of the entire crop which he will get this year. So, you see, the other five-sixths will be clear profit, and it will be a neat little sum too.

MR. J. M. GRAY DEAD

J. M. Gray was the brother of G. G. Gray, who operates a grist mill in Clanton. The deceased leaves a wife and eleven children, five boys and six girls.

FARM COMMITTEE ON VISIT TO POWER PLANTS

A representative of The Union-Banner had the very great pleasure on last Wednesday of accompanying a farm committee on a visit to the giant power plants of The Alabama Power Company on Coosa River, near Clanton.

The committee was composed of Edward A. O'Neal of Montgomery, president of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation; R. F. Croom of Evergreen, vice president of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, and T. J. Whatley of Opelika, a farmer who is connected with the Farm Bureau in an official capacity. These men composed a committee from the Farm Bureau to investigate the uses of electricity on the farms of Alabama.

In addition to the Farm Bureau Committee, the delegation also included M. L. Nichols, E. C. Easter and P. O. Davis, of Auburn, these three men having been the prime factors in the work that has been done at Auburn in advancing the use of electricity on the farms of Alabama.

The power company was represented by Mr. E. W. Ashmead of the Birmingham office and Mr. J. U. Benziger, superintendent of the local plants.

Dr. E. A. White of Chicago, who is interested in the nationwide movement to utilize electricity on farms, was a member of the party.

The use of electricity on Alabama farms was begun only a year ago through the cooperation of Auburn and the Alabama Power Company. There are now sixteen rural communities in the state which are using electricity. We have one of those communities just east of Clanton.

This committee was making a tour of observation that included many of these communities using electricity. Their visit to Clanton was primarily to take advantage of an invitation extended by the power company to see the great hydro-electric plants that produce the power.

The delegation was taken out to Lock 12 by Mr. Benziger and shown over the great plant there. From Lock 12 he carried them down the river by boat, a distance of about 17 miles, to Mitchell Dam.

The party was entertained at luncheon by Mr. Benziger at Mitchell Dam, which feature was most enjoyable. Mr. Ed O'Neal sat at the head of the table, characterizing the event as "a happy convergence of forces and influences." Mr. Benziger won the admiration of every member of the party by the splendid luncheon which he had provided.

After luncheon, the party was shown over the great Mitchell Dam, where expert electricians explained every detail of the operation of the wonderful machinery.

Many of the men on the delegation had never seen the plants of the Alabama Power Company before, and they expressed surprise and delight as they came thereby to know more fully of the things that have been done and are being done by this great industrial organization that is taking the heretofore wasted energy of our rivers and converting it to the myriads of uses in the industrial and agricultural progress of our state.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Benziger for the splendid entertainment of the day.

As a result of an increase in the number of smallpox patients in Montgomery, Dr. J. L. Bowman, health officer for the city and county, issued a statement in which he advised every citizen who has not been vaccinated to be vaccinated immediately. During the month of March Dr. Bowman and his staff vaccinated over 1,000 persons, mostly negroes, for smallpox.

Birmingham's recent entry into the ranks of furniture-manufacturing and furniture-jobbing centers, by the establishment here of two of the largest furniture jobbers in the south and four plants for the manufacture of furniture and mattresses, has resulted in the Birmingham Traffic Association launching a campaign for lower rates from Birmingham to points within the State. Formal request for reductions was filed with the Alabama Public Service Commission.

There was a decrease in the number of cases of influenza reported to the bureau of epidemiology of the State health department for March, 1925, as compared with February. Number of cases for February was 3,338, and for March 2,771. Smallpox also showed a decline, from 884 cases reported in February to 672 in March. Number of cases was still well above a year ago, however, number of cases of smallpox reported for March, 1924, having been 228.

This is a musical comedy by the voice department of Shelby County High School, assisted by a double violin quartette, and includes a cast of forty gypsies.

The play is being brought to Clanton under auspices of Circle No. 3 of the Baptist Church, the members of which are hopeful that a good audience will be in attendance. The play has been presented at several places already, and has won high praise.

REFUGE

Rev. T. W. Billingsley of Shiloh will preach at Refuge Church, the fourth Sunday in this month, April 26, 1925, at 11:00 o'clock. Everybody is cordially invited.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY INCREASES PRODUCTION

Ford production has been increased to 7,000 cars and trucks a day, it was stated at the offices of the Ford Motor Company Friday. The company has been operating on a full week schedule for some time in all its manufacturing plants and the present production schedule represents an increase of 600 units a day over that of a few weeks ago. It was said that Company reports, coming in from practically all sections of the country, show rapidly increasing Spring buying, with dealer requirements mounting and stocks nearly depleted.

Fordson Tractor production has been moved up to 450 a day to care for growing demands, it was also announced.

Mr. W. J. Watson, who runs a store one-half mile west of Clanton, has an advertisement in The Union-Banner inviting the public to do business with him. He carries a line of groceries, buys chickens and eggs, runs a grist mill, buys corn and sells meal. Mr. Watson is a good man and will treat you right at his store.

Ruling of the Alabama Court of Appeals, laid down in decision announced in the case of the City of Albany vs. E. C. Nix, appealed from the Morgan Circuit Court, is of importance to municipalities throughout the State. In this case it was held in an opinion by Judge W. H. Samford, based on the statute requiring that all ordinances shall be published in a newspaper before they shall become effective, that if a city adopts a code by ordinance and incorporates in the code any penal statute not theretofore adopted and published, such ordinance will have to be published as a part of the code before it can become effective. Nix was tried on a charge of violating the prohibition law. The defense set up that the city of Albany had adopted a code incorporating two prohibition statutes, under which the charge was brought. The defense maintained the statutes were void in not having been published in accordance with provisions of the Alabama law. The Circuit Court upheld this contention, rendering decision in favor of Nix, which decision the Court of Appeals affirmed.

PATTILLO AND ODEN NAMED ON CO. BOARD OF EDUCATION

Another chapter has been written in the conflict to get a County Board of Education for Chilton County. This time it is the appointment by the State Superintendent of Education of J. C. Pattillo of Verbena to take the place of C. C. Conway, and Howard R. Oden of Isabella to take the place of J. P. Dykes. Pattillo and Oden, both Democrats in politics, have already filed their papers of qualification for the respective offices.

J. M. Smith was elected by the people of Chilton County last November to succeed J. P. Dykes on the school board.

There are enough men elected and appointed to the school board to fill all the vacancies, with a surplus besides. But the problem seems to be in the finding out who is entitled to fill such vacancies. There are two vacancies on the board, and five men who claim one of the two places.

ELBERT LITTLEJOHN DIED

The death of Mr. Elbert Littlejohn, age 50 years, occurred at his home in Clanton about 9 o'clock last Monday. He had been in failing health for about four years, and his death was not unexpected.

Surviving him are his wife and four children, two boys and two girls, his aged father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Littlejohn; five brothers, Wiley, Rufus, Will, Joe and Frank; one sister, Lula.

The deceased was born and reared in this community, and lived here all his life. Since his maturity and until his health failed a few years ago, he has been prominently identified as a business man of Clanton.

He was an upright, honorable Christian citizen, one whose death will be mourned by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. Mr. Littlejohn was perfectly resigned to die, and for the past several months, has merely been waiting for death to come and give him relief from his weakened and suffering condition. He stated to all his friends who visited him for several weeks before death that he was perfectly ready to go when God called him.

Burial services were held at Liberty Hill Tuesday afternoon. The funeral was preached by Rev. S. J. Ezell, and eulogistic remarks regarding the life and death of the deceased were offered by Revs. C. C. Wilkerson, S. M. Adams and A. L. Foshee, who spoke very beautiful words in remembrance of the departed brother.

THEME ON EDUCATION

The following is the first of two themes, written by 7th grade pupils of Mineral Springs school, to be published in The Union-Banner. These themes are well written, on good topics, and are well worth your reading.

The True Value of an Education, and My Opportunities for Securing the Same.—by Gladys Dobbs.

To be counted in the modern world and recognized in the halls of fame, the civilized man requires an education. To locate a good position and hold it, to mingle in the best of society and to maintain and uphold the rights of good citizenship one must be efficiently trained for no person without a thourough training can render his or her best works to others. To have an education and fail to direct it rightly, no one, not even the owner can know the real value of it. The farmer who is lacking in education may never reach the heights of his work. When one becomes ill, he needs a physician who is educated and skillfully trained in order to administer properly to the needs of the case. Then again, people desire to listen to an educated person in all forms of service, one who is trained to express himself in an apt and interesting style, and in order to do so, one must be intelligently informed and trained. We need educated men back of the plow, men who are well trained in the knowledge of planting, harvesting and marketing, in order that they may secure the best results from their work. When war is raging we need trained and efficient men to direct and lead the army and navy. To declare war and bring peace to all the world requires a person with skill, knowledge, wisdom and training, and to have these qualities one must be educated. The world of today calls for educated men and women; in factories, railroads, in government, and in all the other various enterprises to help carry on the world's work. An uneducated person has no showing in the best positions. They must content themselves with working at odd jobs with no chance for advancement. They hold no rank in society, and, therefore, must step back and yield to the enlightened, when if they had been educated in modern ideals they would rise to prominence in all social affairs. And again, very little pleasure comes to the uneducated man or woman, for working at hard and laborious work there is usually small pay, and this means that they must work day after day to supply the family needs; but if the same person were educated they no doubt would be in good standing financially and socially.

Some of my opportunities for securing an education are as follows: The modern school building is equipped with patent desks, thus making it much more pleasing and comfortable to work, and anyone knows that no child can do his or her best while sitting in an uncomfortable position. Then, our school building is well lighted, properly heated and ventilated, and conveniently located. All this has a strong tendency to arouse the keen interest of a child and make him or her much more desirous of getting an education. Another advantage which we enjoy is having better trained teachers to instruct us. The present day teacher has enough civic pride and community interest to want to upbuild the community and uphold the welfare of others. Modern schools are much better equipped with laboratories, and other facilities. This gives the boy or girl a much better chance to fit themselves for some line of work, such as manual arts, music, journalism, or any other branch they might wish to enter.

The day has arrived when most every parent sees the direct need of giving their children an education. The result is that our community, our towns, our State, our Country at large is making great strides of progress in every phase of the work, and is more and more becoming the leading nation of the globe, in wealth, in health, in resourcefulness, and above all, in Christianity, all because the people have determined to make it so by setting up the great standard, which is education, and giving their children the benefit of it.

Somebody Says—"Twins?" Here's Sixteen Pairs of 'Em!

MY, but did you ever see such an aggregation of twins in your life? They range in age from 3 to 60 years and are looked upon with much pride by their home city, Santa Rosa, Calif.

In fact, that town boasts that this group represents more twins than can be presented by any other city of the same size in the United States. To prove that boast, this photograph was made.

What Aunt Myra Desired

They brought a darky out of the jail in a North Carolina town with intent to hang him for murder. This was in the day when capital punishment was publicly inflicted. As a special mark of attention the widow of the murderer's victim was permitted to witness the event from a position of vantage directly facing the gallows. She had had a sort of small grandstand rigged up and she had decorated it with bunting, and when the march to the scaffold started, there she sat in a white mother-hubbard wrapper gently agitating a palmleaf fan, flanked and surrounded by relatives, invited friends and sister members of her lodge.

The preliminaries went forward according to the ritual. When the condemned had been properly trussed up, with the noose dangling about his neck, the sheriff, holding the black cap in his hand, edged up to him and said:

"Well, Jim, we're about ready. If you've got anything to say, I reckon this would be a mighty good time to say it."

"Yas, suh," said the doomed, "I has got sump'n to say. I jest wants to say dat I is fully repented fur whut I done. I taken it to de Lawd in prayer an' I knows it's all right wid Him. I ast de jedge w'ich tried and de persecutin' attorney, an' de foreman of de jury ef they bore me any grudge, w'ich, one and all, they said they did not. An' now I kin go right straight to hebben an' nestle in de bosom of Father Abraham ef only I kin git de fergiveness of dat nigger lady sittin' yonder—de wife of de man I kil't."

He lifted his voice, addressing the white-clad figure in front of him:

"Lady," he entreated, "does you fergive me fur shootin' yore husband six times wid a fo'ty-fo' caliber revolver?"

Excepting that her under lip jutted out a trifle farther there was no sign she had heard him. She calmly fanned on.

The darky on the scaffold tried again:

"Lady," he pleaded, "for de secont time I axes you, ain't you, please ma'am, gwine fergive me?"

Still from her there was no response. It was as though she had not heard him. The sympathetic sheriff felt moved to add his intercession:

"Aunt Myra," he called, "Jim, here, will be goin' away from us in a minute and we don't expect him back. Surely you don't entertain any hard feelin's against him now? Won't you speak to him and let him go in peace?"

This time the obdurate widow shook her head in an emphatic negative. Yet still she uttered no sound. The sheriff turned to the condemned.

"Jim," he said, "you see how it is; that old woman is set in her ways. What's the use of wastin' any more time on her? Besides, it's hot as the devil out here and I ought to be gettin' on home to dinner. Just hold still a second and we can have this all over."

"Mr. Lucas," sobbed Jim, "lemme see ef I still can't sof'en dat nigger woman's stony heart. Lady," he cried out, "wid mouty nigh my dyin' bre'f I begs you fur jest a word. I ain't hopin' no mo' dat you'll fergive me, but won't you plense, ma'am, jest speak to me an' tell me what's in yore soul?"

And now she did speak. She motioned with her fan as though it had been a baton of authority, and in impatient tones she said:

"Go on, nigger, git hung—git hung!"

CHEVROLET PRODUCTION

The Chevrolet Motor Company is producing this month an April record of 52,299 motor cars and trucks, or more than 2,000 for each working day. This monthly schedule, planned also for May and June, has been exceeded only twice in the company's history. At the present rate Chevrolet will produce its "two millionth" car early this fall. It will be the first three-speed gear shift type of car to reach that total. Of the cars being made this month, 43,556 are destined for domestic sale, 5,234 are to be exported and 3,500 are to be built in the Chevrolet plant in Canada.

Accelerated by the demand for the improved new series with refinements previously obtainable only in cars of much higher price, the Chevrolet production has mounted rapidly since January 1. The capacity programme requires approximately 17,545 workers at the twelve Chevrolet factory and assembly plants throughout the country. The popularity of the new Chevrolet models has developed a unique situation in which sales and production figures practically are identical. Unfilled orders on hand indicate that production for the next three months, even at the high pace set, will be absorbed at once.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Mullins Celebrate 60th Anniversary.

Easter brought together the children, grand children and great grand children of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Mullins in celebration of their 60th anniversary. Not being the custom to use a ring ceremony when this couple of sixty golden years plighted their troths, the groom had never given to his bride a wedding ring. But upon this happy occasion he presented her with a circlet of gold.

Upon the bed was a spotless white spread, woven by Mrs. Mullins before her marriage.

Underneath the beautiful oaks that bear witness to these many years past, a boutiful spread was enjoyed at this happy event. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Reese Mullins and son, Reese, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jones, Mrs. J. M. Shepherd and daughter, Ruth Kate, Mrs. N. H. Mullins, Mr. Leon Mullins, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Mullins, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hart and daughter, Hilda, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Downs, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mullins, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Davis and daughter, Frances, Mr. and Mrs. Bird Jones and Miss Sarah Jones.

Why He Succeeded

From hard work on a farm to the study of medicine in Cincinnati, where he was graduated in 1862, was the course which Dr. R. V. Pierce took.

In his younger days he practiced medicine over a large district. It was then the new oil fields near Titusville, Pa. Finally he determined to put up some of his prescriptions in ready-to-use form in order to reach a larger number of families.

He thus early moved to Buffalo, N. Y., and established the World's Dispensary, where he put up Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the blood as well as the Favorite Prescription for women, carefully preparing them from roots, barks and herbs and placed them with druggists everywhere.

During the last sixty years Dr. Pierce's Discovery, for the blood, has been sold in larger quantities by druggists all over the United States than any other medicine. It is a tonic in its effects on the stomach and digestive apparatus; an alterative in its action on the blood, liver and skin. It increases the appetite, stimulates the digestion, enriches the blood, and makes both men and women feel as they did when they were young and care free.

Ask your nearest druggist for Doctor Pierce's Discovery, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10c for trial pkg. of tablets to Dr. Pierce's Clinic, in Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Ezell Hostess to Executive Board.

Mrs. S. J. Ezell was gracious hostess to the executive board of the W. M. U. of Unity Association at the regular quarterly meeting Wednesday, March 8. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. G. C. Harris, superintendent. She also conducted the devotional, choosing Matthew 4:18-23. Each member present answered the roll call with a Bible verse and prayer.

The minutes of the State W. M. U. executive board were read and discussed.

It was decided that the board recommend to the W. M. U. of Unity association that the expenses of some one be paid to the W. M. U. assembly at Mentone, and that this person be required upon her return to conduct at least three mission study classes in this association.

The regular quarterly meeting will be held at Autaugaville, Wednesday, April 23. The Society at Autaugaville being a small one every one is asked to take a box of lunch.

At this hour the hostess invited her guests into the dining room and here was found a beautifully appointed table, yet very unique. The centerpiece was a miniature flower garden with rabbits placed among the posies. Surrounding the posies were Easter baskets adorned with tiny chickens; each guest was requested to take a basket, then directed to Ellis Grove where a lovely picnic lunch was thoroughly enjoyed.

The afternoon session was opened with devotional, Matthew 6:19-29, again by Mrs. Harris. Prayer followed by Mrs. Dyer. The afternoon was spent in planning programs for both the W. M. U. and Young Peoples quarterly meetings. The young people will meet at Billingsley Baptist church, Saturday, April 18.

Several new organizations and butterflies also, were added to the associational map.

The following were present: Mesdames G. C. Harris, superintendent; W. C. Dyer, Stanton, personal service director; J. E. Gowan, stewardship; W. H. Strock, Verbena, organizer; Lester Gilbert, young peoples' leader; J. A. Hester, mission study librarian; F. A. Shanks, Maplesville, Hattie E. Dickinson, Billingsley, P. C. Brooks, Marbury, E. E. The president, Mrs. L. F. Gerald, presided. A second letter from Mr. M. A. Gore, assuring the organization of a new school building was read by the secretary, Miss Cheshire. Mrs. N. S. Johnson reported that $87.50 was realized from the play, "The Flapper Grandmother."

The second grade, under the direction of Miss Nettie Lou Graham, presented a splendid Easter program.

The president urges all members to be present at the next meeting, since it is the regular time to select officers.

Plant enough seed to get a good stand.

For each dollar spent for education, the American people spend $18.00 for luxuries, according to J. D. Pope, Extension specialist in farm economics and farm management, of Auburn.

An arrangement has been completed for the colonization of 5,000 Hungarian families in the counties of Yazoo and Warren, in the State of Mississippi. The deal involves 100,000 acres of farm land.

Unusually fine equipment for teaching home economics is provided in the new addition to the Douglas Hign School for negroes in Baltimore. It has apartments consisting of living room, dining room, kitchen, bath, and bedroom. The kitchen for the cafeteria is equipped with the latest hotel appliances.

Many Chinese schools have failed to open this year and others have been greatly hampered in their work by the disturbances in the country and lack of funds. The educational department of Peking University, however, has continued its work, with an attendance of 600 students, and steady progress has been made on the new buildings and teachers' residences under consrtuction.

We are grateful to Prof. R. B. Johnston for sending us a copy of two themes on "The True Value of Education, and My Opportunities for Securing the Same." These themes were written by seventh grade pupils of Mineral Springs School. This week we publish the one written by Gladys Dobbs, fifteen-year old daughter of Mr. Henry Dobbs, of Mineral Springs. Next week we will publish the paper of Mattie Hilyer on the same subject.

The Union-Banner is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Thos. L. Tinsley of Murfreesboro, N. C., together with a check for $1.50. Mr. Tinsley wishes to get some news from Clanton so he subscribes for the Union-Banner. He will be remembered as the big fat music teacher who taught piano and voice at the high school the first year Prof. McDonald was principal of that institution. Mr. Tinsley has a host of friends in and around Clanton who will be glad to learn again of his whereabouts.

Dr. Glenn's address to the men and boys of Clanton at the Methodist church last Sunday afternoon has the highest approval of all who availed themselves of hearing this splendid sermon. It was very regrettable, however, that there were not more young men out to hear Dr. Glenn. His address was of such nature that it was particularly applicable to the teenage boys and young men, and those who failed to hear him missed some facts that are very vital to the welfare of the oncoming generation. The admonition Dr. Glenn gave to the young men ought to be heeded by them, and if such were the case a great number of the awful social calamities of this age would be averted. Dr. Glenn's address, although very plain and straightforward, was totally wholesome and free from anything that was even suggestive of lasciveousness or that would reflect on the decency of the most fastidious.

DAYS WE'LL NEVER FORGET —

WEEVIL EMERGENCE IS HEAVY THIS YEAR

Interest in the boll weevil rises annually with the planting of seed for another crop. As usual, farmers are calling on the Agricultural College here and county agents throughout the State for information about boll weevil prospects and control.

The present situation is summarized by Prof. J. M. Robinson, head of the department of Entomology, and W. A. Ruffin, Extension entomologist, with a statement to the effect that boll weevil emergence will be larger this spring than it was last, because a large number went into hibernation last fall and the temperature did not drop enough during the winter to cause the usual number of casualties. The lowest temperature at Auburn was 20. Although thermometers registered several degrees below this in the northern part of the state.

At present there is no doubt that there will be plenty of boll weevils this year. However, the extent to which they will injure the cotton crop will be determined largely by weather conditions in July and August. If July and August are dry and hot, comparatively low weevil injury will result. If rainfall is heavy during these months, weevil injury will be severe unless artificial control measures are applied.

As a first step toward boll weevil control, Prof. Robinson and Mr. Ruffin recommend pre-square dusting with calcium arsenate. This should be applied with machinery which will be used for later dusting. The pre-square application should be made just before squares begin to form.

Other timely suggestions will be offered as the needs arrive.

The Alabama State Highway Department had under maintenance on April 1st, a total of 1,215 miles of road, all of which was reported in good condition by R. P. Boyd, assistant state highway commissioner.

Lots of weeds are killed by a good harrowing just as the young corn and cotton plants get up. This is one of the most important cultivations.

ONE REASON WHY THE SOLID SOUTH WILL CONTINUE TO VOTE SOLIDLY

The Mobile Register agrees with The Anniston Star that Mr. Coolidge has not only ignored the uses of equity but has played bad politics in giving a recess appointment to Thomas W. Woodlock of New York as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission. It says:

"Determined that the Woodlock appointment to the Interstate Commerce Commission shall stand, Mr. Coolidge gave a recess appointment to Mr. Woodlock, who took the oath of his new office Wednesday. It is said to be the hope of Mr. Coolidge, and of Mr. Woodlock, that senate opposition will die down during the summer and that when the sixty-ninth congress convenes in regular session the appointment will be confirmed.

"This remains to be seen, but the insistence of Mr. Coolidge, notwithstanding the just claim of the South to representation, is not likely to help him politically, nor will it strengthen his influence over a recalcitrant senate. There are a good many Republicans who concede that the attitude of the Southern senators is justified."

This fact was proved when the senate declined to confirm Mr. Woodlock. Had the name of Mr. Caskie from this state been submitted there would have been little opposition. But not only did the President turn down the name of the Alabamian for that position, but he has declined so far to name I. F. McDonnell, engineer of the Alabama Public Service Commission, as a member of the Muscle Shoals commission.

This persistent refusal on the part of Republicans in power to accord a just representation to this section on important governmental commissions and bureaus is one of the reasons why the South continues solid. It will never go to the Grand Old Party until that party recognizes the square deal.—Anniston Star.

The leaders of the Republican party would be unqualified fools to come to the South and pick out some of these fire-eating Democrats for responsible positions in the administration. There are too many good, able, and deserving Republicans in other sections of the country where the Republican party is not held up as the arch enemy of everything decent and respectable to make it necessary to come to Alabama and appoint Democrats who would stab the Republican party to the vitals if they could do so.

If the Democrats of the South want the Republican party to recognize them, let them first purge themselves of some of the inbred hate and prejudice which they hold without reason against the Grand Old Party.

The Republican party is big enough to run this government without having to call on Southern Democrats to help them. And if the Democrats of the South want to stay solid for that reason, let them continue in their folly to their hearts' content.

On last Friday T. E. Wyatt of The Union-Banner had the peculiar and somewhat exciting pleasure of going with officers Gillespie, Gore, Gardner and Foshee to make a wildcat whiskey raid up in the Coosa River basin above Lock 12. This was the first trip of this kind Mr. Wyatt has had the pleasure of taking, and the methods and procedures of the officers proved to be very interesting and amusing—and at times rather exciting. But all in all, he enjoyed the trip and the experiences very much.

POPLAR SPRINGS

The annual singing at this place was called to order by Bro. W. F. Gilliland as Chairman, by singing the good song, "When the Roll is Called in Heaven," in the A. J. Showalter, 1925 book, followed by prayer by our beloved pastor, Bro. M. J. Parrish. The Chairman appointed Bros. W. H. Wilson, Cleve Powell, J. L. McDowell as committee for the day.

Profs. O. L. Devaughn, Cleve Powell and W. M. Devaughn each directed short but excellent lessons.

After a short recess, our pastor delivered a wonderful sermon, which was enjoyed by everybody.

At noon a bountiful dinner was served and everybody enjoyed it very much.

In the afternoon Profs. Jessie C. Jones, L. T. Grant, Arthur Beard, Edward Taylor, J. Z. Mims, R. M. Robinson, W. M. Devaughn, O. R. Robinson, J. W. Cagle, G. C. Weldon, J. W. Hammons and T. L. Robinson each directed an excellent lesson. Organists for the day were Lena Mae Devaughn, Jewel McDowell, Arthur Beard, Lee J. Grant and C. H. Robinson.

The Cooper Quartette, composed of Profs. W. M. Devaughn, O. L. Devaughn, L. T. Grant, and Miss Lena Mae Devaughn sang several quartettes in the afternoon. They were fine, and everyone enjoyed hearing them. These singers deserve much honor for their work in music and their excellency in singing. Their community should be and are proud of and thankful for them and their singing.

The singing was a grand success; the best all-day singing Poplar Springs has ever had.

We thank the visitors and give them a hearty welcome.

The closing song was sung by one of our oldest music teachers, Bro. T. L. Robinson. Dismissed by our pastor. Again I thank you. May God bless each and every one of you.

O. H. McDOWELL, Sec.

Relation of the Ku Klux Klan To American Citizenship

THE KLAN, A NATION BUILDER

The assembling of the free, constructive, forward-looking elements of our national life into one body built concretely and actively upon the principles that have made our nation great, is the most heartening event of the century. Such is the Ku Klux Klan, the rededication of our citizenship to the great motto: "Liberty, Equality, Fraternity," the reconstruction of our citizenship upon broad lines of intelligence, democracy and progress. The Klan is operative Masonry, Odd Fellowship and K. P.-ism, operative education, Protestantism and Americanism. It is the one open forum where all free men may meet without sacrifice of truth or conscience and join hands in a happy united effort to build a greater America. So fundamental, structural and vital is the program we propose to carry out, that our coming at such a time as this must be looked upon as a special providence. Our foundation is truth, our program is constructive and pre-eminently American. We are fighting the battle of every man, woman and child in the land regardless of race, color or creed.

Of course there are lines of cleavage for which however we are not responsible. An organization to be efficient must be homogeneous. Certain groups are inherently incompatible and this misfortune is theirs, not ours. We are not responsible for the Roman Catholic monopoly of religion, the Jewish monopoly of money and pride of blood, nor the Negro's nature and blood. We did not create these distinctions. They are not arbitrary, but age-old and fundamental. There are those who charge us with building an organization upon race prejudice. This is error one hundred per cent. We are building it without race or religious prejudice. Religious and racial incompatibility are eliminated. The Klan is essentially a unit racially and religiously, as it should be.

The fact that certain groups are not admitted is not evidence that we are against them, as much as it is evidence that they are against us. If one of the members of one of these groups really endorsed our principles, he might seek entrance hoping to be the happy exception. It would be folly to invite into our membership those who deny our right to exist or those who would exploit or degrade us. Of course Negro, Jewish or Roman Catholic organizations are entirely free from racial and religious prejudice! The difference between us and the Roman Catholic is that between autocracy and democracy. It is also the difference between the human and the Divine. Protestants claim a Divine head. Our friends of the other faith are satisfied with a human head. As to ourselves and the Jews the difference is the Gospel of Christ which they reject. From the Negro we are divided by thousands of years of civilization and world-wide differences in race and blood. We are no more seperated from these groups than they are from us. We are working with those who can best work together and best agree.

As nation builders, we are first of all Americans. An American is one who lives in America, and lives for America, one who loves America and will die for America, for the sake of America, one whose oath of allegiance is to America above any other government, civil, political or ecclesiastical in the whole world, one whose liberty, loyalty and love are inseperable from the destiny and glory of America. As Jerusalem to the Jews, so is America to Americans. We paraphrase: "If I forget thee O America, let my right hand forget her skill. Let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth, if I remember thee not, if I prefer not America above my chief joy." An American continues to build upon original American principles—a love of liberty above life. Greater than liberty and without which liberty is not safe, is the LOVE of liberty. The risking of life upon the wild waves of the sea and in the presence of wild animals and wild men, together with a willingness to place three thousand miles of ocean between them and the homeland and their refusal to return thither all bear witness to the supreme love of liberty. America was born of a love for liberty. Forget it not nor depart from it if you would be American.

And this liberty was first of all religious liberty. Personal liberty is prized and the most intensely personal thing within us is religion. The right to approach God for one's self is to the sincere soul the dearest privilege upon earth, even as religion is the deepest and most controlling fact of our nature. Freedom of personal choice, freedom of initiative—this our fathers came seeking. But after making this bold sacrifice which surely was price enough to pay, those in authority at home followed, seeking anew the allegiance, both political and religious, of the settlers. In fact, the kings of Europe claimed to own America. Columbus on his second voyage with seventeen ships and several thousand men had the special permission of the Pope to take possession of the entire country for the Spanish crown. Afterward the Pope divided the entire Western World between the Spanish and Portuguese, the former all west of a line three hundred and seventy leagues west of the Cape Verde Islands, the latter all east of that line.

You know the rest in the books you have read how the British regulars fired and fled and how the colonists after enduring the privation of the New World had to resist unto blood the encroachments of the Old World.

A love for political or institutional liberty brought on the long bloody war of the Revolution. If the present liberal policy of Great Britain had prevailed at that time the war might have been avoided. But this could not be foreseen. An American does not want to import either his politics or his religion. He feels confident that in America there can be found both the brains and the piety to function in both of these phases of life.

If political and religious liberty are to continue, vigorous safeguards must be thrown around our institutions. If the state is to be kept free, the schools must be kept free, not only in the sense that our youth shall have free access to them but they must be untrammelled by selfish and alien influences. We thank Horace Mann for the words: "A free public school system big enough for all, good enough for all, and attended by all." Keeping in mind the definition of an American, these schools shall be American in spirit, American in purpose and American in leadership. Let those who control the public schools be the products of the public schools. Let these sentiments be repeated until the truth they contain shall come to be the political and educational religion of the nation. Let the text books while giving honor where honor is due, reflect the sacrifices, joys and ideals of Americans rather than the jealous claims of those who would steal away our blood-bought liberties.

Since religious liberty is our primal passion let the Bible be read, some portion of it, every day in every schoolhouse in the land, thus laying the foundations of character in the lives of the young whose task it shall be to shape national programs in the coming days. In like manner must be more and more emancipated from the grip of an interested propaganda that would seek to mould public opinion in ways advantageous to self-styled and self-appointed leaders.

In the founding of our government there was an opportunity to correct a practice prevalent in the Old World, namely, the union of church and state, which had been in vogue since the early Christian centuries. A pagan emporor though somewhat of a convert brought about the union of the church with the empire in order to hold together the state which was crumbling in his hands. Thus the church and state were united and the Roman Catholic church is the result of that union and is still within itself a union of state and church. About one hundred and fifty years later when the western nations became seperate and distinct powers, the empire automatically disappeared and the church left standing absorbed the framework of the empire. The Bishop of Rome assumed the title of Pontifex Maximus which carried the traditions of Rome from early days, being borne by Julius Caesar, and this bishop now Pontifex Maximus assumed the imaginary reins of government and thus began the policy of the overlordship of the popes which continued for about one thousand years, culminating and closing with Charles V in 1530. During this period the claim of the church of Rome to its right to function as a super state had ample opportunity to make good its claim. But instead, there was a thousand years of failure.

To say the spiritual should be over the temporal is to speak the truth, but this being interpreted means the Divine should be over the human for "God is a spirit." A spiritual man will seek the leadership of God. He will not ask God to abdicate in his favor or usurp His place. Men are still men whatever their name or fame, they are still human. No man or combination of men can make them any more than men or endow them with Divine authority. The presumption of any organization to occupy a place of Divine authority to rule the rest of mankind will be resented as long as the world stands. No not that long, for the universal democracy will arrive before that time, and all such groups will have disappeared. Let all men kneel together before God. If men cannot by searching find God, they cannot by organization create God. The man who says: "Kneel to me," immediately alienates the brain, culture and conscienceness of mankind.

Properly speaking, church and state cannot be united. The church is built upon love, the state upon force. The final appeal of the church is sacrifice, that of the state is war. The church seeks to get men into Heaven, the state, into jail. The church says: "Come unto me and I will give you rest." The state says: "Hang by the neck until dead." In the case of church and state, in union there is weakness, in seperation there is strength. Elect the Christian man governor, senator, or president. The Christian, the spiritual man, seeks the leadership of God, not men. Denominations are human. The church of God is Divine and the head is Christ "from whom the whole body fitly framed and knit together by that which every joint supplieth according to the working in due measure of each several part maketh the increase of the body unto the building up of itself in love." The Christian man exalts Christ above man and above every name that is named. No man can speak the final word to a Christian, so far as conscience and duty are involved. This is more than the truth. The man who claims to rule the conscience of mankind is making a futile claim. He may as well say the sun shall not rise at dawn and the roses shall not bloom in June.

An American is willing to take an oath of allegiance to the government of the United States of America above every other government, civil, political or ecclesiastical in the whole world. This every Klansman takes. When you think of it, is it not rather surprising that millions of people in this country have never taken an oath of allegiance? If the reader is not a Klansman and has not been elected to some office or been naturalized he has not taken an oath to support his own government. The question may be asked: "What is government?" We have a government by political parties. Does the government change when the party changes? What is it that claims our loyalty? Ultimately, the government is the will of the people considered as free citizens. Our oath is to the will of the people as expressed and enforced in its laws. Or we may say the government is the Constitution of the United States and of the several states and the laws thereunder as interpreted and enforced by men whose oath is to carry out the will of the people independently of any other government, civil, political or ecclesiastical in the whole world.

A surprisingly large faction of our population is of foreign birth. In fact not one-half of our people, possibly not more than one-third, are of native Anglo-Saxon stock. The bed rock of our civilization is Anglo-Saxon. Very few others participated in the stirring times of the Revolution and early days of nation building.

We want the liberty-loving immigrant who comes to build himself into our national life. But the one who comes simply to transport a section of his native land, languages, institutions and laws and perpetuate Old World ideals dominated by Old World forms of religion ignoring the right of America to educate her own citizens—this man is distinctly not wanted. Such are many of the Mediterranean peoples and those more eastward in that latitude. We have no personal animosity toward these people nor do we want to restrict their religious liberty. They are not the free self-governing type out of which democracies are made. A man must be his own master before he can be a sovereign citizen of a republic. It is not on record that a nation that once went astray ever returned to the pathway of duty and power. Our experiment in self-government must not fail. Here is civilization's last battle ground. All world problems, political, social, educational and religious are to be solved here if at all. We dare not surrender the destiny of this land into the hands of a dominated and decadent race. Let the stream of immigration be kept free and forward-looking and then we shall have helped to build a nation which shall stand the storms of ages.

Keeping alive the love of liberty which flamed out so brightly in the early days, which liberty has blossomed into the six freedoms of speech, press, schools, ballot, government and religion, the Klan makes good her claim to be a nation builder. If there was not a Jew, Roman Catholic or Negro in the country, there would still be a great need for a strong constructive organization. We have every conceivable kind of an organization, why not have one whose purpose and mission is to build a greater America? Others are helping but the Klan is the only organization that has the preservation and upbuilding of our national life as its direct objective.

We conserve the fruits of all wars. We are not going to break faith with the dead, or commit high treason against the grave. We guarantee the perpetuity of our institutions. We wave the flag of freedom over the hearthstone, the school, the church, the homes of legislation and of Congress. We declare of all America's enemies: "They shall not pass." We ask the blessing and benediction of God upon the Ship of State as she continues upon her voyage of destiny.

"Thou too sail on, O Ship of State,
Sail on O, union, strong and great.
Humanity with all its fears
With all its hopes of future years,
Is hanging breathless on thy fate."

ALABAMA FARMERS ENJOY AN EARLY SPRING TRUCK HARVEST

Auburn, Ala., April 11.—Truck crops are going to market much earlier this spring than usual. Statistics released today by F. W. Gist, agricultural statistician, show that prior to April 4, 14 carloads of strawberries had been shipped from Alabama as compared with none the same date in 1924.

Up to the same date nearly 200 carloads of cabbage had been shipped, compared with four carloads last year. One carload of white potatoes had been shipped compared with none a year ago.

The report shows also that during the present sweet potato season 558 cars of sweet potatoes were shipped from Alabama points compared with 382 for all of the last season.

From all points in the state reports have been received of the earliness of spring and the rapidity with which farmers are planting their crops. Not in many years has the spring been more favorable for planting.

The Power Behind The Savings Dollar

By WILLIAM E. KNOX

President American Bankers Association

A recent compilation made by the Savings Bank Division of the American Bankers Association showed that in the six years since the war our total savings deposits have risen from $11,600,000,000 to nearly $21,000,000,000, an increase of some $9,400,000,000. The total number of savings depositors is reported at about 35,900,000.

William E. Knox

The full significance of this is realized only when we visualize savings deposits as meaning much more than merely dollars in the banks. They really mean an increase in the accumulated productive capital of the country, since money deposited in the banks as savings is promptly applied by the bankers in the purchase of securities by which plant, railroad and other industrial development is made possible. These figures mean, therefore, that the small savings of many millions of people, instead of being frittered away in the purchase of goods that are immediately consumed which involves a destruction of capital, are gathered together and applied in the better utilization of capital through the upbuilding of industrial equipment. This means the preservation and perpetuation of the country's physical wealth and its application to the production of further wealth more easily and in larger volume, resulting in a higher standard of living for all classes in the country.

These tremendous savings figures indicate sound habits of thought and practice on the part of millions of people in their personal economic affairs. This is an asset of no small value in appraising our present business outlook. It is, in fact, one of the most promising elements in the situation today. It means that we not only have the resources for prosperity, but also enough common sense to make good use of them.

FORCING LOWER TAXES

Gerard B. Winston, Undersecretary of the Treasury in the American Bankers Association Journal says, "The burden of taxes must be lightened. Per capita Federal taxes rose from $32 in 1918 to $54 in 1920; then commenced to drop, and have been successively $45, $32, $28, $29 in the last four fiscal years. It is estimated that for the next fiscal year the figure will be about $27. With the states and municipalities the opposite tendency is disclosed. In 1918 their per capita tax was something over $20. In the next four years it rose to $27, $30, $36, $38, and later figures will undoubtedly show further increases."

He says of excessive death taxes that "examples have been cited of how the states and Federal government, under existing laws, can take more than 100 per cent of an estate If Federal and state governments take more than the particular source of taxation can stand, it will ultimately destroy all revenue from that source. After a man has provided for the reasonable requirements of living, the impetus to further production is largely the desire to leave one's family well provided for. So long as the individual feels that he can pay the tax and still leave an estate to his family, he will increase his efforts; but a man will not seek to build up a large fortune just to have it taken away from his family at his death."

Most Photographed Girl in the World

MEET Miss Sally Long, the most photographed girl in the world, whom Flo Ziegfeld has described as "the most beautiful girl on two hemispheres." Quite a distinction.

Miss Long is well known to theater-goers. Ziegfeld, besides having featured her in his Follies, engaged her for a special number in the well known "Kid Boots" musical comedy with Eddie Cantor. At the time, he had a $100,000 insurance policy written for her to insure against the possibility of some young man falling in love with her and thereby taking her out of the profession.

She has also been starred considerably in the movies—notably as one of the beautiful manikins in Leatrice Joy's production, "The Dressmaker From Paris."

JAZZ AGE WRECKS JUVENILE MINDS

Atlanta, April 7.—Records at the state insane asylum at Milledgeville, Ga., show that an alarming number of boys and girls are going crazy, and alienists report that this same condition is nation-wide and is due largely to too many white lights, too much jazz, and not enough of the old common sense way of living.

Pocket flasks, sex magazines, pampered children who need liberal doses of the back side of a hairbrush, dances and high powered automobiles with too much speed are given as the reasons for the increase in the number of "child lunatics."

An excess of the hectic quality in business also is offered by Dr. R. C. Swint, head of the state sanitorium, as one of the causes why so many young men end their careers in insane asylums. Keen competition and a general speeding up of the wheels of business wreck the nerves of many, he says.

White Lights Blamed.

Dr. H. W. Allen, of Milledgeville, who has devoted his life to the study of mental diseases, sums up the increase of insanity among young people in two words, "White lights."

"There is too much excitement now, too much jazz, too much fast living. People need to quiet down," he said.

One Atlanta alienist, discussing the increase of insanity among boys and girls, said:

"Children need to be disciplined more to keep them mentally stable. If they are petted too much, if they are allowed to break into tantrums of anger at the least provocation, if they are allowed to see movies of the wrong sort, to go to dances too soon, to lead a life of unwholesome excitement, the result is a loss of mental and emotional balance.

"Thirty years ago children were taught obedience, either through love for their parents or frequent paddling. We need to do the same thing now. Parents then were strict about what their children read; there were no wild movies for them to see, and the high school set didn't go to dances. They stayed children until they were 17 or more. Then they married.

"But the children of today, at an age when they ought to be playing innocent games, are seeing movies based on sex and reading sensational novels. Little girls paint and wear silk stockings and make pert remarks at which their parents laugh. Boys learn wild ways and the taste of bootleg whiskey when they ought to be spinning tops.

"The result of this upon children born with weak nerves is often a mental breakdown. The personal freedom permitted children and the excitement of modern life are largely responsible for the number of patients committed to our asylums suffering from dementia pracox.

"The fault lies largely at the door of the parents—"jazz" parents who go out to the theater or a party every night and leave their children alone at home in dark houses; parents who are always wrangling; parents, particularly mothers, who are threatening their children with bugabears to make them behave.

"These influences contribute to make children emotionally morbid, then modern life reaches out and grabs them and the job is finished. The asylums open their doors.

"Had Dorothy Ellingson's mother paddled her a few times when she began to show signs of wilfull anger, it is probable that the child would never have reached the state where she slew her mother.

"There are many potential Dorothy Ellingsons and Loebs and Leopolds among us now. What they need is discipline at home."

The De Kalb County Farm Bureau has increased its membership and scope of work to such an extent that it found it necessary to employ a secretary for full time. The executive committee selected Sam Chitwood, who has already taken charge of the work More than 349 tons of fertilizer materials have been ordered with much more to be purchased. Much seed and other supplies are to be bought to cooperation. The membership has increased 40 per cent while 1,668 bales of cotton was pooled against 1,114 last year. During the past year they bought near $30,000 of supplies. With Mr. Chitwood to handle all business the total is expected to be much greater this year. County Agent Riddell has organized clubs at Ider, Henegar, Spaulding, Tenbroeck, Fyfee, Collinsville and Mt. Vernon. This is in cotton and corn demonstrations.

There are more bank accounts in the five banking institutions in Montgomery than there are people in the city and almost as many as there are in the combined populations of the city proper, Cloverdale and Capitol Heights. The figures, which were announced at the annual meeting of the five institutions, showed that the accounts totaled approximately 50,000 and amounted to more than $18,000,000. The large number of accounts is due to the fact that many people have accounts in different banks while others have both personal and business accounts at the same institution. In addition to these accounts there are many citizens of the country districts who make deposits in Montgomery institutions.

Hearing of mandamus proceedings against Mayor Fraser L. Adams, of Huntsville, at a special sitting of the circuit court, has been postponed to the regular February term. No special time has been set for the hearing and the proceedings will take their turn in the regular order of business The first of the mandamus proceedings was instituted by Victor S Betts, who was elected recorder and who was kept out of office by the refusal of Mayor Adams to approve his bond. Mr. Betts is seeking a court order to compel the mayor to approve his bond. There are five other similar cases, each in the name of a city official who has not been allowed to serve.

A mortgage for $1,000,000 was filed for record in the probate court of Colbert County and was styled the Sheffield Development Company to W. S. Hatch, trustee. The mortgage is said to represent the deferred payment of the purchase price of $3,000,000 said to have been paid by the Alabama Power Company recently for the holdings of the Sheffield company and its subsidiary the Sheffield Development Company. The mortgage filed covers 40 typewritten pages and the filing fee was $1.500.

Receipts at the Florence post office made a gain of 26 per cent during the month of January , as compared with the same month last year, according to the report of Postmaster H. A. Cathey. During the first month of this year the receipts were $4,505.05, while last January they were $3,559.52, making the cash gain of $955.53. This is one of the largest gains the office has made and it is declared to be an indication of good business.

Arthur Gilmer, 20, was drowned while trying to cross the Coosa River in a canoe at Coats Bend. He had started across for his brother-in-law and the latter saw him drown. Gilmer is said to have been standing in the boat using a paddle. He was seen to fall forward into the water and after struggling for a minute he disappeared.

ing, costing approximately $350,000, is nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy in three weeks. This is one of the finest school plants in the state and will have every modern equipment and convenience for school purposes. The new school on Tenth Street is about completed and will soon be occupied, relieving the congestion in the other school buildings.

Captain W. P. Gwin, of the Service Company, 167th regiment, Alabama National Guard, has been promoted and transferred to the staff of the thirty-first division, where he will serve as assistant division adjutant. The division is composed of the Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana National Guard units.

Citizens of Anniston, who have failed to pay their 1925 sanitary taxes, are now being notified and requested to attend to that matter before being summoned to police court. An additional 50 cents is added to the cost of the sanitary tags, since the tax became delinquent on February 1.

SHOALS POWER POLICY HAS BEEN DRAFTED

Washington, April 10.—Questions affecting the leasing of hydro-electric power development at Muscle Shoals, Ala., to private concerns has been drafted by the war department. The first guiding principle outlined is that the power of the Wilson Dam should be utilized in useful work as soon as the power is available.

The policy asserts that since the Muscle Shoals problem is before congress for solution, any arrangements that may be made by the war department for the use of the power should be of a temporary character and subject to immediate revocation if necessary. It also stipulates that no rights should be given a contractor or lessee which would interfere with the permanent solution.

The main objective at Muscle Shoals is regarded by the government at this time to be the early completion of the Wilson Dam and that other construction work should not be allowed unduly to interfere with that in progress at the dam. For this reason it is held to be undesirable to have more than one lessee of the power and to require the lessee to furnish trained personnel for the operation of the hydro-electric plant.

Other stipulations entering into the tentative policy statement include the electrical connection of the Wilson Dam and the nitrate plant, the availability of power for the partial operation of nitrate plant No. 2 and the treatment of the steam plant at nitrate plant No. 2, and the hydro-electric plant at Wilson Dam as a unit. This unit should be recognized in any temporary arrangement the department may make for the disposal of the power.

President Coolidge's Muscle Shoals commission met Friday in executive session directing its attention to informal discussion among the members. No witnesses were summoned before it.

Mr. and Mrs. Tera Parrish of Birmingham spent the week end with the former's mother, Mrs. Mattie Williams in Clanton. They returned to the Magic City Monday via Mr. Shoemaker's big Clanton-to-Birmingham bus.

"My wife's health broke down and for years she was just a physical wreck," says Mr. Thomas Glynn, of Gibson, La. "We did everything we knew, yet she seemed to get worse and worse. CARDUI

For Female Troubles

"I began looking around. I knew that Cardui was for women. I decided to try it for her as all else had failed. She couldn't eat, she couldn't sleep, and I was desperate.

"After taking a few doses of Cardui, we were so glad to note that she wanted something to eat, and with each bit of nourishment, and each day's doses of Cardui, she grew stronger and got up out of bed. She is now able to cook, and stronger than in a long time."

Cardui has been in successful use for nearly 50 years in the treatment of many common female troubles.

CHILTON HI SWAMPS MARBURY

Chilton County High School made a batting practice game of the Marbury affair Wednesday afternoon, later making the scoring look like a track meet. The final score was 22 to 2. Oates started on the mound for Marbury, but soon retired in favor of Alley, who was knocked out in short order. Alley has some reputation as a pitcher in this section of the state, but the Chilton batters fattened their averages almost as well while he was on the mound as when Oates held sway. All Chilton scrubs were given a chance, and almost every man was given a chance to pitch. The game terminated with the youngest Connatser, a lad of fourteen, pitching. During this inning the Marbury coach and another good hitter took turns at bat, but not a hit was registered on the lad. The Marbury team is a small outfit, hardly any of the men being any ways grown. In the past Marbury has shown some good athletic outfits, but have almost faded from the horizon so far as athletics are concerned.

Chilton batters hit almost at will. Out of 10 games, Chilton has a standing of .666.

The first car of strowberries to be sent out from Thorsby was loaded last Monday, three weeks earlier than last season, which indicates a longer harvest season than we have had for several years. For the first time in ten years the farmers have been able to obtain fertilizer having a sufficient content of potash to make the best berries, and as a result the quality of our stock this season is very good.

Mr. Wilson was a Civil War veteran, and the couple have received notable attention from the press in a large section of the northwest.

Mr. C. R. Foss, accompanied by Miss Naemi Turnquist and Mr. Walter Parnell, motored to Birmingham Sunday and visited Mrs. J. F. Peterson, whom they brought home with them Monday night. On Monday Mr. Foss had an interview with the district manager of the Alabama Power Company, who advised him that matters are progressing toward the advent of the Alabama Power Company into Thorsby territory, but nothing definite can be said yet as to just when it will become an accomplished fact.

Thorsby has reason to be proud of her MUD HOLE. It is simply perfect—an innocent looking puddle, beside the Montgomery Road near T. W. Robinson's place, has proved itself to be a veritable "Catch-'em-alive" automobile trap. If one is meeting another and the driver is disposed to be polite and give half the road, he hits the edge of that puddle and is quickly brought up standing in this "Slough of Despond." It has been there all the spring and frequently "catches a sucker" and holds him fast, too, until help arrives to pull him out. The thing is so quickly and neatly done that it would seem a shame to "cut it out",—at least no one seems to think of doing it. Defying town, county and state officials, it still continues to "catch the unwary." Maybe its nobody's job to fix it, but some of us are wondering for what we pay 2 cents a gallon extra for gasoline, not to mention numerous and sundry other taxes. The fixing of it seems to be a simple problem in drainage, and here's a mighty good place to make a demonstration.

Dr. and Mrs. Wilson, former residents of Thorsby, now of Ensley, were week end visitors in Thorsby Howard Garrick is a brother of Mrs. Wilson and Mesdames C. M. Williams and Tom Burdett are sisters. Mrs. Garrick, the mother, accompanied Dr. and Mrs. Wilson to their home for a visit.

Misses Jennye and Edith Robinson were Easter visitors at the home of their parents.

Plato Deason was a week end visitor to his home southwest of Clanton.

Mrs. Ethel Wright Loveland spent two days in Birmingham Saturday and Sunday giving her an opportunity for shopping and also to hear some fine Easter music.

Miss Mary Tindall, a student at T. I. was a week end visitor in Billingsley.

Dr. Benjamin Durham of Boston, is forming Gladiola clubs among students in educational institutions and has sent to 12 Thorsby Institute girl students a packet of Gladiola bulblets to be planted where they can be cared for until they mature in about three years, and so stimulate their interest in growing these beautiful flowers.

Mrs. Frank Nelson and sons, Martin, Frank, Jr., and Arthur motored to Birmingham Tuesday and visited Mr. and Mrs. August Johnson, former residents of Thorsby.
